Officials investigate stolen planes, charge Halma man

Minnesota state patrol assisted in the arrest of a Halma man in connection with the theft of two planes, one from Red Lake Falls and another from Fertile.

Red Lake Falls Flying Club reported on August 31 that the club's Piper Cherokee 180 was missing. On September 2 the sheriff's department received a report that the missing plane had been located at the Fertile airport undamaged.

At the time, officials were unaware that a plane was missing from the Fertile Flying club. Club members thought someone from the club was using the single engine Cessna 172, but later discovered it was missing.

On Wednesday, September 7, Lt. Chuck Jones of the Minnesota State Patrol said four state troopers happened to be at Karlstad airport when they observed a plane coming in to land. One of the troopers identified it as the plane missing from Fertile. Jones said they waited and blocked him off and then arrested the pilot at Karlstad airport without incident.

Peter James Converse, 24, Halma, was transported to Pennington County Law Enforcement Center and then turned over to Red Lake county authorities. He was then transported to the Regional Correctional Facility in Crookston.

On Friday, Converse was charged in Red Lake county with felony theft and burglary in the third degree. Officials say he admitted to the theft, and in his statement, said he took the plane on August 19 and flew it to Hallock and then to Fertile. He is also a past member of the Red Lake Falls Flying club. According to the complaint, there were 1.7 hours of flying time on the plane.

Charges are pending in Polk county. Officials are continuing their investigation and reports that Converse flew the plane out of state.

The case is still under investigation.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

As a retired teacher, I encourage people to vote on Tuesday, September 13. When they vote, I hope they consider Todd Otis for State Auditor. Todd visited our area of the state last Wednesday.

Todd is an excellent candidate for the position of Auditor. He communicates well and is well-versed in public policy issues. We need to have the best person possible to be our State Auditor. We want someone who will help us build trust in government and bring innovation that saves money and gets results.

Sincerely,
Edith Etter

Primary Election Predictions..... Really Just Guesses

It's primary election time again, and therefore time to gaze into the ceramic coffee mug and attempt to foresee the winners in the various races. For this election, however, there appears to be a double dose of Coffeemate in the mug as the images are extremely cloudy.

We point out once again that predictions are not endorsements, but merely a guess as to how the electorate will vote. Sometimes we try to rationalize our guesses, but usually they are no more than that—just guesses. The fun is in seeing if we can out-guess someone else or how often we can correctly read the public pulse.

This year we look for a modest turn-out in the primary election in Pennington county. There is only one local primary race—that being for County Recorder—and that is the only non-partisan race on the ballot. For all other candidates it is necessary to vote only on the Democratic-Farmer-Labor or Independent-Republican side of the ballot.

In all cases, the voter will vote for only one candidate for each office. On the partisan ballot only one candidate will emerge to advance to the general election in November, where he or she will be matched against the candidate selected from the opposing party. On the non-partisan ballot, the two candidates with the largest vote totals will advance to the general election.

Candidates for the County Recorder position are Ken Schmalz, who has been filling that office on an interim basis following county board appointment, Lemay Moe and David Schneider. Schmalz should be the leading vote-getter and we will predict Schneider will also advance to the general election.

Turning to the partisan ballot, we will take a look at each of the contested offices. Incumbent Collin Peterson (DFL) and challenger Bernie Omann (IR) are unopposed for U.S. Representative from District 7. Incumbent Tim Finseth (IR) and challenger Ken Murphy (DFL) are unopposed for State Representative from District 1B. Incumbent Joan Anderson Growe (DFL) and challenger Dick Kimbler are unopposed for Secretary of State.

In the race for U.S. Senator, the DFL candidates are Tom Foley, "Dick" Fransoo, Buford Johnson, Gary L. Legare, Leonard J. Richards and Ann Wynia. IR candidates are Joanell Dyrstad, Rod Grams, Harold Edward Stassen and John J. Zeleniak. We think it would be appropriate for two women candidates to meet in the general election. Wynia and Dyrstad are both highly experienced politically and capable people. We'll bet on Wynia to win with Tom Foley second on the DFL side and Dyrstad to win with Rod Grams a close second on the IR side.

For Governor and Lieutenant Governor the DFL side offers the pairings of Tony Bouza and Kim Stokes, Mike Hatch and Bob Schmitz, John Marty and Nancy Larson and Richard T. Van Bergen and Glenn Mesaros. The IR side has Arne H. Carlson and Joanne E. Benson and Allen Quist and Doug McFarland. We like the chances of the Hatch-Schmitz ticket on the DFL side. And we believe Gov. Arne Carlson will prove the IR party leadership has taken a couple of steps too far to the right by endorsing Quist over an incumbent governor. It will be Hatch vs. Carlson in November.

For State Auditor the DFL candidates are Gregg A. Iverson, Donald M. Moe, Todd Otis and George Perpich and the IR candidates are David A. P. Anderson, Jual Carlson, Judi Dotcher, Don Koenig, Nick Tretinyak Jr. and James J. Wagner. The next State Auditor for Minnesota will be elected in the DFL primary. We'll give Todd Otis the edge over a couple of brothers—Donald Moe, the brother of Erskine Sen. Roger Moe, and George Perpich, the brother of former Gov. Rudy Perpich. On the IR side the nod goes to Don Koenig, although Anderson and Carlson are good names for a Minnesota ballot.

For State Treasurer the DFL offers Jim Dun Lop, Robert R. (Bob) Johnson, LeRoy L. McClelland, Michael A. McGrath, Rodney Otterness and Ralph D. Wedgewood. The IR party counters with James C. "Jim" Gison, Dennis L. Pflaum, Joan Siers and Bob Weinbolzer. McGrath will win the DFL primary. On name alone, Gison will probably be the IR candidate in November.

Attorney General candidates for the DFL are Kent S. Harschbach, Hubert H. Humphrey III and Lewis DuPont Smith. IR candidates for Attorney General are Sharon Anderson, Thomas M. "Tom" Neuville and Andrew Gison. Skip Humphrey can go to bed early Tuesday night, secure in the arms of DFL voters. Sharon Anderson will probably win the IR election.

We may be wrong, but it seems to us that this primary election has had the least campaigning on a public basis of any in a long time. In a way that may be a blessing, but we feel much less informed than we should be only a few days from going to the polls. We hope you are better informed than we are, but informed or not, be sure to vote on Tuesday.

Northern Watch Policies

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

Our Seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge pre-painted aluminum; the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length-eliminating any joints or seams in the middle. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.
Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two-man crew...saving on labor cost. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that get damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates of your job at no obligation to you.

A new look for the area below the power plant dam on the Red Lake River in Thief River Falls is in the making. Bob Pahlen of Plummer has the contract for the project which is a joint venture of the Pennington County Soil and Water Conservation District, City of Thief River Falls and Red Lake Watershed District. The project includes clearing, cleaning and sloping 1,100 feet of riverbank and installation of 1,900 cubic yards of rock rip-rap. Rock installation was expected to be completed Friday with final sloping of the upper bank, covering with black dirt, seeding and mulching to be completed next week. Work on the $45,000 project began August 8 and also included removal of trees, brush, debris and soil from an island in the riverbed. The island dividing flow below the dam will be visible at low flow, as it is in the Northern Watch photo above, taken Thursday afternoon.

Who could forget to dial 1+218 starting September 17th?
America is on the move. And the increased demand for new phone numbers across the country is exhausting available prefixes. Because of this, people in Minnesota will have to dial differently starting September 17th.
For most long-distance calls in the 218 area code that you currently precede with a 1, you'll need to dial 1+218 starting September 17th, 1994. Since you are already in the habit of dialing 1+ the area code for out-of-state calls, the change to 1+218 dialing will be simple.
There's no change in rates for these calls. And 911, local calls and long-distance calls to other area codes will not be affected by the new dialing plan.* But anyone with preprogrammed Speed Calling numbers, modems, fax machines or other automatic dialing equipment will need to reprogram any 1+ numbers within the 218 area code.
For more information about 1+218 dialing, contact your local phone company.
Brought to you by your local Minnesota telephone companies.
*Other calls not affected by the new dialing plan: 411 directory assistance calls, calls to 700, 800 and 900 telephone numbers, and calls to 950 telephone numbers.

Restoration of log cabins is program topic

A program focusing on recommended methods to use in order to successfully save a deteriorating structure will be held Saturday, September 17, at 2 p.m. in the nature center at the Fertile Sandhills Recreation Area.

Part of the program will deal with the Erickson log cabin that is located on private lands in the Fertile sandhills. Agassiz Environmental Learning Center would like to restore this building and use it in its programming. Volunteers are being sought to gain hands-on experience with restoration of the cabin which will be dismantled in October and rebuilt next year.

The Sand Hills Recreation Area is located in the city limits of Fertile about one mile west of the Minnesota highway 32 and Summit Avenue junction.

For more information call or write Joe Gartner, AELC, Box 388, Fertile, MN 56540, phone 218-945-6503.

4-H livestock exhibitors show at state fair

Pennington county 4-H club livestock exhibitors earned two purple ribbons, four blue ribbons and five red ribbons in strong competition during the livestock encampment at the Minnesota State Fair, according to Van Swanson, county extension educator for 4-H.

Pennington county also received a first place award in sheep herdsmanship, second in beef herdsmanship and eighth in dairy herdsmanship.

Purple ribbons were earned by Ryan Swanson of Happy Acres 4-H club in the beef project and Lora Danielson of Sanders 4-H club in the rabbit project.

Blue ribbons were awarded to Matt Carlson of Happy Acres in the beef project, Guy Drevlow of Happy Acres, Sarah Koland of Silverton and Bryanna Helgeland of Smiley in the rabbit project.

Red ribbons went to Sunny Carlson of Happy Acres in beef, Kelsey Carlson of Satellite and Lisa Sorteberg of Smiley in dairy, Daren Asp of Sanders in swine and Tiffany Lee of Smiley in sheep.

"It was a great experience for all of the livestock exhibitors from our county," Van Swanson said, "and especially for those going to the state fair for the first time and seeing the size of the livestock buildings.

"Competition at the state fair level is really tough," he added, "and our exhibitors can be proud of their performances right on down the line."

TRF volleyball team sweeps Stephen...

Prowlers win home opener

Stephen had an early edge, but couldn't hold off Thief River Falls Thursday as the Prowlers made their 1994 home high school volleyball debut with a 15-13, 15-5, 15-9 sweep against the Tigers.

Despite missing six first-game serves, Stephen enjoyed leads of 6-0 and 10-4 before a Thief River Falls comeback kicked in. A tap by Kendra Dimich at the net put the Prowlers ahead 14-13 and an ace serve by Kelly Skeim completed the rally.

After spotting Stephen a 3-0 head start in Game 2, Thief River Falls went on a 15-2 run that included nine consecutive service points by Dimich.

The Prowlers saw a 6-1 third game lead turn into a 7-7 tie before finishing strong – ending things on a Carrie Lawrence kill.

It was the second opening week win for the Prowlers, who are in the Roseau Invitational today (Saturday).

Thief River Falls was a 15-4, 15-10 winner in the junior varsity match.

Sweep in singles lifts tennis team past Mahnomen

Four singles wins carried Thief River Falls to a 5-2 girls high school tennis win at Mahnomen Thursday.

Junior Kamie Twomey, sophomore Tiffany Brouse, junior Bobbi Dahlstrom, and sophomore Kelly Natvick were winners in 1-through-4 singles, respectively, for the Prowlers, who improved their dual meet record to 3-1.

Thief River Falls also picked up a win from sophomores Kate Ihle and Elizabeth Odetto at No. 3 doubles.

The Prowlers are competing in the Lake Hubert Invitational near Brainerd this weekend.

NCC will not field volleyball team

Northland Community College officials announced Wednesday that intercollegiate volleyball will be canceled at the school this fall due to low numbers of participants.

Just four players were on hand when Pioneers coach Deb Jacobson opened practice Aug. 29. School officials had hoped additional players would report when classes began earlier this week, but the numbers remained low at the mid-week deadline set by Northland acting President Sue Minnick.

The one-year hiatus marks the first interruption in the 22 years of varsity volleyball at the school.

"It is our intent to spend the academic year actively recruiting students to strengthen the volleyball program for fall of 1995," said Minnick.

"I am heartbroken and I feel very sorry for the returning sophomores," said Northland volleyball coach Deb Jacobson. That group included Charitie Dalzell, Kyoko Kino and Heidi Klegstad. "In the true Pioneer spirit, this setback will only make us stronger."

Pioneers open on the road

■ Schedule should benefit NCC football team

It starts today (Saturday) with a 12-noon kickoff at Worthington, followed by a Sept. 17 trip to Fergus Falls and a Sept. 24 home opener vs. Willmar. But the real 1994 Northland Community College football schedule won't arrive until October when the Pioneers take on Mesabi, Itasca, Vermilion, Hibbing, and Brainerd in Minnesota Community College Conference Northern Division games.

The "preseason" nonconference schedule should be a big benefit to a Northland team that has 39 freshmen on its 51-member squad, according to Pioneers coach Gene Klinke, whose team was a co-division champion last fall and an MCCC state playoff qualifier.

"Playing three nonconference games is a real luxury," acknowledged Klinke. "It should help us a lot. If we can avoid injuries, we should be just as good as we were last year. We have the talent. But we're young, and it may take some time to develop. Fortunately, we have the time."

Top two regular season finishers in the MCCC Northern and Southern Division standings advance to the state playoff semifinals. Results in the nonconference games do not affect the divisional races. "We could go 4-4 this year (0-3 nonconference/3-1 in the Northern Division) and still make the playoffs," noted Klinke.

"Defensively, we're going to be just as tough as we were last year (when the Pioneers ranked fifth in the National Junior College Athletic Association). "But the defense will have to hold on in the game. Offensively we have some potential, but the line needs time to jell."

Northland's starting defensive unit is expected to include Ray Reinhart (Warroad) and Tony Salerno (Orlando, FL) at the tackles; John Lee (Warroad) at nose guard; Rick Ostby (Thief River Falls), John Atkinson (Chicago, IL), Darrin Fish (Warroad), and Rick Anteao (Toledo, OH) at linebacker; Jon Hoefer (Red Lake Falls) and Chris Nyland (Fosston) alternating at free safety; James Zephyrin (Miami, FL) at strong safety; and Shawn Blackman (Ann Arbor, MI) and Dave Simmons (Miami, FL) at the corners.

In the offensive backfield, Brian Remick (Red Lake Falls) and J.P. Lammers (Ann Arbor) are both expected to get playing time at quarterback; Dan Nelson (Redwood Falls) will be the fullback; Brent Miller (Mahnomen) will start at tailback; while Robert Carlson (Win-E-Mac) and Rick Rivera (East Grand Forks) share time at the other runningback spot.

Joby Looker (Thief River Falls) and Brian Tutich (Tallahassee, FL) are vying for playing time at tight end and Erik Hamre (Erskine) will start at wide receiver.

"A lot of kids will get to play," said Klinke. "It's not even fair to name a starting line-up at this time, but I guess you have to start somewhere. Some of the kids who aren't listed in the first unit will probably play more than the starters."

Nordics win volleyball opener

A veteran coach with a young team and a rookie coach with a veteran team met Tuesday in a season-opening high school volleyball match as Marshall County Central beat Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke 3-1 at Goodridge.

The Nordics, rebuilding under Mark Jorgenson following heavy graduation losses, won 15-9, 15-7, 15-17, 15-3.

"It went better than I thought it might," said Jorgenson. "They (Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke) played some inspired volleyball. The first two games were real close, and after they won the third game I was a little concerned. I told the girls they had to come out and take charge in that fourth game. They did a nice job."

Jorgenson singled out Nordics setter Missy Lund for recognition. "She controlled the match. She did a nice job," he said.

The contest marked the head coaching debut of the Wolverines' Tina Rode.

"I thought they (Wolverines) played well," she said. "You could see they had some first-game jitters, but they settled down and did a nice job. The third game was really amazing. They really pulled together."

It was a solid team effort, noted Rode, but she said Rachel Rychlock played well at the net.

Kittson County North 3
Red Lake County Central 2

Red Lake County Central watched a final game lead slip away in a 3-2 season-opening Tuesday loss at Oklee.

The Cougars won the see-saw contest 6-15, 15-6, 14-16, 15-8, 15-10 – overcoming a 10-1 Game 5 deficit for the victory.

"We started strong. We really played well in the first game. But our serve reception fell apart," said Red Lake County Central coach Nancy Bray in explaining the Mustangs' disappointing finish.

McKenzie Malwitz led Red Lake County Central with 15 kills.

Giauque, divers lead swim team

Detroit Lakes girls out-scored Crookston and Thief River Falls Tuesday in a triangular high school swim meet at Crookston.

The Lakers finished with 134 points, followed by the Pirates with 109 and Prowlers 78.

Theresa Giauque was a double-event winner for the Prowlers in the 200 and 500 meter freestyle races, while Jennifer Olin and Becky Mattson took the top two spots in diving.

"Theresa is unstoppable," said Thief River Falls coach Ryan Lokken, "and this is the second straight meet where we went 1-2 in diving."

Early season nuisance injuries forced Lokken to make some line-up adjustments, costing the Prowlers points. "We'll be a solid team by the end of the year," he said. "It's just going to take some time."

In the junior varsity portion of the meet, Detroit Lakes scored 166 points, Thief River Falls 92 and Crookston 41.

TRF starts season with volleyball win against Crookston

Thief River Falls started strong, stumbled a bit, regrouped and finished off a 3-1 season-opening high school volleyball win at Crookston Tuesday.

"It's always nice to start the year with a win," said Thief River Falls coach Helen Anderson. "It's a confidence-building. It sets the tone for the next match."

The Prowlers won 15-4, 10-15, 15-2, 15-12.

"We looked sharp in the first game," pointed out Anderson. "We had a let down in the second game, but we came back in the third and fourth games and played well again."

Front row combination of Kelly Skeim, Carrie Lawrence and Sarah Huschle used their size to control play, but Anderson was happy with the entire team effort. "Everybody played, and they all contributed," she noted.

Thief River Falls won the junior varsity match 15-13, 16-14.

TRF Scoring

■ Last-touch points - Carrie Rud 11, Kelly Skeim 10, Sarah Huschle 10, Maren Thorson 8, Kendra Dimich 7, Carrie Lawrence 5, Jenny Drury 1, Michelle Mattson 1, Erica Owen 1.

■ Kills - Skeim 11, Huschle 8, Lawrence 6, Dimich 4.

Ninth grade begins volleyball schedule

Thief River Falls freshmen began their 1994 volleyball season with matches against Grand Forks Valley Tuesday and Crookston Thursday.

Against Valley, the Thief River Falls A team won 15-11, 16-14 and the Thief River Falls B team won 15-2, 15-17, 15-4.

Thief River Falls added a 15-13, 15-11 A sweep vs. Crookston, with Crookston winning the B match 2-15, 15-12, 15-11.

Nelson said it was an "unfortunate" situation for those who had made the commitment to participate in Northland's 1994 volleyball program. "We have to look at it as a temporary hurdle and not a barrier," he said, adding that the coaching staff will use this time to focus on recruiting volleyball players for the 1995 season.

The Pioneers were scheduled to open the 1994 season Friday with a match against Mesabi in Virginia.

Gators start year with a win over Wolverines

Badger/Greenbush-Middle River coach Gwen Borgen was impressed with both teams Thursday as the Gators opened their 1994 high school volleyball season with a 15-7, 8-15, 15-11, 15-11 win over visiting Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke.

The loss dropped the Wolverines to 0-2, but they didn't go down without a fight. "They (Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke) are really improved," noted Borgen. "I don't care who it is, you like to see teams have competitive programs. I think they're going to have a pretty nice team by the end of the year."

And Borgen was more than satisfied with the first-match efforts by the Gators. "It was a good opening match for us," she said. "Our whole front line played well. They were aggressive."

"Our serving was a little down, but everything else looked pretty good," explained Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke coach Tina Rode. "We did a great job blocking, but when we needed a crucial serve, we couldn't get it."

Warroad 3
Marshall County Central 0

Marshall County Central fell to 1-1 Thursday when Warroad left Newfolden with a 15-3, 15-9, 15-7 sweep.

"We played intimidated," reported Marshall County Central coach Mark Jorgenson. "They have a good team. We were a little sluggish on defense."

Fosston 3
Red Lake County Central 0

Fosston made quick work of visiting Red Lake County Central Thursday, 15-1, 15-8, 15-1.

"They have a good team, and we had an off night," said Red Lake County Central coach Nancy Bray.

Sophomores defeat EGF by 36-12 score

Thief River Falls sophomores evened their record at 1-1 Tuesday with a 36-12 high school football win over East Grand Forks at Prowler Field.

Quarterback Jon Blomker threw two touchdown passes to Kyle Nelson covering 37 and 14 yards, and also hit Jared Brandt with a 26-yard scoring strike. Rick Donarski (12 yards) and Sam Lane (6 yards) supplied touchdown runs. Richard Vaughn and Ben Furuseth reached the end zone on 2-point conversion runs and Blomker hooked up with Brandt on a 2-point conversion pass.

Thief River Falls had a 6-0 first quarter lead, a 14-6 halftime edge and a 28-6 third quarter advantage.

Public hearing on application for grant Sept. 13

A public hearing on a proposed Small Cities Development Program grant application will be held Tuesday, September 13, at 5:30 p.m. in the basement meeting room of the city auditorium.

Thief River Falls is proposing to apply for Small Cities Development Program (SCDP) grant that would fund a central business district commercial and residential rental rehabilitation project. The purpose of the hearing on Tuesday is to receive input and recommendations from the public in regard to housing, community development and economic development needs, in general; and to provide the public with information regarding the proposed central business district commercial and residential rental rehabilitation project; and receive comments on the SCDP grant application.

Persons who have questions or comments prior to the public hearing may contact Donald L. Stewart, community development director, at (218) 681-2500, or Joan Abercrombie at (218) 681-8222. Persons wishing to submit written comments prior to the public hearing should address their written comments to: Community Development Department, P.O. Box 528, Thief River Falls, MN 56701.

Drivers asleep in Labor Day accidents

Minnesota state patrol reported receiving reports of two accidents in the area on Labor Day that involved drivers falling asleep at the wheel.

According to a spokesperson for the state patrol, Daryl J. Comstock, Thief River Falls, reported from Northwest Medical Center on September 5, that while driving on Highway 89, three miles east of Grygla, he fell asleep and at about 3 a.m. the 1979 Bronco he was driving went off the road. Comstock was taken to Northwest Medical Center where he was treated for minor injuries. The Bronco was considered a total loss. Charges are pending.

At about noon on September 5, Brent Russell Elseth of Newfolden, reported from Northwest Medical Center, that at about 3 a.m. he was one-half mile north of Thief River Falls on Highway 32 when he fell asleep at the wheel and the 1981 Chevrolet pickup he was driving went into the ditch. Elseth had minor injuries and was taken to Northwest Medical Center. The pickup was considered a total loss. Charges are pending.

Motorcycles stolen in TRF recovered Wed.

Pennington county sheriff's department and the Thief River Falls police department recovered a trailer and two motorcycles reported stolen earlier this week.

On September 5 Troy Leiphart of Plain City, Ohio, reported that a trailer with two motorcycles and a toolbox containing two rifles, clothing and other miscellaneous items was taken.

On September 7 police received an anonymous phone call that the stolen motorcycles and trailer were located at a farm in rural Pennington county, Sanders township. With this information they requested assistance from the Minnesota State Patrol and an airplane was dispatched in an attempt to locate the stolen trailer. One of the motorcycles was identified from the air behind a house. A search warrant was obtained, and as a result, a 16-year-old male was arrested. Police have recovered the motorcycles, the trailer, the guns and all other items. One motorcycle was extensively damaged.

Charges are pending and the case is still under investigation. Further arrests might occur. Investigation of the case was conducted by the sheriff's department, police department and state patrol.

Police assist in arrest of Bagley man

Police in Thief River Falls participated in the capture of a man suspected of being involved in 15 to 20 burglaries in the area.

On September 6, Mahnomen and Polk county officials contacted Thief River Falls police requesting information about Timothy Vernell Maruska, 31, Bagley. Maruska was stopped in Thief River Falls and taken into custody. Some items found in his vehicle, including a boat motor were thought to have been stolen. Mahnomen county authorities took Maruska to Mahnomen where he is expected to appear in a Mahoomen county courthouse. He is wanted in connection with 15 to 20 burglaries in a four county area.

Agenda ready for land rights meet Sept. 14

An agenda has been prepared for the organization meeting of a Minnesota Land Rights association to be conducted Wednesday, September 14, at 1 p.m. at the public library at 405 St. Germain Street in St. Cloud. The library is located north of highway 23, across from the new civic center.

Among the items on the agenda, released by Don Parmeter of Northern Resources Center in International Falls, are such things as a name for the organization, mission statement, organizational structure, dues structure, membership goals, fund raising, discussion of issues, date for the next meeting and other business.

The meeting time is scheduled from 1 to 5 p.m. and anyone interested in property rights is invited to attend the meeting.

ATTENTION CONSUMERS: A manufacturer of Outdoor Wood Stoves has been continuously advertising against Stainless Steel Outdoor Wood Stoves. The manufacturer responsible for the negative advertising is among the few not producing a stainless steel unit. It is not our policy to sell our product by cutting down our competition - we believe that our product can sell itself. We will gladly clear up any misconceptions or doubts you may have about stainless steel. If you have any questions or comments please call Mike's Heating at 1-800-446-4043. F4t75c working at Pamida, and now both work days at Arctco.

Valerie and Caroline had their first experience in selling at this summer's flea market, but Val said, "it wasn't very good." She said that not enough people came to the sale, either because of the weather, because they had other things to do, or for some other reason. "All we got out of it was a sunburn," she said, "but we learned from it."

This time around the two are planning ahead. They will have two tables on which to set up their handmade crafts and homemade treats, and an umbrella in case of too much sun or rain.

Valerie said she will be making cookies and fudge to sell at the market Friday night, along with the crafts she has made. She makes key chains of leather and beads, as well as earrings of leather and beads, and has also been making plaques with quotes or cute sayings on them especially for the sale. "I keep my things for the market in my bedroom and you should see it. It is packed full!"

Since getting the hang of this craft sale business at the flea market, Val has been making display boards for her keychains and earrings, deciding that they will be more accessible to the buyers and that the boards will make a better presentation of the smaller items. She is planning on a way to display her fudge and cookies in as attractive a manner as possible and make them easy for the buyers to look at, and yet easy to carry home.

The fudge, Val said, is a "guaranteed winner. It is just delicious, and it's easy to make, too. And, the recipe makes three pounds." Val was willing to share her fudge recipe and it can be found in today's "Soupcon" column.

Val said the craft sale has gotten to be a family affair. Her husband, Thor, has been helping her as much as possible, although he hasn't much spare time, since he works at T-59 and also attends Northwest Technical and Northland colleges. Val comes up with the ideas for the projects and he cuts out all of the wood for her with tools they have gotten at rummage and auction sales. Then she paints them the way she wants. Ideas on how she will paint each object come, she says, as she works on each piece.

She gets her ideas from seeing other crafts and patterns in craft books, but she also makes up ideas on her own. When asked if she was artistic and liked art in school, Val laughed. "I never could stand it. I hated it." Crafting is different though, she said. "I like doing this."

According to Val, Caroline talked her into starting up with the craft-making. With Thor gone so much of the time, Val found she had plenty of time on her hands, even though she works full-time at Arctco, and she used to make a lot of knitted baby quilts. Well, she still makes a few special baby quilts, but lately her time has been spent on the sale crafts.

And she is enjoying it immensely. Not only does she enjoy making the crafts, but she enjoys sharing them with others and seeing people buy them. "The best part about it is finding out that someone actually wants to buy something I've made myself. I'm so surprised that people like what I've done enough to buy it and take it home."

Look for Valerie at Everybody's Market this year — if you get there early you may find a pack of fudge ready and waiting for you. If you don't see Valerie at the booth, look for Thor. He will be filling in for her because she just found out she will have to work Saturday and has to miss all of the fun.

The Smereks' little dog, Bell, knows just where to go to get comfy. She chooses one of Valerie Smerek's knitted baby quilts for her snooze. Val knits the baby quilts as well as making leather and bead key chains and earrings and wood crafts for Saturday's Everybody's Market. She hopes to make some for the fall craft sale in Thief River Falls in November.

Pumpkins, moons and bats will be some of the wood crafts that Val Smerek will have at her booth at Everybody's Market this year. She says she gets ideas from books and magazines, but most of her ideas just come as she works on each piece.

District 564 school board filings to close Sept. 13

Two incumbents have filed for reelection but there are no filings for two remaining years in one unexpired term as the filing period for the School District 564 board election nears closing.

The vacancy for which there are no filings at the present time is the unexpired term of Cheryl Lee. Mrs. Lee resigned from the board due to a potential conflict of interest when her husband's company intended to bid on a school district plumbing contract. The board appointed former veteran school board member Harry Sjulson to an interim position until the fall election.

Incumbents Larry Belmont and Harlan (Hank) Hallstrom have filed for reelection to three-year terms. Filing period remains open until 5 p.m. on Tuesday, September 13.

Area Artists' show and sale will be September 17

Tenth annual art show and sale of the Northern Prairie Artists association will take place Saturday, September 17, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Best Western Inn on highway 32 south, Thief River Falls.

Local artists displaying their work will be Cathy Mueller, LaVonne Forsberg, Ethel Sanders, Marilyn Hanson and Jan Osborn, Thief River Falls; Doris Campbell, Red Lake Falls; Elva Fiedler, Goodridge; and Marion Marquis, Oklee.

Included in the exhibit will be art work done in oil, acrylic, watercolor, pencil and pen and ink. Viewers will be asked to vote for their favorite entry for the "People's Choice" award among the works displayed.

There is no admission charge to attend the show and public attendance is invited.

Horace Ave. in TRF open to motorists

Construction workers completed the first layer of black top on Horace Avenue this week and opened it up to traffic. Work on the downtown Thief River Falls project focused on Second Street this week and sometime next week work might begin in the 300 block of LaBree Avenue.

Mike Miller, construction project supervisor for Christianson Industrial Developers, said motorists will be able to use Horace now that it has received a layer of blacktop. As soon as gravel and street lighting on the first block of LaBree is completed, motorists will be able to use those street also.

Work has been focused mainly on Second Street this week. Miller said he anticipates that as soon as Second Street is completed they will begin testing the new watermain. As soon as the watermain has been tested, sanitised and flushed out, the temporary water lines will be removed.

Miller said they had anticipated work to begin in the 300 block of LaBree Avenue this week, but that was delayed until next week. Miller said it was a short work week and they had run into a number of problems in the 200 block of LaBree. Problems included a underground tank they didn't know about and a building extension under a sidewalk that they didn't know about. He said he hopes they won't run into similar problems in the 300 block of LaBree.

Ron Lindberg, engineering services director, concluded that after this week, most of the underground work will have been completed.

Unless conditions change, the sub-contractor handling the curb and gutter part of the project will wait until there are three blocks to be done. Miller explained that it only takes a few days to put in the curb and gutter and it wouldn't make sense for the contractor to put in curb and gutter one block at a time at different times. In the meantime, however, sidewalks and class 5 gravel cannot be put in place until the curb and gutter is installed.

Only the first bituminous wearing course will be put on the downtown streets this year. Lindberg said the final one an done-half inch of bituminous will be put on the streets next year. That will allow time for the streets to settle. However, the final wearing course for Evergreen and Lowell Drive will be put on those streets this year.

Work on the project is progressing and none of the delays encountered so far will have much of an impact, if any, on the final completion date scheduled in October.

Full area code must be used starting soon

Use of the full 218 area code when dialing long distance telephone numbers within this area will become necessary beginning September 17, according to U S West Communications.

The change applies state-wide within all area codes of 218, 507 or 612. Previously callers needed only dial 1 and the local number when calling within the code area.

To meet future demand for telephone lines and accompanying numbers, the new dialing will free up the number combinations historically used as area codes and add them to the pool for use as local number prefixes. It is essential that all communities switch to the new dialing even though a given community may not be running out of numbers, because all customers must be on the same dialing system to communicate with one another.

Customers have had the option of dialing either 1 or the full area code since May 14. Beginning September 17, however, calls using only the number 1 will be intercepted by a recorded message asking the caller to re-dial and use the area code.

The change will not affect telephone rates nor the way customers dial other types of calls.

Farm Bureau names Friends of Agriculture

All northwestern Minnesota legislators have been designated by the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation as Friends of Agriculture based on their roll call votes on legislation involving farming restrictions, ethanol and biotechnology.

The designation was given to 85 legislators who scored at least 80 points out of a possible total of 110. Among those named were Sen. LeRoy Stumpf of Thief River Falls and Sen. Roger Moe of Erskine, Rep. Tim Finseth of Warren, Rep. Jim Tunheim of Kennedy, Rep. Bernie Lieder of Crookston and Rep. Edgar Olson of Fosston.

Randle's to open Ben Franklin store in TRF

Chuck and Joan Randle will open the Randle's Ben Franklin store in Thief River Falls at Third and Main on Saturday, September 10. It will be the largest of their five stores.

The store, which will be located in the old Woolworth's building, will be nothing like Woolworth's, said Paula Randle. There have been many changes, she said. Customers to the store will see that a new tile floor has been installed, the walls repainted and many of the old fixtures replaced with new.

The main focus will be on crafts, but shoppers will find something for everyone, including fabrics, crafts, pets, pet supplies, some health and beauty supplies, office and school supplies and much more.

Paula said the many people working in the store, getting it ready for its opening, have been very helpful. Everyone is working hard to get ready for the opening.

Customers should look for a special coupon booklet coming out. All kinds of items in the store can be purchased at sale prices with coupons from the booklet. Special door-prize drawings will also be held.

ANNOUNCEMENT
My campaign to be elected Minnesota State Auditor is on the move. I seek your endorsement now and your vote in November. My given abilities, experience and courage will enable me to perform the duties of State Auditor with honor and distinction. I believe we will win in September and again in November.
After four years as your State Auditor, I will not run for re-election in 1998 because I am a strong advocate of term limits for all state level office holders.
Sincerely yours,
Minnesota State Auditor Candidate

Man charged with theft of two planes

Halma — A Halma man was arrested last week at the Karlstad Airport by the Minnesota State Patrol for allegedly stealing two airplanes in northwestern Minnesota. Peter Converse, age 24, was attempting to land a Cessna 172 at the Karlstad Airport when he was apprehended. The Cessna was reported stolen from the Fertile Airport. It is also alleged that Converse stole a Piper Cherokee from the Red Lake Falls Airport. Converse is an aviation mechanic student at the Thief River Falls Technical College and was a member of the Red Lake Falls Flying Club. Maximum penalty for felony theft is 10 years in prison or $20,000 fine or both. Maximum penalty for a second count of the same offense is five years in prison and/or $10,000 fine.

Information wanted

Wannaska — Information is wanted on Ole E. Hagen, who was born in Gudbrandsdalen, Norway in 1852. He served as contractor in the Crookston area in 1877, was Judge of Probate for Polk county, was editor of Norwegian-American newspapers, wrote for the Roseau Region newspaper and died in 1908. Ole married Berot Paulsdatter in 1876 and the couple had eight children, Erick O., Paul, Thora, Mari, Cris, Ole, Edward and Ioga. Moderate turnout at polls in Pennington Co. primary

Turnout for the primary election in Pennington county was estimated at about 23 per cent of the eligible voters, which is a relatively light turnout for Pennington county.

A total number of 1,932 people turned out to vote on Tuesday. According to the Pennington county auditor's office, the number of persons registered as voters as of 7 a.m. on September 13, was 7,337. A total of 143 people registered on election day.

Statewide, the turnout was estimated at between 25 and 26 per cent.

Pennington County Auditor Ken Olson said the new voting system worked out well. He said there were only a few complaints. The biggest complaint Olson and others had in counting ballots was the fairly large number of ballots that had to be thrown out because of "crossovers". Crossovers are ballots in which the voter voted for both parties. During the Minnesota primary, voters are only allowed to vote for candidates of one party. Crossover ballots were examined individually to determine whether the voter made a mistake, and whether they then attempted to correct the mistake. Otherwise, crossover ballots are not counted.

Only one local race determined which candidates will now advance to the general election. In the race for Pennington county auditor, there were three candidates, which created a need for a primary election. The three candidates were Lemay Moe, Ken Schmalz and Dave Schneider. Ken Schmalz recorded the highest total with 974 votes. Lemay Moe will be the second name on the general election ballot because she narrowly defeated Dave Schneider by a vote total of 446 to 416.

Of the 34 precincts, Schmalz carried 24, Moe carried eight, and Schneider two. The precincts carried by Moe were in rural precincts and included the city of Goodridge. Schneider carried the precinct of Bray township and the city of St. Hilaire.

On the state primary ballot, residents of Pennington county were of a different opinion on a number of races. In the Governor and Lt. Governor race, DFL voters in Pennington county voted for the ticket of Hatch and Schmitz while statewide, the ticket of Marty and Larson came out on top. On the IR side of the ballot, IR voters in Pennington county thought the ticket of Quist and McFarland would represent them better in the general election, but the ticket of Carlson and Benson came out on top statewide.

There were fewer matches with statewide results on the IR side. Local IR voters did match up with statewide results in the U.S. Senator race and state treasurer race. Rod Grams came out on top in the U.S. Senator race and James C. Olson came out on top in the state treasurer race.

Pennington county IR voters thought David A.P. Anderson would make a better representative on the general election ballot than Judi Dutcher, who had the most votes statewide. And, they also thought Andrew Olson would make a better representative on the general election ballot for attorney general than Sharon Anderson, who had the most votes statewide.

Local DFL party voters matched all races statewide, except for Governor and Lt. Governor. Locally, DFL voters matched statewide results with Ann Wynia for U.S. Senator, Donald M. Moe for state auditor, Michael McGrath for state treasurer, and Hubert H. Humphrey III for attorney general.

Regional election results:

Local election results for other counties are listed in graphs in this issue. All of the incumbents, with the exception of Lynn Geller in the Red Lake county auditor race, made it to the general election.

All of the canvassing boards in the region have met and results are final with the exception of a recount between William Ihde and Ralph Schneider running in the Beltrami County Commission race for district 3.

Elementary school teachers in School District 564 have been scrambling along with nearly 100 construction and trades people to get ready for the start of classes at Challenger elementary school Monday, September 19. Despite a two-week delay from the opening of middle school and high school classes September 6, much work remains to be done at the new elementary school, particularly in non-classroom areas such as commons area, media center, gym, computer rooms and cafeteria/kitchen and in the pre-school schoolhouse. Elaine McGeary is shown working on her classroom Thursday afternoon. Orientation sessions for students and parents were scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, September 17 and 18.

Enrollment figures at area schools remain stable

Enrollment figures for area schools seem to be about the same as figures announed at the end of last year, with a few exceptions.

Goodridge school for instance, projected an enrollment this year of 239 students. At the beginning of this year, they had 253 students. In the newly combined school district of Warren/Alvarado/Oslo, enrollment has continued to climb since the first day. As of last Tuesday, enrolment was at 852. In one additional note, schools in Thief River Falls will not be open until Monday.

In Orygla, school district 447, 143 students have registered. By grade, there are 12 in kindergarten, 13 in first, 21 in second, 13 in third, 15 in fourth, 20 in fifth, 16 in sixth, 16 in seventh, 27 in eighth, 21 in ninth, 23 in 10th, 24 in 11th and 22 in 12th grade.

In Goodridge, school district 561, enrollment projects were estimated at 239 but as of Thursday, enrollment was at 253. By grade, there were 18 in kindergarten, 14 in first, 17 in second, 19 in third, 19 in fourth, 15 in fifth, 18 in sixth, 19 in seventh, 21, in eighth, 26 in ninth, 18 in 10th, 21 in 11th, 27 in 12th grade. Two students are taking classes off campus.

In Middle River, school district 440, there are a total of 594 students in the combined schools of Greenbush and Middle River. This is the third year of a pairing agreement between Middle River and Greenbush. There are a total of 361 students in the Greenbush schools, which include grades 9 through 12 and Kindergarten through grade 6. There are 233 students in the Middle River school, which is for students in grades kindergarten through grade 8.

By grade, in Middle River, there are 9 students in kindergarten, 17 in first, 21 in second, 13 in third, 25 in fourth, 18 in fifth, 22 in sixth, 51 in seventh, and 57 in eighth.

By grade, in Greenbush, there are 19 students in kindergarten, 21 in first, 27 in second, 22 in third, 22 in fourth, 23 in fifth, and 26 in sixth grade. Also, there are 57 students in grade 9, 54 in 10th grade, 43 in 11th, and 47 in 12th.

In Newfolden, school district 441, there are a total of 416 students, which is slightly higher than last year. There are 25 students in kindergarten, 31 in first grade, 26 in second, 25 in third, 26 in fourth, 35 in fifth, 38 in sixth, 33 in seventh, 36 in eighth, 35 in ninth, 39 in 10th, 35 in 11th, and 32 in 12th grade.

In Oklee, school district 627, enrollment is down by about seven students. The total number of students registered as of Thursday was 298. By grade, there are 16 students in kindergarten, 18 in first, 14 in second, 20 in third, 19 in fourth, 27 in fifth, 21 in sixth, 21 in seventh, 17 in eighth, 34 in ninth, 34 in 10th, 27 in 11th, and 30 in 12th.

In Plummer, school district 628, enrollment figures were about the same as last year's figures. The total number of students registered, as of Thursday, was 209. By grade, there are 9 students in kindergarten, 10 in first, 14 in second, 13 in third, 17 in fourth, 15 in fifth, 19 in sixth, 21 in seventh, 20 in eighth, 19 in ninth, 18 in 10th, 19 in 11th, and 15 in 12th grade.

In the Warren/Alvarado/Oslo school district, there are 852 students registered for classes. There are 87 students attending the elementary school at Alvarado and 294 are at Warren elementary. By grade in Alvarado, there are 16 in kindergarten, 16 in first, 18 in second, 18 in third, 16 in fourth, 19 in fifth. By grade at Warren elementary school, there are eight in preschool, 58 in kindergarten, 62 in first, 70 in second, 67 in third, 59 in fourth, 63 in fifth, and 60 in sixth grade.

In high school, there are 68 students in seventh, 65 in eighth, 71 in ninth, 76 in 10th, 59 in 11th, and 62 in 12th grade.

In Red Lake Falls, school district 630, there are a total of 503 students in grades kindergarten through grade 12. That's the same number of students registered at the

SCORE report says region lags behind in recycling goals

According to an environmental assistance report, Pennington county lags behind much of the state in its efforts to recycle trash.

Minnesota households and businesses led the nation in 1993 by recycling more than 40 per cent of its trash in 1993, an increase over the 39 per cent in 1992, and a five-fold improvement from the eight per cent rate just five years ago. Pennington county and several other greater Minnesota counties lag behind with between 17 to 23 per cent.

What they count really limits us, said Howard Person, Pennington county solid waste officer. They count scrap metal, type 1 and 11 plastic, corrugated cardboard and tires. They do not count waste abatement efforts through pelletizing and composting, Person added.

Person explained that only 15 per cent of the entire waste stream goes to the landfill.

Person said Pennington county is in the process of a difficult transition period. Much of the equipment at Future Fuel is breaking down and outdated. He said once a new screener is put on line, Pennington county's percentage of recycling will increase from 17 per cent to 25 per cent, according to state analysts. Once SwisCorp takes over, which he hopes will be soon, he thinks the county's recy-

Open house for parents Thur. at Lincoln HS

Parents of Lincoln high school students are invited to an open house to be held Thursday, September 22, starting at 6 p.m., according to Terry Soine, principal. A public open house is being planned for later this fall.

The open house will focus on the student's schedule and will provide an opportunity for parents and teachers to become better acquainted. Students can provide parents with a copy of their class schedule.

Saurdiffs named as Marshall-Beltrami SWCD cooperators

David and Gwen Saurdiff of Gryglo were recently named as "Outstanding Conservation Cooperator" award winners for 1994 by the Marshall-Beltrami Soil and Water Conservation District.

The Saurdiffs have farmed since 1976 in Benville township of Beltrami county. They own 760 acres of land, rent an additional 160 acres and are the third family generation on the farm since it was homesteaded in the early 1900s.

Their diversified farming operation includes small grain crops of wheat and barley, alfalfa for hay, a beef cow/calf operation that averages about 100 head and a hog farrowing operation they have conducted for the past 15 years.

Conservation practices on the farm include a crop rotation system of hay, pasture and small grain, installation of four stock ponds, tree planting in the farmstead windbreak and west of the farm yard and installation and maintenance of five to six miles of main and lateral field ditches.

Two erosion control structures have been installed on ditches draining into the Mud River. Land clearing has also been done to square up fields, rock piles have been buried and woodlots are managed on the farm. Improvements on the farm include a new house, a hog farrowing barn, hog finishing barn and a quonset-type building.

In addition to his own farming operation, David does custom baling.

David and Gwen are members of Grace Lutheran Church and the National Rifle Association and serve as fire wardens for Benville township. They enjoy fishing and hunting and Gwen also enjoys vegetable and flower gardening.

The Saurdiffs have four children. Ben is a student at Bemidji State University and Jennifer, Curtiss and Renae are at home.

working at Pamida, and now both work days at Arctco.

Valerie and Caroline had their first experience in selling at this summer's flea market, but Val said, "it wasn't very good." She said that not enough people came to the sale, either because of the weather, because they had other things to do, or for some other reason. "All we got out of it was a sunburn," she said, "but we learned from it."

This time around the two are planning ahead. They will have two tables on which to set up their handmade crafts and homemade treats, and an umbrella in case of too much sun or rain.

Valerie said she will be making cookies and fudge to sell at the market Friday night, along with the crafts she has made. She makes key chains of leather and beads, as well as earrings of leather and beads, and has also been making plaques with quotes or cute sayings on them especially for the sale. "I keep my things for the market in my bedroom and you should see it. It is packed full!"

Since getting the hang of this craft sale business at the flea market, Val has been making display boards for her keychains and earrings, deciding that they will be more accessible to the buyers and that the boards will make a better presentation of the smaller items. She is planning on a way to display her fudge and cookies in as attractive a manner as possible and make them easy for the buyers to look at, and yet easy to carry home.

The fudge, Val said, is a "guaranteed winner. It is just delicious, and it's easy to make, too. And the recipe makes three pounds." Val was willing to share her fudge recipe and it can be found in today's "Soupcon" column.

Val said the craft sale has gotten to be a family affair. Her husband, Thor, has been helping her as much as possible, although he hasn't much spare time, since he works at T-59 and also attends Northwest Technical and Northland colleges. Val comes up with the ideas for the projects and he cuts out all of the wood for her with tools they have gotten at rummage and auction sales. Then she paints them the way she wants. Ideas on how she will paint each object come, she says, as she works on each piece.

She gets her ideas from seeing other crafts and patterns in craft books, but she also makes up ideas on her own. When asked if she was artistic and liked art in school, Val laughed. "I never could stand it. I hated it." Crafting is different though, she said. "I like doing this."

According to Val, Caroline talked her into starting up with the craft-making. With Thor gone so much of the time, Val found she had plenty of time on her hands, even though she works full-time at Arctco, and she used to make a lot of knitted baby quilts. Well, she still makes a few special baby quilts, but lately her time has been spent on the sale crafts.

And she is enjoying it immensely. Not only does she enjoy making the crafts, but she enjoys sharing them with others and seeing people buy them. "The best part about it is finding out that someone actually wants to buy something I've made myself. I'm so surprised that people like what I've done enough to buy it and take it home."

Look for Valerie at Everybody's Market this year — if you get there early you may find a pack of fudge ready and waiting for you. If you don't see Valerie at the booth, look for Thor. He will be filling in for her because she just found out she will have to work Saturday and has to miss all of the fun.

The Smereks' little dog, Bell, knows just where to go to get comfy. She chooses one of Valerie Smerek's knitted baby quilts for her snooze. Val knits the baby quilts as well as making leather and bead key chains and earrings and wood crafts for Saturday's Everybody's Market. She hopes to make some for the fall craft sale in Thief River Falls in November.

Pumpkins, moons and bats will be some of the wood crafts that Val Smerek will have at her booth at Everybody's Market this year. She says she gets ideas from books and magazines, but most of her ideas just come as she works on each piece.

Horace Ave. in TRF open to motorists

Construction workers completed the first layer of black top on Horace Avenue this week and opened it up to traffic. Work on the downtown Thief River Falls project focused on Second Street this week and sometime next week work might begin in the 300 block of LaBree Avenue.

Mike Miller, construction project supervisor for Christianson Industrial Developers, said motorists will be able to use Horace now that it has received a layer of blacktop. As soon as gravel and street lighting on the first block of LaBree is completed, motorists will be able to use those street also.

Work has been focused mainly on Second Street this week. Miller said he anticipates that as soon as Second Street is completed they will begin testing the new watermain. As soon as the watermain has been tested, sanitized and flushed out, the temporary water lines will be removed.

Miller said they had anticipated work to begin in the 300 block of LaBree Avenue this week, but that was delayed until next week. Miller said it was a short work week and they had run into a number of problems in the 200 block of LaBree. Problems included a underground tank they didn't know about and a building extension under a sidewalk that they didn't know about. He said he hopes they won't run into similar problems in the 300 block of LaBree.

Ron Lindberg, engineering services director, concluded that after this week, most of the underground work will have been completed.

Unless conditions change, the sub-contractor handling the curb and gutter part of the project will wait until there are three blocks to be done. Miller explained that it only takes a few days to put in the curb and gutter and it wouldn't make sense for the contractor to put in curb and gutter one block at a time at different times. In the meantime, however, sidewalks and class 5 gravel cannot be put in place until the curb and gutter is installed.

Only the first bituminous wearing course will be put on the downtown streets this year. Lindberg said the final one an done-half inch of bituminous will be put on the streets next year. That will allow time for the streets to settle. However, the final wearing course for Evergreen and Lowell Drive will be put on those streets this year.

Work on the project is progressing and none of the delays encountered so far will have much of an impact, if any, on the final completion date scheduled in October.

Randle's to open Ben Franklin store in TRF

Chuck and Joan Randle will open the Randle's Ben Franklin store in Thief River Falls at Third and Main on Saturday, September 10. It will be the largest of their five stores.

The store, which will be located in the old Woolworth's building, will be nothing like Woolworth's, said Paula Randle. There have been many changes, she said. Customers to the store will see that a new tile floor has been installed, the walls repainted and many of the old fixtures replaced with new.

The main focus will be on crafts, but shoppers will find something for everyone, including fabrics, crafts, pets, pet supplies, some health and beauty supplies, office and school supplies and much more.

Paula said the many people working in the store, getting it ready for its opening, have been very helpful. Everyone is working hard to get ready for the opening.

Customers should look for a special coupon booklet coming out. All kinds of items in the store can be purchased at sale prices with coupons from the booklet. Special door-prize drawings will also be held.

Full area code must be used starting soon

Use of the full 218 area code when dialing long distance telephone numbers within this area will become necessary beginning September 17, according to U S West Communications.

The change applies state-wide within all area codes of 218, 507 or 612. Previously callers needed only dial 1 and the local number when calling within the code area.

To meet future demand for telephone lines and accompanying numbers, the new dialing will free up the number combinations historically used as area codes and add them to the pool for use as local number prefixes. It is essential that all communities switch to the new dialing even though a given community may not be running out of numbers, because all customers must be on the same dialing system to communicate with one another.

Customers have had the option of dialing either 1 or the full area code since May 14. Beginning September 17, however, calls using only the number 1 will be intercepted by a recorded message asking the caller to re-dial and use the area code.

The change will not affect telephone rates nor the way customers dial other types of calls.

District 564 school board filings to close Sept. 13

Two incumbents have filed for reelection but there are no filings for two remaining years in one unexpired term as the filing period for the School District 564 board election nears closing.

The vacancy for which there are no filings at the present time is the unexpired term of Cheryl Lee. Mrs. Lee resigned from the board due to a potential conflict of interest when her husband's company intended to bid on a school district plumbing contract. The board appointed former veteran school board member Harry Sjulson to an interim position until the fall election.

Incumbents Larry Belmont and Harlan (Hank) Hallstrom have filed for reelection to three-year terms. Filing period remains open until 5 p.m. on Tuesday, September 13.

Area Artists' show and sale will be September 17

Tenth annual art show and sale of the Northern Prairie Artists association will take place Saturday, September 17, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Best Western Inn on highway 32 south, Thief River Falls.

Local artists displaying their work will be Cathy Mueller, LaVonne Forsberg, Ethel Sanders, Marilyn Hanson and Jan Osborn, Thief River Falls; Doris Campbell, Red Lake Falls; Elva Fiedler, Goodridge; and Marion Marquis, Oklee.

Included in the exhibit will be art work done in oil, acrylic, watercolor, pencil and pen and ink. Viewers will be asked to vote for their favorite entry for the "People's Choice" award among the works displayed.

There is no admission charge to attend the show and public attendance is invited.

Farm Bureau names Friends of Agriculture

All northwestern Minnesota legislators have been designated by the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation as Friends of Agriculture based on their roll call votes on legislation involving farming restrictions, ethanol and biotechnology.

The designation was given to 85 legislators who scored at least 80 points out of a possible total of 110. Among those named were Sen. LeRoy Stumpf of Thief River Falls and Sen. Roger Moe of Erskine, Rep. Tim Finseth of Warren, Rep. Jim Tunheim of Kennedy, Rep. Bernie Lieder of Crookston and Rep. Edgar Olson of Fosston.

Moderate turnout at polls in Pennington Co. primary

Turnout for the primary election in Pennington county was estimated at about 23 per cent of the eligible voters, which is a relatively light turnout for Pennington county.

A total number of 1,932 people turned out to vote on Tuesday. According to the Pennington county auditor's office, the number of persons registered as voters as of 7 a.m. on September 13, was 7,337. A total of 143 people registered on election day.

Statewide, the turnout was estimated at between 25 and 26 per cent.

Pennington County Auditor Ken Olson said the new voting system worked out well. He said there were only a few complaints. The biggest complaint Olson and others had in counting ballots was the fairly large number of ballots that had to be thrown out because of "crossovers". Crossovers are ballots in which the voter voted for both parties. During the Minnesota primary, voters are only allowed to vote for candidates of one party. Crossover ballots were examined individually to determine whether the voter made a mistake, and whether they then attempted to correct the mistake. Otherwise, crossover ballots are not counted.

Only one local race determined which candidates will now advance to the general election. In the race for Pennington county auditor, there were three candidates, which created a need for a primary election. The three candidates were Lemay Moe, Ken Schmalz and Dave Schneider. Ken Schmalz recorded the highest total with 974 votes. Lemay Moe will be the second name on the general election ballot because she narrowly defeated Dave Schneider by a vote total of 446 to 416.

Of the 34 precincts, Schmalz carried 24, Moe carried eight, and Schneider two. The precincts carried by Moe were in rural precincts and included the city of Goodridge. Schneider carried the precinct of Bray township and the city of St. Hilaire.

On the state primary ballot, residents of Pennington county were of a different opinion on a number of races. In the Governor and Lt. Governor race, DFL voters in Pennington county voted for the ticket of Hatch and Schmitz while statewide, the ticket of Marty and Larson came out on top. On the IR side of the ballot, IR voters in Pennington county thought the ticket of Quist and McFarland would represent them better in the general election, but the ticket of Carlson and Benson came out on top statewide.

There were fewer matches with statewide results on the IR side. Local IR voters did match up with statewide results in the U.S. Senator race and state treasurer race. Rod Grams came out on top in the U.S. Senator race and James C. Olson came out on top in the state treasurer race.

Pennington county IR voters thought David A.P. Anderson would make a better representative on the general election ballot than Judi Dutcher, who had the most votes statewide. And, they also thought Andrew Olson would make a better representative on the general election ballot for attorney general than Sharon Anderson, who had the most votes statewide.

Local DFL party voters matched all races statewide, except for Governor and Lt. Governor. Locally, DFL voters matched statewide results with Ann Wynia for U.S. Senator, Donald M. Moe for state auditor, Michael McGrath for state treasurer, and Hubert H. Humphrey III for attorney general.

Regional election results:

Local election results for other counties are listed in graphs in this issue. All of the incumbents, with the exception of Lynn Geller in the Red Lake county auditor race, made it to the general election.

All of the canvassing boards in the region have met and results are final with the exception of a recount between William Ihde and Ralph Schneider running in the Beltrami County Commission race for district 3.

Elementary school teachers in School District 564 have been scrambling along with nearly 100 construction and trades people to get ready for the start of classes at Challenger elementary school Monday, September 19. Despite a two-week delay from the opening of middle school and high school classes September 5, much work remains to be done at the new elementary school, particularly in non-classroom areas such as commons area, media center, gym, computer rooms and cafeteria/kitchen and in the pre-school schoolhouse. Elaine McGeery is shown working on her classroom Thursday afternoon. Orientation sessions for students and parents were scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, September 17 and 18.

Enrollment figures at area schools remain stable

Enrollment figures for area schools seem to be about the same as figures announced at the end of last year, with a few exceptions.

Goodridge school for instance, projected an enrollment this year of 239 students. At the beginning of this year, they had 253 students. In the newly combined school district of Warren/Alvarado/Oslo, enrollment has continued to climb since the first day. As of last Tuesday, enrolment was at 852. In one additional note, schools in Thief River Falls will not be open until Monday.

In Grygla, school district 447, 143 students have registered. By grade, there are 12 in kindergarten, 13 in first, 21 in second, 13 in third, 15 in fourth, 20 in fifth, 16 in sixth, 16 in seventh, 27 in eighth, 21 in ninth, 23 in 10th, 24 in 11th and 22 in 12th grade.

In Goodridge, school district 561, enrollment projects were estimated at 239 but as of Thursday, enrollment was at 253. By grade, there were 18 in kindergarten, 14 in first, 17 in second, 19 in third, 19 in fourth, 15 in fifth, 18 in sixth, 19 in seventh, 21, in eighth, 26 in ninth, 18 in 10th, 21 in 11th, 27 in 12th grade. Two students are taking classes off campus.

In Middle River, school district 440, there are a total of 594 students in the combined schools of Greenbush and Middle River. This is the third year of a pairing agreement between Middle River and Greenbush. There are a total of 361 students in the Greenbush schools, which include grades 9 through 12 and Kindergarten through grade 6. There are 233 students in the Middle River school, which is for students in grades kindergarten through grade 8.

By grade, in Middle River, there are 9 students in kindergarten, 17 in first, 21 in second, 13 in third, 25 in fourth, 18 in fifth, 22 in sixth, 51 in seventh, and 57 in eighth.

By grade, in Greenbush, there are 19 students in kindergarten, 21 in first, 27 in second, 22 in third, 22 in fourth, 23 in fifth, and 26 in sixth grade. Also, there are 57 students in grade 9, 54 in 10th grade, 43 in 11th, and 47 in 12th.

In Newfolden, school district 441, there are a total of 416 students, which is slightly higher than last year. There are 25 students in kindergarten, 31 in first grade, 26 in second, 25 in third, 26 in fourth, 36 in fifth, 38 in sixth, 33 in seventh, 36 in eighth, 35 in ninth, 39 in 10th, 35 in 11th, and 32 in 12th grade.

In Oklee, school district 627, enrollment is down by about seven students. The total number of students registered as of Thursday was 298. By grade, there are 16 students in kindergarten, 18 in first, 14 in second, 20 in third, 19 in fourth, 27 in fifth, 21 in sixth, 21 in seventh, 17 in eighth, 34 in ninth, 34 in 10th, 27 in 11th, and 30 in 12th.

In Plummer, school district 628, enrollment figures were about the same as last year's figures. The total number of students registered, as of Thursday, was 209. By grade, there are 9 students in kindergarten, 10 in first, 14 in second, 13 in third, 17 in fourth, 15 in fifth, 19 in sixth, 21 in seventh, 20 in eighth, 19 in ninth, 18 in 10th, 19 in 11th, and 15 in 12th grade.

In the Warren/Alvarado/Oslo school district, there are 852 students registered for classes. There are 87 students attending the elementary school at Alvarado and 294 are at Warren elementary. By grade in Alvarado, there are 16 in kindergarten, 16 in first, 18 in second, 18 in third, 16 in fourth, 19 in fifth. By grade at Warren elementary school, there are eight in pre-school, 58 in kindergarten, 62 in first, 70 in second, 67 in third, 59 in fourth, 63 in fifth, and 60 in sixth grade.

In high school, there are 68 students in seventh, 65 in eighth, 71 in ninth, 76 in 10th, 59 in 11th, and 62 in 12th grade.

In Red Lake Falls, school district 630, there are a total of 503 students in grades kindergarten through grade 12. That's the same number of students registered at the

SCORE report says region lags behind in recycling goals

According to an environmental assistance report, Pennington county lags behind much of the state in its efforts to recycle trash.

Minnesota households and businesses led the nation in 1993 by recycling more than 40 per cent of its trash in 1993, an increase over the 39 per cent in 1992, and a five-fold improvement from the eight per cent rate just five years ago. Pennington county and several other greater Minnesota counties lag behind with between 17 to 23 per cent.

What they count really limits us, said Howard Person, Pennington county solid waste officer. They count scrap metal, type 1 and II plastic, corrugated cardboard and tires. They do not count waste abatement efforts through pelletizing and composting, Person added.

Person explained that only 15 per cent of the entire waste stream goes to the landfill.

Person said Pennington county is in the process of a difficult transition period. Much of the equipment at Future Fuel is breaking down and outdated. He said once a new screener is put on line, Pennington county's percentage of recycling will increase from 17 per cent to 25 per cent, according to state analysts. Once SwisCorp takes over, which he hopes will be soon, he thinks the county's recy-

Open house for parents Thur. at Lincoln HS

Parents of Lincoln high school students are invited to an open house to be held Thursday, September 22, starting at 6 p.m., according to Terry Soine, principal. A public open house is being planned for later this fall.

The open house will focus on the student's schedule and will provide an opportunity for parents and teachers to become better acquainted. Students can provide parents with a copy of their class schedule.

Saurdiffs named as Marshall-Beltrami SWCD cooperators

David and Gwen Saurdiff of Grygla were recently named as "Outstanding Conservation Cooperator" award winners for 1994 by the Marshall-Beltrami Soil and Water Conservation District.

The Saurdiffs have farmed since 1976 in Benville township of Beltrami county. They own 760 acres of land, rent an additional 160 acres and are the third family generation on the farm since it was homesteaded in the early 1900s.

Their diversified farming operation includes small grain crops of wheat and barley, alfalfa for hay, a beef cow/calf operation that averages about 100 head and a hog farrowing operation they have conducted for the past 15 years.

Conservation practices on the farm include a crop rotation system of hay, pasture and small grain, installation of four stock ponds, tree planting in the farmstead windbreak and west of the farm yard and installation and maintenance of five to six miles of main and lateral field ditches.

Two erosion control structures have been installed on ditches draining into the Mud River. Land clearing has also been done to square up fields, rock piles have been buried and woodlots are managed on the farm. Improvements on the farm include a new house, a hog farrowing barn, hog finishing barn and a quonset-type building.

In addition to his own farming operation, David does custom baling.

David and Gwen are members of Grace Lutheran Church and the National Rifle Association and serve as fire wardens for Benville township. They enjoy fishing and hunting and Gwen also enjoys vegetable and flower gardening.

The Saurdiffs have four children. Ben is a student at Bemidji State University and Jennifer, Curtiss and Renae are at home.

Man injured on farm

Lake Bronson — Steve Sele of Lake Bronson was seriously injured last Saturday when his arm became entangled in the conveyor of a potato truck, while he was working on Degen Farms in Karlstad. Sele was apparently trying to remove some dirt from the moving conveyor when he lost his footing and reached out to brace himself, placing his arm in the machine. Karlstad firemen and emergency medical technicians worked about 40 minutes before they could free Sele's arm. He was taken to Karlstad Memorial Hospital and then transferred to North Memorial Hospital in Robbinsdale.

Horse project members get help for show

Danielle Grendbols and Josh Clark, winners of the 4-H club horse show at the Pennington County Fair in July, received help from a number of sponsors to attend the state 4-H horse show being held Friday through Monday, September 16-19, in St. Paul.

Other 4-H livestock winners compete at the state fair and have their animals transported to the event. They also can stay at the 4-H building for a very modest fee. The horse show winners compete after the fair is over and must provide their own transportation, food and lodging.

Assisting Danielle and Josh with expenses are Hartz Foods, Northland Produce, Brodin Sheet Metal, Inc., Car Quest Auto Parts, St. Hilaire Co-op Elevator, the Best Western Inn, Pizza Hut, Thune-Upham & Associates, Tunberg Motor Company, Narverud Cleaners, First National Bank, Westside Motors, Farmers Union Oil Co., Northern Motors, Norwest Bank, Kezar Music, Sports Cards Etc., Tony Dorn, Inc., Budget Electronics and RV Sports.

Parent advisory group to meet at Franklin MS

Horse project members get help for show

Danielle Grandhois and Josh Clark, winners of the 4-H club horse show at the Pennington County Fair in July, received help from a number of sponsors to attend the state 4-H horse show being held Friday through Monday, September 16-19, in St. Paul.

Other 4-H livestock winners compete at the state fair and have their animals transported to the event. They also can stay at the 4-H building for a very modest fee. The horse show winners compete after the fair is over and must provide their own transportation, food and lodging.

Assisting Danielle and Josh with expenses are Hartz Foods, Northland Produce, Brodin Sheet Metal, Inc., Car Quest Auto Parts, St. Hilaire Co-op Elevator, the Best Western Inn, Pizza Hut, Thune-Upham & Associates, Tunberg Motor Company, Narverud Cleaners, First National Bank, Westside Motors, Farmers Union Oil Co., Northern Motors, Norwest Bank, Kezar Music, Sports Cards Etc., Tony Dorn, Inc., Budget Electronics and RV Sports.

Parent advisory group to meet at Franklin MS

Franklin middle school parent advisory group will have an informal meeting Tuesday, September 20, at 7 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

Agenda items include changes in school policies, student and parent handbooks and a tour of the school. All parents of Franklin middle school students are encouraged to attend.

THANK YOU

I, Lemay Moe, running for Pennington County Recorder, would like to thank everyone for their support in the recent primary election. Your support will be appreciated in the general election on Tuesday, November 8th.

Sincerely,
Lemay Moe

School is starting or has started, it appears that fall is coming, and it's time to bake cookies. Here are some interesting recipes you might want to use to fill up that cookie jar.

The kids will love these:
PEANUT BUTTER OAT COOKIE

3 large eggs (room temperature)
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup white sugar
1 tablespoon vanilla
2 tablespoons light corn syrup
1 stick margarine
1 1/2 cups chunk peanut butter
2 teaspoons soda
4 1/2 cups quick type oats
1 1/2 cups M&Ms plain candies
1 1/2 cups M&M peanut candies

Preheat oven to 325 degrees. Line baking sheets with aluminum foil and grease lightly.

In large bowl, cream eggs, sugars, vanilla, corn syrup, margarine and peanut butter until light and fluffy. Beat 1 minute on high speed of electric mixer.

Stir in soda and oatmeal, blending well. Add M&Ms, incorporating by hand, if necessary.

Drop dough by teaspoonfuls (2 inches apart) on prepared sheets. Bake 12 minutes or until very lightly browned.

Cool baking sheets on rack for 5 minutes, or until cookies are set. Carefully remove cookies to rack with spatula. Cool completely.

(Cookies will be very soft when first removed from oven, but will become firm after standing.)

Store cookies in covered container in layers separated by waxed paper. (Recipe makes about 6 dozen cookies.)

Pre-school open house Sept. 29 at Challenger

Open house for the pre-school wing groups at Challenger elementary school will be held Thursday, September 29, from 4:30 to 7:30 p.m. Participating will be Early Childhood Family Education, Head Start, Early Childhood Special Education and the Thief River Falls Nursery School.

The pre-school school house will not be included in the elementary orientation scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, September 17 and 18, but will be part of a community open house to be scheduled later this fall at Challenger.

Joyce Froschheiser, ECFE director, said delaying the opening of the pre-school wing will ease the rush of moving. "We really need more time to settle in and make preparations to welcome families to this beautiful pre-school facility. We have already set back the early childhood schedule to October, so a September 29 orientation should work well."

Registrations are still available in all early childhood classes. For information call 681-8670.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

They deceived as again! The "Crime Bill" just passed and now the politicians and mass media are questioning how much good it will do to stop crime...naturally. This is a big change from how good they told us it would be and so we must pass it. However, the politicians did get the assault gun ban part through (knowing they had very little effect on crime).

They're coming after everything, folks. This is called Fabianism. You take a little at a time while the people sleep.

At this point, the move is toward a Brady Bill II to license and register guns. If Janet Reno gets her way, there would be a "needs based licensing." This means you would have to prove you need a gun to get one....even though you qualified under Brady Bill I. We told you, didn't we?

Senator Howard Metzenbaum said, "There's no point in banning any guns unless we ban them all." They have decided to ban them all!

Congressman Charles Schummer said, "Yes, the NRA's greatest nightmare has come true. We're going to beat the guns into submission."

There has been a suggestion to repeal the Second Amendment.

People, Cuba had the assault weapon ban and Brady Bill about 30 years ago. Look at what happened—total tyranny set in. Adolf Hitler started in the same manner exactly in 1938.

Join the NRA at 1-800-672-3888 and write and call your Congressman. If we don't do something, we'll lose it all.

Sincerely,
Ken Chruszch

Wedul earns life status in round table

Katherine Wedul, Lutheran Brotherhood district representative in Thief River Falls, has earned qualifying and life status in the Million Dollar Round Table. Only six per cent of the world's life insurance agents qualify for the round table each year through high-level client service and production.

The round table's members represent approximately 50 nations and territories and nearly 500 life insurance companies.

Election Predictions Were Nearly Half Wrong

The primary election predictions we made last week turned out to be just a little over half right—not a very impressive showing by any means. The election turn-out at about 25 per cent of the registered voters is considered to be good in that it is an upswing from declining totals in the past several elections.

Nearly 55 per cent of the 851,000 votes cast were on the Independent-Republican side of the ballot, an unusual circumstance in a state where the DFL has been a stronghold for a number of years. Cross-over of Democrats to the IR side to attempt to affect the gubernatorial primary may have been a factor, as well as the idealogical differences between Gov. Arne Carlson and endorsed candidate Allen Quist.

Our predictions went awry right off the bat in the only local contest on the primary election ballot. We predicted Ken Schmalz would be the leading vote-getter for County Recorder, and he was, but we predicted Dave Schneider would also advance to the general election and he didn't. Lemay Moe shaded Schneider 446 to 416 while Schmalz waltzed with 974.

Our expectations for a female head-to-head race for U.S. Senate came to naught when endorsed IR candidate Rod Grams crushed Joanell Dyrstad by 58 per cent to 35 per cent of the vote. Endorsed DFL candidate Ann Wynia easily whipped Tom Foley 62 per cent to 33 per cent. We had predicted Dyrstad and Wynia would win.

We also went one for two in the governor predictions. Gov. Arne Carlson buried party endorsed candidate Allen Quist 66 per cent to 34 per cent, as we predicted. But John Marty received the DFL nod over Mike Hatch, who we had predicted would win. Marty had about a 5,200 vote margin with nearly 383,000 votes cast on the DFL side of the ballot.

We struck out swinging in the State Auditor race. We predicted Todd Otis would win on the DFL side but state legislator Donald Moe beat him by almost 19,000 votes. And we predicted Don Koenig would win the IR race, but he finished third, well behind Judi Dutcher, who gained the general election with only 28 per cent of the IR primary vote. IR voters for Auditor must have been somewhat confused as well as on one among the six candidates had less than seven per cent of the vote and the top four had 28, 21, 19 and 17 per cent.

For State Treasurer, however, we had a two for two plate appearance, correctly predicting the election of Hubert H. Humphrey III on the DFL side (he had 88 per cent of the DFL vote) and Sharon Anderson on the IR side (she had 40 per cent to 34 per cent for Thomas Neuville and 26 per cent for Andrew Olson).

We also went two for two in the Treasurer race, predicting Michael McGrath on the DFL ticket and James Olson on the IR ticket would win. Both did.

Next predictions will be for the November 1 general election.

Recreational Property Owners Have A Point

One of the most rapidly growing organizations in Minnesota must be the Minnesota Seasonal Recreational Property Owners Coalition (MSRPO). It was organized earlier this year and already has 1,700 members with several hundred more joining every month.

There is no question that this is a special interest group and that its intentions are self-serving. There is also no question that the members are totally justified in organizing in their own behalf.

The organization has one basic purpose: To secure reduction of seasonal and recreational property taxes. To that end it has hired a law firm to assist in its legislative lobbying effort.

Dick Wray, chairman of the coalition, correctly points out that "the taxes paid on cabins are two to four times higher than taxes paid on similarly valued properties that are homesteaded."

There are those who would say that the discriminatory taxes are justified as a type of "luxury" tax, paid by affluent people who can afford lake property in addition to their regular residences. That has probably been the contention on which the discrimination has been allowed to proliferate to the point it has reached now. And it is probably why there was minor public outcry by those affected while the escalation was in process.

But the robber band has reached the end of its elasticity. And as the legislature is about to find out, its fingers will get stung when the other end of the band releases.

Wray's organization makes some totally valid points when it notes:

"We only utilize our properties three to four months a year and none of our children use the school systems where our cabins are located. We spend the vast majority of our vacation and leisure dollars right here in Minnesota in the communities where our seasonal properties are located.

"We fuel economic growth and create jobs where both are very badly needed in the state. In view of this we find it ironic and certainly ill-advised that the legislature penalizes us with a significantly higher property tax rate. It's not fair and the system must be changed. Many of us are literally being taxed out of our seasonal homes that we scrimped and saved for many years to acquire."

The "scrimping and saving" argument may be a little hard for a legislator to swallow, but inheritance shouldn't. Many lakeshore properties were acquired by families long ago when property was cheap and developed with devoted time and accumulated resources over the years. They are treasured and nostalgic rendezvous points, but the increasingly exorbitant amount of taxes levied threatens their continued family use.

Certainly, people who want to play with expensive toys should expect to pay for them. But they shouldn't have to pay beyond fair value, and that's what the MSRPO is all about.

Northern Watch Policies

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

Chancellor Jay Noren to visit Northland CC Wednesday

Chancellor Jay Noren of Minnesota State Colleges and Universities will be at Northland Community College in Thief River Falls Wednesday, September 21, for a noon luncheon forum and afternoon press conference.

Noren will meet with community leaders and news media here as he is doing throughout the state during the months of September and October. Minnesota State Colleges and Universities is the name of the system which is scheduled to be created when the state's community colleges, technical colleges and state universities merge on July 1 next year.

The forum/luncheon will be held from 12 noon to 1:30 p.m. in Room D61-62 at Northland. The press conference from 1:30 to 2 p.m. will take place in the broadcasting department of Northwest Technical College.

Called "College and Community Forums," the sessions are aimed at getting the advice of Minnesota leaders on how they would like college and universities to serve their communities. Information received will be used during the 1995 legislative session as the new higher education system presents its first unified budget for all 62 schools to be merged under the legislative directive.

During his visits, Noren is telling Minnesotans that colleges and universities must ask themselves tough questions about accountability, efficiency, transferability of credits, employability of students and overall relevance to 21th Century needs.

"The merger is a rare opportunity to reshape the way higher education serves the state," Noren said. "But funding support for higher education has eroded, causing concerns about whether Minnesota can keep its competitive edge."

Administrators of the two local colleges urge local leaders to catch up on the latest developments in Minnesota's higher education merger and get a preview of how the new system will serve students and communities. They also encourage community leaders to state their views and hear what other leaders have to say about higher education.

For further information to make reservations for the luncheon, contact Katy Henke at Northland Community College (681-2181 or 1-800-628-9918) or Cindy Cedergren at the Northwest Technical College in Thief River Falls (681-5424 or 1-800-222-2884).

Who could forget to dial 1+218?

America is on the move. And the increased demand for new phone numbers across the country is exhausting available prefixes. Because of this, people in Minnesota will have to dial differently from now on.

For most long-distance calls in the 218 area code that you currently precede with a 1, you need to dial 1+218. Since you are already in the habit of dialing 1+ the area code for out-of-state calls, the change to 1+218 dialing should be simple to remember.

There's no change in rates for these calls. And 911, local calls and long-distance calls to other area codes will not be affected by the new dialing plan.* But anyone with preprogrammed Speed Calling numbers, modems, fax machines or other automatic dialing equipment will need to reprogram any 1+ numbers within the 218 area code.

For more information about 1+218 dialing, contact your local phone company.

Brought to you by your local Minnesota telephone companies.

*Other calls not affected by the new dialing plan: 411 directory assistance calls, calls to 700, 800 and 900 telephone numbers, and calls to 950 telephone numbers.

Lincoln's Robert Michalicek, is MN Honor Roll Teacher

Thief River Falls Teacher of the Year for 1994, Robert Michalicek of Lincoln high school, is among the state's 10 Honor Roll Teachers selected as finalists in the Minnesota Education Association (MEA) Teacher of the Year competition.

Other finalists are from Belle Plaine, Brainerd, Burnsville, Eden Prairie, Fridley, North St. Paul, Owatonna, St. James and White Bear Lake.

Minnesota Teacher of the Year will be announced at an October 16 luncheon at the Minneapolis Airport Marriott Hotel in Bloomington and will act as an ambassador of education throughout the state for the 1994-95 school year.

Bonnie Luts, 1993 Minnesota Teacher of the Year, has made nearly 75 education-related presentations so far, addressing media, teachers, government agencies, community groups, colleges, businesses and church groups.

This year's Honor Roll Teachers were selected from 77 nominees by a panel of 31 judges who represent parents, teachers, students, government and business interests throughout the state.

"These teachers represent thousands of dedicated educators in Minnesota who teach the leaders of tomorrow with their hearts as well as their minds," states Judy Schaubach, president of the MEA.

TRF construction project proceeds

Contractor for the downtown street project in Thief River Falls successfully encouraged Knight Construction to return to Thief River Falls to install curb and gutter on LaBree and Second street. But after completing about half of the 200 block of LaBree Avenue, the machine used to lay the curb and gutter broke down.

Repairs to equipment used to lay curb and gutter should be repaired this week or next week allowing for the project to proceed.

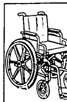
By the end of next week, class 5 gravel should be placed on Second Street and the 200 block of LaBree Avenue. The sidewalk should be poured during that time as well.

One week to 10 days after that, the bituminous should be on seven of the eight blocks in the project.

Work on Second Street was nearing completion by the end of the week. Work on the 300 block of LaBree began earlier in the week and will be the last block of the eight-block downtown project to be completed.

Just as one project is nearing completion, another one is about set to begin.

Ron Lindberg, engineering services director, said a pre-construction meeting was held last week to discuss a project to replace a sewage forced main on Horace Avenue. Lindberg explained that it is hoped that this project will eliminate water problems in basements of nearby residents. The project involves a gravity feed system being replaced by a pumped system.



Equipment was being set up on Horace Avenue in the 500 block during the middle of the week. In all, the project will affect three blocks on Horace Avenue and will be 10-feet wide.

Plan wetland education class

To provide citizens with a basic understanding of the benefits and values of wetlands, a wetland education session for adults will be held Monday, September 19, from 8:45 to 11:30 a.m. at the Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge.

The workshop will have different information stations such as Introducing Wetlands, Types of Wetlands and Their Benefits, Hydrology, Soils, Wetland Wildlife and Their Habitats and Wetland Plants.

Agencies involved in the session are the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Soil Conservation Service, Minnesota Department of Natural Resources and the Board of Water and Soil Resources.

For additional information call the Red Lake County Soil and Water Conservation District at 253-2593.

Lumberjacks win 3-1 match

Not one to look a gift horse in the mouth, Bemidji took advantage of Thief River Falls service errors Thursday to beat the host Prowlers 3-1 in high school volleyball.

Thief River Falls missed 20 serves – the most elementary of all plays in volleyball – as Bemidji won 15-12, 16-14, 14-16, 15-12. It took almost 2 1/12 hours to complete the match in which both sides seem to come up with their best efforts on side-outs and not during service scoring opportunities.

The loss dropped the Prowlers to 5-3 overall and 1-1 against North Sub-Section 8AA competition.

"Serves killed us," said Thief River Falls coach Helen Anderson, who was obviously upset with her team's performance. "Serves and a lack of communication on the court really hurt. We're a better team than that. But if you can't serve, and if you don't talk to each other, you're not going to win very many volleyball matches."

Bemidji began the night with a 10-5 lead in Game 1, closing out the 15-12 win on a block by Laura Danielson.

The pivotal point came in Game 2 when Thief River Falls, after taking an 11-3 lead and ahead 14-10, went through eight potential winning service rotations without scoring. Instead, the Lumberjacks' six-foot senior Megan McKee tied it on a kill block, Danielson put her team ahead 15-14 on a cross-court corner spike and and an over-the head, back-to-the-net bump by Sara Fredrickson found a hole in the Thief River Falls defense to close out the come-from-behind 16-14 decision.

The Prowlers kept the match going by coming back from a 14-13 third game deficit to win 16-14 on a Bemidji spike into the net.

Bemidji began Game 4 with a 3-0 lead and never trailed in winning another close scoreboard battle, 15-12.

Kelly Skeim, a 5-7 senior, led the Prowlers with 17 kills and 23 assists, and Sarah Koland came off the junior varsity for extended varsity duty. "Kelly made a lot of nice saves and she had some real nice hits," noted Anderson. "Sarah played steady through the night."

Thief River Falls was a 15-7, 15-8 winner in the junior varsity match, while Bemidji took the C squad contest 15-10, 15-11.

The Prowlers' coaching staff awarded Player of the Week honors to Skeim, varsity; Katie Kraemer, junior varsity; Kelly Clark, C squad; Lisa Dicken, freshman A; and Jenny Brunkhorst, freshman B.

TRF Scoring

■ Last touch points - Kelly Skeim 10, Sarah Huschle 8, Carrie Lawrence 7, Sarah Koland 6, Maren Thorson 5, Carrie Rud 6, Jenny Drury 2, Michelle Matheson 2, Katie Kraemer 2.

■ Kills - Skeim 17, Huschle 6, Kendra Lawrence 6, Kendra Dimich 7, Thorson 5, Rude, Drury 1.

■ Ace serves - Sarah Koland 3, Skeim 2, Thorson 2, Huschle 1.

■ Assists - Dimich 28, Skeim 23.

Heather Holthusen received a Bemidji serve and put the ball in play with a bump as Thief River Falls teammate Sarah Koland looked on during Thursday's high school volleyball match. The Lumberjacks defeated the Prowlers 15-12, 16-14, 14-16, 15-12.

Northland football team playing at Fergus Falls...

Pioneers back on the road

Another North vs. South Civil War Saturday in the Minnesota Community College Conference football schedule will find the six Northern Division teams on the road against Southern Division competition today.

The nice, neat 12-team, two-division 1994 MCCC package features three weeks of season-opening Northern-Southern nonconference match-ups before teams finish the regular season schedule with five divisional games. Top two finishers in the North and South will advance to the MCCC state playoff semifinals.

It's the first year of the closed-circuit arrangement, eliminating the need for the MCCC teams to go outside the league for nonconference games against the junior varsity teams from four-year schools.

In Sept. 10 openers, the Southern Division had a 4-2 edge as Fergus Falls beat Vermilion 26-18, Normandale clobbered Hibbing 51-6, Rochester shut out Brainerd 27-0 and Willmar got by Mesabi 7-3. Northern Division winners were Northland, 6-3 at Worthington, and Itasca, 16-6 over North Hennepin.

Those games were split between Northern and Southern Division sites. Today, all six contests will be played on Southern Division soil – Northland at Fergus Falls, Vermilion at Normandale, Itasca at Rochester, Hibbing at Willmar, Mesabi at North Hennepin, and Brainerd at Worthington. The following Saturday (Sept. 24) the nonconference meetings end with six games at Northern Division fields.

While he recognizes the simplicity in scheduling that the MCCC North-South arrangement provides, Northland coach Gene Kline, would rather stay closer to home for nonconference games. He isn't keen on making trips to Worthington, Willmar, Rochester and the Twin Cities area when closer match-ups are available against the likes of Mayville, Valley City, Bemidji and former MCCC rival University of Minnesota-Crookston, currently playing its first football season as a four-year school.

"I would rather play UMC than make that drive to Worthington," said Klinke. "I'm all for taking care of your own (the MCCC family), and the numbers work out well. But you have to look at the cost and the travel time. We're going to have saddle sores by the time we're done."

A 48-yard touchdown pass on the final play of the game made Northland an unlikely first-game winner over Worthington. Klinke said the Pioneers' performance, particularly on offense, will have to improve dramatically to beat Fergus Falls. The Spartans and Rochester are co-favorites in the Southern Division. Fergus Falls is headed by returning sophomore quarterback Scott Strohmeier, who passed for over 1,800 yards last fall.

"We're going to have to play error-free ball and score 21 points - minimum – to beat them," said Klinke. "Our offense has to do a better job, and our defense has to either set up a touchdown, or score, for us to win the game."

In an effort to meet those goals offensively, the Pioneers made major changes in practice this week in switching from an inside game to a pro-set with split backs and two wide receivers.

"You're going to see a different offense," pointed out Klinke. "You can't just run inside against Fergus Falls. They play that 4-4 and put 8-9 guys on the line. They more or less tell you to go ahead, put the ball in the air – if you have time. We'll try."

Brent Miller, a freshman runningback who helped lead Mahnomen to a state title last fall, is still the Pioneers' top offensive threat. But he needs a strong supporting cast to be effective, explained Klinke. "Brent is a very good runningback," he said. "But he can't win the football game by himself; nobody can. You can't pick up the yards if you have 8-9 guys tackling you. We have to open things up offensively. We have to give him room to run."

Quarterback duties will go to Michigan native J.P. Lammers, a freshman from Ann Arbor, who came on in relief of Red Lake Falls freshman Brian Remick last week. Remick will likely see duty as a wide receiver.

Pat Robinson, an offensive tackle from Detroit Lakes, missed the Worthington game because of a neck problem and his status is still uncertain. The Pioneers may also be within Bob Perkins, a defensive back from Chicago, who suffered a thigh bruise in the opener.

Northland's drive to Fergus Falls will be followed by the Pioneers' home opener vs. Willmar. The defending co-division champions will then play MCCC-counting games vs. Mesabi and Itasca at home before meeting Vermilion and Hibbing on the road. Northland will end the season by hosting Brainerd Oct. 27.

Thief River Falls sophomores improved their record to 2-1 Tuesday with a 40-6 high school football win over visiting Bemidji.

Paul Kopari scored on runs of 21 and 2 yards and Rick Donarski had touchdown runs of 1 and 4 yards for the winners. Single touchdowns came from Richard Vaughan and Curt Edwards on runs of 9 and 4 yards, respectively. Vaughan also had a pair of two-point conversion runs.

Thief River Falls, scheduled to visit Crookston Monday for a 5 p.m. game, had quarter leads of 14-6, 20-6 and 32-6.

TRF freshmen beat South in volleyball

Sweeps by the Thief River Falls ninth grade volleyball team over Grand Forks South Tuesday put the A team at 3-0 and the B team at 2-1 for the year.

The A team won 15-10, 15-0. The B team wins were by 15-2, 15-4.

Youth firearms class starts September 19

Pennington County Sportsmen's Club will sponsor its fall youth firearms safety training class beginning Monday, September 19, in the basement meeting room of the Thief River Falls city auditorium.

Classes will be held from 6 to 9 p.m. on September 19, 20, 22, 26 and 28 at the auditorium with a field test conducted Saturday, October 1, at 10 a.m. at the Sportsmen's club grounds and shooting range north of Thief River Falls. The complete course will include 15 hours of classroom training and four hours of field testing.

Enrollment is open to all individuals who will be 12 years old before December 31, 1994. Both boys and girls are encouraged to attend and adults are also welcome. There is no age limit.

Instructors will be persons certified in safety training by the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (DNR) and experienced in conducting safety training.

Cost of the course is $5 per person, payable on the first evening of the class, and includes books, other instructional materials and .22 caliber ammunition for field testing.

Minnesota law requires that all youths age 12-16 must have a firearms safety certificate to be eligible to hunt in Minnesota. All those 12 and 13 years of age must be accompanied by a parent or responsible adult while hunting. All youths must have a firearms safety training certificate in order to purchase a big game license.

For additional information, contact program coordinator Allan Paulson at 681-2109.

Gators beat Nordics 3-1

Two evenly-match teams produced a close encounter of the volleyball kind Thursday as Badger/Greenbush-Middle River edged Marshall County Central 17-15, 14-16, 15-9, 15-13.

"We're very even. We play a very similar style," pointed out Marshall County Central coach Mark Jorgenson.

Twenty-one missed serves wound up costing the Nordics as they fell to 2-2 for the year. "We can't keep shooting ourselves in the foot like that and not come out of it without a limp," said Jorgenson. "We didn't play that bad, but serving really hurt us."

Coming into the match, the Gators had been having trouble of their own with serving and serve reception, but they improved upon those areas against the rival Nordics, according to Badger/Greenbush-Middle River coach Gwen Borgen. "We played better," she said. "Our serving was better and our serve reception was better."

Monday, the Gators lost a 15-7, 15-9, 16-14 decision to Lake of the Woods in Baudette.

"We couldn't serve and we could not serve receive," said Borgen.

Back-up setter Jill Wilhelmi came off the bench against the Nordics and played a strong match, noted Borgen, whose team improved to 5-2.

Fertile-Beltrami 3
Red Lake County Central 0

Red Lake County Central started strong, but faded down the stretch as Fertile-Beltrami beat the visiting Mustangs Thursday 14-16, 15-5, 15-5, 15-4.

Red Lake County Central, 1-5, had a 1-2 sixth place finish at the eight-team University of Minnesota-Crookston Invitational Saturday (Sept. 10).

The Mustangs lost a 15-1, 15-6 first round match against eventual champion East Grand Forks; beat the Climax/Fisher junior varsity 15-4, 15-10 in the consolation semifinals; and fell to East Grand Forks Sacred Heart 15-12, 15-12 in the consolation finals.

Lake of the Woods 3
Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke 0

Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke, bidding to break into the win column, keeps running into strong competition. Thursday, the Wolverines lost to Lake of the Woods 15-5, 15-0, 15-7 at Baudette to fall to 0-4 for the year.

Ninth graders win 26-18 in overtime

Thief River Falls edged Grand Forks Schroeder 26-18 in overtime Thursday in freshman football.

Seth Martell scored on a 1-yard run and added the conversion points for the overtime scoring.

Martell also scored on a blocked punt in the end zone, while Kyle Anderson scored on runs of 30 and 20 yards for the winners, who are 2-1.

Tennis team rained out

Rain washed out Thief River Falls' scheduled appearance in a double-dual girls high school tennis outing Monday at Crookston.

Middle School

Wade Chiodo scored three touchdowns, while Jeff Beste and Wade Haviland both scored once Tuesday as the Franklin Middle School eighth grade football team opened its 1994 season with a 38-14 win over Grand Forks Twining.

SCORE report says region lags behind in recycling goals

cling efforts will put it over the 30 per cent mark.

The only hang-up keeping Swis-Corp from taking over at this time are discussion with the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency over a permit modification. Once that permit modification is approved construction at the site south of Thief River Falls can begin. Person said he hopes construction will begin October 1.

According to the report on 1993 SCORE programs released by the Minnesota Office of Environmental Assistance (OEA), Beltrami county generated 20,865 tons of trash and recycled about 17 per cent of its waste stream; Kittson collected 2,407 tons of waste and recycled 22 per cent; Mahnomen generated 2,904 tons of waste and recycled 12 per cent; Marshall generated 5,464 tons of waste and recycled 17 per cent; Pennington county generated 12,378 tons of waste and recycled 17 per cent of its waste; Polk generated 22,051 tons of waste and recycled 14 per cent of its waste stream; Red Lake county generated 2,055 tons of waste and recycled 21 per cent; and Roseau county generated 16,698 tons of waste and recycled 33 per cent of its waste stream.

According to the 1993 SCORE program report, Minnesota businesses separated more than one million tons of recyclable materials in 1993, and another 800,000 tons were collected from households, either at the curb or at one or more than 1,100 drop-off centers. In 1993, curbside collection programs served 3.3 million Minnesotans — about 75 per cent of the state's residents — in nearly 700 cities in Minnesota.

In 1989 SCORE law, based on recommendations from the Select Committee on Recycling and the Environment, sets aside state money every year to help counties finance recycling collection programs as well as yard waste composting, reduction in the amount of waste generated, public education on waste and other related areas. Each year, counties report to the OEA on how they spent the money and how their programs are working.

"SCORE is a good example of state and local partnership addressing a problem together, and the success of local recycling programs is a real credit to local governments, businesses and citizens. We are very pleased with our progress," said Rod Massey, director of the OEA.

The SCORE law set 1993 goals of 25 per cent of garbage recycled in Greater Minnesota counties and 35 per cent in Metro Area counties. All Metro Area counties and 42 Greater Minnesota counties met the goals. Metro Area counties recycled between 38 per cent and 48 per cent of their garbage; Greater Minnesota rates ranged from 10 per cent to 84 per cent. Higher goals for 1996 call for Greater Minnesota to recycle 30 per cent of its garbage and Metro Area counties to recycle 45 per cent.

The OEA will work with counties having difficulty to help them recycle as much as they can, according to Massey.

"The goal is to recover as much as possible that is recyclable," Massey said. "Recyclable wastes are resources. Not only do we want to keep them out of landfills, but we want to make sure natural resources are conserved, not wasted."

The Office of Environmental Assistance is a state agency that promotes an environmentally responsible future for Minnesota through help and education to prevent pollution and waste, improve recycling and plan for the sound management of all types of waste.

Grain yields down from last forecast

Yields of small grain in Minnesota are down from the August 1 forecast by substantial amounts due to scab and other diseases, according to the Minnesota Agricultural Statistics Service.

Spring wheat crop is forecast at 79.1 million bushels, down 16 per cent from the August forecast but 13 per cent above the 1993 crop. Yield at 31 bushels per acre is the same as a year ago. Durum wheat growers are expected to produce 975,000 bushels, down 17 per cent from the August forecast, with an average yield of 25 bushels per acre, down five bushels from the August forecast and last year.

Barley production at 33.1 million bushels would be down four per cent from the August 1 forecast and down 12 per cent from last year. Yield forecast is 53 bushels per acre.

Sugarbeet crop is looking good with 7.659 million tons esperted, up three per cent from August and a whopping 43 per cent above last year. Yield is espected to be 18.5 tons per acre.

Corn production at 882 million bushels would be 174 per cent above 1993 with yield forecast at 140 bushels per acre—double the 1993 yield. Previous record was 127 bushels set in 1987.

CHD grant monies available

Campaign for Human Development (CHD), a program sponsored by the Catholic bishops of the United States, has funds available for projects that attack the basic causes of poverty and work to empower the poor. Grant requests ranging from $10,000 to $100,000 are considered. During the 1994 funding year, over $88,000 were designated from projects within the borders of the Diocese of Crookston.

Programs receiving funds must fit the criteria listed:

1) The project must benefit a poverty group and at least 50 per cent of those benefiting must be from the low-income community.

2) Members of the poverty group must have a dominant voice in the project.

3) Funding will not be considered for projects which can be funded by monies available from the private or public sector, unless applicants document that they are unable to obtain funds from these sources. However, proposals which call for "seed money" or "matching money" will be considered.

4) No CHD funds will be granted to organizations that would utilize CHD money to fund other organizations.

5) The project activity for which funding is requested must conform to the moral teachings of the Catholic church.

Guideline criteria include the following:

1) Projects which are innovative and demonstrate a change from traditional approaches to poverty by attacking the basic causes of poverty and by effecting institutional change such as modification of existing laws and or policies; or establishment of alternative structures and/or redistribution of decision-making powers.

2) Projects which directly benefit a relatively large number of people rather than a few individuals;

3) Projects which generate cooperation among and within diverse groups in the interest of a more integrated and mutually understanding society; and

4) Projects which document that as a result of CHD funding there are possibilities of generating funds from other sources or of becoming self-supporting within the timelines established in the proposal.

The following classifications do not meet CHD criteria and/or guidelines:

1) Direct service projects (e.g., day-case centers, recreation programs, community centers scholarships, subsidies, counseling pro-

UMC presents special awards

William Peterson and Robert Jeska were the recipients of the distinguished awards at the University of Minnesota Crookston (UMC).

William Peterson, associate professor of mathematics in the technical studies division, received the Distinguished Teaching award.

The Distinguished Teaching award carries a stipend and is given in recognition of teaching effectiveness, student development and educational leadership. Peterson is the first faculty member at UMC to receive the award twice. He first received it in 1984.

He joined the UMC faculty in 1968 as a faculty member. He was promoted to assistant professor in 1971, awarded tenure in 1974, and promoted to associate professor in 1984. He received his bachelor of mathematics degree with high distinction from the Institution of technology at the University of Minnesota. His master of science degree with a major in math and a minor in physics is also from the University of Minnesota.

Peterson has been a leader in the integration of technology into the teaching and learning process at the University. Some of his accomplishments over the past academic year include development of computer-based, and computer-assisted instruction modules and development and use of electronic transparencies.

He has assisted faculty and staff in statistical evaluations of numerous surveys, in data gathering setups on laboratory equipment used by himself and other instructors, and in setup and use of new computer programs.

Robert Jeska, grounds crew foreman at the University of Minnesota, Crookston, received the Distinguished Service Award.

The awasd, which is given by the University's Crookston campus, carries a stipend and is given for recognition of outstanding service in the field of civil service and bargaining unit employees.

Jeska joined the UMC staff in 1967 with the grounds department. In the fall of 1971 he was promoted to grounds crew foreman, a position he has held for 23 years. From long range planning to the day-to-day activities of the grounds department, Bob is instrumental in the many accomplishments of the department.

Jeska was the recent recipient of a grant to provide plant materials for the new teaching and outreach center.

NWCA election for low income members

To elect low income representation on the board of Northwest Community Action, Inc. for five-year terms, elections will be held in Middle River, Orygla and Strandquist.

To be eligible to vote in this election for east Marshall county, voters must be residents of the county, of legal voting age and meet income guidelines.

Election locations and times include the Middle River community center Monday, September 26, from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m.; Grygla community center Wednesday, September 28, from 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m; and Strandquist community center Thursday, September 29, from 2 to 3 p.m.

Provisions will also be made for absentee balloting. For further information contact Northwest Community Action, Inc., in Badger at 528-3258.

Freshman scholarship recipients at Northwest Technical College in Thief River Falls were presented their awards Thursday, September 15, according to Terri Staples, counselor and chair of the local technical college's scholarship committee. Students (left to right), their hometown and area of study include the following: Seated, Cherise Aune, Getzke, word processing; Temere Johnson, Warren, practical nursing; and Lonnie Larson, Getzke, accounting; Standing, Shenon Megner, Newfolden, practical nursing; Lowell Miller, Mentor, aviation maintenance; Mark Tengquist and Scott Yonke, Thief River Falls, architectural technology and design; and Lee Ann Young, St. Hilaire, cosmetology. Not pictured are Stecey Johnson, Badger and Jill Lorenson, Karlstad, both enrolled in practical nursing and both at work when this Northern Watch photo was taken.

"Seeds of Safety" co-authors Colleen Nelson, RN (right) of Quin County Community Health Services' Farming Health Project and Cindy Christopherson, Marshall county extension educator are pictured with some of the items used in their project. "Seeds of Safety" has earned an Award of Honor from the National Safety Council with the award to be presented at the council's Youth Safety Congress October 22-25 in San Diego, CA.

"Seeds of Safety" wins award from Safety Council

Quin County Community Health Service's Farm Health and Safety Coalition has been selected to receive an Award of Honor from the National Safety Council. Award presentation will take place at the council's Youth Safety Congress October 22-25 in San Diego, CA.

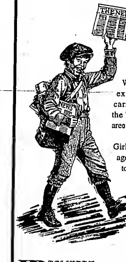
"The issue of farm safety is a crucial one," notes Colleen Nelson, RN, coordinator of the Farm Health and Safety Coalition. "Each year over 23,000 young people nationwide are seriously injured and 300 children are killed in farm accidents."

In response to the need to reduce such accidents, "Seeds of Safety" was developed by the Farm Health and Safety Coalition serving northwest Minnesota. The coalition is operated through the Minnesota Farming Health Project, a venture of Quin County Community Health Services with offices in Newfolden.

"Seeds of Safety" was implemented in the six-county area of Kittson, Lake of the Woods, Marshall, Pennington, Red Lake and Roseau counties, reaching 1,400 students in 22 school districts from February through May of 1994. The curriculum targets second and fifth grade levels with a focus on child safety around the farm, Nelson said.

Nelson and Cindy Christopherson, Marshall county extension educator, co-authored the curriculum. They will attend the San Diego session of the National Safety Council to receive the Award of Honor. Community volunteers attended a workshop prior to presenting the "Seeds of Safety" program in their area schools.

For more information on the "Seeds of Safety" program, call Quin County Community Health Services at 218-874-7485.



Students graduate from St. Cloud

Two students from Thief River Falls and one from Roseau were among 503 St. Cloud State University students graduating at the conclusion of the summer session.

Graduates include Dean DuChamp and Jared Kainz of Thief River Falls and Jerrod Hammerback of rural Roseau, all of whom earned BS degrees.

Whole Wheat BIBLE STUDY

Am I my brother's keeper?

After you read through this Bible study, go back and look up the Scriptures and highlight them in your Bible.

Cain asked, "Am I my brother's keeper?" (Gen. 4:9).

Was Jesus Christ His brother's keeper? Did Jesus take care of His brothers who were in need of clothes, food or shelter? Did He come to the aid of widows in distress? Was He a father to the orphan? Did He give to the poor (John 13:29)? Yes! Jesus was His brother's keeper.

We, too, are to be our brother's keeper by imitating Jesus Christ in our daily behavior (1 Cor. 11:1; Eph. 5:1). We are to practice being kind to one another. We are to practice hospitality to one another (1 Peter 4:9). We are to practice godliness toward one another. We are to conform ourselves to godliness by practicing the deeds of Jesus Christ (1 Tim. 4:7).

We are to overcome and put to death our old self by zealously living as Jesus did until He makes us new creatures, complete in Christ (Rev. 2:26; Col. 1:28). We allow Him to do this by striving, persevering and being zealous for doing good deeds in His name because we love Him (Luke 13:24; 21:19; Rev. 3:10; Col. 3:17; John 14:15; 1 John 5:3).

We prove our love for God by serving Him with our whole heart, soul, mind and strength (John 15:8; Luke 10:27, Matt. 22:37). We prove our love for Him by being slaves to righteousness and doing the Will of God from the heart (Rom. 6:13, 18-19; Eph. 6:6). We prove it by the way we live.

Yes, we are our brother's keeper when we serve our neighbors first, before self (1 Cor. 10:24). One of the main messages in the new covenant of Jesus Christ is serving others (Matt. 20:26-28; 23:11; Mark 9:35; 10:43-45; Luke 9:48; Rom. 15:2-3). Dorcas was used as an example for those who would follow in the footsteps of Jesus Christ (Acts 9:36). She was her brother's keeper because she served others daily for Jesus Christ (Acts 9:39).

Jesus Christ Himself said that only those who have good works will come to a resurrection of life, so don't you think it's time we start to imitate Him and be our brother's keeper (John 5:29)? We need to overcome evil by continually doing good, as Jesus said we should (Psalm 34:14; 37:27; Rom. 2:7; 12:21; 1 Peter 3:10-11; Rev. 2:26). Then, when we, like Jesus, live only to do good, we will be living as we should and we will be our brother's keeper, for either we become our brother's keeper or we remain of the evil one, like Cain (1 John 3:12).

THIEF RIVER FALLS TIMES

Thief River Falls, Pennington County, Minnesota — September 21, 1944

From The Times Files of Fifty Years Ago

'Dairy Feed Payments For July & August Ready

"The Pennington county AAA office announces dairy feed payments for July and August as follows: producers will be paid 6¢ a pound for butterfat and 35¢ per hundredweight for whole milk by bringing their creamery or dairy receipts to the Triple A office. When the AAA committee is satisfied that the evidence that has been produced, drafts will be issued to cover these payments."

Lincoln High Classes Revert To Normal Times

"Lincoln high school classes, which temporarily have been in session from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. reverted Monday to the regular schedule of 9 o'clock to 11:30 in the morning and 1 to 4 in the afternoon. Supt. Philip L. Fjelstad explained that the change was made owing to the fact that no calls for potato pickers have been received. A call however was received this week from the East Grand Forks area, and a busload of students will be sent over Saturday."

Achievement Day Set For 4-H Workers

"The annual Pennington county 4-H club achievement day will be held at the fairgrounds in Thief River Falls on Saturday of this week, it was announced today by County Agent Ernest Palmer. This event, which will start at 1:30 in the afternoon, is for the purpose of selecting trip winners to the junior livestock show in South St. Paul. All 4-H members enrolled in the following projects are eligible to compete for these trips: baby beef (steer), fat wether, fat of three wethers, fat barrow and poultry. In the case of poultry, one of the following will be exhibited: five roosters, three tom turkeys, three ganders or three ducks (male)."

City Play Center Open Weekly

"The schedule of hours in the play center in the arena will be the same during the coming year as was the case last year, it was announced today by Wm. [illegible] chairman of the city recreation board. The rooms are open Monday through Friday from 1 p.m. to 5:45 and the facilities are open to children [illegible] as well as those attending kindergarten and the lower grades. After November [illegible] the center will be closed Saturday afternoons from 1 to 4 o'clock."

Sky Views Taken of Airport Threshing Bee

"By the time the rain came a week ago Sunday three separators had more than half solved the airport oats threshing problem, now a problem no longer. Two machines were pictured on the newspaper's front page: one of the Martin Finstad machine and another of the Willie Randorf outfit. These sky-view pictures were taken by John Lind from a Severson School of Aviation plane. Half a hundred volunteer workers made up the crew. Net results of the farming venture were satisfactory: more than 6,000 bushels of oats and an estimated profit of about $1,500."

BIBLE STUDY

Am I my brother's keeper?

After you read through this Bible study, go back and look up the Scriptures and highlight them in your Bible.

Cain asked, "Am I my brother's keeper?" (Gen 4:9).

Was Jesus Christ His brother's keeper? Did Jesus take care of His brothers who were in need of clothes, food or shelter? Did He come to the aid of widows in distress? Was He a father to the orphan? Did He give to the poor (John 13:29)? Yes! Jesus was His brother's keeper.

We, too, are to be our brother's keeper by imitating Jesus Christ in our daily behavior (1 Cor. 11:1; Eph. 5:1). We are to practice being kind to one another. We are to practice hospitality to one another (1 Peter 4:9). We are to practice godliness toward one another. We are to conform ourselves to godliness by practicing the deeds of Jesus Christ (1 Tim. 4:7).

We are to overcome and put to death our old self by zealously living as Jesus did until He makes us new creatures, complete in Christ (Rev. 2:26, Col. 1:28). We allow Him to do this by striving, persevering and being zealous for doing good deeds in His name because we love Him (Luke 13:24; 21:19; Rev. 3:10; Col. 3:17; John 14:15; 1 John 5:3).

We prove our love for God by serving Him with our whole heart, soul, mind and strength (John 15:8; Luke 10:27; Matt. 22:37). We prove our love for Him by being slaves to righteousness and doing the Will of God from the heart (Rom. 6:13, 18-19; Eph. 6:6). We prove it by the way we live.

Yes, we are our brother's keeper when we serve our neighbors first, before self (1 Cor. 10:24). One of the main messages in the new covenant of Jesus Christ is serving others (Matt. 20:26-28; 23:11; Mark 9:35; 10:43-45; Luke 9:48; Rom. 15:2-3). Dorcas was used as an example for those who would follow in the footsteps of Jesus Christ (Acts 9:36). She was her brother's keeper because she served others daily for Jesus Christ (Acts 9:39).

Jesus Christ Himself said that only those who have good works will come to a resurrection of life, so don't you think it's time we start to imitate Him and be our brother's keeper (John 5:29)? We need to overcome evil by continually doing good, as Jesus said we should (Psalm 34:14; 37:27; Rom. 2:7; 12:21; 1 Peter 3:10-11; Rev. 2:26). Then, when we, like Jesus, live only to do good, we will be living as we should and we will be our brother's keeper, for either we become our brother's keeper or we remain of the evil one, like Cain (1 John 3:12).

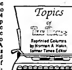
"Lincoln high school classes, which temporarily have been in session from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. reverted Monday to the regular schedule of 9 o'clock to 11:50 in the morning and 1 to 4 in the afternoon. Supt. Philip L. Fjelstad explained that the change was made owing to the fact that no calls for potato pickers have been received. A call however was received this week from the East Grand Forks area, and a busload of students will be sent over Saturday."

Achievement Day Set For 4-H Workers

"The annual Pennington county 4-H club achievement day will be held at the fairgrounds in Thief River Falls on Saturday of this week, it was announced today by County Agent Ernest Palmer. This event, which will start at 1:30 in the afternoon, is for the purpose of selecting trip winners to the junior livestock show in South St. Paul. All 4-H members enrolled in the following projects are eligible to compete for these trips: baby beef (steer), fat wether, fat of three wethers, fat barrow and poultry. In the case of poultry, one of the following will be exhibited: five roosters, three tom turkeys, three ganders or three ducks (male)."

City Play Center Open Weekly

"The schedule of hours in the play center in the arena will be the same during the coming year as was the case last year, it was announced today by Wm. LaFave, chairman of the city recreation board. The rooms are open Monday through Friday from 1 p.m. to 5:45 and the facilities are open to children upward from three and one half years in age, as well as those attending kindergarten and the lower grades. After November 1 the center will be open Saturday afternoons from 1 to 4 o'clock."



Sky Views Taken of Airport Threshing Bee

"By the time the rain came a week ago Sunday three separators had more than half solved the airport oats threshing problem, now a problem no longer. [Two machines were pictured on the newspaper's front page: one of the Martin Finstad machine and another of the Willie Randorf outfit.] These sky-view pictures were taken by John Lind from a Severson School of Aviation plane. Half a hundred volunteer workers made up the crew. Net results of the farming venture were satisfactory: more than 6,000 bushels of oats and an estimated profit of about $1,500."

Viking Woman Raises 16-Lb. Rutabaga

"Mrs. Axel Jacobson of the Viking community this week contributed to the Times Can-you-beat-it department a rutabaga weighing 16 pounds, as well as a 20-pound squash."

"...It's Time To Show What We CAN Do

Some thoughts on farm management for the environment are included in the text of a column entitled "Minnesota's Future—people, land, water," prepared and distributed by the University of Minnesota Extension Service. Title of this particular column is "Farm Management Needs an Environmental Plan." The column follows:

Farm manager need a plan for the environment that shows what "we can do, not what we can't," says a farm management economist with the University of Minnesota's Extension Service.

Richard Levins says he hears "plenty of reactions" about environmental issues when he works with farmers. But unfortunately, most of them are defensive reactions—not plans and programs for dealing with environmental issues.

As an example, Levins cites the report on the Minnesota River by the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency. Nitrogen, phosphate, eroded soil and fecal bacteria all figure prominently in making the state's namesake river "the most polluted in the state."

So, are legions of farm managers talking about how tragic it is and what they can do to make things better? "Not hardly," Levins says. "What I hear is that 'the report must be wrong. We don't have a problem. Or if we do, someone else is responsible.' This way of dealing with problems, made popular by teens an ostriches, is not what I would hope for from farm management."

Levins says another popular "take" on the environment is that "it's all a game of making it through tons of regulations, most of which are made by people who wouldn't know a cow from a pig." Wrong again.

"Most of the people I've met in regulatory agencies are competent, and many of them have close ties to farming. They're making regulations because we aren't doing our job, not because they don't have anything better to do.

"Speaking of regulations, how many of us have said 'bring us some regulations we can live with, and we'll be glad to follow them?' Try this the next time you're pulled over by the highway patrol, or better yet, try that logic the next time the IRS comes knocking on your door."

Levins says these are defensive reactions—not plans and programs. What works better? "I got a hint when I was working with a group of dairy farmers trying to improve their land applications plans for manure. They weren't required to do this—it was just part of farm management.

"They wanted to protect water quality, cut fertilizer bills and keep their operations up to date. As I listened to their thoughtful questions, it dawned on me that if all of us treated farm management this way, environmental problems would take their place among machinery downtime and wet fields—part of the job, not a reason to hunker down and complain about how nobody understands us."

Levins says "it bothers me that the people who know the most about farming often have the least positive to say about what should be done. How long can we deny our role in causing environmental problems? And how much longer must the public wait for our thoughtful, positive suggestions on what to do about it?

"Being defensive has taken us as far as we can go. Now is the time for showing what we CAN do, not what we can't."

Almost Everything I Need To Know I Learned In 7th Grade Woodshop

Northland Woodcrafters, the local club for people interested in making things from wood, will start its meetings for the fall and winter season Monday, September 26, at 7 p.m. at the Occupational Development Center. For those of us who cram outdoor activity into the few months of spring, summer and fall, we are approaching with woodworking season.

Following article—which we may have reprinted before but make no apology for using again—was written by John Marlowe of San Francisco, CA, and appeared in Fine Woodworking magazine:

American secondary schools are changing, and woodshop is on the way out. It is too expensive, too machinery intensive. Kids need power courses for college.

I say we need more woodshop, not less. You've seen the book Everything I Need to Know I Learned in Kindergarten. I was a slow learner. I didn't get a clue until my early teens when I took my first shop course.

Back in the '50s, at Bret Harte Junior High in Oakland, CA, we were taught to plan and build according to that plan. We learned to respect our tools and take care of them. We took pride in what we built. And, most important, we learned to appreciate, respect and conserve the beautiful material with which we worked.

We made drawings; we showed invisible joints; we did complex math, adding fractions, multiplying board feet, figuring costs. But more than the basic math, we had to develop an aesthetic sense. We had to deal with form and function. We had to work with proportion and balance.

It was about 40 years ago that I made a small table at which my younger sister could play dolls. That table is still knocking around. Since then, I have made bigger and grander tables, hit oak and walnut suckers on which lumberjacks could dance, but each of them has been just an amplification of the one that I made in fourth-period woodshop that smelled of pine resin.

Now everyone must be computer literate, but I cannot see someone using a contemporary computer program 40 years from now. Who is going to reminisce about the scent of a freshly booted-up disc? Who is going to have fond memories of the texture of a printer? But a hammer will swing with its top-heavy balance the same way forever. Freshly cut pine still smells like fresh pine.

When I mentioned this subject in my gym, the conversation about the latest sports news immediately stopped, and everyone chattered fondly about chopping blocks, shoe-shine kits, tables and breadboards. One guy still used the tackle boxes he made 30 years ago to store his collection of precious stones. His carefully crafted nail chart still hangs on his garage wall. I don't know anyone who keeps their history tests, do you?

It is special to make something from scratch; something uniquely self-defining about an object that would never have existed without your hand. We need so much more of that feeling. Maybe you are better off knowing your Apple from a hole in the ground. But there is sure something special about making something with your hands, something that pleases the senses. Something that works. Something you can be proud of for a long time to come.

We all should have made more tables.

Letters To The Editor and Corrections

IN MEMORY OF
OUR HUSBAND AND FATHER:
LAWRENCE SRNSKY
ON HIS 90th birthday, September 23, 1994.

God saw you getting tired, and a cure was not to be.
So he put his arms around you, and whispered "come with me."
With tearful eyes, we watched you suffer, and saw you fade away.
Although we loved you dearly, we could not make you stay.
A golden heart stopped beating hard, working hands at rest, God broke our hearts to prove he only takes the best.
It's lonesome here without you, we miss you more each day.
Life doesn't seem the same, since you have gone away.
When days are sad and lonely, and everything goes wrong
We seem to hear you whisper, "Cheer up and carry on."
Each time to smile and say, "Don't cry, I'm in God's keeping." We'll meet you again someday!
From Your Loving Family.

Birthday for Emily!
Emily Hagen celebrated her August birthday with a slumber party. Friends, Sheena Greenwald, Tiffany Holmes, Steph Berberich, Sarah Hagge and Rochelle Killien were the guest who undoubtedly kept the wee hours lively.

Arthur and Margaret Thomas visited for two weeks at the home of Eugene and Jean Carpenter recently. Mrs. Bruce Thomas (nee Cindy Carpenter) of Manhattan, KS came to take the children home after the visit with their grandparents.

Adoption
Doris Malwitz, Barb Culkins, Vickie and Meckenzie Malwitz, Gloria, Megan and Jacob Malwitz, grandmother Joan Peterson, Great grandmother Eileen Reed were cake and ice cream guests at the home of Brian and Connie Peterson of Thief River Falls on August 10th. This was to celebrate the adoption of Jackie Christianson by Brian Peterson. It was an exciting day for Jackie, Brian, Connie and little brother, Travis.

Vacation Trip
Don and Connie Hagen and family left on August 23 for a vacation trip, going first to Medora where they saw the musical, before going to Yellowstone Park. After seeing the sights there they came back to Mt. Rushmore before going on to Connie's sister and family, Jennifer and Kim Erickson of Wood Lake, NE. This was a tent camping trip and very enjoyable for the family. They arrived home late last Wednesday.

Craft Family Reunion
Twenty-five members of the Craft family enjoyed a great day on September 1st, 1994 when they gathered at the Best Western in Thief River Falls for a wonderful day. The celebration began with a noon luncheon and an afternoon of reminiscing days gone by and hoping there would be many more get togethers. The party was hosted by one of the Craft sisters, Clare Mickelson and her daughters, Gloria and Lester Lerson and son, and June Lokken all of the Thief River Falls guests included Larry and Laurette Van Dusen of Chetak, WI, John and Mae Van Dusen of Fargo, ND and Jane Johnson of Nevis, Bob and Jane Brushel (a surprise) of Arizona, Gust and Loretta Craft an son Dale Craft of Fargo, ND, Nora Craft Seibel and daughter, Joy Peulley and son, Bob Seibel all of Grand Rapids, Myrtle Craft Patnode and daughter, Pat Larson of Plummer and son and daughter-in law Faith guillemette of rural Red Lake Falls, Gary daughter-in-law, Ronnie and Janet Craft of Aurora, CO.

Erick and Christina Christianson Craft homesteaded in Red Lake County rural Plummer in the 1880's. Born to them were 12 children: Ernest, Harry, Myrtle, Lilly, Mabel, Arthur, George, Clara, Oscar, Gust, Nora and Clarence. Surviving are Myrtle 95, Arthur 89, Clara 87, Gust 84, and Nora 82. It would have been interesting to hear some of the stories this group of youngsters had to tell. Myrtle's story of the Prairie fire that hit the rural area when she was seven years old, and how frightened she was when she was left to tend her younger brothers and sisters while her parents and all of the neighbors fought to save their homes would probably fill a book.

Fire at DiMaggio's

Erskine — The Joe DiMaggio Bar and Lounge pizza area in Erskine had to be demolished after being damaged by fire last Friday. According to the Erskine fire chief, the building had to be destroyed after the fire because "it would have fallen down and possibly hurt someone." The fire was caused by a short in the exhaust fan over a pizza oven. There were no injuries in the 5 a.m. fire. The Bar and Lounge has been closed for business due to smoke damage.

"Small Town Girl" theme for M.R. pageant

Five candidates seek the title currently held by Alexis Bengtson, Miss Middle River 1993

Alexis Bengtson
Miss Middle River 1993

"Small Town Girl" is the theme for the 20th annual Miss Middle River pageant to be presented tonight (Saturday, September 24) at 7:30 p.m. in the Middle River school gymnasium. Sponsor of the pageant is the Middle River Community Club.

Alexis Bengtson, Miss Middle River 1993, will crown her successor from among five candidates. The new Miss Middle River will represent the community in the Miss Marshall County Pageant where the winner will enter the 1996 Miss Minnesota Pageant.

Contestants include:

Heather Marie Anderson, 18, daughter of Dale and Lois Anderson. Sponsored by Wagner Lock & Key, she will present a vocal solo as her talent number.

Stephanie Berg, 17, daughter of Earl and Lynette Berg. Sponsored by Middle River Clip N' Tan, she will present a vocal solo as her talent number.

Brianna Geer, 17, daughter of Bob Geer and Danny Geer. Sponsored by Grand Central Graphics, she will perform a piano solo as her talent number.

Tanja Lundmark, 17, daughter of Karin Lundmark, Roland and Milayne Lundmark. Sponsored by Davidson Construction, she will present a dramatic monologue for her talent presentation.

Molly Rantanen, 17, daughter of Dan and Becky Rantanen. Sponsored by Middle River Cooperative Oil Association, she will present an original dance as her talent number.

Master of ceremonies for the pageant will be Mark Allen Stromsodt and the welcome will be given by Jerome Henning, president of the community club. In addition to personal interviews with the judges, contestants will compete on stage in swimsuit, talent and evening gown and on-stage personality categories.

The new Miss Middle River will receive a number of prizes including her crown, plaque, $250 and sponsorship in the Miss Marshall County Pageant by the Middle River Community club, $250 toward her reign from the Middle River Jaycees, $150 scholarship from American Legion Post 444 and gift certificates or cash from six other donors.

First runner-up will receive a plaque and $150 from the community club, $50 scholarship from the American Legion and cash or gift certificates from four other donors.

Second runner-up will receive a plaque and $75 from the community club and cash or gifts from five other donors.

Each division winner and Miss Congeniality—selected in a vote among the contestants—will receive a plaque from the community club and several other gifts from donors.

Members of the pageant committee are Sue Hougen, Nanette Huset, Lona Jesme, Amy Filpula and KayDell Super.

Previous winners of the Miss Middle River title are Cladell (Strandberg) Nelson, 1975; Jill (Haugen) Hagen, 1976; Lorie (Hanson) Hagen, 1977; Julie (Burrell) Ellis, 1978; Dawn (Scramstad) Johnston, 1979; Mary Gentry, 1980; Debbie (Dahl) Aune, 1981; Paula (Hodne) Peterson, 1982; Connie (Dahl) Cwikla, 1983; Heidi (Scramstad) Donyahn, 1984; Tarayn Hanson, 1985; Karen Dahl, 1986; Rayette Benke, 1986; Tamara (Cwikla) Neumann, 1987; Tamara (Dyrud) Schierkolk, 1987; Heather Westlund, 1988; Nanette (Berg)

Warren Oks new building for NWRDC

Warren's city council has accepted a bid for the construction of a new building for the Northwest Regional Development Commission.

Last year, the Northwest Regional Development Commission (NWRDC) was notified that they would have to vacate the property being rented from Arctco in Thief River Falls. After advertising for proposals to house the NWRDC office and staff, and interviewing representatives of the finalists, the NWRDC board of directors last spring accepted a proposal from the city of Warren. (Thief River Falls was a final candidate.) This week, the city council of Warren approved a bid from Kraus Anderson of Bemidji and Minneapolis for the construction of the building.

Two contractors submitted bids for the NWRDC building — Sherlock Homes of Grand Forks and Kraus Anderson of Bemidji. Kraus Anderson received the bid for the base bid of $312,000 on 4,788 square feet of finished building plus alternate 1, which was a bid of $25,000 on 1,528 square feet of empty shell building.

Sherlock Homes bid $308,500 for 4,788 square feet of finished building and $40,900 on 1,528 square feet of empty shell building.

There were two other alternates on the bid request. The county board did not take any action on those bids.

On Alternate 2, which involved a rock face for the entire front of the building, Kraus Anderson bid $24,000, and Sherlock Homes bid $4,500.

For alternate 3, which involved paving the parking lot, both firms bid $28,500.

According to the Warren Sheaf, the vote was 5 to 2 in favor of accepting the low bid.

The entire project, which involves construction, purchase of property, paving, finishing the interior, and fees, is expected to cost $459,000.

The building project, at a cost of $459,000, will necessitate a 30-year payoff, plus interest at $36,263, which will have to come from a combination of spending down reserves or adding taxes. That could amount to $38 annually on a $40,000 home, $58 a year on a $60,000 home and $288 a year on business property valued at $100,000.

Under the agreement accepted by the board of directors of

Chancellor Noren reviews goals

Chancellor Jay Noren of Minnesota State Colleges and Universities (MnSCU) listens to a question about the merger to take place July 1, 1995, during a press conference at the Northwest Technical College in Thief River Falls Wednesday.

Four concerns relative to the goals of Minnesota State Colleges and Universities—the official name of the merged group of 62 state universities, community colleges and technical colleges which will be officially formed July 1, 1995—were elaborated by Chancellor Jay Noren at a "town forum" Wednesday noon at Northland Community College in Thief River Falls.

Dr. Noren listed (1) quality of life, (2) access, (3) employment and (4) accountability for efficiency as major concerns of MnSCU. (The letter "n" has been inserted so the abbreviation will be pronounced "min-skew" rather than "miscue," which detractors of the merger would have found gleefully appropriate.)

Minnesota has been ranked high in a number of studies for its quality of life and has to work at maintaining that quality, Noren said. He offered the opinion that higher education is a big part of that quality, and that the state is taking risks by allowing spending for prisons, health care and other problem areas to reduce spending for higher education.

Regarding access, the chancellor said that there will be an intensive increase in demand for higher education for the next 10 to 15 years and likely beyond. After 20 years of decline in number of high school graduates, those numbers are expected to increase by 35 per cent statewide in the next decade.

"We have to provide for these students," he said. "Our intent is to maintain the individual identity of all 62 campuses in the system, but we need to expand mobility of credits. The system should be a gateway rather than a barrier to that mobility."

He also noted that tuition increases change the number of

Annual Goose Festival at Middle River

Parade entries are being sought for the 20th annual Middle River Goose Festival to be staged September 30, October 1 and 2 by the Middle River Community Club. The parade will begin at 12:30 p.m. Saturday, October 1, with a kiddie parade preceding the main parade at 12 noon.

The parade is one of the highlights of the [illegible] with nearly 100 entries received in recent years. There is no entry fee nor advance registration and trophies are given to winners in various categories. Participants are asked to assemble behind the Middle River school at 11:30 a.m.

For further information contact Husky Johnson at 222-3403.

Activity for the festival begins Friday, September 30, when food stands and beer garden will open and dancing will be held at the American Legion [illegible] music by "Blue Moon."

A blood pressure clinic will be held from 10:30 a.m. to noon at the community center, a pancake dinner will be served by the Middle River senior citizens at the community center at noon and the Legion Auxiliary will serve a supper from 4:30 p.m. and on at the club rooms.

Saturday afternoon events will include entertainment at the Middle River school featuring magician and illusionist Jeffrey Salveson of Fargo, ND, as well as the Country Line Dancers, square dancers, Fine Line Dance Line and Arctic Lites gymnastic show team from Thief River Falls and a preview from the play "Nunsense."

"Nunsense" will be presented by the Middle River Community Theatre Wednesday through Saturday, September 28-October 1 at 7:30 p.m. and Sunday, October 2, at 4 p.m. at Ye Olde Depot Theatre.

Many other events are planned for October 1 including a best pet contest at 11 a.m. on Main Street, Bingo at the community center, treasure hunt, craft show and flea

Fire at DiMaggio's

Erskine — The Joe DiMaggio Bar and Lounge pizza area in Erskine had to be demolished after being damaged by fire last Friday. According to the Erskine fire chief, the building had to be destroyed after the fire because "it would have fallen down and possibly hurt someone." The fire was caused by a short in the exhaust fan over a pizza oven. There were no injuries in the 5 a.m. fire. The Bar and Lounge has been closed for business due to smoke damage.

1/2 cup butter
3/4 cup honey
2 eggs
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
Rind of one orange, grated
Juice of one orange
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1 3/4 cups flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup granola or 3/4 cup oats and 1/2 cup chopped walnuts

Combine butter, honey, eggs and vanilla. Add orange rind, orange juice and cinnamon.

Sift flour, baking powder and salt.

Add flour mixture to granola. Add granola mixture to orange juice mixture.

Drop by teaspoonfuls on greased cookie sheet.

Bake at 350 degrees for 10 to 12 minutes.

Makes 4 to 5 dozen cookies.

This yummy recipe will fill up several cookie jars for you:

CHOCOLATE CHIP OATMEAL COOKIES
2 cups white sugar
2 cups brown sugar
1 cup shortening
1 cup margarine
4 eggs
4 tablespoons water
2 teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons vanilla
2 teaspoons soda
12 ounces chocolate chips
6 cups quick oats
3 to 4 cups flour

Mix sugars, shortening, margarine, eggs and water together well.

Add salt, vanilla, soda, chips and oats and mix well. Add flour and mix well.

Bake at 350 degrees until light brown. (Dough should be firm.)

These spicy treats will make the house smell wonderful, and they'll taste wonderful, too:

1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon soda
1 cup sour milk
1 teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon cloves
2 cups flour

Cream butter and brown sugar well.

Dissolve soda in milk and add to butter and sugar mixture.

Add spices, then flour, stirring until totally blended.

Drop by teaspoonfuls on greased cookie sheet. Bake at 350 for 15-20 minutes.

Frost or served with whipped cream or applesauce.

Here is a tasty way to use up that last zucchini of the season:

ZUCCHINI COOKIES
3/4 cup butter or margarine
1 1/2 cups sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 1/2 cups flour
2 teaspoon a baking powder
2 teaspoons soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cloves
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon ground allspice
1 1/2 cups shredded zucchini
1 cup chopped nuts
6 ounce package chocolate chips

Cream butter. Add sugar, egg and vanilla and beat until smooth.

Mix flour, baking powder, soda, salt, cloves, cinnamon and allspice. Mix into creamed mixture.

Add zucchini, nuts and chocolate chips. Drop by heaping teaspoonfuls onto lightly greased cookie sheet.

Bake at 350 degrees for 12-15 minutes.

4-H leaders council to elect officers

Election of officers will take place when the Pennington county 4-H leaders council meets Monday, September 26, at 8 p.m. in the courthouse meeting room in Thief River Falls.

Several other business items are also on the agenda, including distribution of tickets for the 4-H awards banquet, and all clubs in the county are encouraged to have representation at the meeting.

This will serve as the regular October meeting of the council and has been moved ahead to avoid conflict with Lincoln high school homecoming activities the following week.

Klingon camp director gets another 60 days to pay

Red Lake Falls — The Red Lake Falls city council has given the director of the Klingon Language Camp another 60 days to come up with a $1,500 installment payment that he owes the city. Glen Proechel, director of the language camp, says he does not have the money and is working on a way to pay the bill. He stated it will take at least three years for the camp to see a profit. The camp was started in 1993. About 15 people took part in this year's week-long language camp and 35 people attended the Klingon festival. City Attorney Bill Muldoon offered Proechel the option of mortgaging his home to help with the payment, but Proechel refused to take advantage of the offer. He says he will move the camp out of Red Lake Falls.

Accident in McIntosh

McIntosh — On September 15, one driver was treated for a bump on the head in a two vehicle accident at the intersection of County Road 8 and Highway 2 in McIntosh. Geraldine Olson of Erskine was driving north on the county road in a 1986 Buick Regal and collided with a 1985 Chevrolet pickup traveling west, driven by Raymond Ballek of Bagley. Ballek was not injured, but Olson bumped her head and was treated and released at a local hospital. The Olson vehicle was totalled and the Ballek pickup sustained $2,000 damage. Both drivers were wearing seat belts at the time of the accident. Olsoo was cited for failure to yield right of way.

Fatal accident near Baudette

Williams — Ernest LeRoy Carlson, age 68, of Baudette, was killed in a head-on crash three miles east of Williams on Highway 11 on the morning of September 15. Carlson was driving west in a 1990 Plymouth when he crossed the center line and collided with a semi trailer truck driven by Gary Klovie, 42, of Salol. The Carlson vehicle caught fire after the accident and Carlson was pronounced dead at the scene. Klovie was not injured.

SOUPCON

Sherry LaCoursiere

These cookies sound healthy as well as tasty:

HONEY ORANGE COOKIES

1/2 cup butter
3/4 cup honey
2 eggs
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
Rind of one orange, grated
Juice of one orange
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1 3/4 cups flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup granola or 3/4 cup oats and
1/2 cup chopped walnuts

Combine butter, honey, eggs and vanilla. Add orange rind, orange juice and cinnamon.

Sift flour, baking powder and salt.

Add flour mixture to granola. Add granola mixture to orange juice mixture.

Drop by teaspoonfuls on greased cookie sheet.

Bake at 350 degrees for 10 to 12 minutes.

Makes 4 to 5 dozen cookies.

This yummy recipe will fill up several cookie jars for you:

CHOCOLATE CHIP OATMEAL COOKIES

2 cups white sugar
2 cups brown sugar
1 cup shortening
1 cup margarine
4 eggs
4 tablespoons water
2 teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons vanilla
2 teaspoons soda
12 ounces chocolate chips
6 cups quick oats
3 to 4 cups flour

Mix sugars, shortening, margarine, eggs and water together well.

Add salt, vanilla, soda, chips and oats and mix well. Add flour and mix well.

Bake at 350 degrees until light brown. (Dough should be firm.)

These spicy treats will make the house smell wonderful, and they'll taste wonderful, too:

SOFT GINGER COOKIES

1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon soda
1 cup sour milk
1 teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon cloves
2 cups flour

Cream butter and brown sugar well.

Dissolve soda in milk and add to butter and sugar mixture.

Add spices, then flour, stirring until totally blended.

Drop by teaspoonfuls on greased cookie sheet. Bake at 350 for 15-20 minutes.

Frost or served with whipped cream or applesauce.

Here is a tasty way to use up that last zucchini of the season:

ZUCCHINI COOKIES

3/4 cup butter or margarine
1 1/2 cups sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 1/2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
2 teaspoons soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cloves
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon ground allspice
1 1/2 cups shredded zucchini
1 cup chopped nuts
6 ounce package chocolate chips

Cream butter. Add sugar, egg and vanilla and beat until smooth.

Mix flour, baking powder, soda, salt, cloves, cinnamon and allspice. Mix into creamed mixture.

Add zucchini, nuts and chocolate chips. Drop by heaping teaspoonfuls onto lightly greased cookie sheet.

Bake at 350 degrees for 12-15 minutes.

INTENTIONAL DUPLICATE EXPOSURE

United Way kicks-off fund-raising campaign

United Way of Thief River Falls kicked-off its fund-raising effort Tuesday night. Merchants and businesses can expect visits by the many volunteers who make up United Way during this campaign drive.

This year's goal has been set at $126,000. Executive Director Mary Anderson said Tuesday night that it was not an overly ambitious goal. She explained that last year, United Way raised $113,000 and allocated $100,000 to 38 agencies.

United Way holds one annual fund drive a year. Most of the money raised in the fund drive remains in the community. Last year, agencies representing health services received 26 per cent of the funds, agencies representing people with disabilities received 21 per cent of the funds, agencies representing families in crisis received 18 per cent, agencies representing youth received 27 per cent, agencies representing elderly and volunteers received 7 per cent of the funds. Only one per cent of the funds were sent to United Way of America.

Anderson noted that only three agencies out of the 45 applying for funds last year represented elderly groups and volunteers, which explains why only seven per cent of the total amount allocated went to elderly and volunteer agencies.

Anderson also noted that agencies requesting funds from the United Way must describe how those funds will be used to benefit the local community. Those requests are then reviewed by volunteers assigned to the allocation committee. Recommendations from the allocation committee are then reviewed by the board of directors, which is made of 12 volunteers. In all, between 150 to 200 volunteers in the community are involved in the process of collecting and distributing funds.

The volunteers will be asking businesses and individuals to make a contribution to their community by offering a donation, which can be accepted as a payroll deduction or direct payment. Again this year, the United Way is offering 100 per cent participation recognition for employers and employees that make a total combined contribution of $100. The donations can be given to the volunteer or dropped off at Norwest Bank or Northern State Bank.

The United Way of Thief River Falls was created as an alternative to the chaotic wastefulness of costly and time consuming separate fund drives. Agencies that receive funds from United Way pledge not to conduct any fund-raising during this time period. Some, like the Friendship Club, are funded solely by United Way. Friendship club is an agency, staffed entirely by volunteers, that provides social gatherings, love and concern for mentally handicapped people in our community.

Other agencies that benefit from United Way funds include: Area Age Information Center, ARC Minnesota, Boy Scouts, Camp Sunshine, Child Protection Council, Children's Home Society, Christian Record Braille, Confidence Learning Center, Courage Center, Crossroads-Displaced Homemakers Program, DARE, Discovery Place, Falls Day Activity Center, Friendship Club, Girl Scouts, Heart Research, Heritage Community Center, Heritage Seniors, Inter-County Nursing Service, Kidney Foundation of TRF, Leukemia Society of America, Little Brother/Little Sister, Lutheran Social Service of Minnesota, North Country Food Bank, Northern Lights Bookstore, Northland Community Hospice, ODC, Options, Pennington County Domestic Violence, Pennington County 4-H Leaders Council, Pennington County Health Promotion Network, Red Cross, Sister Kenney Institute, Thief River Falls Coaches Association, Thief River Falls Nursery School, Umbrella Tree Children's Safety Center, United Cerebral Palsy, and Violence Intervention Project.

The theme of the campaign this year is "Open Your Heart". The key to success is the volunteer and donations from the public.

Goodridge S.D. sets referendum

Goodridge, School District 561, school board recently approved a referendum request to increase the district's general education revenue by $208.02 per actual pupil unit. On November 8, voters of the school district will decide whether to approve the referendum and increase their taxable obligation to the school district.

Sol Hoffert, school district superintendent, said that the school district's general revenue fund has been declining for the past five years. He said the district is still in the black and should be in the black at the end of this year, but doesn't know what to expect next year because the state has indicated that there will be no increase in aid next year.

Additional revenue, which will be used to finance school operations, will require an estimated referendum tax rate of 0.0323 per cent of the referendum market value of all taxable property in the district for taxes payable in 1995 — the first year it is to be levied. If voters approve a special levy of $49,000, $39,801 or 81 per cent would come from the state, and $9,199 or 19 per cent would come from local taxes.

The special levy would have a maximum of 10 years and the board would have the option of not levying the tax in any given year during that period.

Information provided by the Minnesota Department of Education to the school district indicates that the additional tax on residential homesteads would be $6.40 per $20,000 residence, $12.93 per $40,000 residence, $19.39 per $60,000 residence, $23.27 per $72,000 residence, and $32.32 per $100,000 residence.

Rates for farm homesteads have been reduced to a "referendum market value". A farmstead with a referendum market value of $73,050 would pay $23.61 in additional taxes. A farmstead with a referendum market value of $136,750, would pay $44.20 in additional taxes. A farmstead with a referendum market value of $236,750 would pay $76.52 in additional taxes. A farmstead with a referendum market value of $336,750 would pay $108.85 in additional taxes. A farmstead with a referendum market value of $436,750 would pay $141.17 in additional taxes.

A public hearing on the referendum request has been tentatively scheduled for November 1.

More Ideas On Outcome Based Education

Outcome based education (OBE) has received several black eyes nationally and most notably in Minnesota where it has found favor with the Governor and Legislature. While its concepts seems sound, it has been assailed from several quarters for what it might be expected to do or not do.

Dr. Bruno V. Manno, a Senior Fellow with the Indianapolis-based Hudson Institute, has written a lengthy essay on the topic, distributed through the Center of the American Experiment with headquarters in Minneapolis. Dr. Manno discusses the background of OBE and summarizes some of the objections. He also proposes what he believes must be done to make the idea both acceptable and successful.

"Conservative policy analysts helped set the stage for this revolution in education by noting that student achievement kept declining while spending on education kept increasing, particularly starting with the Great Society era," Dr. Manno writes.

"The education establishment, however, showed little enthusiasm for this new approach. Why? A focus on results enables parents, politicians and others to better gauge whether investments in schools actually lead to children doing well academically. It better enables taxpayers to hold educators accountable for results."

He also has an idea why OBE has attracted opposition from both liberals and conservatives. "A major reason," he writes, ..."is that the states turned over the crucial task of defining outcomes to the very education officials most threatened by the process. Although having adopted, in general principle, a focus on results, many educators have proceeded to promote vague outcomes emphasizing values, attitudes and behaviors—often reflecting quasi-political and ideologically 'correct' positions—rather than knowledge, skills and other cognitive academic outcomes.

"In so doing, education bureaucrats have taken a sensible principle—an emphasis on results—and hijacked its meaning so that accountability is actually made impossible. They have used the very language of accountability to avoid being held accountable."

Dr. Manno agrees with the five general principles approved by the bipartisan national Education Goals Panel:

(1) National outcome standards should be valuntary. No federal effort should be inaugurated to require states and communities to use them.

(2) Standards should address core academic areas. They should not deal with nonacademic concerns such as students' values, beliefs, attitudes and behaviors.

(3) National standards must be world class. While being uniquely American, the standards should be as rigorous as what other countries expect of their students.

(4) Policymakers should use a broad-based, participatory, consensus-building process to develop outcome standards. This "bottom-up" process should include educators, parents and community leaders.

(5) Standards must be useful and adaptable. States and communides must be able to design their own curricular plans using the broad outlines suggested by the standards. And the number of standards should be limited to the most important knowledge, skills and understandings we expect students to learn.

"None of this should involve standardization or a national curriculum," Dr. Manno adds. "There must not be any federal demand to read certain books, teach specific courses in a fixed order, or meet precise federal graduation requirements. These and other issues should be decided by states and communities.

"Also, good tests are needed, to determine whether and how well students are learning what is taught," he writes. "These exams would not be more of the same standardized tests we have now, where many of our children live in a Lake Wobegon world where most are above average. These would be tests that teachers teach to and that have consequences for graduation, employment and higher education. For those who work in the schools, compensation and advancement would be based on these results."

Decades of preoccupation with inputs have led to the current sorry state: America's young people are not learning nearly enough for their or the nation's good, Dr. Manno contends. He says a two-pronged attack of standards and tests coupled with diversity and choice (in types of schools children can attend) would provide "a plausible way out of this thicket."

"Pursuing the twofold strategy....will lead to a different and renewed idea of education, one that serves the public interest and prepared our young people to live, work and compete in the next century," he writes. "The resulting system will have high academic standards for all students, test for results and provide teachers and principals with more flexibility and less red tope while giving families more choices among schools. Viewed in this way, an education that focus on outcomes is a cure for what ails America's schools"

Northern Watch Policies

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

MariLou Anderson cited for work with disabilites

MariLou Anderson of Grygla is among 12 teachers nationwide who will be recognized for outstanding teaching and commitment to students with learning disabilities at an awards luncheon Saturday, November 12, in San Diego, CA.

The awards luncheon is part of the 16th International Conference on Learning Disabilities, sponsored by the Council for Learning Disabilities headquartered in Overland Park, KS. Theme of the conference is "Research and Methods: Partners in Effective Teaching."

Mrs. Anderson was nominated for the national award by the Northern Lights Council for Learning Disabilities, an organization which has membership in Minnesota, North Dakota and a part of Canada. She has been a special education teacher for the past five years in the Grygla school system—teaching special education, Chapter I and Assurance of Mastery students—after being a classroom teacher for five years at Goodridge.

MariLou is the daughter of Edgar and Dorothy Miller of Goodridge. She and her husband Gary live northwest of Grygla and have two sons, Garrett, 13 and Laura, 9.

A graduate of Moorhead State University with certification in elementary education, MariLou went back to post-graduate school at MSU to earn certifications in Learning Disabilities and Emotional/Behavior Disorders (EBD).

Her special interests at Grygla are inclusion of special education students in the regular classroom, control theory and large group social skills instruction.

"I believe that all students can learn," she said of her personal philosophy of special education. "Some may need adaptations to help in the learning process and some may require instruction over a longer time period, but significant progress can be made."

MariLou also believes that self-esteem and high expectsdons are important for her students.

"My dad always told me, since I was a little girl, that I could be a teacher. He had high expectations for me and I have high expectations for my students. I believe they can achieve anything they want as long as they have the desire, work hard and receive the needed help along the way."

Anderson said that the Grygla school has been a great school to work in during the past five years. "The administration and stoff are not afraid to try new ideas and the students always come first," she said.

The Council for Learning Disabilities, which is presenting the award, is the only international organization dedicated solely to professionals who work with individuals having learning disabilities. Through its award for outstanding teaching, the council hopes to encourage excellence in teaching and reinforce the concept of the master teacher.

Mrs. Anderson said that she has previously attended an international conference of the organization when it met in Minneapolis. She and her husband plan to be in attendance for the conference in San Diego in November.

Noren reviews goals

potential students who can participate. While the cost of living in Minnesota has gone up 54 per cent since 1981, he said, tuition at the community colleges has gone up by 160 per cent and at the technical colleges by 334 per cent.

Regarding the third point of employment, Chancellor Noren said that Minnesota must pay continual attention to the end result of higher education, which he defined as productive employment. He said MnSCU would stress education for productive employment "all across the spectrum."

Today's definition of an education person is different than it used to be, he said. "In my view, an essential element in the modern definition of an educated person is an understanding of the world of work and work experience," he said. "Higher education must serve the needs of both students and employers."

With MnSCU and the University of Minnesota becoming the two surviving giants of public higher education in Minnesota, a cooperative attitude will have to continue, perhaps to the extent of submitting joint budget requests to the legislature in some instances, the chancellor said.

He said the 15-member MnSCU board, which will replace three separate higher education boards, will have to be critical of itself in regard to efficiency and accountability. The merged organization—which will be the eighth largest employer in the state behind the State of Minnesota and six huge corporations—will reduce staffing by 20 per cent, he said, with fewer administrators and support staff.

"We're promising to make significant changes in higher education and in return we're asking for your support," Chancellor Noren told the group assembled for the Wednesday noon meeting. He said information gleaned from the college and university town forums (the session here was the third of a series of these) will be used to shape the first unified budget for the new system, which will be submitted to the governor and legislature for the 1995 legislative session.

"This is one of the rare times we can see into the future and do something about it," he concluded. "We can create a higher education system that provides our students with the technical and reasoning skills they need to compete in the international market."

Following Dr. Noren's talk, he encouraged those in attendance to ask questions and provide information about "what we need to do to deserve your support." He also participated in a press conference in the studio of the Northwest Technical College's broadcasting program.

Prior to coming to Thief River Falls, Chancellor Noren had held forums in St. Cloud and Brainerd. Additional sessions are planned in Duluth, Hibbing, Moorhead, Mankato, Rochester, Winona, Minneapolis, St. Paul and three sessions in various parts of the Twin Cities metro area.

Also participating in the noon program Wednesday were Sue Minnick, acting president of Northland Community College; Dr. Orley Gunderson, Thief River Falls campus president of Northwest Technical College; Mayor Bob Reeve; and Bob Bergan, executive director of the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce.

Knights of Columbus begin another year of service

Council 4619 of the Knights of Columbus has begun another year of community service with Larry Langevin as the newly-elected Grand Knight.

First activity was manning the telephones at KTRF for a 22-hour period during the Jerry Lewis muscular dystrophy telethon when more than $1,500 was raised locally.

On October 1 the Knights will sponsor the Marathon for Non-Public Education with Council 4619 supplying prizes, serving lunch and assisting with the trash pickup.

Once again the children from St. Bernard's school and their parents will pick up trash from along 50 miles of ditches and city parks and playgrounds. Over the past 20 years the marathon has resulted in many thousands of pounds of trash collected for disposal in and around this community.

The project helps keep the city clean and teaches students about ecology and the environment while they gain pride in their community. Students will be securing pledges for the marathon in the next few days.

Proverbs 15:1 "A soft answer turneth away wrath: but grievous words stir up anger."
As we speak, we should be aware of the attitudes behind our voices. We sometimes do not get along with others just because of our speech. As we talk to our wives, husbands, children, and friends, let's remember that a soft answer turns away wrath.
If we speak with the right attitude, we will bring peace to others and to ourselves.

Who could forget to dial 1+218?

America is on the move. And the increased demand for new phone numbers across the country is exhausting available prefixes. Because of this, people in Minnesota will have to dial differently from now on.

For most long-distance calls in the 218 area code that you currently precede with a 1, you need to dial 1+218. Since you are already in the habit of dialing 1+ the area code for out-of-state calls, the change to 1+218 dialing should be simple to remember.

There's no change in rates for these calls. And 911, local calls and long-distance calls to other area codes will not be affected by the new dialing plan.* But anyone with preprogrammed Speed Calling numbers, modems, fax machines or other automatic dialing equipment will need to reprogram any 1+ numbers within the 218 area code.

For more information about 1+218 dialing, contact your local phone company.

Brought to you by your local Minnesota telephone companies.

Woodcrafters to begin fall meeting dates

Northland Woodcrafters will hold its first meeting of the fall season Monday, September 26, at 7 p.m. at the Occupational Development Center on highway 32 south in Thief River Falls. Meetings are held on the last Monday of each month.

Program for the meeting will be a videotape of the offices and shop of WOOD magazine in Des Moines, IA. Managing editor Jim Harrold and other staff members narrate the tape made by club president Marvin Lundin during a visit to the magazine's offices this summer. Featured on the tape are the winning entries in the magazine's "Build a Toy" contest.

WOOD has the largest circulation of any woodworking magazine at about 350,000 and is one of the publications of the Better Homes and Gardens group.

Members are also encouraged to bring scrollsaw and/or other patterns for a pattern exchange and items they have made for display and discussion. Northern Woodcrafters is for anyone interested in making items from wood and guests and visitors are always welcome to attend the meetings.

Country music jam session at Fosston Oct. 2

Country music lovers are invited to attend the monthly country music jam session to be held Sunday afternoon, October 2, beginning at 1 p.m. at the Embassy Community Center in Fosston.

Individuals and small groups will play in the afternoon, a potluck supper will be served at 5 p.m. and larger groups will be featured into the evening. Those who enjoy listening as well as musicians themselves are invited. There is no admission charge.

For additional information contact Rodney Myhrum at 218-435-6913 evenings.

Class of 1940 at Lincoln plans 54-year reunion

Fifty-four year reunion of the Lincoln high school Class of 1940 will be held Friday, September 30, at the Best Western Inn of Thief River Falls. All class members and their spouses are invited to attend.

Social time will be from 3 to 5 p.m. with a banquet at 5 p.m. The class has held an annual reunion since its 50-year event and many members meet regularly on the last Tuesday of each month for a noon lunch at The Lantern restaurant.

Sidewalks being put in place for downtown project

Seven of the eight blocks in the downtown construction project in Thief River Falls could be paved and ready for traffic by the end of next week. Weather permitting, paving on four blocks south of the 300 block of LaBree could begin this week.

Wayne Davis of Christiansen Industrial Developers Inc. said Wednesday morning that progress on the project slowed last week because of wet weather. By Monday, however, construction crews were able to start construction on the sewer line beneath the 300 block of North LaBree Avenue. By Wednesday that line was in and work on the water line had begun. He expected all pipework to be completed by next week. Work on sidewalks also began last week.

Davis said the contractor was able to free up his schedule and begin work on parts of the sidewalk project. Residents should see some progress on the sidewalks this week. Workers had already completed part of the project in front of the post office by Wednesday. He said work had also begun on the east side of LaBree from Third Street to Second Street.

Weather permitting, Davis didn't think meeting the "substantial completion" date of October 15 would be a problem. The final completion date is November 1.

Ron Lindberg, engineering services director for Thief River Falls, explained that there are three bituminous layers being placed on the road. The first two bituminous layers each will be two-inches in thickness. Those two layers will be placed on the road this year. The final wearing course - one and one-half inches of bituminous - will not be placed on the roads until the next construction season. Substantial completion therefore, does not mean that all of the work will be completed this year.

Davis complemented residents during his update. Davis said residents and merchants were finding and using back entrances to the downtown businesses affected by the street project.

WE Fest gets nomination for CMA honor

WE Fest country music festival at Detroit Lakes is one of three events nominated to receive the 1994 Country Music Association award in the category of Best Country Music Festival/Special Event.

The award acknowledges excellence in management, organization and production of events dedicated to promoting country music while attracting a large and diverse audience.

Others nominated for the award to be presented at the CMA awards show in October are Fan Fair, Nashville's annual entertainer showcase for country music fans, and Jamboree in The Hills, a country music festival staged annually near Saint Clairsville, Ohio.

In its 13th year, the WE Fest is established as the biggest country music and camping festival in the nation. This year the event attracted nearly 106,000 people over three days, many of whom camped out on the concert site.

Next year's WE Fest, "Alive in '95" will be August 4-5-6.

Plan employer conference at Roseau office

To assist employers with understanding current and changing employment laws, a statewide teleconference will be held Tuesday, October 4. One of the receiving sites will be the Roseau county extension office and the fee of $35 includes a bag lunch.

Items to be covered include what's new in workers compensation, U.S. Small Business Administration, U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Serivce, OSHA, ADA, targeted jobs tax credit, skills based computer matching, safety and ergonomics, preventing worker's comp fraud and Federal Unemployment Tax Act (FUTA).

To register send your name, company name, address, phone number and a check payable to the Minnesota Chamber of Commerce to its office at 30 East 7th Street, Suite 1700, St. Paul, MN 55101-4901 and indicate it is for the Roseau location.

4-H carnival planned for September 30

Annual Pennington county 4-H carnival will be held Friday, September 30, from 7 to 9 p.m. at the curling club building on the county fairgrounds in Thief River Falls.

The committee selected the September 30 date to avoid conflict with Lincoln high school homecoming activities the following week.

All 4-H families are asked to bring a cake for the cake walk event. Clubs are also asked to start setting up their booths at 4 p.m. and to have ample help for running their booths.

Joyce Morinville of Brooks, recipient of a $500 scholarship from the National Society of Public Accountants Scholarship Foundation, receives the award from John P. Sherack of Thief River Falls, District Nine director. Sherack is employed by Ronald H. Winter, LPA, in Thief River Falls.

Joyce Morinville earns accounting scholarship of $500

Joyce Morinville of Brooks has received a financial boost toward attending classes at Northwest Technical College in Thief River Falls this fall through a $500 accounting scholarship.

The sophomore accounting student was selected by the National Society of Public Accountants Scholarship Foundation as one of 26 recipients from more than 1,300 students who applied nationally.

Selection was based on her overall outstanding record during her freshman year in the NTC accounting major last year. She was named to the President's List for academic achievement during the winter and spring quarters.

Along with her husband Perry and two children, ages 14 and 15, she lives on a farm near Brooks and works as manager and treasurer of the Brooks Community Federal Credit Union two days a week.

With those family and work obligations, Joyce began her accounting education in the spring of 1993 by taking advantage of the "FlexTime" program at the technical college. This program allowed her to take a computer course without having to commit to a strict college schedule each day.

The following fall quarter she took 11 credits using the FlexTime program and became a full-time student for the winter quarter. She plans to graduate with her accounting degree following spring quarter of 1995.

Joyce is the daughter of Clayton and Lorraine Moran of Thief River Falls and a 1976 graduate of Lafayette high school in Red Lake Falls.

By Order of the United States District Court for the Southern District of Alabama, a class action has been conditionally certified for settlement purposes on behalf of Settlement Class Members (as defined below) who may now or later have claims against Ciba-Geigy Corporation arising out of work-related exposure to Galecron®. On January 30, 1995, a fairness hearing will be held at the Courthouse, United States District Court, Southern District of Alabama, 113 St. Joseph St., Mobile, Alabama, 36602, at 9:00 a.m. Central Time, so the Court can determine if the class action should be finally certified and if the Settlement summarized in the Notice should be approved as fair, reasonable and adequate. This hearing may be continued without further notice.

I. DEFINITION OF CLASS

Under the Settlement, Galecron® is defined as chlordimeform or any chlordimeform-containing product, either manufactured, formulated, packaged, distributed or sold by or on behalf of Ciba-Geigy Corporation or related parties, regardless of the trade name of the product, or any metabolite of Galecron®, including the substance known as 4-COT or 5-CAT.

The Settlement Class is defined as:

(1) All persons who fall into one of the following categories, and who reside in the United States as of the date of filing of the Class Action Complaint, who have been exposed in the United States to Galecron® ("Exposed Persons")

a. Plant Workers: An individual (whether or not employed by Ciba-Geigy Corporation) who in the course of his or her employment at Ciba-Geigy Corporation's St. Gabriel, Louisiana or McIntosh, Alabama sites, was exposed to Galecron®, including, without limitation, individuals who worked in manufacturing, formulating or packaging Galecron® or in the waste disposal of Galecron®, or worked in the construction, demolition or maintenance of any facilities used for the foregoing activities at such St. Gabriel, Louisiana or McIntosh, Alabama sites; or

b. Formulators: An individual (whether or not employed by Ciba-Geigy Corporation) who in the course of his or her employment was exposed to Galecron® while at a plant or site which was involved in mixing, blending, packaging, handling or otherwise formulating pesticides which contained, in whole or in part, Galecron®; or

c. Applicators: An individual (whether or not employed by Ciba-Geigy Corporation) who in the course of his or her employment, was exposed to Galecron® while involved in the application of pesticides which contained, in whole or in part, Galecron®, including, without limitation, aerial and land applicators, flagmen, mixers, blenders, loaders and other individuals who handled such pesticide prior to or during the application process; and

d. Other Covered Workers: An individual (whether or not employed by Ciba-Geigy Corporation) who in the course of his or her employment was exposed to Galecron® to the Clean Land, Air, Water Corporation or Environmental Purification Advancement, Inc. disposal sites located near Bayou Sorrel, Louisiana, to Empak, Inc. in Deer Park, Texas, or in a testing or research laboratory, whether or not owned by Ciba-Geigy Corporation, or

(2) The spouses, parents, children or other relatives of the Exposed Persons described above

(Collectively "Settlement Class Members"). Note: If you are an Exposed Person, you are a Settlement Class Member whether or not you have been diagnosed with an illness. Spouses, parents, children or other relatives are Settlement Class Members but the claims they are settling are limited to those arising from an Exposed Person's exposure

Relevant Dates

Galecron® was registered for use from 1968-1989. Some Exposed Persons may have been exposed before or after those dates.

II. IMPORTANT MEDICAL NOTICE
To Plant Workers, Formulators, Applicators and Other Covered Workers (as defined above):

You may have an increased risk of developing bladder cancer if you had on-the-job exposure to Galecron®. Workers exposed to Galecron® should participate in a medical monitoring program because early detection of bladder cancer can result in more effective treatment. As part of the Settlement, Ciba-Geigy has agreed to establish a medical monitoring program for the detection of bladder cancer for those individuals who do not exclude themselves from the lawsuit. Within six months, this program should be available free of charge to all Exposed Persons who do not exclude themselves from the lawsuit.

If you had on-the-job exposure to Galecron®, it is recommended that you or your doctor call 1-800-565-3126 to learn how you can obtain further medical information or enroll in the medical monitoring program.

III. BRIEF SUMMARY OF LITIGATION

On February 8, 1994, a class action lawsuit was filed against defendant, Ciba-Geigy Corporation ("Ciba-Geigy"), in Alabama State Court, which lawsuit was later removed to the United States District Court for the Southern District of Alabama. The Complaint, as amended, alleges that the Settlement Class as defined above is entitled to damages for medical monitoring and other compensation as a result of Exposed Persons' exposure to Galecron®.

Ciba-Geigy has filed an Answer denying all essential allegations of the Complaint, and asserting affirmative legal defenses. The Court has decided that the case can proceed as a class action for purposes of settlement only. This does not mean that the Class Representatives would have been successful had the case gone to trial. The Court has made no such determination, and the proposed Settlement is not to be construed as an expression of any opinion by the Court as to the merits of any of the claims asserted against Ciba-Geigy.

IV. PROPOSED SETTLEMENT

A Settlement has been entered into between the Class Representatives, Class Counsel and Ciba-Geigy, which will resolve all past, present and future claims against Ciba-Geigy arising out of Exposed Persons' exposure to Galecron®. The Settlement provides for the establishment by Ciba-Geigy of two funds to provide medical benefits and compensation to Exposed Persons or their legal representatives.

(1) The Medical Monitoring and Treatment Fund ("The MMT Fund"). If the Settlement is approved, Ciba-Geigy will make an initial deposit of $5,000,000 into the MMT Fund, and will thereafter make additional deposits on an as needed basis. There is no limit to the amount of money Ciba-Geigy can be required to contribute over the life of this Fund.

The MMT Fund will pay for a medical monitoring program designed to detect at an early stage the form of bladder cancer alleged to be associated with Galecron®: specifically, primary urothelial carcinoma of the urinary collecting system, i.e., renal pelvis, ureter, bladder and urethra. The MMT Fund also will pay for all medically necessary treatment not paid for by Medicare or Medicaid if the Exposed Person has been or in the future is diagnosed with such bladder cancer.

The MMT Fund will pay for medical monitoring to Exposed Persons for a period of 20 years, and will pay for medical treatment until one full year passes with no claims for treatment being filed but in an event less than 20 years. Ciba-Geigy will have no obligation to continue the medical monitoring and treatment program if the Settlement is not approved. Only Exposed Persons, i.e., eligible Plant Workers, Formulators, Applicators and Other Covered Workers, as defined in this Notice, will be entitled to medical monitoring and treatment.

(2) The Disease Compensation and Administration Fund ("The DCA Fund"). If the Settlement is approved, Ciba-Geigy will also make an initial deposit of $30,000,000 into the DCA Fund. In addition to medical treatment paid for by the MMT Fund, the DCA Fund will make cash payments of up to $410,000, as set forth in more detail below, on behalf of an Exposed Person who, after exposure to Galecron®, has developed or in the future develops the form of bladder cancer alleged to be associated with Galecron®: specifically, primary urothelial carcinoma of the urinary collecting system, i.e., renal pelvis, ureter, bladder and urethra. Cash payments will vary depending upon the Exposed Person's age, smoking status and participation in the health screening program. For Exposed Persons who are nonsmokers and participants in the health screening program, the cash payments will be as follows: (a) $50,000 in the event of treatment involving an invasive procedure (this is a one time payment regardless of the number of procedures); (b) up to $150,000 in the event of a radical cystectomy (bladder removal) with diversion of the urinary tract, which amount will decrease with a person's age to a minimum of $10,000 if the Exposed Person is 85 years or older; and (c) up to $250,000 in the event an Exposed Person's death is found to be caused by bladder cancer, which amount will decrease with age to a minimum of $17,500 if the Exposed Person is 85 years or older. An Exposed Person may collect separately for (a), (b) and (c) above, so that the maximum payment to an Exposed Person is $410,000. The cash payments described above will be reduced by 12.5% if the Exposed Person had smoked in the five years prior to diagnosis. A separate 12.5% reduction will be made if he or she had failed to participate in the health screening program in each of the three years prior to diagnosis (or in each year that the program was available, if less than three years). The DCA Fund also will pay $1,000 to any Exposed Person who was diagnosed with hemorrhagic cystitis within three months following exposure (this is a one time payment regardless of the number of manifestations). In addition, the DCA Fund will pay for administrative costs, and class counsel's attorneys' fees, costs and expenses as determined by the Court. All cash payments from the DCA Fund are paid only on account of a compensable claim of an Exposed Person, i.e., an eligible Plant Worker, Formulator, Applicator or Other Covered Worker as defined in this Notice. Cash payments to a spouse, parent, child or other relative will only be made if they are the legal representative of an Exposed Person.

The benefits of the DCA Fund will continue so long as the MMT Fund continues, or until the DCA Fund is exhausted as set forth below. Ciba-Geigy has agreed to pay up to a maximum of $45,000,000 for the benefits afforded by that Fund. If the DCA Fund is exhausted, Ciba-Geigy may continue paying for compensable claims. If Ciba-Geigy does not continue to pay, Settlement Class Members will be able to opt-out of the DCA Fund and will regain their right to pursue any legal claims they may have, except for claims for medical monitoring, medical treatment, fear of illness or cancer, or increased risk of illness or cancer, because medical monitoring and treatment will continue to be available.

(3) Other Conditions. The Stipulation of Settlement presently provides for medical monitoring, treatment and compensation payments for certain medical conditions set forth in this Notice. In the event, however that a Court approved Epidemiology Panel determines to a reasonable medical certainty that any other medical condition is caused by Galecron® exposure, that condition will be deemed a compensable claim, and will be eligible for medical monitoring (if feasible), medical treatment and cash payments. The cash payments will not exceed the maximum amounts payable for the covered medical conditions set forth above.

(4) Administrator. A nationally recognized entity or entities with substantial investment and medical claims administration experience will be appointed by the Court to administer the Settlement. The Administrator will determine whether a Settlement Class Member is eligible for benefits under the settlement. Any disputes concerning a Settlement Class Member's entitlement to benefits will be resolved by a Medical Advisory Panel or by a single arbitrator, depending upon the issue in dispute. The decision of the Medical Advisory Panel or arbitrator each have the effect of an arbitration decision and shall be binding upon all parties, including the Settlement Class Member.

(5) Release. Settlement Class Members who do not exclude themselves from the Class release all past, present and future claims (i) relating to the covered medical conditions listed above; and (ii) relating to an Exposed Person's exposure to Galecron®, including all claims alleging that any other cancers, personal injuries or risks are caused by exposure to Galecron®. This means that claims that Galecron® exposure caused any condition other than those medical conditions listed above will be released, but will receive no compensation or treatment, unless the Court approved Epidemiology Panel finds that such other condition is caused by Galecron® exposure. The release is effective as against Ciba-Geigy and certain additional releasees as defined in the Stipulation of Settlement, including Ciba-Geigy, Ltd., the parent of Ciba-Geigy.

If you believe you are a member of the Settlement Class, and have any questions regarding any of the benefits set forth above, you are urged to call 1-800-565-3126 for further information.

V. CLASS REPRESENTATIVES AND CLASS COUNSEL

The Court has designated the following Settlement Class Members, Russell W. Price, Leslie E. Hoven, Grady W. Brown, Jennie Ropp Brown, Jack Harley Woodward, Alta Woodward, Joe H. Bowman and Martha Annie Bowman, as class representatives to represent all Settlement Class Members. The Court has also designated as Class Counsel the following individuals: Timothy E. Eble, J. Cecil Gardner; Joseph J. McKernan; S.C. Middlebrooks III, Charles W. Patrick, Jr., and Patrick W. Pendley.

The Class Representatives and Class Counsel believe that the proposed Settlement is fair, reasonable and adequate. Class Representatives and Class Counsel have entered into the proposed Settlement after weighing the substantial benefits against the probabilities of success or failure, and the long delays that would be likely if the case proceeded to trial.

There has been no agreement between the parties regarding attorneys' fees. At the fairness hearing, Class Counsel will request the Court to award attorneys' fees and reimbursement of costs and expenses, to be paid from the DCA Fund. Class counsel will request a percentage fee award not to exceed 20% of the benefit conferred on the class, half of which will be requested to be paid over a 4 year period while legal work continues.

RIGHTS AND OPTIONS OF SETTLEMENT CLASS MEMBERS

If you are a Settlement Class Member, you have the following options:

(1) You may do nothing and remain a Settlement Class Member. If you choose to take no action, your interests as a member of the Settlement Class will be represented by the Class Representatives and Class Counsel, at no cost to you individually. You will be bound by any judgment or final disposition of the litigation, and may participate in the benefits available as a member of the Settlement Class. It is important, however, to fill out the REQUEST FOR INFORMATION FORM in order to learn how to receive benefits.

(2) You may remain a Settlement Class Member and either represent yourself or hire your own attorney to represent you at your own cost. You or your attorney must file an Entry of Appearance with the Clerk of the Court and send a copy to Class Counsel and Ciba-Geigy at the addresses set forth below. Such Entry of Appearance must be filed by December 16, 1994.

(3) You may remain a Settlement Class Member and object to the Settlement. Any Settlement Class Member who does not elect exclusion from the Settlement Class and who objects to the proposed Settlement must mail such objections and any supporting papers to the Clerk of Court, at the address set forth below, on or before December 16, 1994. If the person filing the objection intends to appear personally at the January 30, 1995 Fairness Hearing described above, he or she must file with the Clerk, on or before December 16, 1994, a Notice of Intent to Appear. Any Settlement Class Member who does not file objections in the time and manner described above is forever foreclosed from raising any objection to such matters. Any Settlement Class Member whose objection is overruled will still be bound by any judgment or final disposition of the litigation. Copies of all objections and Notices of Intent to Appear that are mailed to the Clerk of Court must also be mailed to Class Counsel and to counsel for Ciba-Geigy at the following addresses:

Class Counsel	Counsel for Ciba-Geigy
Galecron Class Action	Henry B. Alsobrook, Jr.
P.O. Box 974	Adams and Reese
Charleston, SC 29402	4500 One Shell Square
	New Orleans, LA 70139

(4) If you choose to remain a Settlement Class Member (under Options 1, 2 or 3 above), you may receive the benefits afforded by this Settlement within six months of the Court's Order directing this Notice. Ciba-Geigy has agreed to make all benefits afforded by this Settlement available to Settlement Class Members on an interim basis prior to final Court approval of the Settlement. The appropriate Proof of Claim forms will be required (see Section VII below), and an appropriate release will be required for any cash payments made. During this interim claims procedure, class counsel's fees and expenses will be paid upon approval of the Court and ultimately deducted from the DCA Fund initial deposit.

(5) You may request exclusion from the Settlement Class. If you elect to be excluded from the Settlement Class, you will not be bound by any judgment, disposition, or settlement of the class action, but you also will not be able to participate in the Settlement. You will retain and be free to pursue any claims you may have. If you wish to exclude yourself from the Settlement Class, you must mail a request for exclusion to the following:

Clerk of Court
United States District Court
For the Southern District of Alabama
113 St. Joseph Street
Mobile, Alabama 36602

Your exclusion request must set forth your full name and current address. Your written request for exclusion must be postmarked no later than December 16, 1994.

VII. PROOF OF CLAIM PROCEDURE

In order for an Exposed Person to receive medical monitoring, he or she will be required to submit proof of certain employment-related exposure to Galecron®. In order to receive medical treatment or the disease compensation outlined above, a Settlement Class Member will also be required to have been diagnosed, subsequent to exposure, with one of the covered medical conditions listed above. A Proof of Claim to participate in medical monitoring may be submitted at any time during the duration of the program. A Proof of Claim for a covered medical condition must be submitted within one year of diagnosis (or, if the condition has already been diagnosed, within one year after approval of the Settlement).

The Proof of Claim is designed so that you may complete it yourself. Class Counsel is available to answer questions you may have about claims procedures, without charge to you. If you desire legal assistance, you are free to retain an attorney of your choice.

To obtain a Proof of Claim Form for medical monitoring, medical treatment or disease compensation, please call 1-800-565-3126 or fill out the REQUEST FOR INFORMATION FORM below and mail it to Class Counsel at P.O. Box 974, Charleston, SC 29402. No benefits will be available to any member of the Settlement Class unless he or she submits the necessary Proof of Claim Form.

VIII. FOR FURTHER INFORMATION

THIS NOTICE IS ONLY A SUMMARY. The complete terms of the Settlement, and all other pleadings and relevant documents in this litigation, are on file and may be examined or copied during regular business hours at the offices of the Clerk of the Court, United States District Court, 113 St. Joseph Street, Mobile, Alabama 36602. DO NOT CALL THE CLERK OF COURT if you have any questions about this Notice or the Settlement. Address any questions regarding the Notice or Settlement in writing to the Class Counsel at P.O. Box 974 Charleston, SC 29402, or by calling 1-800-565-3126.

Any requests for additional information, like the Proof of Claims Forms or a complete copy of the Settlement, should be made by calling 1-800-565-3126, or by filling out the REQUEST FOR INFORMATION FORM below and mailing it to Class Counsel. It is recommended that all Settlement Class Members who do not wish to exclude themselves mail the REQUEST FOR INFORMATION FORM, as it will facilitate further communication if the Court approves the Settlement. If you do not mail the attached form, the Court may not be able to communicate with you directly and you may not learn how to receive your benefits.

Fremstad was paired with Kiki Goddard at No. 2 doubles for the Prowlers.

Unbeaten EGF wins 3-1 match over TRF

East Grand Forks' unbeaten status was challenged – briefly – Tuesday before the host Green Wave secured a 10-15, 15-11, 15-10, 15-2 high school volleyball win over Thief River Falls.

The loss put the Prowlers at 6-4 heading into today's (Saturday) appearance at the Warren-Alvarado-Oslo Pony Invitational in Warren.

"We did a nice job on offense to start it off," said Thief River Falls coach Helen Anderson. "We had trouble in Game 4 passing the ball up, and I think we just plain ran out of gas."

A switch to a 5-1 offense left the Prowlers' setting duties to junior Kendra Dimich, who finished with 30 assists. "She really did a nice job," mentioned Anderson, who was also happy with hitters Kelly Skeim and Sarah Huschle. "They were very effective coming out of the middle and finding the holes in their (Green Wave) defense," she said.

East Grand Forks completed the sweep with a 15-5, 9-15, 15-12 junior varsity win and a 15-5, 15-6 C squad sweep.

TRF Scoring

■ Kills - Sarah Huschle 17, Kelly Skeim 9, Carrie Lawrence 8, Maren Thorson 8, Carrie Rud 3, Kendra Dimich 2.

■ Last touch points - Dimich 10, Huschle 9, Rud 8, Lawrence 6, Thorson 3, Skeim 2, Sarah Koland 2.

■ Assists - Dimich 30, Koland 6, Rud 3, Skeim 2, Thorson 2, Lawrence 1.

■ Ace serves - Rud 4, Huschle 2, Dimich 1, Koland 1.

Moen-Nelson claim top spot in Newfest horseshoe tourney

Newfolden tandem of Dick Moen and Randy Nelson emerged winners in the 1994 Newfolden Newfest doubles horseshoe tournament, beating Jerald Hagen of Newfolden and Roman Kuznia of Stephen in the finals.

Moen-Nelson, who lost to Hagen-Kuznia 21-20 earlier in the double-elimination format, won the title showdown 21-16.

Third place went to Dale Ljungren of Warren and Jerry Klein of Thief River Falls, while the Newfolden combination of John Nelson and Jessica Hodney placed fourth.

Newfolden's summer North Star Horseshoe League begins in May. All pitchers are welcome to participate. For additional information contact Jerald Hagen at 874-8091.

Pioneers make home debut

Pepsi Bowl, Sports Boosters Day and Parent's Day will all be observed today (Saturday) when the Northland Community College football team makes its 1994 home debut with a 1:30 p.m. game against Willmar at Prowler Field.

After opening the year with 22 hours worth of road trips – a 6-3 win at Worthington and a 32-7 loss at Fergus Falls – the Pioneers are looking forward to a home game. "It's nice to finally play at home," acknowledged Northland coach Gene Klinke. "Sixteen hours down and back to Worthington and six hours down and back to Fergus Falls. That's enough."

Willmar is 2-0 with wins over Mesabi 7-3 and Hibbing 37-8. It'll be the first-ever football meeting between Northland and Willmar.

Brett Halbersma, a 6-1, 175-pound sophomore quarterback from Buffalo Lake-Hector, leads the Willmar attack. He has completed 25 of 48 passes for 271 yards through two games.

"He is a very talented quarterback," said Klinke. "He throws the ball extremely well."

Northland's offense will be hurt by the loss of Brent Miller, a speedy freshman runningback from Mahnomen who is sidelined by a foot injury.

Sophomores Rick Rivera (East Grand Forks) and Dan Nelson (Redwood Falls) will be called on to pick up the slack in Miller's absence, with freshmen Dave Simmons (Miami, FL) and Shawn Blackman (Ann Arbor, MI) perhaps adding runningback duties to their normal assignments in the defensive secondary. "They (Simmons-Blackman) are the fastest guys on the team," explained Klinke. "We may try to get the ball in their hands on offense."

Looker

Ostby

"Our offense is coming along," added Klinke. "Defensively, we're solid. But if we're going to be successful, our offense has to put some points on the board."

This will be the final portion of three weeks of nonconference cross-division match-ups for Minnesota Community College Conference teams. The two six-team groupings will begin five weeks of regular-season ending MCCC Northern and Southern Division play next Saturday. Top two finishers in each division will qualify for the state playoff semifinals.

Last week, all six Southern Division teams were at home, and five of them were winners as Rochester pummeled Itasca 53-0, North Hennepin beat Mesabi 27-7, Normandale got by Vermilion 38-26, Fergus Falls downed Northland, and Willmar defeated Hibbing. Only team winning on the road was Brainerd – 13-0 at Worthington.

Today, the six Northern Division schools will be host teams in games matching Brainerd vs. Normandale, Hibbing vs. Fergus Falls, Itasca vs. Worthington, Mesabi vs. Rochester, and Vermilion vs. North Hennepin. In addition to the Northland-Willmar contest in Thief River Falls.

Rochester, Normandale and Fergus Falls are ranked 1-2-3, respectively, in this week's MCCC coaches poll.

Free Pepsi-Cola products will be distributed to fans attending the Northland home opener in observance of the 11th annual Pepsi Bowl.

As Boosters Day, the contest will offer free admission to all Thief River Falls Sports Boosters Club members. The $5 memberships can be purchased at the gate.

Parent's Day recognition will also be part of the program. Two Thief River Falls high school products are on the 1994 Northland roster – sophomore linebacker Rick Ostby and freshman tight end Joby Looker.

The contest will mark the start of a three-game homestand for the Pioneers, who begin MCCC Northern Division play Saturday, Oct. 1, with a 1:30 p.m. game against Mesabi. That will be followed by a Thursday, Oct. 6, homecoming game against Itasca will will have a 7 p.m. kickoff.

Mustangs lose 3-1...

Gators, Nordics drop 3-0 Tuesday matches

Badger/Greenbush-Middle River and Marshall County Central both dropped 3-0 decisions, while Red Lake County Central lost a 3-1 match Tuesday in area high school volleyball.

Warroad stopped the Gators 15-11, 15-7, 15-7 in Greenbush; Roseau swept the visiting Nordics 15-3, 15-8, 15-7; and Warren-Alvarado-Oslo got by the Mustangs 15-8, 15-7, 13-15, 15-13 in Plummer.

"We don't have that killer instinct," explained Badger/Greenbush-Middle River coach Gwen Borgen. "We would get a lead, but couldn't finish it. It's mental."

The loss dropped the Gators to 5-4 heading into a weekend rematch with Warroad.

"We didn't lose – we got beat," reported Marshall County Central coach Mark Jorgenson. "They (Rams) have a good team. They're quick, they're good hitters, and they move well. We didn't come ready to play at that level."

Changes are listed in Thief River Falls volleyball program

Due to construction delays in finishing the gyms at Challenger Elementary School, the Thief River Falls third-, fourth and fifth-grade volleyball program will be postponed until March instead of the scheduled fall dates.

Sixth graders will bring home a letter containing information about their program, scheduled to run the month of October.

Grand Forks South tops TRF freshmen

Lone Thief River Falls touchdown came on a 1-yard first quarter carry by Chris Mumm Thursday in a 32-6 freshman football loss to Grand Forks South.

Thief River Falls ninth graders will be at Crookston Thursday for a 4:30 p.m. game.

TRF runners find themselves shorthanded

Shorthanded Thief River Falls had incomplete teams at both the boys and girls varsity levels Tuesday in the Bagley Invitational high school cross country meet.

Injuries and illness have taken a bite out of the Prowlers' line-up that was short on numbers to begin with. Among the boys, a foot problem has sidelined Kyle Sanden, a knee injury has stopped Jordan Goldesberry and back surgery shelved Stefan Ronchetti. For the girls, Lisa Swanson is out with mono, Jocelyn Helgeland is recovering from back surgery and Angie Edlund is struggling with a hip-pointer.

Individually, the Prowlers' Becky Mooney, a freshman, was ninth in the girls 4000-meter race in 16:35, while senior Dan Bjerknes led the Thief River Falls boys with a 26th place 17:38 over 5000 meters.

"Team-wise, it's really frustrating," acknowledged Thief River Falls coach Lynn Dyer. "Individually we've had some kids come through for us. Becky ran really well, and Dan, even though his placing might not show it, had a good performance time-wise."

Swimmers sweep Grand Forks

Thief River Falls picked up two easy wins Tuesday in a girls high school swim meet with Grand Forks Central and Grand Forks Red River that was scored at a double-double.

Results showed the Prowlers outscoring the Roughriders 133-107 and the Knights 133-55.

"We had some good, solid swims," noted Thief River Falls coach Ryan Lokken, whose team evened its dual record at 2-2.

Thief River Falls junior varsity was also credited with a pair of wins – 151-33 over Red River and 151-28 vs. Central.

Nordics out-score Warroad, but lose

Volleyball may be the only sport in which you can out-score the opposition and still lose. Case in point Thursday when Marshall County Central finished with a 62-59 overall edge in the point column while dropping a 3-2 decision at Warroad.

The winners prevailed 15-12, 15-10, 12-15, 2-15, 15-10.

It was the second Marshall County Central loss at the hands of Warroad this fall, but it was a lot closer than the 3-0 early-season setback.

"We played much better than the first time we faced them," reported Marshall County Central coach Mark Jorgenson. "We played with a lot of intensity. We were aggressive on offense. We still have things to work on, but our positives far out-weighed our negatives."

The loss put the Nordics at 5-4.

Card of Thanks
I'd like to thank all the people who helped out last month after my accident: Hilda Hagen, the first responders, Thief River EMS, Drs. Browning & Ashok Patel and the nurses at the hospital. Also thanks to Pastor Bobbie Johnson and all the other friends who visited, called and sent cards. I really appreciate all that you've done.
Walter Nelson

CARD OF THANKS
Heartfelt thanks to Dr. Browning, C&C unit, Green Funeral Home, to the casketbearers, Harvey and Blair Lund, Ed Olufson, Don Kuchera, Bert Amundson and Kelly Little. For helping with the funeral, Jen Upham, Elaine Anderson and Jan Shaffland. And to Marlene Snetting, Mary Jane Gibson, Paula Mutnansky, Bert and Gladys Amundson and all my family for the lovely flowers. And to all the neighbors and friends for the many visits to her home and for the memorials given in her name.
May Norma Ness' Memory Be Blessed.

A bee in the bonnet led to "Bekki's Bonnets"

by Sherry LaCoursiere
Northern Watch Reporter

Eight years ago, after the birth of her last baby, a little girl named Bekki, Julie Paquin got a bee in her bonnet — figuratively, of course.

She wanted a bonnet for her baby girl, something practical, that Bekki could wear for more than one season before she grew out of it. So Julie came up with an idea.

By using parts of several different patterns, she devised her own pattern for a bonnet that would fit a child from infant up to the age of two, adding a size by simply turning the bonnet inside out. Naturally, she named her invention after her inspiration, daughter Bekki, with the name, "Bekki's Bonnets."

Julie now sells Bekki's Bonnets to stores nationwide, through mail orders from all over the United States, and at craft sales throughout the area.

She began making the bonnets for sale after numerous requests from friends and acquaintances who saw the bonnet on Bekki and asked about it. "I would walk down the street," she said, "And everyone noticed the bonnet — then they would ask where I got it because they wanted one like it."

"I always liked to sew. My grandmother was a fantastic seamstress," she said. "And I used to watch her sew when I was a little girl. Whenever my mother left me alone in the house, I would be at the sewing machine." And the sewing machine that six-year-old Julie learned to sew on was not so easy to use. It was one of the old-fashioned treadle machines.

At home, coming from a family of eight, she sewed for herself and her two younger sisters. She also took part in 4-H dress reviews and went to the state fair with her sewing accomplishments. She learned more about sewing in home economics at school and had one particular teacher, Remar Vosland, "for at least five years. But," Julie said, "I enjoyed every minute of it." She attributes much of her love of sewing and her sewing ability to Ms. Voxland.

After she got married and had children of her own, she sewed for them. "I especially like sewing for girls, but I sewed some for my son, too."

For the boys, Julie has come up with the pattern for a little cap with ear flaps. She said several people asked for such a cap when they found they could not find any type of cap with ear coverings for their little boys.

Julie makes up to three bonnets in an hour. She uses an "assembly line" method, with two sewing machines, a serger and a regular machine (not a treadle, though). She cuts out several bonnets, 25 to 50, at a time, so they are ready when she has time to sit down and sew them.

Although you would think she spends all of her time sewing bonnets and hats, she doesn't. Julie works full time as a certified aid for Home Health through First Care in Fosston. But sewing is not work or a chore for Julie. She finds it therapeutic. "I sew for relaxation," she said.

She also spends several weekends

Julie Paquin of rural Oklee is shown with two of her creations, "Bekki's Bonnets." Julie devised the pattern for the bonnets herself after her youngest daughter was born because she wanted a bonnet that would grow with the child. She now sells the bonnets to stores throughout the nation, through mail orders, and at area craft shows. "Bekki's Bonnets" were named after her daughter, Bekki.

Goodridge, Grygla plan homecoming

Goodridge and Grygla schools will hold their homecoming events together separately again this year with coronations at each school and volleyball and football games combined at Grygla.

Homecoming royalty will be crowned Wednesday, October 5, at 7 p.m. at Grygla and Friday, October 7, at 1:30 p.m. at Goodridge.

Senior queen and king candidates at Goodridge are Leah Vigen, Amber Wilkens and Shannon Sjulestad; Aaron Miller, Bryce Marquis and Ryan Kriel. Junior attendant is Mandy Brandt, sophomore attendant is Crystelle Johnsrud, ushers are David Jones and Jim Wilson and first grade attendants are Marie Dahlen, Sara Rindahl, Mikelalan Heaton and Michael Isaak.

At Grygla Brandi Stratton, Carlye Schuler and Jennifer Wilkens are senior queen candidates and Jim Verbout, Kevin Warne and Jeremy Verbout are senior king candidates. Junior attendants are Jennifer Saurdiff and Scott Simpson, sophomore attendants are Erica Holte and Shaun Verbout and first grade attendants are Ashley Kalbakdalen, Kelsie Worne, Ben Sundberg and Tim

Heather Anderson reigns at Goose Festival

Daughter of Dale and Lois Anderson was selected as the new Miss Middle River last Saturday night

by Mervin Lundin
Northern Watch Editor

Whether on the volleyball or basketball court, softball diamond or engaged in an intense game of pinochle, Heather Anderson thrives on activity. The new Miss Middle River is an athletic and academic stand-out in her senior year at Greenbush-Middle River high school.

Daughter of Dale and Lois Anderson of rural Middle River, 18-year-old Heather received the Miss Middle River crown last Saturday evening and is reigning this weekend over events of the annual Middle River Goose Festival. It promises to be a busy weekend.

"I'll be riding in the parade," she said, "and handing out awards for both the kiddie parade and regular parade. I'm supposed to be at the tug-of-war and other events in the afternoon, including joining in the line dancing. I'll also be at the polka mass and Mom and I will be singing 'Love Can Build A Bridge' at the afternoon entertainment program."

Activity is nothing new to this brown-eyed, brown-haired, five-feet nine-inch bundle of energy. Although she is involved in nearly all the activities offered in her school, she also has maintained perfect attendance for her 11-plus years in school, has been on the honor roll since seventh grade and on the A honor roll since starting attendance at the combined Greenbush-Middle River school in 1992.

She is a member of the National Honor Society, listed in "Who's Who Among American High School Students" and takes part in drama events, including last year's musical "Annie." This year she is one of three senior candidates for homecoming queen.

Athletics and music, however, consume most of Heather's extra-curricular time during the school year. She has played trumpet since fourth grade and is a member of the pep, jazz and concert bands at Greenbush-Middle River high school.

She also sings in the pops, girls' and concert choirs and has taken part in vocal and instrumental solos and ensembles in competition for the past several years. Her pageant talent number in the Miss Middle River competition was a vocal solo of "I Got the Sun in the Morning" from the musical "Annie Get Your Gun."

She began playing volleyball in eighth grade and earned her first varsity letter in that sport last year when she also received the Most Improved Player award. This season she is a co-captain of the team.

For two years she has been a member of the high school fast pitch softball team, either pitching or playing first base.

But basketball is her first love and major emphasis in athletics. She has played the game since fifth grade and been on the varsity for four years, most recently as a forward or center. Last season she led the Northern Lights Conference in field goal percentage with 58 percent. "I shoot a lot of lay-ups," she laughed.

Coming off a 22-5 won-lost record last year, including a District 32A championship and third place finish in Region 8A after an opening game overtime loss to Fosston, Heather and the rest of the Gators are hoping for an even better season in 1994-95.

On August 6-7 most of the

The new Miss Middle River, Heather Anderson, is a three-sport performer at Greenbush-Middle River high school. She is a co-captain of the volleyball team, a forward/center on the highly rated basketball team and a pitcher/first baseman in fast pitch softball.

In addition to her award plaque for being selected as Miss Middle River, Heather Anderson received division plaques for winning the evening gown (on stage personality) and personal interview divisions.

A bee in the bonnet led to "Bekki's Bonnets"

by Sherry LaCoursiere
Northern Watch Reporter

Eight years ago, after the birth of her last baby, a little girl named Bekki, Julie Paquin got a bee in her bonnet — figuratively, of course.

She wanted a bonnet for her baby girl, something practical, that Bekki could wear for more than one season before she grew out of it. So Julie came up with an idea.

By using parts of several different patterns, she devised her own pattern for a bonnet that would fit a child from infant up to the age of two, adding a size by simply turning the bonnet inside out. Naturally, she named her invention after her inspiration, daughter Bekki, with the name, "Bekki's Bonnets."

Julie now sells Bekki's Bonnets to stores nationwide, through mail orders from all over the United States, and at craft sales throughout the area.

She began making the bonnets for sale after numerous requests from friends and acquaintances who saw the bonnet on Bekki and asked about it. "I would walk down the street," she said. "And everyone noticed the bonnet — then they would ask where I got it because they wanted one like it."

"I always liked to sew. My grandmother was a fantastic seamstress," she said. "And I used to watch her sew when I was a little girl. Whenever my mother left me alone in the house, I would be at the sewing machine." And the sewing machine that six-year-old Julie learned to sew on was not so easy to use. It was one of the old-fashioned treadle machines.

At home, coming from a family of eight, she sewed for herself and her two younger sisters. She also took part in 4-H dress reviews and went to the state fair with her sewing accomplishments. She learned more about sewing in home economics at school and had one particular teacher, Remar Voxland, "for at least five years. But," Julie said, "I enjoyed every minute of it." She attributes much of her love of sewing and her sewing ability to Ms. Voxland.

After she got married and had children of her own, she sewed for them. "I especially like sewing for girls, but I sewed some for my son, too."

For the boys, Julie has come up with the pattern for a little cap with ear flaps. She said several people asked for such a cap when they found they could not find any type of cap with ear coverings for their little boys.

Raised on a farm near McIntosh, Julie now lives south of Oklee with her husband, Mike, who works for Paradis Trucking, and three children, Michelle, 22, a student at UND; Dusty, 17, a junior at the Oklee school; and Bekki, eight, in second grade. Her mother, Phyllis Jordet, lives on a farm near Gully.

Julie makes up to three bonnets in an hour. She uses an "assemby line" method, with two sewing machines, a serger and a regular machine (not a treadle, though). She cuts out several bonnets, 25 to 50, at a time, so they are ready when she has time to sit down and sew them.

Although you would think she spends all of her time sewing bonnets and hats, she doesn't. Julie works full time as a certified aid for Home Health through First Care in Fosston. But sewing is not work or a chore for Julie. She finds it therapeutic. "I sew for relaxation," she said.

She also spends several weekends

Julie Paquin of rural Oklee is shown with two of her creations, "Bekki's Bonnets." Julie devised the pattern for the bonnets herself after her youngest daughter was born because she wanted a bonnet that would grow with the child. She now sells the bonnets to stores throughout the nation, through mail orders, and at area craft shows. "Bekki's Bonnets" were named after her daughter, Bekki.

Goodridge, Grygla plan homecoming

Goodridge and Grygla schools will hold their homecoming events together separately again this year with coronations at each school and volleyball and football games combined at Grygla.

Homecoming royalty will be crowned Wednesday, October 5, at 7 p.m. at Grygla and Friday, October 7, at 1:30 p.m. at Goodridge.

Senior queen and king candidates at Goodridge are Leah Vigen, Amber Wilkens and Shannon Sjulestad; Aardn Miller, Bryce Marquis and Ryan Kriel. Junior attendant is Mandy Brandt, sophomore attendant is Crystelle Johnsrud, ushers are David Jones and Jim Wilson and first grade attendants are Marie Dahlen, Sara Rindahl, Mikelalan Heaton and Michael Isaak.

At Grygla Brandi Stratton, Carlye Schuler and Jennifer Wilkens are senior queen candidates and Jim Verbout, Kevin Warne and Jeremy Verbout are senior king candidates. Junior attendants are Jennifer Saurdiff and Scott Simpson, sophomore attendants are Erica Holte and Shaun Verbout and first grade attendants are Ashley Kalbakdalen, Kelsie Warne, Ben Sundberg and Tim

Heather Anderson reigns at Goose Festival

Daughter of Dale and Lois Anderson was selected as the new Miss Middle River last Saturday night

The new Miss Middle River, Heather Anderson, is a three-sport performer at Greenbush-Middle River high school. She is a co-captain of the volleyball team, a forward/center on the highly rated basketball team and a pitcher/first baseman in fast pitch softball.

by Marvin Lundin
Northern Watch Editor

Whether on the volleyball or basketball court, softball diamond or engaged in an intense game of pinochle, Heather Anderson thrives on activity. The new Miss Middle River is an athletic and academic stand-out in her senior year at Greenbush-Middle River high school.

Daughter of Dale and Lois Anderson of rural Middle River, 18-year-old Heather received the Miss Middle River crown last Saturday evening and is reigning this weekend over events of the annual Middle River Goose Festival. It promises to be a busy weekend.

"I'll be riding in the parade," she said, "and handing out awards for both the kiddie parade and regular parade. I'm supposed to be at the tug-of-war and other events in the afternoon, including joining in the line dancing. I'll also be at the polka mass and Mom and I will be singing 'Love Can Build A Bridge' at the afternoon entertainment program."

Activity is nothing new to this brown-eyed, brown-haired, five-feet nine-inch bundle of energy. Although she is involved in nearly all the activities offered in her school, she also has maintained perfect attendance for her 11-plus years in school, has been on the honor roll since seventh grade and on the A honor roll since starting attendance at the combined Greenbush-Middle River school in 1992.

She is a member of the National Honor Society, listed in "Who's Who Among American High School Students" and takes part in drama events, including last year's musical "Annie." This year she is one of three senior candidates for homecoming queen.

Athletics and music, however, consume most of Heather's extracurricular time during the school year. She has played trumpet since fourth grade and is a member of the pep, jazz and concert bands at Greenbush-Middle River high school.

She also sings in the pops, girls' and concert choirs and has taken part in vocal and instrumental solos and ensembles in competition for the past several years. Her pageant talent number in the Miss Middle River competition was a vocal solo of "I Got the Sun in the Morning" from the musical "Annie Get Your Gun."

She began playing volleyball in eighth grade and earned her first varsity letter in that sport last year when she also received the Most Improved Player award. This season she is a co-captain of the team.

For two years she has been a member of the high school fast pitch softball team, either pitching or playing first base.

But basketball is her first love and major emphasis in athletics. She has played the game since fifth grade and been on the varsity for four years, most recently as a forward or center. Last season she led the Northern Lights Conference in field goal percentage with 58 per cent. "I shoot a lot of lay-ups," she laughed.

Coming off a 22-5 won-lost record last year, including a District 32A championship and third place finish in Region 8A after an opening game overtime loss to Fosston, Heather and the rest of the Gators are hoping for an even better season in 1994-95.

On August 6-7 most of the

In addition to her award plaque for being selected as Miss Middle River, Heather Anderson received division plaques for winning the evening gown (on stage personality) and personal interview divisions.

Leaf burning permitted

Leaf burning in Thief River Falls is permitted from October 1 to November 15. Thief River Falls Fire Chief Dave Bjorkman is asking that property owners use caution and exercise common sense if they plan to burn leaves.

The city's ordinance, which allows leaf burning from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. from October 1 to November 15, requires that any leaf burning be located five feet within property lines, and that someone be in attendance at all times. The ordinance is also only for the burning of leaves. It does not permit burning of rubbish or trash.

Chief Bjorkman also asks that a hose be hooked up to a water supply just in case of an emergency. He also asks that anyone planning to burn leaves exercise common sense — don't burn leaves on windy days and have respect for your neighbors.

Leaf burning permitted

Leaf burning in Thief River Falls is permitted from October 1 to November 15. Thief River Falls Fire Chief Dave Bjorkman is asking that property owners use caution and exercise common sense if they plan to burn leaves.

The city's ordinance, which allows leaf burning from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. from October 1 to November 15, requires that any leaf burning be located five feet within property lines, and that someone be in attendance at all times. The ordinance is also only for the burning of leaves. It does not permit burning of rubbish or trash.

Chief Bjorkman also asks that a hose be hooked up to a water supply just in case of an emergency. He also asks that anyone planning to burn leaves exercise common sense — don't burn leaves on windy days and have respect for your neighbors.

Christmas Seals to sponsor Kids' Drawing Contest

Kid's Drawing Contest to design 1995 Christmas Seals has been announced by the National Education Association and American Lung Association.

The contest is open to children ages six to 15 to create a design around the theme "Things That Make You Feel Good at the Holidays." Winning entries will be featured in the Christmas Seals campaign for 1995.

Contest entry period is Oct. 1, 1994 through March 31, 1995. State winners and overall winner will receive computer equipment. To obtain an official entry form, call 1-800-586-4872 or ask for one at doctors' offices or pharmacies.

SOUPCON

Sherry LaCoursiere

Lately several recipes I've put in this column have had things wrong with them. The most recent call I had was about the soft ginger cookie recipe I had in last week's Watch. The caller and I wondered if there shouldn't be an egg and some molasses in the recipe. Since I haven't had time to try it and make sure it is all right, here are some cookie recipes from my own cookbook – they are all tried and true and there better not be anything wrong with them.

This is a huge recipe, so get ready to freeze some of these cookies. I have put the ingredients for a half recipe in parentheses, in case you want to try just half a batch:

PUMPKIN COOKIES

2 cups brown sugar (1 cup)
1 cup shortening (1/2 cup)
2 eggs (1)
1 can pumpkin (1/2 can or about 1 cup)
2 cups raisins or dates (1 cup)
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg (1/4 teaspoon)
2 teaspoons vanilla (1 teaspoon)
4 cups flour (2 cups)
2 teaspoons soda (1 teaspoon)
4 teaspoons baking powder (2 teaspoons)
2 teaspoons cinnamon (1 teaspoon)
1/2 teaspoon ginger (1/4 teaspoon)
1 teaspoon allspice (1/2 teaspoon)
1 1/2 teaspoons salt (3/4 teaspoon)

Drop by teaspoonfuls on greased cookie sheet. Bake at 350 degrees.

Another soft cookie that can be frosted or not, as desired.

CHOCOLATE DROP COOKIES

1 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup butter
2 eggs
1/2 cup sour milk
2 squares melted chocolate
1/2 teaspoon soda
vanilla
dash salt
1 1/2 cups flour
1 cup nuts, if desired

Drop by teaspoonfuls on greased cookie sheet. Bake at 350 degrees.

These soft ginger cookies have both molasses and an egg, so they should turn out fine:

GINGER CREAMS

1 cup sugar
1 cup shortening
3/4 cup molasses
1 cup hot water
4 cups flour (or more)
3/4 teaspoon cloves
1 egg
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon cinnamon
2 teaspoons soda
3/4 teaspoon nutmeg

Drop by teaspoonfuls on greased cookie sheet. Bake at 350 and frost with white frosting when cool, if desired.

One more soft drop cookie to fill your cookie jar:

ORANGE DROP COOKIES

3/4 cup shortening
1/4 cup butter
1 1/2 cups brown sugar
2 eggs
1/4 cup orange juice
1 tablespoon orange rind
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup sour cream
3 1/2 cups flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon soda
1 cup nuts, if desired

Drop by teaspoonfuls on greased cookie sheet. Bake at 350 degrees.

Shreddermania

One quick look at the average northwestern Minnesota lawn and its carpet of leaves will remove any doubt that autumn has once again come to the north country. It is a time when the highly touted fall colors flash a brief bit of brilliance, then become brown flakes of dead nature to be raked, piled, burned, hauled away or composted.

Ah, composting. It is the topic of a column written by Bob Buckel of The Azle News Advertiser of Azle, Texas. The column was a first place winner in the National Newspaper Association Better Newspaper Contest for Best Column, Humorous Subjects, circulation less than 5,000. We are reprinting it here in the hope it will make you chuckle as much as it did us:

SHREDDERMANIA

Not since Richard Nixon hastily left the White House has so much been run through a shredder so fast.

I'm not talking about a Nixonian shredder like your banker runs your loan application through after he has a good laugh. I mean a garden shredder—the kind you run leaves and sticks and last year's squash vines through to make instant compost material for your yard.

Not long ago, a friend asked me if I'd be interested in going in with him and his dad to buy a shredder. They had found an incredible bargain and I could get in cheap. (He also had a bunch of really nice watches inside his coat.)

I don't wear a watch, but I am now one-sixth owner of a two-chute, 8-horsepower, heavy-duty industrial strength turbocharged dirt-belching shredding machine.

If you drive past my house, you'll see there are no low-hanging branches left on the grass. Nor is there a leaf, a stick, a blade of grass or a stray cat hanging around. I may have to replace some fence panels.

This thing is awesome. You could put a Volkswagen in there and get bug chips without stalling the motor.

I feel like a 16-year-old who just got his driver's license in the family Chevy, went out and hopped in a jet-fuel dragster on the Bonneville Salt Flats.

THE POWER!

AHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAH!

When I crank that baby, I'm no longer a mild-mannered editor who can't grow grass. I become a heavy-metal super-hero— Shreddor, Lord of Compostia—standing astride the compost pile, chest like Arnold Schwarzenegger, holding aloft a branch as lightning strikes, giant grubworms fly off into outer space and impossibly-built Amazon maidens cling to my feet.

Is this a problem?

As you may guess, I'm deeply into compost. Now and then I get a letter from a reader comparing this column to compost. However mean-spirited it may be, I always take it as a compliment, since compost is rich and fertile, builds soil, makes things grow and helps the environment.

Then I compost their letters.

Composting is based on the principle that everything that is alive dies, and everything that does rots. This is not nuclear physics. All you do is pile it up and let it rot.

I can do this. You can do this. Al Gore can do this.

Not counting the corner where I piled my dirty clothes in the college dorm, I started my composting career when I first got married and attempted to garden. Andrews is a good place, but the topsoil has all blown away, leaving people to live on something like pottery. To plant a tree, you had to get a drilling rig to come out and punch a hole.

It's a little-known fact that most of the oil zillionaires out there were just trying to plant pecan trees.

We got manure from a dairy, added grass clippings, leaves, carrot peels, etc. I sent off to Georgia for a bucket of redworms. It worked great, proving that you can garden anywhere if you make your own soil. Since then, wherever we move, the first thing I build is a compost bin.

I just can't feel settled until I know there's a pile of something rotting nearby.

I'm a natural for Congress, huh?

If I compost 'til the day I die, and several months thereafter, I'll never have a better pile than I've got now, thanks to my one-sixth of a shredder.

For a couple of Saturdays there, I was dangerous.

Some friends cleaned up their yard and brought me dozens of bags of leaves. They went into the hopper, and WHOOOF! Leafmeal. Limbs? WHOOOF! Wood chips. Bramble vines? WHOOOF! Thorndust. Tomato stalks? WHOOOF! Ketchips. Cats skedaddled. Squirrels scrammed. Dogs tucked tail and ran.

The machine has so many safeguards, it's virtually impossible to lose any of your own personal body parts. I did suffer one tragedy, however, in my shredding frenzy.

As I ran leaves through the machine, I began to sort through them for earthworms. I found lots of big fat ones (another one of those weird things composters get excited about). Every time I found one, I pitched him/her into the pile with food wishes to eat, reproduce and have fun.

But along the way, I lost one.

I had put a handful of leaves in the hoper and was sifting through them. Just as the leaves began to slide down toward the blades, the mother/father of all earthworms appeared. I grabbed for him/her, but with my work gloves on, I couldn't pick him/her up.

While I frantically tried to flip my other glove off, he/she wiggled once too often and slid into the blades.

Having lived for fertility, he/she had finally given his/her all. Now he/she is out there somewhere carrying on, part of the compost, still helping things grow.

That's something we can all aspire to.

Northern Watch Policies

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

PASTOR CURTIS JACOBSON
"COMMUNITY CHURCH"

Philippians 4:19 There is no lack, for My God supplieth all my needs according to His riches in glory by Christ Jesus.

This is a powerful and true statement. We live in a time where money and things are so very important to the existence of man. In this scripture lies the simple way to success. If we enter into the purpose and will of God, He will supply, can supply and has supplied all the blessings of His eternal Kingdom.

In Psalm 37:4 we read that if we will delight ourselves in the Lord, He will give us the desires of our hearts.

Seamless Aluminum Guttering
Heating, Air Conditioning
378-4641 378-4585

Our Seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge pre-painted aluminum, the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length, eliminating any joints or seams in the middle. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.

Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two-man crew, saving on labor cost. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that get damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates of your job at no obligation to you.

Who could forget to dial 1+218?

America is on the move. And the increased demand for new phone numbers across the country is exhausting available prefixes. Because of this people in Minnesota will have to dial differently from now on.

For most long-distance calls in the 218 area code that you currently precede with a 1, you need to dial 1+218. Since you are already in the habit of dialing 1+ the area code for out-of-state calls, the change to 1+218 dialing should be simple to remember.

There's no change in rates for these calls. And 911 local calls and long-distance calls to other area codes will not be affected by the new dialing plan.* But anyone with preprogrammed Speed Calling numbers, modems, fax machines or other automatic dialing equipment will need to reprogram any 1+ numbers within the 218 area code.

For more information about 1+218 dialing, contact your local phone company.

your local Minnesota telephone companies.

Pioneers host Mesabi in first MCCC contest

Three weeks of season-opening nonconference play ends this week with the start of the 1994 Minnesota Community College Conference football schedule.

In the MCCC Northern Division Saturday, Mesabi will be at Northland, Vermilion at Itasca and Hibbing at Brainerd. The Pioneers and Norsemen square off at 1:30 p.m. at Prowler Field.

While the 12 league members spent September trying to work out the kinks in nonconference match-ups against teams in the other division, October will feature five MCCC-counting games for each of them. Top two finishers in the regular season Northern and Southern Divisions will earn spots in the state playoff semifinals Nov. 5.

Northland starts divisional play with a 1-2 record. The Pioneers beat Worthington 6-3 on the final play of the game, lost to Fergus Falls 32-7 and dropped a 33-32 decision to Willmar last week when a potential game-winning field goal was blocked in the final moments.

Rest of the Pioneers' Northern Division schedule will be Thursday contests – an Oct. 6 homecoming game vs. Itasca; Oct. 13 at Vermilion; Oct. 20 at Hibbing; and an Oct. 27 regular season finale vs. Brainerd.

Northwest Quad is won by Crookston

Crookston won six individual titles and team honors Tuesday while dominating play in the annual Northwest Quadrangular girls high school tennis meet in Thief River Falls.

Final point totals showed the Pirates with 18, Bemidji 10, East Grand Forks 10, and Thief River Falls 4.

Individual Crookston winners were Leah Olson, Carrie Kildahl and Erin Schraeder in 1-through-3 singles, respectively, along with a sweep in doubles by Jenny Bruun-Jennie Coauette at No. 1, Andrea Onstad-Katie Keil at No. 2, and a combination of Kelley Nelson-Liz Ames-Kristen Olson at No. 3.

Sara Johnson of Bemidji won at No. 4 singles.

Sunny Carlson handled the freestyle leg of the Thief River Falls 200-yard medley relay during Tuesday's girls high school swim meet at the Franklin Middle School pool. The Prowlers hosted Crookston and Warroad in a triangular won by the Pirates.

Thief River Falls girls host high school swim triangular...

Strong start keys Crookston win

Crookston decided the issue early Tuesday when a 1-2 finish in the meet-opening 200-yard medley relay sparked the Pirates to a triangular girls high school swim win over Thief River Falls and Warroad at the Franklin Middle School pool.

With relays scoring double in the point column, the first-race success gave Crookston a quick 24-12 lead over Thief River Falls that stood up for the rest of the night. The Pirates wound up out-scoring the Prowlers 141-135.5. The first-year Warroad program was a distant third with 43.5 points.

"That first relay really hurt," acknowledged Thief River Falls coach Ryan Lokken. "It's really hard to make up 12 points on Crookston. We're just too evenly matched."

It was the first-ever Crookston win over Thief River Falls in head-to-head competition, but Lokken was far from disappointed in the Prowlers' performance.

"We swam a good meet – probably the best meet we've swam this year," said Lokken.

A Crookston disqualification in the 200-yard freestyle relay helped produce a 1-2 Thief River Falls finish, giving the Prowlers a shot heading into the final three events. But the Pirates hung on for the win.

Eighth grader Nicole Kopari won the 50 and 100 freestyle for the Prowlers, while junior Jennifer Olin led the diving competition and senior Theresa Glauque took the 100 butterfly.

The Prowlers also won two of the three relay races with Kopari, Glauque, senior Sarah Harger, and freshman Sunny Carlson in the 200 freestyle; Kopari, Glauque and sophomores Becky Harger and Melanie Johnson in the 400 freestyle.

Crookston also won the junior varsity portion of the meet with 144 points, followed by Thief River Falls with 101 and Warroad 69.

Nordics beat Gators second time around

Marshall County Central reversed an earlier 3-1 setback at the hands of Badger/Greenbush-Middle River Tuesday by beating the host Gators 14-16, 15-5, 15-11, 15-6 in area high school volleyball.

It was the fourth straight loss for the 5-6 Gators, who haven't won since beating Marshall County Central two weeks ago.

"We play well at the start, but we just can't seem to finish it," said Badger/Greenbush-Middle River coach Gwen Borgen. "Jessica Borgen has been consistent for us, but one person can't do it. We need to do a better job getting that first pass to our setter."

It was the third win in four days for the Nordics, boosting their record to 8-4.

"It was a tough week and the kids were tired," acknowledged Marshall County Central coach Mark Jorgenson. "But they came ready to play. Serving was the key. The first time we played them we missed 20 serves. This time we missed 10, and most of those came in the first game."

Jorgenson cited the efforts of Amanda Myhrer, a junior who stood out on defense, and Janette Bjorgaard, a senior who played well off the bench.

Elsewhere Tuesday, Red Lake County Central beat East Grand Forks Sacred Heart 15-10, 10-15, 15-5, 15-13 in a match played at Plummer, while Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke lost a 3-1 decision to Lake of the Woods at Grygla – where the Bears held off the Wolverines 15-4, 15-11, 15-17, 15-12.

Thief River Falls junior Vicki Bitzegaio returned this shot during a double match against Roseau Thursday as part of the Prowlers' quadrangular dual girls high school tennis outing that also included East Grand Forks and Park Rapids.

Tennis team winless in TRF quadrangular

Park Rapids Area, Roseau and East Grand Forks handed Thief River Falls losses Thursday in the Prowlers' quadrangular dual girls high school tennis meet.

The Panthers and Rams both edged the Prowlers 4-3, while the Green Wave won by a 5-2 margin.

It was the second multiple-team, dual-scoring outing of the season for the Prowlers, who beat Hastings while losing to Brainerd and Champlin Park – all by 4-3 margins – in a similar set-up at Brainerd Saturday.

The three losses in the final Thief River Falls home appearance of the season dropped the Prowlers' dual meet record to 5-8.

Crookston wins 16-6 freshman ball game

Crookston beat Thief River Falls 16-6 Thursday in a freshman football match-up.

A one-yard Kyle Anderson run was the only scoring for the 2-3 Thief River Falls squad.

Greyhounds top Prowlers

The middle wasn't bad, according to Thief River Falls coach Helen Anderson, but the Prowlers struggled at the start and finish Thursday in losing a 3-1 high school volleyball match at Fosston.

Fosston's 15-6, 16-14, 14-16, 15-5 win dropped Thief River Falls to 9-7 for the year.

Thief River Falls' season-long problem with serve reception surfaced again in Game 1, and also cost the Prowlers the final two points in the extended second game.

Fosston was headed for a sweep with a 7-2 lead in Game 3 before Thief River Falls finally began to solve the Greyhounds' defense.

"Fosston has natural quickness, which made it tough when we tried to put it away," explained Anderson. "But we had some good serves, which helped us on the scoreboard. We played with a lot of determination."

However, the Prowlers were unable to carry their Game 3 success into Game 4.

"We completely fell apart," said Anderson. "The harder we tried, the worse it got, which really makes it frustrating."

It was a clean sweep for the Greyhounds, who won the junior varsity match 15-10, 15-12 and took the C squad contest 15-11, 15-9.

Agassiz Wildlife Refuge will be open to trappers

Furbearer trapping opportunities are available at Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge during the 1994 refuge trapping season October 29 through December 31.

Eight trapping units will be offered through a sealed monetary bid system. Qualified trappers can bid on one or all eight units. Exclusive trapping rights, on only one unit, will be awarded to the qualified trapper who submits the highest bid on a particular unit. In the event there are less than eight bids received, a second unit may be awarded. Anyone making a bid must have an appropriate state license and at least two seasons of trapping experience.

Pre-bid inspection of the trapping units is being authorised and encouraged. The units will be opened for inspection, and sealed bids will be accepted, Monday-Friday, Oct. 3-7, from 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Application forms, refuge maps showing locations of the units, and information about permit conditions are available at refuge headquarters. Bids will be accepted at the headquarters office, or by mail. Bids must be postmarked no later than October 7.

Successful bidders will be notified by October 15, and will be required to attend a mandatory pre-season trapping meeting Friday, Oct. 28, at 1 p.m. at refuge headquarters. On October 28, full payment will be required on bids of $100 or less, and a minimum of 25 percent of bids over $100. It is mandatory that permittees trap a minimum of four days prior to November 4 to increase the harvest of mammalian predators before their activity decreases. A helper will be permitted to accompany the permittee when checking or setting traps. During the deer hunting season, trapping permittees will be authorized only on roads that are open to deer hunters.

Species authorized to be trapped are mink, raccoon, skunk, fox, river otter, and beaver. Beaver and muskrat trapping will occur only on selected units. Two river otter per unit will be authorised. Some furbearer and wildlife species not permitted to be trapped include gray wolves, coyote, bobcat, fisher, and badger. Any protected species which are accidently caught must be released alive, or if found dead in the trap, must be turned over to refuge personnel.

For additional information, contact the refuge manager, Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge, Middle River, MN 56737; telephone 218-449-4115.

Homecoming draws retail promotion

Homecoming celebrations at Northland Community College and Lincoln high school in Thief River Falls next week are a key for a retail promotion sponsored by The Times and Northern Watch.

Participating stores will have a week-long in-store registration for autographed leather footballs, homecoming window displays and promotional items. Winners of the footballs may opt to have them autographed by either the high school or college football team members or accept them unautographed.

Participating stores will feature a window poster proclaiming homecoming and a player carrying a football.

Northland will play its homecoming football game against Itasca Community College at 7 p.m. Thursday, October 6 and Lincoln will play its homecoming game against Crookston Central at 6 p.m. Friday, October 7. A homecoming parade will be held Friday at 2 p.m.

Thief River Falls is one of seven sites in the state for a University of Minnesota one-day seminar on property taxes. The session here is scheduled for 9 a.m. to 3:45 p.m. Thursday, October 20, at the Best Western Inn.

The seminar is designed for both new and experienced township officers, county commissioners and city council members and is being held concurrently with the university's property valuation short course. Other sessions will be in St. Cloud, Grand Rapids, Fergus Falls, Rochester, Mankato and Marshall.

There is no pre-registration. Registration will take place at each site, beginning at 8 a.m. the day of the seminar. Fee is $20 per person and payment by check or voucher should be made payable to the University of Minnesota.

For more information, call University of Minnesota extension special programs at 1-800-367-5363.

DFL workers recognized for long service

To honor long-time DFL party workers for their service, a recognition dinner and fun night will be held Saturday, October 8, at the Best Western Inn of Thief River Falls. Social hour will start at 6:30 p.m. with dinner at 7 p.m. and a program to follow.

Among those to be given special recognition will be Al Nichols and Fran Stromberg, Pennington county; Earl and Jan Anderson, Marshall county; Millard Jensen and Betty Battles, Roseau county; and Howard Greenwald, Red Lake county.

Candidates for political office will be present and several other activities are planned for the social event.

Reservations for the dinner can be made with the following people: John Johnson, 681-7448; Norma Hanson, 378-4380; Don Schirrick, 253-2211; Earl Anderson, 478-3535; Jim Tunheim, 674-4480; Pat Westman, 463-2220; and Lawrence Gross, 965-4822.

Little boys' caps with ear flaps are also made by Julie Paquin of rural Oklee, after she received several requests from customers for caps with ear coverings for boys. Julie makes "Bakki's Bonnets" for little girls in one size that grows with the child from infant to age two.

Heather Anderson, Miss Middle River 1994, wore this dress for her personal interview as part of the pageant competition last week. She won the personal interview and evening gown divisions enroute to gaining the title and advancing to the 1996 Miss Marshall County pageant.

NCC hosts post high planning program

A post high school planning program for all high school students and their parents will be held at Northland Community College Monday, October 3, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The program will give students and parents an opportunity to explore a variety of options for continued education or military service after high school. Representatives from nearly 100 educational institutions and other organizations will be available to answer questions and provide important information for post high school planning.

Structured like a fair, the program offers students an atmosphere where they are free to look at various displays and speak to representatives of those schools, colleges and organizations that interest them.

Sponsored by the Minnesota Association of Secondary School Counselors and College Admission Officers (MASSCCAO)—the same group that hosts the National College Fair in the Twin Cities each fall—this program offers an exceptional chance for high school students to begin planning for life after graduation.

Admission is free. Students should contact their high school counselor for further information.

Miss Middle River for 1994, Heather Anderson, won the evening gown and on stage personality division at the 20th annual pageant last Saturday. She is the daughter of Dale and Lois Anderson of rural Middle River.

Heather Anderson will reign over 20th MR Goose Festival

Gators teammates participated in a Pacesetter weekend tournament in St. Cloud, selected to compete as a favorite in Region 8A for the coming season. They could not be coached by their high school coach nor use their team name in the tournament. Competing as the "Chicks From The Sticks," the Greenbush-Middle River girls lost their first game, then won two for the consolation championship.

"It was a lot of fun," Heather said. "There was some really good competition down there."

When not involved in high school activities, Heather takes part in the youth group at First Lutheran Church in Middle River, watches sports events in person or on TV, plays with her six-year-old Lhaso Apso dog "Sneakers," does a fair amount of line dancing and thoroughly enjoys a competitive game of pinochle.

Prior to the pageant she enjoyed joining the rest of the candidates modeling jackets from Grand Central Graphics at an ISOC show in Bemidji.

Heather's dad grew up in the Middle River community and has worked for the past dozen years at Forsberg's, Inc. in Thief River Falls. Her mom, the former Lois Gram from the Grygla area, has worked for the past 22 years at Oakland Park Nursing Home in Thief River Falls. Last summer Heather worked at Taco John's restaurant here.

Although the present is full of activity, Heather is also looking to the future. She will enroll in either Moorhead State University or Concordia College in Moorhead next fall to major in accounting and minor in business and finance. Just a little further down the road her goal is to become a Certified Public Accountant and eventually the president of a bank.

And why not? If you can train a Lhaso Apso to sing and to play dead when you point a finger and say "bang"—as Heather has done—becoming president of a bank should be a piece of cake. All it takes is persistence.

Crossroads II fire in Hallock was set

Hallock — The Crossroads II restaurant in Hallock was extensively damaged in a fire that began about 2:30 a.m. on September 30. The Hallock Volunteer Fire Department battled the blaze until 6 a.m. Dale Volstad, Minnesota State Fire Marshall, said "It has been determined that this was a set fire," and further investigation is being conducted by the State Fire Marshall's office and the Kittson County Sheriff's Department. The restaurant is owned by Neil and Diane Campbell of Hallock.

Two injured in Plummer accident

Plummer — Two people were injured in a two car collision three miles west of Plummer last Friday. At 4:22 p.m. Tracy Knaack of Red Lake Falls was traveling west on Red Lake County Road 23 when her 1983 Mazda pickup collided with a 1989 Chevrolet Camaro driven by Charles Petersburg of Lancaster, who was southbound on County Road 24. Both vehicles were totaled in the accident. Knaack was taken to Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls and then transferred to United Hospital in Grand Forks, ND with a punctured lung and head injuries. Petersburg was taken to Northwest Medical Center with broken ribs and lacerations.

Area man indicted by grand jury for Lacey Act violation

Lonnie Waine of Goodridge has been indicted by a grand jury along with several other men from Northern Minnesota for illegally buying and selling protected gamefish and caviar. The indictments are a result of an international undercover operation, according to a news release from the United States Attorney in Minnesota.

According to the news release, "The grand jury charged Lonnie Leroy Waine, 39, from Goodridge, Matthew Curtis Hunt, 43, from Walker, Benjamin Elmer Jackson, 54, from Iron, Richard Schaefbauer, 56, from Virginia, Darrell D. Westcott, 59, from Winger, Joseph Jacob Thunder, III, 27, Douglas Wayne King, 31, Llewellyn Charles Thunder 24, all from Redby, Michael Francis Quinn, 45, from Bloomington, and Robert Leshansky, 38, from Valley Stream, NY. The indictments charged misdemeanor and felony violations of the Lacey Act.

"The cases were the result of a three year cooperative investigation, known as the Cooperative Commercial Wildlife Investigation, initiated in response to information that revealed there was an illegal commercial market for regulated gamefish in Ontario, Canada, and the upper midwest of the United States.

"Agencies involved in the cases include the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Bureau of Indian Affairs Investigators, Leech Lake and Red Lake Tribal Conservation officers, the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources, the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources and the Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources.

"In order to infiltrate the illegal market, in 1990 the agencies opened an undercover wholesale specialty foods business in Hastings, MN, known as CAN-AM Foods, Inc. During the course of the undercover operation, CAN-AM Foods purchased legal and illegally taken fish from commercial fisherman, as well as from wholesale fish dealers who knowingly purchased illegally taken fish.

"During the investigation the Minnesota DNR and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service also received complaints from Leech Lake and Red Lake Reservation fishermen and Tribal conservation officers that gamefish were being illegally bought and sold.

"The Lacey Act prohibits the possession, transportation and sale of wildlife that has been illegally taken, transported, bought or sold in violation of tribal law or federal regulation.

"If convicted, the defendants face a maximum potential penalty of five years in prison and/or $250,000 fine for each felony

Officials from China visit aviation program

Three officials from Northwestern Polytechnical University in Xian, the Peoples Republic of China, have spent several days in Thief River Falls investigating the opportunities for training Chinese students in aviation maintenance technology at the Northwest Technical College program here.

Dr. Orley Gunderson, president of the Thief River Falls campus, had previously traveled to Xian to explain the program here and offer assistance to university officials in placing students here for training.

The return visit by representatives of the university to the facilities at the technical college here was one of several stops being made during approximately three weeks in the United States.

Representing the university were Xu Jinan, deputy president and associate professor; Liu Yuan Yong, vice president and professor; and Tang Zong Huan, dean and professor. Deputy President Xu had participated in discussions during Dr. Gunderson's previous visit to China.

The visitors said Northwestern Polytechnical University is one of the leading universities in China with more than 50 departments for specialized training and in excess of 10,000 students. It is especially known for its programs in aeronautics, astronautics, computers, automatic controls, chemical engineering and architecture.

It is the rapid growth of civil aviation in China, estimated at 20 to 30 per cent per year, that has encouraged the university to expand its programs in aviation maintenance technology. Commercial airlines from other nations are having increased numbers of flights to China and the need for expanded commercial service within that country is also great.

Northwestern Polytechnical University is seeking to establish a training center, and is therefore making contacts with aviation companies in addition to training facilities.

The university proposes to first have one or two visiting scholars from among its faculty receive training and FAA certification in the United States in 1995. This would be followed by an undetermined number of students in 1996.

Olga Haug named Ms. Nursing Home

by Sherry LaCoursiere
Northern Watch Reporter

Olga Haug of Bagley said she was "certainly surprised" when she was named Ms. Nursing Home 1994 at ceremonies held September 15. "I didn't expect it at all," she exclaimed.

The Ms. Nursing Home pageant has been held in the area for the past 19 years. Each year, nursing homes throughout the area are asked to select one resident to take part in the Ms. Nursing Home pageant. The annual pageant takes place in the fall at the nursing home of the reigning queen. This year's pageant was hosted by McIntosh Manor, the home of the 1993 queen, 92-year-old Agnes Mienen from Erskine and her escort, Ray Halverson, who is from the Gully-Trail area.

Contestants are escorted by gentlemen from the nursing homes where they live, if possible. The contestants are judged in several areas on a scale from one to 10. Judging is in categories of personality, spryness for age, ability to show happiness in life, life activities, activities in the nursing home, attitudes toward life and fellow men and women, crafts and talents.

Olga said she didn't know why she was chosen Ms. Nursing Home, but said the residents and staff at Greensview Nursing home in Bagley, where she lives, were delighted. "They had a winner many years ago, but they were really happy that I won this year." She said everyone at the nursing home is calling her "Queen Olga," although she thinks it might be because there is another Olga there and this is an easy way to tell them apart.

Olga is a spritely 86 years old and has lived at Greensview Nursing Home in Bagley for the past four years. She served as Resident Council President in the nursing home for two years and is kept very busy there with all of the activities and projects that are available to residents.

"I would go crazy if I had to sit in my room," she

Heather Anderson, Miss Middle River 1994, wore this dress for her personal interview as part of the pageant competition last week. She won the personal interview and evening gown divisions enroute to gaining the title and advancing to the 1996 Miss Marshall County pageant.

NCC hosts post high planning program

A post high school planning program for all high school students and their parents will be held at Northland Community College Monday, October 3, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The program will give students and parents an opportunity to explore a variety of options for continued education or military service after high school. Representatives from nearly 100 educational institutions and other organizations will be available to answer questions and provide important information for post high school planning.

Structured like a fair, the program offers students an atmosphere where they are free to look at various displays and speak to representatives of those schools, colleges and organizations that interest them.

Sponsored by the Minnesota Association of Secondary School Counselors and College Admission Officers (MASSCCAO)—the same group that hosts the National College Fair in the Twin Cities each fall—this program offers an exceptional chance for high school students to begin planning for life after graduation.

Admission is free. Students should contact their high school counselor for further information.

Miss Middle River for 1994, Heather Anderson, won the evening gown and on stage personality division at the 20th annual pageant last Saturday. She is the daughter of Dale and Lois Anderson of rural Middle River.

Gators teammates participated in a Pacesetter weekend tournament in St. Cloud, selected to compete as a favorite in Region 8A for the coming season. They could not be coached by their high school coach nor use their team name in the tournament. Competing as the "Chicks From The Sticks," the Greenbush-Middle River girls lost their first game, then won two for the consolation championship.

"It was a lot of fun," Heather said. "There was some really good competition down there."

When not involved in high school activities, Heather takes part in the youth group at First Lutheran Church in Middle River, watches sports events in person or on TV, plays with her six-year-old Lhaso Apso dog "Sneakers," does a fair amount of line dancing and thoroughly enjoys a competitive game of pinochle.

Prior to the pageant she enjoyed joining the rest of the candidates modeling jackets from Grand Central Graphics at an ISOC show in Bemidji.

Heather's dad grew up in the Middle River community and has worked for the past dozen years at Forsberg's, Inc. in Thief River Falls. Her mom, the former Lois Gram from the Grygla area, has worked for the past 22 years at Oakland Park Nursing Home in Thief River Falls. Last summer Heather worked at Taco John's restaurant here.

Although the present is full of activity, Heather is also looking to the future. She will enroll in either Moorhead State University or Concordia College in Moorhead next fall to major in accounting and minor in business and finance. Just a little further down the road her goal is to become a Certified Public Accountant and eventually the president of a bank.

And why not? If you can train a Lhaso Apso to sing and to play dead when you point a finger and say "bang"—as Heather has done—becoming president of a bank should be a piece of cake. All it takes is persistence.

Area man indicted by grand jury for Lacey Act violation

Lonnie Waine of Goodridge has been indicted by a grand jury along with several other men from Northern Minnesota for illegally buying and selling protected gamefish and caviar. The indictments are a result of an international undercover operation, according to a news release from the United States Attorney in Minnesota.

According to the news release, "The grand jury charged Lonnie Leroy Waine, 39, from Goodridge, Matthew Curtis Hunt, 43, from Walker, Benjamin Elmer Jackson, 54, from Iron, Richard Schachbauer, 56, from Virginia, Darrell D. Westcott, 59, from Winger, Joseph Jacob Thunder, III, 27, Douglas Wayne King, 31, Llewellyn Charles Thunder 24, all from Redby, Michael Francis Quinn, 45, from Bloomington, and Robert Leshansky, 38, from Valley Stream, NY. The indictments charged misdemeanor and felony violations of the Lacey Act.

"The cases were the result of a three year cooperative investigation, known as the Cooperative Commercial Wildlife Investigation, initiated in response to information that revealed there was an illegal commercial market for regulated gamefish in Ontario, Canada, and the upper midwest of the United States.

"Agencies involved in the cases include the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Bureau of Indian Affairs Investigators, Leech Lake and Red Lake Tribal Conservation officers, the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources, the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources and the Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources.

"In order to infiltrate the illegal market, in 1990 the agencies opened an undercover wholesale specialty foods business in Hastings, MN, known as CAN-AM Foods, Inc. During the course of the undercover operation, CAN-AM Foods purchased legal and illegally taken fish from commercial fisherman, as well as from wholesale fish dealers who knowingly purchased illegally taken fish.

"During the investigation the Minnesota DNR and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service also received complaints from Leech Lake and Red Lake Reservation fishermen and Tribal conservation officers that gamefish were being illegally bought and sold.

"The Lacey Act prohibits the possession, transportation and sale of wildlife that has been illegally taken, transported, bought or sold in violation of tribal law or federal regulation.

"If convicted, the defendants face a maximum potential penalty of five years in prison and/or $250,000 fine for each felony

Officials from China visit aviation program

Three officials from Northwestern Polytechnical University in Xian, the Peoples Republic of China, have spent several days in Thief River Falls investigating the opportunities for training Chinese students in aviation maintenance technology at the Northwest Technical College program here.

Dr. Orley Gunderson, president of the Thief River Falls campus, had previously traveled to Xian to explain the program here and offer assistance to university officials in placing students here for training.

The return visit by representatives of the university to the facilities at the technical college here was one of several stops being made during approximately three weeks in the United States.

Representing the university were Xu Jinan, deputy president and associate professor; Liu Yuan Yong, vice president and professor; and Tang Zong Huan, dean and professor. Deputy President Xu had participated in discussions during Dr. Gunderson's previous visit to China.

The visitors said Northwestern Polytechnical University is one of the leading universities in China with more than 50 departments for specialized training and in excess of 10,000 students. It is especially known for its programs in aeronautics, astronautics, computers, automatic controls, chemical engineering and architecture.

It is the rapid growth of civil aviation in China, estimated at 20 to 30 per cent per year, that has encouraged the university to expand its programs in aviation maintenance technology. Commercial airlines from other nations are having increased numbers of flights to China and the need for expanded commercial service within that country is also great.

Northwestern Polytechnical University is seeking to establish a training center, and is therefore making contacts with aviation companies in addition to training facilities.

The university proposes to first have one or two visiting scholars from among its faculty receive training and FAA certification in the United States in 1995. This would be followed by an undetermined number of students in 1996.

Micah Strom of McIntosh and Mandi Halvorson of Newfolden were named Northland Community College's homecoming king and queen. The homecoming ceremony was held Tuesday evening in the college theatre.

Area Applemania pie baking winners

Crookston — Winners in the Region I Applemania pie baking contest were Delores Hegstad of Warroad, first place; Dolly Lee of McIntosh, second place; and Laverne Hopwood of Ada, third place. When asked for the secrets to their pie baking successes, Hegstad said lemon juice, Lee said nutmeg, and Hopwood said "years of practice." The bake off contest was held September 28 at the Northland Inn in Crookston with 11 entrants. Hegstad and her pie baking skills will go on to compete the state Applemania contest in Marshall on October 28.

SOUPCON

Sherry LaCoursiere

Cold and wet — it's a good day to have a casserole or hot dish. No matter what you call it, have it with fresh biscuits or homemade bread and a salad and it is definitely comfort food.

This is really my grandma's casserole and it seems I can always remember her making it in the fall:

GRANOMA'S ALL-IN-ONE CASSEROLE
4 to 5 potatoes
1 pound browned hamburger
1 onion, cooked with hamburger
1 can vegetable soup
1/3 can water
1 can cream soup
1/3 can water

Slice potatoes and layer in greased casserole with browned hamburger and onion. Mix soups and water and pour over potatoes and hamburger.

Bake covered at 375 degrees for one hour or until potatoes are done.

This is also my grandmother's scalloped potato recipe and it never curdles unless you refrigerate it prior to baking. I use fewer potatoes for more sauce:

GRANOMA'S SCALLOPED POTATOES
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk (separated)
5 cups sliced potatoes
1 teaspoon salt
Butter

Melt butter in saucepan. Add flour, mix well, and then add 1 cup milk. Cook thick.

Add another cup of milk and potatoes, then bring to a boil. Add 1 teaspoon salt.

Pour into buttered casserole and top with butter chunks.

Bake at 350 for an hour or an hour and a half.

This is another of my grandmother's favorites, and mine, too:

TUNA CASSEROLE
2 to 2 1/2 cups (after cooking) macaroni, noodles, shells or what have you
1 can cream of mushroom or other creamed soup
1/2 soup can water
1 can creamed corn
1 can tuna
A little onion, chopped

Mix all ingredients together and place in greased casserole. Bake at 350 for about an hour.

And this recipe is from my cousin, Kay, who really knows how to cook — almost as good as Grandma:

RICE CASSEROLE
1/2 cup uncooked rice
1 pound hamburger, browned
1/2 cup onion, browned with hamburger
No salt
1 can chicken rice soup
1 can cream of mushroom soup
1 can water
Slivered water chestnuts

Mix all ingredients and place in greased casserole. Bake at 325 for 2 hours.

Proverbs 1:7 The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge, but fools despise wisdom and instruction.
The word Fear means reverence and respect. When we read the Bible and apply the principles given to us, we show our respect and honor for God.
Fools despise and do not respect the Word that God has spoken. They make up their own set of rules and therefore dishonor the instruction from God.
Let's give the Lord respect and honor by reading and doing His Word.

Polaris seeks conversion to corporate form

Polaris Industries Partners L.P. announced late last week that it has filed a preliminary proxy statement/prospectus with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) relating to its previously announced conversion to corporate form.

Conversion is viewed by management as a key to continued growth at Polaris, which has seen sales increase from $243 million in 1989 to $528 million in 1993.

The conversion calls for each unit of Beneficial Assignment of Class A Limited Partnership Interests (BAC) to be exchanged tax-free for one share of common stock of Polaris Industries, Inc. The proxy statement/prospectus details the corporation's intention, upon conversion, to recommend that its board of directors pay a combination of regular and special dividends to shareholders.

If the conversion to corporate form is approved by Polaris unitholders, the successor company intends to pay shareholders, subject to legal and contractual requirements and the financial requirements of the business, cash dividends totaling $7.56 per share from Jan. 1, 1995 through Dec. 31, 1997.

These anticipated cash dividends would equal the same amount unitholders would have received has the partnership not been converted and continued to pay its regular cash distributions of $2.52 per year over this period, according to W. Hall Wendel Jr., Polaris Industries' Chief Executive Officer.

If the conversion does not occur, the partnership will be taxed as a corporation if its units continue to trade after Dec. 31, 1997.

The $7.56 would be distributed through a combination of regular dividends of 60 cents per share per year, plus three special distributions of $1.92 per share over the last three quarters of 1995 (to the extent not previously distributed by the partnership prior to the conversion).

"We've decided to accelerate the dividend payout, and believe this is in the best interests of the BAC holders," Wendel said.

The Polaris management team, business plan and growth strategies will remain the same following the conversion, Wendel added. He said the conversion to corporate form will be a key to continued growth at Polaris.

"As a corporation, we can diversity into new businesses and raise additional cash for expansion through equity or debt," he said.

Polaris' proposed conversion to corporate form is subject to receipt of appropriate tax opinions, receipt of regulatory approvals and the approval of BAC holders.

"Trial" calls attention to potential

Economic developers from the Red River region will be going on trial Wednesday, October 12, at 10 a.m., charged with failing to take sufficient steps in 1994 to take advantage of the region's economic potential.

Set in the year 2004, the mock trial kicks off the strategic planning process of the Red River Trade Corridor at the Comfort Inn on highway 2 east in East Grand Forks. It will be held from 10 a.m. to noon with additional sessions from 1 to 2 and 2 to 4 p.m.

Developed by the Northwest Policy Center of the University of Washington, the mock trial is an exercise in assessing economic development practices. It will have a prosecutor and defense "attorney" and witnesses to testify about the successes and failures of the strategies implemented in the 1990s and their impact on the region's economic condition in the year 2004.

Issues expected to be raised during the testimony are the ability of the region to develop a long term vision for economic development, effectiveness of economic development practices, development of an effective regional strategy as a way in which urban and rural areas work together, and how a region can flourish in a highly competitive international business climate.

Persons attending the session will all be "charged" (along with other leaders in the region) and will also act as the jury. They will review testimony of the expert witnesses and appeals from the prosecution and defense, then judge the impact of current efforts.

Absentee ballot use explained

Process of voting by absentee ballot in the November 8 general election has been reviewed by Joan Growe, Minnesota Secretary of State. Absentee voting began October 7.

"Any voter in Minnesota who will be absent from the precinct or unable to go to the polling place due to illness, physical disability, religious observance or service as an election judge in another precinct may vote by absentee ballot," Growe said.

"Those persons who plan to be out of town on election day or who are disabled and unable to go to their polling place should apply for an absentee ballot today if they wish to vote in the state general election."

Eligible voters may cast their ballots either by mail or in person at the county auditors' offices. The county auditors will have extended office hours for absentee voting prior to election day, from 1 to 3 p.m. on Saturday, November 5 and from 5 to 7 p.m. on Monday, November 7.

Eligible voters may request an absentee ballot application from their county auditor or municipal clerk. In many counties, the application may be sent by fax. The last day to submit an application for absentee ballots is Monday, November 7 at 7 p.m.

Visually impaired voters may receive absentee voting instructions in Braille, audio cassette or in large type format from their county auditor. Eligible voters in health care facilities located in the municipality where they reside may obtain an absentee ballot application from the election judges who will visit the facility during the 10 days prior to election day.

Voters should contact their county auditor or municipal clerk for additional information concerning absentee voting in the state general election.

Sanders 4-H club to meet

Sanders 4-H club will hold its October meeting Monday, October 10, at the Tawnya Morkrid home on County Road 8. The meeting begins at 7 p.m. with a family potluck meal to follow. Everyone is welcome. For more information call 681-7503 after 4 p.m.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

October is Domestic Violence Awareness Month. Violence Intervention Project is working to alert people in our community and in our region that domestic violence is a local problem.

With all of the heightened concern about violence we keep hearing about in the media, it's important to recognize that the most common violent crime occurring in our community is domestic violence.

Violent crime perpetrated by strangers is frightening, but most of us will not be directly impacted by it. Many of us will, however, be affected by domestic violence. The good news is domestic violence is preventable. We should all develop a community and family standard of zero tolerance concerning violence, especially in the home.

If you know a victim of domestic violence, you can help. Don't look the other way. Don't blame the victim for staying with an abuser. Reach out and help a victim become a survivor. If you have been abused in any way, you are not alone. There are people who want to help you. Call VIP at 1-800-660-6667.

Sincerely,
Cassondra Johnson

To The Editor:

Once more the people have been misled by our President. We were told that the invasion and occupation of Haiti would involve our armed forces for only a matter of weeks. Now, after only a few days, we find out it will be 1995 or 1996 before our armed forces will be able to leave Haiti. The last occupation of Haiti some years ago lasted over 19 years.

The Constitution has been ignored again as it has been many times since the liberals gained power. Our armed forces come under the Department of Defense and are supposed to be trained to defend the United States, not to be used to police the whole world at the whim of the United Nations.

It is difficult to understand how Bertrand Aristide, a defrocked Catholic priest, and Bill Clinton can bring democracy to Haiti when Aristide is a self-avowed Marxist.

At a Constitution restoration rally in Tampa, Florida, among the many speakers was Michael Benn who claims to have 17 million signatures for the impeachment of Bill Clinton.

Yours truly,
Arnold Honl
Roseau, Minnesota

To The Editor:

Several times over the past few years I have received calls and "special requests" for editorial comments. The greater portion of these calls have come from concerned grandparents and terrified mothers. Their comments express seriousness and worry, primarily over the direction so many young people are taking today. I agree with them....the "restless crowd" is growing too fast, while the crowd of "good teens" seems to be shrinking.

As a father with three imperfect teens, I want to share with your readers a few truths that have brought some hope in the headache situations we have had to reckon with. Perhaps the quick advice will help in some small way. I hope so. Hurting parents need help.

Understanding that pain can have either a positive or negative result in your teen's life is a good place to start. Life hurts! Not only does "rain" fall on the just and unjust, but "pain" does also! The great danger is that painful relationships can trigger some pretty violent and rebellious behavior...even in the best people.

The way our family has determined to respond to "outbursts" and unusual behavior is to accept some of it as the norm for their time of life. Their independent spirit will come out sooner or later, and it could well be very surprising when it does. Let your love be tough and tender, with the emphasis on the latter.

If, as adults, we would say "I love you," "thank you" and "I'm sorry" more often, they would learn it sooner or later themselves, despite their present unusual behavior. Thankfully, most young adults are trustworthy, well-behaved and kind. And as long as most parents continue to emphasize the three R's continually, in most cases everything will work out fine down the road a ways.

But don't forget, the three R's are not Reading, 'Riting and 'Rithmetic but Respect, Responsibility and Reality!

Yours for Better Teens,
Pastor M. Forsberg

Marvin Lundin
Editor

Editorial opinion published on this page, whether locally written or re-printed from other sources is intended to stimulate thinking and discussion among our readers. Opinions expressed by the editor are his own and not necessarily those of other staff members. Opinions expressed in items from other publications may be contradictory to the editor's own views but are offered for their general interest.

Another One Bites The Dust....

What is there in the mentality of high ranking government officials that leads them to think they are entitled to, deserving of, or can get away with behavior that they should absolutely know without a doubt is considered unacceptable conduct by people in their positions?

U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Mike Espy is just the most recent example of this bewildering absence of thought. Espy is apparently a bright, motivated, talented and determined young (we consider age 40 to be young) man who had caught a break or two in his career path and climbed rapidly to prominence. At the time of his appointment two years ago he was the youngest person ever to serve as Secretary of Agriculture.

Why would a person who has worked hard and had success in his career field jeopardize —and eventually forfeit—everything all that time and effort had produced by accepting favors and items of value from groups obviously hoping to influence his decision making? Investigations so far have revealed private plane trips and lodging, tickets to sports events and scholarship funds for his girlfriend. Contributors identified were Tyson Foods, Inc., the world's largest poultry company, and Quaker Oats—both of which do business with USDA.

Espy had appeared to be a concerned and responsive Secretary of Agriculture, responding quickly in such areas as disaster assistance and market-damaging grain imports. He had declined to act on needed changes in milk marketing orders that are antiquated and oppressive to dairy producers in this part of the nation, but so have others in his office before him.

The Clinton Administration seemingly has had more than its share of, if not corruption, at least bad judgment and arrogant or irresponsible behavior by appointees during its relatively short duration to date. In a time when every government official is under a public magnifying glass and the electorate is suspicious of the motivation of everyone holding office, an extra effort to keep squeaky clean should be realized as a necessity by every such official.

Mike Espy blew his chance. His resignation isn't effective until December 31, but he is effectively done right now. Possible successors are already being discussed. Let's hope that whoever the successor is, he or she will have the strength of character and common sense to avoid this sort of problem in the future.

Reality Check Time

Loreiel Kraft, who operates Loreiel Studios in Park Rapids and was the main cog in creation of the Village of the Smoky Hills as a tourist attraction in that area, is now publishing a newsletter type of publication called "The Political Woman." Its front page flag notes that it is "a non-partisan review of political and business action affecting women's lives" and is "dedicated to political and social equality for women by the 21st century."

Kraft's entrepreneurship has earned accolades from a number of sources, she has been named Minnesota Business Woman of the Year and she is now attempting to carve out a niche in the professional speaking circuit. One of her often used quotes is "I don't let reality stand in my way."

In her second issue she devotes much of the available space in "The Political Woman" to the inequitable role that women have in providing care for children without financial support from the children's fathers. There's no question this is a national disgrace, and despite some efforts toward correction the amount of court-ordered support that goes unpaid is staggering. Kraft says that in 1992 fathers owed nearly $34 billion in back child support. She also wryly notes that only three per cent of people default on used car payments but 49 per cent default on child support payments.

"There is still a great deal of difficulty getting child support from fathers, divorced or unwed, and still wide public acceptance of male avoidance of financial responsibility," Kraft writes. She printed a "National Sex Card" which she suggests women and girls of child bearing age have signed by their partners prior to engaging in sex.

"If a male refuses to sign this card," she says, "the female has every right to question his true commitment to her." The card content should at least raise the issue of the possible consequences. Card content states:

"I, (man's legal name) hereby acknowledge that I am about to have sex with (woman's legal name) on (date). If she gets pregnant as a result of this, I hereby agree in advance that I will, voluntarily and with a smile on my face, pay half of the costs of raising said child. Said costs will include, but not be limited to: food, clothing, child care, dental care including braces, medical care, glasses, summer camps, athletic equipment, auto insurance, birthday presents for friends, school pictures, music lessons. I will never make excuses about why I cannot pay child support, and I know the mother of the child has no leeway in whether or not that child will be fed. I will take joint parenting responsibility, including but not limited to taking the child to church, on vacations, and attending school conferences and activities in which the child participates. I will take equal responsibility in leaving work to care for this child when he/she is sick and cannot go to school. I will include said child in my family activities, so said child will feel welcome in this world. I sign this freely and of my own accord, and consider this a binding legal document. (Signature)."

Kraft has an appropriate term for use of her proposed card: Reality Check Time!

Teleconference to explore alternative teacher pay plan

Northwest Technical College in Thief River Falls will be one of 13 sites in Minnesota for a Minnesota Department of Education and Teacher Compensation Task Force teleconference on alternative avenues of teacher compensation Monday, October 10, from 7 to 9 p.m.

The teleconference is geared toward parents, teachers, school board and community members. It will be received at room 131 in the technical college here and the local contact is Cindy Cedergren at 681-5424.

Focus of the teleconference will be a presentation of compensation alternatives currently being considered for recommendation, and compensation alternatives which were studied but are not being recommended. There will be an opportunity for questions from the audience. The Task Force will also receive written comments on the proposals.

Participants at the technical college and other sites in Minnesota will be given copies of the new legislation recommending changes to the present system of teacher compensation, which is based on experience and training, to a system based on skills, abilities, group performance and other factors. They will also be provided with a list of the Task Force membership.

In addition to Thief River Falls, the teleconference will be received in Alexandria, Brainerd, Detroit Lakes, Duluth, Eden Prairie, Hibbing, Mankato, St. Cloud (two sites), Rochester, Willmar and Little Canada.

DFL honors its faithful Sat.

Recognition dinner for a number of people who have been active friends and workers in the Democratic Farmer Labor party will be held tonight (Saturday, October 8) at the Best Western Inn of Thief River Falls.

Social hour will start at 6:30 p.m. and dinner will be served at 7 p.m. In attendance will be John Marty, DFL candidate for governor, and other candidates for political office.

To be honored will be Pran Stromberg and Al Nichols, active in Pennington county; Earl and Jan Anderson, Marshall county; Betty Battles and Millard Jensen, Roseau county; Velma Oakland and Howard Greenwald, Red Lake county; Gayle Hanson and Donald Murray, Kittson county; and Doug and Sharon Knowlton, Polk county.

German student to visit class at Franklin school

Sora Oalander, 17, a student from Berlin, Germany participating in the global studies institute in Red Lake Falls will be a guest of Walter Redinger's geography class at Franklin middle school Wednesday, October 12.

Until September when she came to the United States, she lived with her family in what had been East Berlin. She says she could not have envisioned a time when she would have the freedom to travel internationally.

Enrolled as a junior at Lafayette high school in Red Lake Falls, she has studied English since age 13 and speaks it quite fluently. "I came (to Red Lake Falls) September first and had little problem comprehending," she said. "The hard thing was to respond in English. That is so much easier now."

Sara enjoys jazz dance, horseback riding, photography and her art class at Lafayette. "It is very interesting, very detailed. I think a much better art curriculum than my classes in Germany," she said.

She also said she is dependent on her American friends to get around. "They all have cars," she said.

Susan Freeman is graduate

Susan Freeman, daughter of Eileen Stenberg of Thief River Falls, is a graduate of Interstate Business College in Fargo, ND.

Graduation for summer quarter graduates was held September 16. Freeman graduated from the Medical Administrative Assistant with Word Processing course.

Agnes Mienert, age 92, relinquished her crown as Ms. Nursing Home 1993, in ceremonies on September 15 at McIntosh Manor Nursing Home. Agnes is from Erskine and presently lives at McIntosh Manor. She was escorted by Raymond Halvorson, who farmed in the Gully-Trail area.

said. "There's always something to do here and I am busy all of the time."

Olga comes from a busy, long-lived family. Her brother, Joe, who is 91 years old, is also a resident at Greenview, and her sister, Anne Sorum, who is 98, lives with a son on the family's home farm.

Olga was born there on the home farm, which is near the small town of Alida. Her parents were Ole and Marie Evermoen. She grew up and attended school near Alida until she went to live with her sister, Anna, who taught school near Owatonna. Olga helped the family and cared for Anna's children until she was 19.

On December 31, 1926, at the age of 19, she was married to Tom Haug. They lived on a farm in Clearwater county for many years and raised two children. Their daughter now lives in Bemidji and works at the Bemidji Hospital. Their son is a salesman in Arizona. Olga has four grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Tom died on December 30, just one day before the couple would have celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary.

Other contestants from the area who took part in the pageant ranged in age from 85 to 104. They were Mabel Hedrich from Fair Meadow Nursing Home in Fertile, Emma Klockman from Oakland Park Nursing Home in Thief River Falls, Pearl Miller from Greenbush Community Nursing Home, Agnes Olson from Lutheran Memorial Retirement Center in Twin Valley, Lillian Rowe from Riverview Healthcare in Crookston, Anne Linnertz from Hillcrest Nursing Home in Red Lake Falls, Tillie Johnsrud of McIntosh Manor, and Goldie Moran of Pioneer Care Center in Erskine.

Escorting the contestants were Gene Burns of Lutheran Memorial Retirement Center, Oscar Halvorson of Pioneer Memorial Care Center, Art Kramer of Riverview Healthcare, Joe Pinsonneault of Hillcrest Nursing Home, Erwin Zitzow and Raymond Halvorson of McIntosh Manor, and Andrew Tronnes of Lutheran Memorial Nursing Home. Queen Olga was escorted by Victor Berntson of Greensview Healthcare Center.

Contest judges were Elaine Bergman, Carol Ann Reese, and Rupert Syverson of McIntosh and Phil Ehlke of Fosston.

The McIntosh Kitchen Band provided entertainment for the event, playing "toe tapping" music on pots and pans, accompanied by a piano.

Olga Haug, age 86, was named Ms. Nursing Home 1994 at ceremonies held at McIntosh Manor Nursing Home on September 15. She was born and raised on a farm near Alida, and currently lives at Greeneview Nursing Home in Begley.

Reminder on emergency loans issued

Farmers in Kittson, Marshall and Polk counties are reminded that they have until March 1, 1995, to apply for loans to help cover their physical and production losses under the Farmers Home Administration emergency loan program.

These counties, along with Wilkin county, are included as contiguous counties in the Presidential disaster designation for 18 counties in North Dakota.

The current interest rate on emergency loans is 3.75 per cent and farmers must have suffered a 30 per cent loss of normal production in any major crop in order to qualify. They must also be able to repay the loan and any other loans, be unable to secure credit elsewhere and provide adequate security.

Families-at-risk discussion group meets Wednesday

Families-at-risk monthly discussion group will meet Wednesday, October 5, at 8 a.m. in meeting room A at the Best Western Inn of Thief River Falls. The group uses a roundtable format to discuss area programs and agencies that impact families in need.

Topic for this month is "What human service can you provide to my agency? How should I refer my client to your program?"

Professionals who work with families at risk are invited to attend. For more information contact Sue Dupree at the Northwest Area Learning Center, phone 681-8676.

Fire prevention week observed

October 9-15 is National Fire Prevention Week and an opportunity to emphasize the importance of fire safety for saving lives.

There are almost 20,000 fires reported in Minnesota each year, resulting in a dollar loss of over $100 million. In 1993 there were 71 Minnesotans who died in fires and hundreds more were injured. Nationwide 60,000 residential fires happen annually, costing an estimated $5 billion in property damage.

Young children are particularly at risk. According to the Minnesota SAFE KIDS Coalition, a program of the Minnesota Safety Council, 1,000 children age 14 and under die each year in residential fires and another 11,400 are injured. More than 60 per cent of these children are age 4 and younger.

A working smoke detector can cut the risk of dying in a fire in half, according to Sue James, Minnesota SAFE KIDS director. "I encourage parents to purchase smoke detectors—it's an investment in your family's future," James said.

She noted that smoke detectors should be located on the ceiling or high on the wall outside bedroom areas. In a mobile home or poorly insulated home, don't hang smoke detectors on a wall that faces outside since the temperature of the wall may vary and cause the detector to malfunction.

Test the detector once a month and clean it regularly. Replace batteries at least once a year. The last weekend in October, when daylight savings time ends, is a good time to "change your clock, change your battery."

Leaf pick up starts

Thief River Falls Sanitation department has begun picking up leafs with its leaf vacuum.

Residents are being asked to pile leafs next to curbs on north-south Avenues only, unless you only have an east-west access. Do not pile the leafs in bags or boxes. Do not mix leafs with trash or branches. The leaf vacuum will pick up small branches but larger branches will clog the machine.

Sanitation department crews will continue to operate the leaf vacuum until freeze up and snow make it difficult and impractical to continue to operate the leaf vacuum. Their route is by ward. Ward one is Monday, two in Tuesday, three is Wednesday, four is Thursday, and five is Friday.

Lynn Dorn honored

Thief River Falls native Lynn Dorn was one of 12 individuals inducted into the Bemidji State University Hall of Fame during ceremonies held Friday, Oct. 7.

A 1972 BSU graduate, the multi-talented Dorn played basketball, field hockey, golf, tennis, and volleyball for the Beavers.

An instructor of physical education at North Dakota State University since 1977, Dorn became director of women's athletics at the school in 1978. She is also active in a variety of councils and committees giving service in the area of athletics.

Hall of Fame inductees are judged by their contributions to BSU athletics as well as their accomplishments and contributions to society. The selection committee includes current Hall of Fame members and BSU physical education faculty.

The 1994 inductees also included Ken Baumann (Class of '69), head high school football coach at Mahnomen the past 25 years; Jerry Daniels ('61), who has coached the Fosston boys high school golf team for 25 years; Bryan Grand ('70), high school hockey coach at Bemidji for 18 years; and Rich Glas ('70), University of North Dakota men's basketball coach.

Avelsgard in Australia

Al Avelsgard, a former Northland Community College assistant men's basketball coach, has been enjoying success the past two years as a coach in a Second Level professional basketball league in Australia, where his teams have been 48-4 with a division title and division runner-up finish.

Northland linebackers Dave Holman (42) and Rick Antaau (24) headed toward the end zone after Hofman came up with a pass interception in Thursday's community college football game against Itasca at Prowler Field. Hofman wound up with a 26-yard touchdown on the play as the Pioneers beat the Vikings 24-13.

Nominations are sought for Prowler Hall of Fame

Nominations are being sought for the 1995 inductees into the Prowler Hall of Fame.

Nomination forms are available in the Lincoln High School activities office, and should be turned in by Jan. 1, 1995.

Membership in the Prowler Hall of Fame consists of distinguished alumni, athletic letter winners, coaches/directors, and members at-large who have made exception contributions to School District 564.

Alumni must be out of school at least seven years and have made significant accomplishments to society or in their chosen field.

Athletic letter winners must have distinguished themselves as a standout athlete for the Prowlers, and a period of at least seven years must have elapsed since the nominee last participated in high school athletics.

Coaches/directors will be considered on the basis of leadership, length of coaching career, coaching record, program growth, and individual achievements.

A selection committee will announce the new Hall of Fame members this winter, with a formal induction ceremony planned this spring.

Twenty charter members were named last spring in the first Hall of Fame selection. Their plaques are on display on the Prowler Hall of Fame wall located adjacent to the auxiliary gym at Lincoln High School.

For additional information, or for nomination forms, contact Lee Alger, Activities Office, Lincoln High School, First and Knight, Thief River Falls, MN 56701.

Crusaders' soccer team tops Roseau

Five different players scored goals as Our Saviour's Christian Academy beat Roseau 5-0 in a Sept. 30 soccer match in Thief River Falls.

David Bray, Shawn McIntosh, Rachael Forsberg, Larry Myhrer, and Dominic Solberg scored the goals, while Ryan Schmitz picked up the shutout in goal for the 2-0 winners.

The Crusaders, scheduled to be in International Falls today (Saturday), will visit Roseau Wednesday.

Pioneers beat mistake-prone Vikings...

Itasca hands over 24-13 win

Itasca turned the ball over seven times Thursday in a Minnesota Community College Conference football game against Northland, and in the process handed the Pioneers a 24-13 homecoming win at Prowler Field.

Northland came up with five interceptions and two fumble recoveries in going to 3-2 overall and 2-0 in the Northern Division. The mistake-prone Vikings fell to 1-4 and 0-2.

Brian Remick had two interceptions for the winners, while James Zephyrin had an interception and a fumble recovery. Dave Hofman returned an interception for a touchdown, John Atkinson set up a touchdown with an interception, and Tony Salerno added a fumble recovery.

Northland also got a shot in the arm on offense with the return to full time duty by Brent Miller. A standout performer in helping lead Mahnomen to a Class C state title last fall, Miller's collegiate career got off to a slow start because of a foot injury. But he looked in good health against the Vikings with a combination of speed and power that netted him 135 yards on a busy 30-carry night.

As a team, the Pioneers netted only 133 yards on the ground because of three quarterback sacks and a high punt snap that went for a 20-yard loss.

Before it became self-destructive, the Itasca offense rocked the Northland defense with a game-opening 7-play, 64-yard scoring drive. Mike Bergloff muscled his way through two defenders at the goal line to score on a 4-yard run just 2:10 into the game.

Northland countered with a nice drive of its own – a 15-play, 81-yard march that led to a 3-yard touchdown run by Shawn Blackmon. Miller had a pair of 19-yard runs on the drive before Blackmon took a pitch-out and was able to dive into the corner of the end zone with 37 seconds left in the first quarter.

The Pioneers went ahead 12-6 2:18 into the second quarter when quarterback J.P. Lammers and wide receiver David Simmons hooked up on a 70-yard pass/run touchdown. Throwing from the Northland 30-yard line, Lammers put the ball into Simmons hands at the Itasca 35. The defender fell trying to knock the ball down, giving the fleet Simmons a free ride the rest of the way to the end zone.

Atkinson's interception at the Northland 30 and return to the Itasca 14 with just 1:15 left in the first half was followed by an 18-yard Lammers touchdown toss to Erick Hamre in the end zone with 48 seconds showing on the clock.

That 18-6 spread remained on the board until Hofman, a 6-3, 230-pound linebacker, picked off a tipped pass at the Itasca 26 and went into the end zone untouched with 4:32 to play in the game.

The Vikings then finished the same way they started – with a well-executed scoring drive that covered 61 yards in 11 plays. The touchdown was a 12-yard toss from Jaimie Spry to Mike Nielsen, who caught the tipped pass with a diving effort in the end zone with 56 seconds remaining.

Joining Miller in the busy department for the Pioneers was Rick Anteau. The standout linebacker is used as a runningback in short-yardage situations and is the Northland punter. He was called upon to punt nine times against the Vikings, with two of the snaps going over his head. He was tackled for a 20-yard loss on the first one. He did manage to chase the ball down and get off the kick on the second high snap – which went down as a minus-11 yard punt.

Bergloff, a 5-11, 210-pound fullback from Cambridge, led the Itasca offense with 71 yards on 11 carries.

Northland will return to action Thursday with a 6 p.m. game against Vermilion in Ely. The Pioneers and Ironmen shared the Northern Division title last fall.

Prowlers hold off Ponies 3-1

Sarah Huschle had 18 kills to lead Thief River Falls past Warren-Alvarado-Oslo 3-1 in high school volleyball Thursday.

The Prowlers outlasted the host Ponies 15-4, 13-15, 17-15, 15-11 to go to 12-10 for the year. Thief River Falls will visit Win-E-Mac Monday, then finish the regular season with home matches Friday, Oct. 14, vs. East Grand Forks and Tuesday, Oct. 18, against Fergus Falls.)

"Solid serving, serve reception and net play produced the Prowlers' Game 1 win over the Ponies.

But Thief River Falls' lines of communication dried up in Game 2 and missed serves with the match tied at 13-all opened the doors for the Ponies.

Five ace serves by Huschle helped the Prowlers grab a 10-1 Game 3 lead. The Ponies charged back to make it interesting before Thief River Falls won the extended contest.

Another long affair in Game 4 included a deadlock at 5-5 and 6-6 before the Prowlers went ahead 11-8 en route to the match-completing win.

"We kept digging and playing aggressively," pointed out Thief River Falls coach Helen Anderson. "We played with a lot of heart and desire."

Thief River Falls won the junior varsity match 8-15, 15-13, 15-11. Warren-Alvarado-Oslo was a 15-12, 15-0 C squad winner.

Nordics beat Wolverines 3-0

Marshall County Central swept Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke 3-0 and Badger/Greenbush-Middle River lost a 3-1 decision to Kittson Central in Tuesday night high school volleyball.

The Nordics beat the Wolverines 15-6, 15-13, 15-6 at Newfolden.

"We weren't real sharp," acknowledged Marshall County Central coach Mark Jorgenson. "We have to do a better job on serve reception."

The Nordics did receive solid play from Darlene Nelson, Erika Halvorson and Amanda Myhrer, said Jorgenson, whose team beat the Wolverines for the second time this fall.

Gators win 3-0 match

Badger/Greenbush-Middle River held off a first-game Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke challenge Thursday to win a 15-12, 15-1, 15-4 high school volleyball match at Goodridge.

"They looked good," said Badger/Greenbush-Middle River coach Gwen Borgen in assessing her team's performance.

The Gators are 8-10 for the year. The Wolverines fell to 2-12.

For Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke, the fast start and not-so-strong finish has been a season-long problem, pointed out Wolverines coach Tina Rode. "They're really fired up to start the match," said Rode. But the confidence fades if the emotional beginning doesn't produce a win, she explained. "It's really frustrating."

At Baudette Thursday, Lake of the Woods was a 15-1, 15-8, 15-7 winner over Marshall County Central.

The streaky Bears started the match with a 12-0 run, overcame a 6-0 second-game deficit and had a 13-0 cushion in Game 3.

"It was not a very good night of volleyball for Marshall County Central fans and coaches," acknowledged Nordics coach Mark Jorgenson, whose team fell to 10-8. "We didn't execute. We weren't very consistent with our passing and serving."

Meanwhile, Red Lake County Central played a competitive match, but still came out a 3-1 loser at Waubun, where the Bombers won 15-13, 16-14, 6-15, 17-15.

The Mustangs are 2-14.

"They're coming around; the teamwork is getting better," said Red Lake County Central coach Nancy Bray. But service errors hurt. The Mustangs were up 14-11 in Game 2 and missed three straight serves to fall behind in the match 2-0.

Spuds sweep Prowlers

Moorhead spotted Thief River Falls a 5-0 head start in Game 1 Tuesday before coming out a 15-9, 15-9, 15-6 winner in North Sub-Section 8AA high school volleyball.

"We got off to a good start," noted Thief River Falls coach Helen Anderson, whose team had trouble generating an offensive attack the rest of the night. "We did some good things when Moorhead was serving, but it didn't put any points on the board," she explained.

There were some bright spots in the long trip/short match outing, according to Anderson, who said Kelly Skeim, Kim Hook and Heather Holthusen were able to pass the ball up to the setters.

Moorhead won both preliminary matches 2-0, including a 15-2, 16-14 junior varsity contest and a 15-1, 15-1 C squad decision.

Thief River Falls coaches awarded Sept. 26-30 Player of the Week recognition to Skeim, varsity; Michelle Mathson, junior varsity; Jessica Brekke, C squad; Holly Bjorgaard, freshman A; and Sarah Hagon, freshman B.

TRF Scoring
- Kills - Sarah Huschle 7, Kelly Skeim 4, Michelle Mathson 3, Heather Holthusen 1, Maren Thorson 1.
- Last touch points - Huschle 8, Skeim 5, Mathson 3, Thorson 2, Carrie Rud 2, Kendra Dimich 1.
- Assists - Dimich 14, Skeim 1, Rud 1.

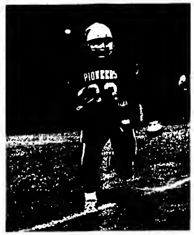
Sophomores post win over Warroad



Richard Vaughan scored on a 9-yard run and Paol Kopari reached the end zone from 4 yards out Tuesday as Thief River Falls edged host Warroad 12-6 in a sophomore high school football game.

The winners, 5-1, trailed 6-0 at the end of the first quarter, gained a 6-6 tie at halftime and got the game-winner in the final quarter.

In a series of close games, the Wolfpack got by the visiting Gators 15-11, 13-15, 15-13, 15-12.

Ricky Rivers, a Northland Community College sophomore from East Grand Forks, went outside looking for running room against Itasca in Thursday's Northern Division football game at Prowler Field. The Pioneers picked up a 24-13 homecoming win over the Vikings.

Hunters face road work around Thief Lake WMA

Hunters using the Thief Lake Wildlife Management Area in northwestern Minnesota will find access more difficult this fall. Construction is underway on 6 miles of Marshall County Road 49, the main access road to the Thief Lake headquarters and controlled hunt check station at the WMA, which is popular with hunters.

Thief lake WMA Manager Paul Telander said travel could be a problem in some areas. "The condition of the road segment south of the headquarters is quite good, since construction along that portion has been nearly completed," Telander said. "However, the segment of the road north of the headquarters will be under construction throughout most of the fall, making travel on that stretch difficult most of the time, and even impassable when wet."

Telander advises hunters to plan alternate travel routes if going north from or coming south to the headquarters. "This is especially important for hunters who normally travel to the check station from the north, and have to be on time for a goose blind drawing. No extra time will be allowed because of road-caused delays," Telander noted. He said the shortest alternate route for hunters in this situation would be to travel around Thief Lake to the east and south, and follow the road along the south side of the lake to the headquarters.

An 8-mile stretch of Marshall County Road 48 just west of Thief Lake is also under construction. "So far that road has remained passable while under construction, but hunters who travel this route can expect some delays," Telander said.

For more information, call the Thief Lake WMA office at (218) 222-3747.

Freshmen lose 6-0 game to EGF team

A first quarter touchdown stood up for East Grand Forks White Tuesday in a 6-0 freshman high school football win over visiting Thief River Falls.

Eighth Grade Football

Wade Chiodo scored on runs of 2, 3 and 70 yards Tuesday as the Franklin Middle School eighth grade football team beat Crookston 26-14.

Jeff Beste added a 2-yard touchdown run for the winners, and Levi Kraft was successful on two conversion kicks.

Eighth Grade Volleyball

Warren-Alvarado-Oslo beat Thief River Falls 8-15, 15-9, 15-10 in eighth grade A volleyball Thursday.

Thief River Falls won the B match 16-14, 7-15, 17-15.

TRF freshmen split match with Pirates

Thief River Falls freshman volleyball A team improved its record to 6-1 Tuesday with a 15-5, 15-17, 15-12 win over Crookston.

Crookston won the B game 2-15, 15-12, 15-13, dropping the Thief River Falls team to 4-3 for the year.

Janny Walter of Plummer is a member of the University of Minnesota-Crookston volleyball team. The 5-7 hitter is playing her third season with the Trojans as UMC begins its first year as a four-year school.

TRF junior varsity tennis girls finish year with 7-1 mark

Thief River Falls girls junior varsity high school tennis team closed out a 7-1 dual meet season with a seven-match Sept. 29 sweep over Roseau.

First-year coach Joan Bolar pointed out that Stephanie Leach finished the year unbeaten at 7-0 while Kyla Skiple went 6-2, Eeva Young 4-1 and Laura Steiger were 4-1, with Polly Cullen, Lesley Ihle, and Katie Harbott going 5-2.

"All the girls ended the season in the win column," noted Bolar. "Congratulations on a fine effort."

All three people riding in these vehicles were taken to Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls. The accident happened at about 4:30 p.m. Wednesday, October 5, at the intersection of Sixth Street and Horace Avenue. According to the accident report, Wade Homuth of Owatonna was traveling in his pickup north on Horace Avenue, and a car driven by Jeremy LaCoe of Thief River Falls, was going east on Sixth Street when the vehicles collided at the uncontrolled intersection. Following the collision the vehicle driven by LaCoe struck the Paul Smeby residence at the corner. Both vehicles were considered a total loss. Homuth, LaCoe, and a passenger in the LaCoe vehicle, Kenneth Nelson, 16, Thief River Falls, were taken to Northwest Medical Center by ambulance. LaCoe and Nelson had to be pulled from their vehicle by emergency personnel with the Thief River Falls Fire department. Homuth was treated and released. LaCoe and Nelson were in stable condition at the hospital Thursday afternoon, according to the Nursing supervisor. Damage to the Smeby residence was estimated at $500.

Hybrid poplar project will cover 3,000 acres

In a 70-acre field near Marcoux Corner (the intersection of Highways 2 and 32), at the edge of the Red River Valley, the damp gumbo sticks to Dr. Ed Wene's boots as he searches for a sign of this year's crop. He bends over and finds, among a few competing weeds, a leafy growth no bigger than his hand. At eight-foot intervals in either direction, similar plants are growing.

A few miles south and west, near Gary, Wene crosses a ditch and strolls through a crop planted four years ago. Wene—not a short man—is dwarfed by the crop towering 25 to 30 feet above him.

The crops in various stages of development are hybrid poplars, fast-growing trees that could, in a few years, be harvested and converted to alternative fuels.

Wene and Dr. Wendell Johnson of the University of Minnesota—Crookston will soon be watching over 3,000 acres of the trees, planted by Minnesota farmers in a program established by AURI. Growers are using land enrolled in the Conservation Reserve Program. The special trees thrive in transitional areas between crop and forest lands.

When the trees are mature, they could yield three to five dry tons per acre per year (In noncultivated stands of aspen, yields are typically one dry ton per acre per year.) Poplars naturally regenerate from stumps after harvest, so crops can be reestablished without additional plantings.

For a crop that takes 10 to 12 years to mature and is hand planted, Wene has had no problem filling up the 3,000 acres planned for the project.

Soil samples were gathered on about 8,000 acres. While some soils were excluded from the program because of pH or slope, Wene says 5,000 acres have been found suitable for hybrid poplar plantings.

Wene and Johnson have the cooperation of several other agencies. Because of its focus on energy production, the project has received state funds recommended by the Legislative Commission on Minnesota Resources. Incentives of $85 per acre will be provided to participant farmers.

A federal program offers additional cost sharing of $106 per acre for planting hardwood trees, and a five-year extension on Conservation Reserve Program contracts is available to all tree growers, Wene says.

Minnesota Power and Light has agreed to purchase the program's 3,000 acres of trees to convert to biofuel for electrical generation.

Growers plant 700 trees per acre; the 10-inch sticks are planted nine inches deep in the soil. Al Gustofson of the Pembina Trail Resource Conservation and Development Association is making arrangements with custom vendors to prepare some of the sites. He will coordinate crews to plant the first 600 to 800 acres in 1995; remaining acres will be planted in 1996.

Starting a crop with a minimum 10-year growing period is "not for everyone," Wene says. "There's a mixed reaction, and we expect that."

Growers who are enthusiastic about the project tend to have a long-term outlook. Even so, it's difficult for growers to adjust to a 10-year income cycle on cropland. To more closely match the economics of a traditional yearly harvest, Minnesota Power and Light will contract with growers to guarantee annual payments over a 31-year period. That way, growers will see a regular return on their land.

While Wene watches the trees grow, he's also watching for another partner in the hybrid poplar project. He'd like to see an energy demonstration facility established in northern Minnesota, to show how the poplars can be converted to clean-burning renewable fuels.

Whether or not that happens, growers won't be stuck with eight-foot grids of stumps, Wene says, because the trees have other uses.

"We located the trees in an area where there are secondary markets—wood products industries. It's economically viable either way." The hybrids have been show to be suitable for producing oriented strand board and paper, Wene says.

There will be an open house birthday party Sunday, October 9, for Bonnie Johnsrud on the occasion of her 85th birthday. The event will be from 2 to 4:30 p.m. at Ekelund Lutheran church dining hall, rural Goodridge. All friends and family are invited. No gifts, please. Bonnie Johnsrud's name was was wrong in Wednesday's edition of The Times.

Plan meeting on beginning string program

Informational meeting about the beginning string program in the Thief River Falls school system will be conducted Monday, October 10, at 7 p.m. at the Challenger elementary school cafeteria.

The beginning string program is open to all fourth and fifth grade students. A music store representative will be on hand at the meeting to discuss the various instrument options that are available. Orchestra director Brian Cole will also give a brief presentation, followed by a question and answer session.

Questions regarding the meeting or the program should be addressed to Cole at 681-7432 (Lincoln high school) or 681-2240.

"The orchestra program is growing and looking forward to a good recruiting year," Cole said.

Warroad — Marvin Windows will soon be marketing a new window glass, called switchable glazing, which will provide privacy at the flip of a switch. The glass incorporates a technology which was developed and produced by 3M Company in which crystal is caught between two panes of tempered glass. When in a random state, the crystal appears frosted to the viewer. However, when a small amount of electricity is sent through the surface, the crystals line up and the glass appears clear. The frosted privacy glass allows almost as much light to pass through the glass as when it is clear, but light is diffused to be softer. The glass also reduces ultraviolet rays that cause fading of furniture and carpets. -Warroad Pioneer

According to Rapisarda, the log cabin is a "handcrafted scribe" fit. Logs are notched and being fitted similar to the work of pioneer settlers in East Polk county and northwestern Minnesota. The 10x30 foot cabin will also have an 8x30 foot porch with log railings. The roof will have shakes for shingles and there will be double hung windows and a wooden door. The interior will display pioneer furniture typical of the furniture of the pioneers. -The 13 Towns

Landowners Rights Association to hold meeting here Wed.

Regional information meeting for the newly-organized Minnesota Landowners Rights Association will be held Wednesday, October 19, at 1 p.m. in the city auditorium meeting room in Thief River Falls.

All persons interested in private property rights are invited to be in attendance at the meeting which is intended for property owners throughout northwest Minnesota.

The state association was organized at a meeting several weeks ago in St. Cloud and has drawn widespread interest from throughout the state. Individual membership has been set at $20 and will be available at the meeting.

At previous meetings on private property rights, a list of issues has been prepared to reflect the concerns of individuals with government intrusion into the use of privately owned property. One of the issues expected to be of major concern in this area is wetlands legislation.

Don Parmeter of Northern Resource Center in International Falls will be among the presenters outlining the background of the property rights movement, the current status of formation in Minnesota and plans for future goals and activities.

A representative from U.S. Rep. Collin Peterson's office is expected to be in attendance and area legislators have also been invited. More than 100 people attended a local meeting held in Grygla Wednesday evening.

Delray Larson, Marshall county commissioner from Gatzke who has taken a strong interest in the formation of the property rights organization, said he hoped others with similar concerns would take the time to attend the meeting, listen to what is presented and have their questions answered.

Invitations have been extended to officials in Clearwater, Kittson, Roseau, Red Lake, Pennington, Marshall and Polk counties to attend the Wednesday session but Larson and Parmeter emphasized that all persons interested are welcome.

EIS Task Force reviews effects of impoundments

To review progress on the study of the cumulative effects of flood impoundment projects in northwestern Minnesota, the Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) Task Force met recently.

Dr. Gary Nelson of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, who is day-to-day manager of the EIS process, and Joe Gibson of the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources are currently writing the summary of the existing conditions reports prepared by the EIS work groups. An article on the EIS process was published in The Red River Messenger, published by The International Coalition for Land and Water Stewardship in the Red River Basin, with information supplied by Susan L. Gilbert, public relations consultant for the organization.

Gilbert said that Dr. Nelson and Gibson plan to complete the summary by the end of the month and distribute it to the task force members for review. A new review process will be tested in which all recipients will be asked to provide their comments within 10 days of distribution. This process is intended to speed up review and contribute to a more orderly and timely turnaround of EIS products.

A writing committee has been formed to draft the sections of the EIS report. The committee consists of two members of the Corps of Engineers (Paul Richert and Bob Anfang) and two members from the DNR (Don Buckout and Wayne Barstad).

The task force is currently discussing how best to keep the public informed about the EIS, as the document likely will be continually evolving until the draft EIS is complete. The public involvement work group will work on developing public information programs for the remainder of the study time.

Warren jail highly rated

Marshall County Correctional Facility in Warren achieved a 100 per cent compliance record. Inspection of the facility was conducted in June and it was recently announced that the facility was 100 per cent within compliance with all of the standards governing adult detention facilities.

Based upon repeat excellence, the Minnesota department of corrections also permitted the facility for biennial inspections.

Marshall County sheriff Dennis Brekke said, "This is the result of a very dedicated effort on behalf of myself and my staff to run a quality correctional facility."

Elementary students participating in a tour at the Thief River Falls fire department during fire prevention day enjoyed the large fan used by fire department personnel. Council discusses stop signs at intersections

Thief River Falls City council agreed to remove one stop sign from First Street and then agreed to study and add two more stop signs on Edgewood Drive.

The issue of a stop sign on First Street at Kendall Avenue has been before the city council in the past. The decision, however, was always to keep the sign. One of the chief reasons for keeping the sign was pedestrian traffic to Knox elementary school. Since children no longer attend Knox elementary school, there seemed no reason for keeping the stop sign.

The issue reached the council this time after the public safety committee recommended to the council that the stop sign on First Street at Kendall be removed.

There has been a four-way stop sign at the intersection for many years, and one resident expressed concern about removing the signs. Howard Comstack was concerned that if the sign was removed on Kendall, residents living in the area would have difficulty getting onto First Street.

Other traffic considerations played a role in the council's decision to remove the sign. Police Chief Ken Proschheiser pointed out that statistics show that stop signs do not slow traffic.

It was noted that people tend to speed up after a stop in order to catch up for lost time. Yield signs are more effective at slowing traffic.

In addition, stopping and starting from a stop sign creates more icy conditions during the winter months.

The council agreed to remove the stop sign on First Street of Kendall and leave the sign on Kendall. The stop sign had been removed by Thursday morning.

■ Stop signs will probably be installed at the intersections of Idlewood Court and Kenwood Court on Edgewood Drive in order to slow traffic.

On September 26, a petition signed by at least 34 residents. The petition asked, "We the residents of Edgewood Drive, Kenwood Court, Westwood Court, and Idlewood Court, request that the Thief River Falls City Council divide Edgewood Drive into two cul-de-sacs at Idlewood Court in order to ensure the safety of individuals and protection of property."

Residents in the area have become upset that Edgewood Drive has become a thoroughfare to Highway 59. Many of the motorists using the route have been speeding.

The council discussed the options, which included the cul-de-sac. A cul-de-sac at each location, however, was seen as an expensive solution which could create drainage problems.

In order to develop its rationale for stop signs at the streets, the council requested that traffic counts be taken before installation of the two stop signs at the intersections of Idlewood Coun and Kenwood Court.

■ The council has agreed to continue using specially marked garbage bags.

The city council accepted the low quote of Arrow Industries for 400,000 garbage bags. The city has decided to continue with its bag collection system and not get into

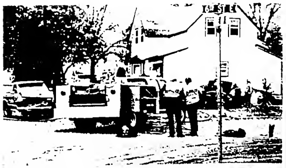
Dedication held for riverbank project

Dedication ceremony was held Thursday, October 13, for the east bank stabilization project on the Red Lake river below the power plant dam in Thief River Falls.

Lowell C. Enerson, administrator of the Red Lake Watershed District, presided at the program conducted near the power plant building on the west side of the river.

Others participating in the program were Mayor Bob Reeve; Gary Lane, district manager of the Pennington County Soil and Water Conservation District (SWCD); Sen. LeRoy Stumpf; and Robert Pahlen, the contractor who completed the project.

Joining the watershed district and SWCD in the project were the City of Thief River Falls, L. B. Hartz Foundation and Northern State Bank. Pennington county commissioners also agreed to assist if necessary but county assistance wasn't needed, Enerson said.



The project involved removal of trees, brush and debris, sloping of the riverbank and installation of rock riprap along approximately 1,100 feet of the east bank below the dam.

All speakers expressed their appreciation for the cooperative efforts of other agencies involved in the project and commented that it would not have been possible without each of the participating components.

Contractor Bob Pahlen of Plummer said that residents of the neighborhood where the work was being done were exceptionally understanding during the project.

"We made a lot of noise when we were cleaning rocks, clanging equipment and running machinery at all times of the day," Pahlen told the Northern Watch. "I can't say enough for the people who put up with our noise and activity—people like the fellow who worked nights and went to live with his sister for a week so he could get some sleep in the daytime. We couldn't have asked for a more understanding group of people."

Following the dedication ceremony, refreshments were served at the Red Lake Watershed District office in downtown Thief River Falls.

All three people riding in these vehicles were taken to Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls. The accident happened at about 4:30 p.m. Wednesday, October 5, at the intersection of Sixth Street and Horace Avenue. According to the accident report, Wade Homuth of Owatonna was traveling in his pickup north on Horace Avenue, and a car driven by Jeremy LaCoe of Thief River Falls, was going east on Sixth Street when the vehicles collided at the uncontrolled intersection. Following the collision the vehicle driven by LaCoe struck the Paul Smeby residence at the corner. Both vehicles were considered a total loss. Homuth, LaCoe, and a passenger in the LaCoe vehicle, Kenneth Nelson, 16, Thief River Falls, were taken to Northwest Medical Center by ambulance. LaCoe and Nelson had to be pulled from their vehicle by emergency personnel with the Thief River Falls Fire department. Homuth was treated and released. LaCoe and Nelson were in stable condition at the hospital Thursday afternoon, according to the Nursing supervisor. Damage to the Smeby residence was estimated at $500.

Hybrid poplar project will cover 3,000 acres

(Editor's Note: The following article by Greg Booth appeared in the October issue of Ag Innovation News published by the Agricultural Utilization Research Institute (AURI) and is reprinted with permission for its general area interest.)

In a 70-acre field near Marcoux Corner (the intersection of Highways 2 and 32), at the edge of the Red River Valley, the damp gumbo sticks to Dr. Ed Wene's boots as he searches for a sign of this year's crop. He bends over and finds, among a few competing weeds, a leafy growth no bigger than his hand. At eight-foot intervals in either direction, similar plants are growing.

A few miles south and west, near Gary, Wene crosses a ditch and strolls through a crop planted four years ago. Wene—not a short man—is dwarfed by the crop towering 25 to 30 feet above him.

The crops in various stages of development are hybrid poplars, fast-growing trees that could, in a few years, be harvested and converted to alternative fuels.

Wene and Dr. Wendell Johnson of the University of Minnesota—Crookston will soon be watching over 3,000 acres of the trees, planted by Minnesota farmers in a program established by AURI. Growers are using land enrolled in the Conservation Reserve Program. The special trees thrive in transitional areas between crop and forest lands.

When the trees are mature, they could yield three to five dry tons per acre per year. (In noncultivated stands of aspen, yields are typically one dry ton per acre per year.) Poplars naturally regenerate from stumps after harvest, so crops can be reestablished without additional plantings.

For a crop that takes 10 to 12 years to mature and is hand planted, Wene has had no problem filling up the 3,000 acres planned for the project.

Soil samples were gathered on about 8,000 acres. While some soils were excluded from the program because of pH or slope, Wene says 5,000 acres have been found suitable for hybrid poplar plantings.

Wene and Johnson have the cooperation of several other agencies. Because of its focus on energy production, the project has received state funds recommended by the Legislative Commission on Minnesota Resources. Incentives of $85 per acre will be provided to participant farmers.

A federal program offers additional cost sharing of $106 per acre for planting hardwood trees, and a five-year extension on Conservation Reserve Program contracts is available to all tree growers, Wene says.

Minnesota Power and Light has agreed to purchase the program's 3,000 acres of trees to convert to biofuel for electrical generation.

Growers plant 700 trees per acre; the 10-inch sticks are planted nine inches deep in the soil. Al Gustafson of the Pembina Trail Resource Conservation and Development Association is making arrangements with custom vendors to prepare some of the sites. He will coordinate crews to plant the first 600 to 800 acres in 1995; remaining acres will be planted in 1996.

Starting a crop with a minimum 10-year growing period is "not for everyone," Wene says. "There's a mixed reaction, and we expect that."

Growers who are enthusiastic about the project tend to have a long-term outlook. Even so, it's difficult for growers to adjust to a 10-year income cycle on cropland. To more closely match the economics of a traditional yearly harvest, Minnesota Power and Light will contract with growers to guarantee annual payments over a 31-year period. That way, growers will see a regular return on their land.

While Wene watches the trees grow, he's also watching for another partner in the hybrid poplar project. He'd like to see an energy demonstration facility established in northern Minnesota, to show how the poplars can be converted to clean-burning renewable fuels.

Whether or not that happens, growers won't be stuck with eight-foot grids of stumps, Wene says, because the trees have other uses.

"We located the trees in an area where there are secondary markets—wood products industries. It's economically viable either way." The hybrids have been show to be suitable for producing oriented strand board and paper, Wene says.

Plan meeting on beginning string program

Informational meeting about the beginning string program in the Thief River Falls school system will be conducted Monday, October 10th, at 7 p.m. at the Challenger elementary school cafeteria.

The beginning string program is open to all fourth and fifth grade students. A music store representative will be on hand at the meeting to discuss the various instrument options that are available. Orchestra director Brian Cole will also give a brief presentation, followed by a question and answer session.

Questions regarding the meeting or the program should be addressed to Cole at 681-7432 (Lincoln high school) or 681-2240.

"The orchestra program is growing and looking forward to a good recruiting year," Cole said.

Landowners Rights Association to hold meeting here Wed.

Regional information meeting for the newly-organized Minnesota Landowners Rights Association will be held Wednesday, October 19, at 1 p.m. in the city auditorium meeting room in Thief River Falls.

All persons interested in private property rights are invited to be in attendance at the meeting which is intended for property owners throughout northwest Minnesota.

The state association was organized at a meeting several weeks ago in St. Cloud and has drawn widespread interest from throughout the state. Individual membership has been set at $20 and will be available at the meeting.

At previous meetings on private property rights, a list of issues hat been prepared to reflect the concerns of individuals with government intrusion into the use of privately owned property. One of the issues expected to be of major concern in this area is wetlands legislation.

Don Parmeter of Northern Resource Center in International Falls will be among the presenters outlining the background of the property rights movement, the current status of formation in Minnesota and plans for future goals and activities.

A representative from U.S. Rep. Collin Peterson's office is expected to be in attendance and area legislators have also been invited. More than 100 people attended a local meeting held in Grygla Wednesday evening.

Delray Larson, Marshall county commissioner from Gatzke who has taken a strong interest in the formation of the property rights organization, said he hoped others with similar concerns would take the time to attend the meeting, listen to what is presented and have their questions answered.

Invitations have been extended to officials in Clearwater, Kittson, Roseau, Red Lake, Pennington, Marshall and Polk counties to attend the Wednesday session but Larson and Parmeter emphasized that all persons interested are welcome.

EIS Task Force reviews effects of impoundments

To review progress on the study of the cumulative effects of flood impoundment projects in northwestern Minnesota, the Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) Task Force met recently.

Dr. Gary Nelson of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, who is day-to-day manager of the EIS process, and Joe Gibson of the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources are currently writing the summary of the existing conditions reports prepared by the EIS work groups. An article on the EIS process was published in The Red River Messenger, published by The International Coalition for Land and Water Stewardship in the Red River Basin, with information supplied by Susan L. Gilbert, public relations consultant for the organization.

Gilbert said that Dr. Nelson and Gibson plan to complete the summary by the end of the month and distribute it to the task force members for review. A new review process will be tested in which all recipients will be asked to provide their comments within 10 days of distribution. This process is intended to speed up review and contribute to a more orderly and timely turnaround of EIS products.

A writing committee has been formed to draft the sections of the EIS report. The committee consists of two members of the Corps of Engineers (Paul Richert and Bab Anfang) and two members from the DNR (Don Buckout and Wayne Barstad).

The task force is currently discussing how best to keep the public informed about the EIS, as the document likely will be continually evolving until the draft EIS is complete. The public involvement work group will work on developing public information programs for the remainder of the study time.

Marshall County sheriff Dennis Brekke said, "This is the result of a very dedicated effort on behalf of myself and my staff to run a quality correctional facility."

Marshall County Historical Society Board to meet in Newfolden on October 20

Annual board meeting of the Marshall County Historical Society is scheduled for Thursday, October 20, at 7:30 .m. in the Newfolden Community Center.

The society has had many visiters from the United States and Canada visit its museum on the fairgrounds in Warren this season and has completed a series of tours for third graders from Viking, Warren, Argyle, Stephen, Alvarado and Middle River schools. The museum is now closed for the fall and winter months.

Donations are also being sought by the historical society for repairs to be done on the Alma Lutheran Church and Cook schoolhouse, both now located on the fairgrounds site. Donations may be sent to the Marshall County Historical Society, P.O. Fosston home health group now in Oklee

First Care Medical Services of Fosston has expanded its home health care department to include an office in the former clinic building in Oklee.

The new office is expected to serve clients within a 30-mile radius of Oklee, including Thief River Falls, Red Lake Falls, Brooks, Plummer and Goodridge.

Staff at Oklee includes Pam Kerssen, RN; Julie Paquin, home health aide; and Deanna Stenberg, secretary.

First Care Home Health now has offices in Clearbrook, Erskine, Fertile, Fosston and Mahnomen in addition to Oklee. It offers skilled nursing care, physical therapy, speech therapy, occupational therapy, personal care, homemaking and respite care.

Walk-in services by appointment in each office include blood glucose monitoring, prefilling of insulin syringes, injections, diabetic treatment and education, foot care, blood pressure screening and ear irrigation.

Lost hunters found

Clearwater County — Two hunters from Ogema were lost in the woods to south LaPrairie township of Clearwater county over night. Daniel Holmquist and Rodney Gilbertson were able to find their way out of the woods about 10 a.m. after they spent the night beside a fire they built and waited for daylight. Officers from Clearwater and Becker counties, the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources, Minnesota State Patrol and White Earth game wardens conducted an all night search. A helicopter had been called out to assist in the search but was cancelled because of fog in the area.

Quilting workshop

Fosston — the Fosston Public Library and the Arts Center will sponsor a two day quilting workshop Friday and Saturday, October 21 and 22, at the Fosston Library. Lynnel Mahoney will present strip quilting techniques for making a Log Cabin quilt, wall hanging or other craft projects. Friday's class will be from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. and Saturday's session is from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Cost is $10 per person. For more information contact Irene Lindfors at 435-1320. Class size is limited.

"Aw — it's my mom!"

Red Lake Falls — At the Homecoming pep rally at Lafayette high school in Red Lake Falls, senior members of the football squad were blindfolded by the cheerleaders and told to identify girls in the audience who were going to "come on down" and give them a kiss. The girls from the audience turned out to be the boys' mothers.

Suspected theft of city funds in Frazee

Frazee — State and local authorities are investigating the possible theft of city funds in Frazee. The alleged embezzlement appears to have taken place over a number of years and may involve as much as $250,000. Police Chief Kelly Shannon says police do have a suspect and charges will be forthcoming.

This sounds like a good fall dish:

LAYERED ENCHILADA CASSEROLE

1 pound hamburger, browned with onion
1 onion
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon garlic salt
1 tablespoon chili powder
16 ounce can tomato sauce
7 ounce can ripe olives, chopped
2 cups grated cheddar cheese
6 1/2 ounce bag tortilla chips
2/3 cup water

Mix hamburger, onion, salt, pepper, garlic salt, chili powder, tomato sauce and olives.

In 9x5 inch loaf pan, alternate layers of chips, meat mixture and cheese, setting aside 1/2 cup of cheese for top.

Add water, cover with foil and bake for about 30 minutes at 400 degrees. Sprinkle with cheese.

This hearty soup will warm you up in a hurry on a cold day:

HAMBURGER CHOWDER

1 1/2 pounds hamburger
1 tablespoon butter
1 quart tomatoes
2 quarts water
1 1/2 cups celery
2 cups carrots
1 cup potatoes
1/3 cup rice (uncooked)
1 small onion
Salt and pepper

Saute hamburger with butter. Place in large kettle.

Crush tomatoes and add to hamburger with rest of ingredients. Cover and simmer 1 hour or until vegetables are done.

Serve with crackers or French bread.

Here's one more hearty dish you will like:

HAM AND VEGETABLES AU GRATIN

2 cups peeled, thinly sliced potatoes
2 cups peeled, thinly sliced carrots
1 1/2 cups shredded American cheese
1/2 cup green pepper or celery
2 tablespoons instant onion flakes
1/4 to 1/2 pound cooked ham, in chunks
1 can cream of celery or cream of chicken soup
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1/8 teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons milk

Mix all ingredients together and bake covered at 375 degrees for 30 minutes. Uncover and bake 35 to 40 more minutes.

Michalicek in Teacher of Year finals Sunday

Robert Michalicek, teacher at Lincoln high school in Thief River Falls, will be one of 10 finalists in the Minnesota Teacher of the Year competition Sunday, October 16, in Minneapolis.

Announcement of the new state teacher of the year should come between 2:30 and 3 p.m. Luncheon begins at 1 p.m. in the Airport Marriott hotel in Bloomington.

Greenwood cemetery commission to meet

To The Editor:

Gill nets are not only coming to your lake, river or stream but also they are soon to arrive in Lake Minnetonka, Big Sandy, Winnie, the Mississippi river, etc., etc. They won't arrive in a day or two, but arrive they will, should Federal District Judge Dianne Murphy have her way.

Her ruling on the Mille Lacs case was not based on the facts presented, but because she felt the Indians did not understand the treaty language. However, it was brought out that the Indians and halfbreeds who signed or interpreted (the treaty) were the same ones who had been trading furs and such with the white man on a regular basis. They understood what they signed!

As far as I am concerned Judge Murphy comes from the same class of judges who allow repeat rapists or murderers back on the street time after-time. These teddy bear hugging, emotion driven judges should go by the written law, not liberal personal feelings. Judge Murphy, as society changes, so does its people. It is usually a step forward, not backward.

Game limits for everyone were being set around 1830 as we realized we needed proper resource management. Not even the whites were happy about that. As one time women weren't allowed to vote, African Americans were not deemed equal citizens, the Irish immigrants were persecuted, the list goes on and on. We have striven over the years to make America more equal for all residents. Let's step into 1994, not 1837.

Now Judge Murphy has ruled in favor of apartheid. Apartheid means different rules on the same land for different people based on skin color. Shame on you, Judge Murphy.

As each case comes to a federal judge of Judge Murphy's caliber, the gill nets will come along with deer snares and a lowering of local economies. Ask the resort owners of northern Wisconsin. Remember, every square inch of Minnesota at one time was ceded (sold) territory, so every square inch of Minnesota is at risk, including your favorite forest or water. The only way for this to come to a final resolution is for the U.S. Supreme Court to review the treaty case.

Have you ever wondered why the tribes sue or threaten to sue states instead of the federal government? The Feds signed the treaties, and made the final payments. In the early to mid 1900's they even set up the Indian Claims Commission, and on Nov. 7, 1973, paid the Mille Lacs Band along with other tribes the final payment to satisfy all Indian claims relating to the 1837 treaty. The federal government would laugh at such silly lawsuits.

Until it gets to the Supreme Court it has to go through the legal system step by step. The State of Minnesota would just as soon settle this with another secretly negotiated agreement. The intervening landowners have vowed to take the Mille Lacs case all the way to the Supreme Court. The problem is that this costs big money. The tribes finance their lawsuits with casino profits. These six landowners have put themselves on the line for you and me.

Proper Economic Resources Management (PERM) is a non-profit organization raising money to help them pay their high legal bills. You can also help them by sending a tax deductible donation to PERM Legal Fund, 9193 Parrish Avenue, Elk River, MN 55330.

Whose deer stand is next, yours or mine? This is your wake-up call.

Sincerely,
Douglas J. Meyenburg Jr.

We Pray For Children....

Tragedies of all sorts are in the news every day, but never do they seem more tragic than when they involve children. And there is no lack of examples of child tragedy from the disease and starvation in Africa to the death and injury in battle-torn Bosnia to neglect and violence against children in our own country.

Those of us in grandparenting years are experiencing for the second time the innocence and vulnerability of young children and worrying about their exposure to the dangers and the evils of this world.

Dixie Holen, president of the Northern Lights Council of Learning Disabilities, which includes North Dakota, northern Minnesota and Manitoba, recently circulated a poem by Ina Hughs in calling attention to October as Learning Disabilities Month. Hughs draws some stark contrasts in her poem entitled "We Pray For Children," and we would like to share her poetic thoughts with our readers:

We Pray For Children
by Ina Hughs

We pray for children who sneak popsicles before supper, who erase holes in math workbooks, who can never find their shoes.
And we pray for those who stare at photographers from behind barbed wire, who can't bound down the street in a new pair of sneakers, who never "counted potatoes," who are born in places we wouldn't be caught dead,
who never go to the circus,
who live in an X-rated world.
We pray for children who bring us sticky kisses and fistsful of dandelions, who hug us in a hurry and forget their lunch money.
And we pray for children who never get dessert, who have no safe place blanket to drag behind them,
who watch their parents watch them die,
who can't find any bread to steal,
who don't have any rooms to clean up,
whose pictures aren't on anybody's dressers, whose monsters are real.
We pray for children who spend all their allowance before Tuesday, who throw tantrums in the grocery stores and pick at their food, who like ghost stories, who shove dirty clothes under the bed and never rinse out the tub, who get visits from the tooth fairy, who don't like to be kissed in front of the car pool, who squirm in church or temple and scream
on the telephone, whose tears we sometimes laugh at and whose smiles can make us cry.
And we pray for those whose nightmares come in the daytime, who will eat anything,
who have never seen a dentist,
who aren't spoiled by anyone, who go to bed hungry and cry themselves to sleep,
who live and move but have no being.
We pray for children who want to be carried and for those who must;
for those we smother, and for those who will grab the hand of anybody kind enough to offer it.

An Extra Duck Can Cook Your Goose!

Waterfowl hunters tempted to take an extra bird or two (or more) should be aware that the penalties for such violation are no mere slap on the wrist. They're a solid whap on the wallet and could mean an extensive stay indoors with a rather restrictive view, well out of sight of the nearest marsh.

"The previous fines, last revised in 1984, were wholly inadequate as a deterrent or punishment for wildlife crime," Senior Resident Agent Dick Dickinson of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service was quoted as saying in a recent news release. "Fines regarding waterfowl hunting violations have generally doubled."

Under the new schedule, the fine is $250 when the number of birds killed is in excess of the daily limit. In addition, each extra illegal duck is $50 and each illegal goose is $75. Minimum fine would be $300—the $250 base fine plus $50 for the first duck over the limit. Five ducks over the illegal limit would mean a $500 fine.

No matter how much you enjoy waterfowl on the table, you wouldn't even be able to savor that extra $300 duck—forfeiture of illegal wildlife is automatic. Fines for violations by organizations such as corporations, partnerships or associations are doubled. And violations of the Migratory Bird Treaty Act have a maximum penalty of up to six months in prison and/or a fine of up to $5,000.

And if you do bust an extra bluebill or gun down an extra goose, don't haul it into another state. The new fine schedule under the Lacey Act, which typically relates to people who violate game laws in one state and then unlawfully transport the wildlife to another state, has been substantially increased. This is especially true in regard to big game where fines have been boosted from $300 to $1,500 and collateral additions for various species have been increased from $100 to as much as $2,500 (for mountain lion and brown bear). Elk and moose are $2,000 and deer, black bear and antelope are $1,000.

The chances of facing such penalties may not deter every potential law-breaker, but they should certainly give pause to some and perhaps to most.

Sportsmen recognize that the game laws are intended to protect and perpetuate the species and therefore preserve the sport. They may disagree with the extent of that protection, but the concept is certainly acceptable. In fact, it was sportsmen who insisted on establishment of game laws in the first place. The new fine schedule certainly reinforces the effort to control the harvest....and that's not bad.

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

Redeemer Church notes completion of EMV effort

Redeemer Lutheran Church in Thief River Falls will observe completion of its Every Member Visit campaign Sunday, October 16, with a catered congregational dinner following the 10:45 a.m. worship service.

Members have been asked to contact the church office and indicate their intention to attend the dinner so that planning for the number to be served can be made.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

I have lived on east Eighth Street for approximately 47 years. In all the time, to the best of my knowledge, I have not had anything taken from the front of my home. I have been very proud of that fact and have bragged about it.

I did this bragging to the lady who recently moved in next door to me and she put a decorated pumpkin in the front of her house. Lo and behold, the night after I did my bragging her pumpkin was taken (she has since replaced it) as well as a pumpkin bag of leaves from the front of my house.

Whoever took these things can surely keep the pumpkin bag of leaves but, Mr. Editor, would you please ask the one who took the decorated pumpkin from 704 East Eighth Street to please bring it back. It would most certainly keep me from being untruthful in the eyes of my neighbor.

Thank you.
Sincerely,
Tress Noel

MDA will offer free flu shots for those with neuromuscular diseases

The Muscular Dystrophy Association will again offer free flu shots in the Crookston and Thief River Falls area to people who have any of the 40 neuromuscular diseases in its program, MDA district director, Sandy Schiag announced. MDA has provided the shots each year for more than 20 years.

The Association will pay for flu shots for all those it serves, whether inoculations are administered by personal physicians or by physicians at one of MDA's 240 hospital-affiliated clinics. In North Dakota, the MDA clinic is located at Meritcare Medical Center, 736 North Broadway, Fargo, ND. To contact the local MDA office, call 1-701-235-1988.

Schiag said, "It's important that patients be protected. Adults, as well as children, with neuromuscular diseases can be at risk of serious illness if infected by highly-contagious flu viruses."

Throughout the United State and Puerto Rico, MDA provides services and quality health care ranging from diagnosis and support groups to summer camps and assistance in the purchase of wheelchairs—all at no direct charge.

MDA is a voluntary health agency working to defeat 40 neuromuscular diseases through programs of worldwide research, comprehensive patient and community services, and far-reaching professional and public health education. The Association's programs are funded almost entirely by individual private contributors.

Troy Paulson member of wheelchair team

by Mike Lundgren, Sports Editor

Basketball season is right around the corner for Minnesota high school students. And like most players across the state, Troy Paulson is eagerly awaiting the opening up.

However, unlike his high school classmates, the Goodridge junior will not have to wait until late November or early December before playing the game he enjoys so much. He will be in uniform for an October 22-23 tournament in Bloomington.

Troy is a member of the Junior Timberwolves wheelchair basketball team that will also take part in a tournament in Chicago in December, enter the Minnesota Star of the North State Games in Virginia in February and then compete in a national tournament in Wisconsin in March.

Born with Spina Bifida, a neuromuscular disorder that prevents him from walking without the aid of braces and forearm crutches, or a wheelchair, Troy became involved in wheelchair basketball while attending a week-long sports camp each of the past six summers. Sponsored by Camp Courage, the facility near Annandale offers approximately 100 young people with physical disabilities the opportunity to participate, learn and practice various life-long recreational activities.

Basketball became his favorite sport. This past summer he received Athlete of the Day and Athlete of the Week awards at the camp, and was selected to play for the Junior Timberwolves wheelchair team – the most competitive of the five squads sponsored by the Courage Center in the Twin Cities. Team members are selected upon recommendations by Camp Courage coaches.

The Junior Timberwolves practice Tuesday evenings and Saturday mornings in suburban Little Canada, but because of the travel distance, arrangements were made to have Troy make a single trip to the Twin Cities for a team practice. He can also work with a wheelchair group in Grand Forks, and spends a great deal of time fine-tuning his skills on his own.

"I'm pretty excited," said Paulson about the opportunity to participate in the wheelchair basketball program. A little nervous, too, he admitted. He's met some of his Junior Timberwolves teammates, most of whom live in the Twin Cities area, during summer camp.

Troy was part of the high school sports scene as a student manager before his involvement in the wheelchair activities gave him a chance to be an athlete himself. He attributes his skill development to his classmates, adaptive physical education teacher Jodi Bendickson, at-home practice time, and to the various organizations that have helped sponsor his attendance at the summer camp.

Troy spends almost every noon hour during the school year playing basketball with his Goodridge classmates. Despite his disability, he is accepted into the "rough-house" pick-up games, where he holds his own, and his wheelchair is often used as an asset when blocking out around the basket.

Troy praises Bendickson for her special talents in assisting his skill development, fostering a positive attitude and a belief in himself, and for encouraging him to reach his full potential. They meet once or twice per week throughout the school year.

"Troy is really a delightful individual," said Bendickson, who has worked with him for the past five years in developing recreation and leisure-type skills. "He is a very caring individual. He has really good social skills. He's a real gentleman – an open-the-door type guy."

A variety of activities have been part of the adaptive physical education program administered by Bendickson, including racquetball, golf, basketball and bowling. "He hates bowling," she laughed. "He doesn't like to do things he's not very good at – a typical teenager. But he's willing to try."

"She (Bendickson) has been really good," said Paulson. "She has been getting me into a lot of different things."

He might not like bowling, but Troy has developed a passion for basketball. Coaches everywhere tell prospective team members they must put in off-season work to improve their basketball skills. Troy fulfills his commitment to the sport by practicing at least two hours a day during the summer and about a hour each day during the spring and fall on the cement slab in front of the family house, where he works on shooting, dribbling, speed, and maneuvering and positioning his wheelchair.

"Troy has a wonderful attitude," pointed out Bendickson. "He has never let the wheelchair get in the way."

Troy's family includes mother and father Diane and David Paulson, and sister Nicole, who is currently attending Bemidji State University. Troy spends his afternoons attending Northland Community College as a secondary options student. An honor roll student at Goodridge, his long range academic goals include veterinary medicine.

Donations from Goodridge Area Development, Goodridge Lutheran Parish, and Faith WELCA, along with the Goodridge Jaycees, Lions and Lioness Clubs have enabled Troy to attend the summer camps.

"I've gotten a lot of support so I could go to the camps," he acknowledged.

Additional funds are currently being sought to help cover personal and team expenses involving the Junior Timberwolves wheelchair basket-ball program. Cost of lodging, travel and meals for each tournament event is estimated to be $250.

Individuals or organizations who would like to make a contribution can make checks available to the Wheelchair Basketball League and mail them to Northwest Regional Inter-District Council, Attn: Jodi Bendickson, DAPE, P.O. Box 57, Newfolden, MN 56738.

Disabled individuals growing up in a small town can draw support from the community and may have fewer obstacles to overcome than the physically-challenged might face in a large city, explained Bendickson. She pointed out, however, there are also fewer special program opportunities available for the disabled outside the metropolitan areas. "That's why he's really excited about being on the basketball team," she said. "He has the opportunity to participate in an activity with his peers – others with similar disabilities."

Troy Paulson of Goodridge, pictured with adaptive physical education teacher Jodi Bendickson, will be competing this season as a member of the Junior Timberwolves wheelchair basketball team that will make its debut in an October 22-23 tournament in Bloomington.

TRF freshmen beat Bemidji in overtime

Kyle Anderson scored on a 9-yard run in overtime to give Thief River Falls a 20-14 freshman football win over Bemidji Monday.

The game was tied 6-6 at halftime and was deadlocked 14-14 at the end of regulation time.

Andy Harbott scored on a 15-yard pass from Kyle Waterworth and on a 10-yard run. He also had a two-point conversion.

Becky Mooney top TRF runner

Thief River Falls runners competed Thursday at the Hawley/Ulen-Hitterdal Invitational high school cross country meet, where the Prowlers' Becky Mooney was a fifth place finisher in the girls portion of the meet.

Moorhead boys and the Hawley/Ulen-Hitterdal girls won team titles.

Vermilion is a 57-20 football winner over Northland Thursday

Vermilion grabbed a 38-6 halftime lead and finished with a 57-20 win over Northland Thursday in a Minnesota Community College Conference football match-up of Northern Division leaders at Ely.

"They're a very good football team, but we gave them too much," said Northland coach Gene Klinke.

The loss was the first in three MCCC starts for the Pioneers, while the Ironmen went to 3-0.

Northland, 3-3 overall, will be at Hibbing Thursday for a 1:30 p.m. game.

Roseau 8-6 winner vs. TRF football JV

Roseau edged Thief River Falls 8-6 Tuesday in junior varsity high school football.

Thief River Falls scored on a 28-yard third quarter touchdown pass from Jon Blomker to Kyle Nelson.

B/G-MR, MCC make strides in volleyball

In mid-September, Badger/Greenbush-Middle River lost a 3-0 high school volleyball match to Lake of the Woods and the next night Marshall County Central suffered the same fate against Roseau.

The Gators and Nordics ran into the Bears and Rams again Tuesday, and while the end results were the same – Lake of the Woods and Roseau wins – the scores were much closer the second time around.

The Bears emerged a 13-15, 15-12, 6-15, 15-8, 15-8 winner over the Gators at Greenbush and the Rams held off the Nordics 15-4, 15-9, 8-15, 12-15, 15-4 in Roseau. Both losing coaches were encouraged by the improved play shown by their teams.

"It was good volleyball on both sides of the net," pointed out Badger/Greenbush-Middle River coach Gwen Borgen, who had special praise for the efforts of outside hitter Bridget Rinde. "She really did a nice job," she said.

The Gators' attack was hurt by the absence of top setter Ali Heitala, who went down with an injury in Game 3.

"We played much better ball than we did the last time we faced them," noted Marshall County Central coach Mark Jorgenson. "Win, lose or draw, we needed to have a match to where we were able to show how much we've improved. And I think we did that."

Tricia Pederson led the Nordics with her play at the net as she turned back several Roseau attacks with blocks.

Results left the Gators 8-11 and the Nordics 10-9.

In other area Tuesday matches, Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke and Red Lake County Central both lost 3-1 matches.

Argyle defeated the 3-13 Wolverines 15-12, 15-7, 9-15, 15-9 in Argyle, while Crookston stopped the 2-19 Mustangs 15-10, 4-15, 15-7, 15-10 in Crookston.

Sophomore squad ends year with win

Thief River Falls turned a 6-0 halftime lead into a 22-0 win over East Grand Forks Monday in sophomore high school football action.

The winners scored on a 22-yard Jon Blomker to Kyle Nelson pass, a 2-yard Rick Dorazski run and a 64-yard pass interception return by Sam Lane, along with a pair of Blomker-to-Nelson conversion passes.

Thief River Falls sophomores closed out their 1994 season with a 6-1 record.

Agassiz Refuge part of summer work programs

Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge served as a work site for eight high school youth in the Summer Youth Employee Program and Minnesota Youth Program through the Inter-County Community Council in Oklee.

Participants included Matthew Pittman, Chris Iverson and Todd Anderson, Goodridge; Chris Callahan and Jared Solberg, Grygla; Tracie Sannes, Newfolden; Troy Majer and Shannon Martin, Holt. Lois Hejlik, Minnesota Department of Rehabilitation Service in Thief River Falls, functioned as a work coach for Matthew Pittman.

The program was divided into two time frames – June 13 to July 31 and July 18 to August 31. The eight enrollees worked a combined total of 1,472 hours. Individually, participants worked from 68 to 280 hours.

Work was labor intensive. The main projects were constructing a kiosk and installing wood barrier posts at kiosk parking areas. Other projects included maintaining towns, buildings and hiking trail; installing signs, burying underground cable, staining board fences; painting gas tanks, bird feeders, electrical boxes and banding blinds; filling holes in gravel refuge roads; and assisting with the American bittern study.

The work experience at Agassiz Wildlife Refuge, it was pointed out by program officials, was designed to strengthen the work ethics of each participant as they prepare to enter the work force of America.

Thief River Falls handles Fergus Falls in Section 8A football...

Prowlers roll to 35-3 win

A 404-83 advantage in total yards led to a 35-3 scoreboard spread Thursday as Thief River Falls overwhelmed Fergus Falls in Section 8A high school football.

It was the kind of performance the Prowlers had become accustomed to in successive wins over Wadena-Deer Creek 40-12, Staples-Motley 54-20 and Park Rapids Area 34-0 before dropping a mistake-plagued 14-6 contest to Crookston last week.

Thief River Falls eliminated those errors against the Otters with a near-perfect performance on both offense and defense as the Prowlers went to 4-3 for the year. Fergus Falls is 1-6, with the lone win coming inexplicably against two-time defending Class A state champion Detroit Lakes.

"It's sure pretty when you don't make mistakes," said Thief River Falls coach Jeff Mumm after watching his offense – the one that had seven turnovers against Crookston – put together a highlight film-type effort that included one bobbled snap and a meaningless long downfield pass interception. "When you hold on to the football, you can get into your offense and do some things," he noted.

Thief River Falls' offensive figures were led by Nick Chiodo with 105 yards on 10 carries, including a 30-yard second half touchdown run and a 45-yard non-scoring first half breakaway, and Steve Burslie with 106 yards on four pass receptions, including touchdowns covering 55 and 17 yards. It was Chiodo's first career 100-yard game. Burslie has 11 catches for 198 yards in the past two games.

Quarterback Keith Anderson was in there, too, with a 7-for-16 passing performance for 142 yards – all in the first half. His figures could have been even more impressive except for four passes receivers had in their hands and dropped.

Thief River Falls scored on a pair of long-range strikes in the first quarter as Tony Halsa weaved his way through the middle on a 57-yard touchdown run with 6:45 remaining and Anderson hit Burslie in stride behind the Fergus Falls secondary for a 55-yard touchdown pass just 2:11 later. Halsa netted 66 yards on three first half carries, but sat out the entire second half after taking a hard hit before intermission.

A 32-yard Clayton Horgen field goal put the Otters on the board at the start of the second quarter, but that would be the only points of the night for the visitors.

A 17-yard Anderson pass to Burslie on a crossing pattern over the middle with 8:48 left made it 21-3 at halftime.

Chiodo's 45-yard run set up a 4-yard touchdown plunge by Brian Howe 4:21 into the second half and 3:20 later Chiodo took it into the end zone himself with a nifty bit of running through the Fergus Falls secondary on a 30-yard jaunt that made it 35-3.

Howe was a perfect 5-for-5 on conversion kicks as the Prowlers made a dramatic turnaround in an area that has given them trouble much of the year.

"Brian did a nice job," said Mumm. "As the season goes along, we get to spend more time with our specialty teams. At the beginning of the year we're putting in so many things that we just don't get to spend much time with our kicking game. But after we get everything in, we can do more things with the special teams."

The defense didn't have to take a back seat to the offense, either, noted Mumm. "Our kids played well on both sides of the ball," he said. "The kids on defense have been getting the job done week after week."

Fergus Falls had only two plays that covered 11 or more yards during the game. Horgen was called on to punt nine times.

Jason Homme led the defense with a pair of quarterback sacks and a fumble recovery. Nathan Anderson came up with an interception.

Thief River Falls will close out regular season play Wednesday with a 7:30 p.m. game against East Grand Forks at Prowler Field.

Bemidji beats tennis team

Bemidji eliminated Thief River Falls 5-2 Wednesday in the first round of team competition at the 1994 North Sub-Section 8AA girls high school tennis tournament at the Grand Forks Racquetball & Tennis Centre.

Top-seeded Alexandria was upset in the semifinals by the fourth-seeded Lumberjacks, who in turn, were beaten by No. 2-seeded Detroit Lakes in the finals.

Detroit Lakes will meet South Sub-Section 8AA champion St. Cloud Tech in the state tournament-qualifying Section 8AA team finals Oct. 18 in Grand Forks. Unbeaten Tech defeated St. Cloud Apollo 6-1 Monday to win the South crown.

The Prowlers finished the year with a 5-9 dual record under first-year coach Jim Bitzegaio.

Harvest festival at Strathcona

"Higher Ground," a group from Steinbach, Manitoba, will be featured during the harvest festival Sunday, October 23, at 3 p.m. at Grace Evangelical Church of Strathcona. Refreshments will be served following the service and public attendance is welcome.

Open House at physical, speech therapy dept.

On October 18, the Northwest Medical Center Physical Therapy department would like to invite the public to an open house in celebration of National Physical Therapy month. This open house will be held between the hours of 1 p.m. and 3 p.m. in the physical therapy department.

Those attending will have an opportunity to tour the department and visit with staff regarding department services. Because of the close proximity to the physical therapy department, the public is also invited to tour and visit with Diane Aandal, special therapist at Northwest Medical Center.

Refreshments will be provided at the open house on October 18. Any questions regarding the National Physical Therapy month open house should be directed to (218) 681-4240, extension 492.

MWNET to have area meetings in October

The Minnesota Women's Network for Entrepreneurial Training (MWNET), which is sponsored in this region by the Northwest Minnesota Initiative Fund, has scheduled meetings for the month of October. Women business owners are invited to attend any of the roundtable discussions and are reminded there is no cost to join the network.

The Bagley group has disbanded. Those from the Bagley area who are interested in attending a MWNET meeting are welcome at any of the other meetings.

This month the MWNET will meet in the following communities:

• Ada — October 11 at 12 p.m. at the Extension office in Ada for Dutch treat dinner. The group will review survey results and discuss new format.

• Bemidji — October 18 at 8 a.m. at Lakeside Family Restaurant (formerly Mug and Muffin), 910 Paul Bunyan Drive. Topic is Business Brochure Development. (A MWNET participant's business will be analyzed and her marketing needs assessed in regard to developing a brochure.) Regular meeting date is the third Tuesday of each month at 8 a.m.

• Fertile — October 18 at 6:30 p.m. at Charming Designs, Beltrami Mall, dinner served on site. The group will have a tour of Jane Opdahl's business, Charming Designs, and she will present her business story. Regular meeting date is the third Tuesday of each month at 6:30 p.m.

The Network gives women business owners a chance to meet with one another and discuss common goals and/or concerns. If you would like to know more about MWNET or about any of the topics listed above, please contact the Initiative Fund at 1-800-659-7859 or 218-759-2057.

Roseau county DFL party workers Millard Jansen and Betty Battles were recognized with service awards Saturday evening at a Senate District 1 DFL party recognition dinner at the Best Western Inn of Thief River Falls.

Error made in recent transportation meeting story

Meetings at Karlstad and Crookston to receive public input on area transportation needs were scheduled during the past week by the Northwest Regional Development Commission's Advisory Committee on Transportation.

Unfortunately, the counties for which each of the meetings is intended were reversed in the announcement made by Steve Lorch of the NWRDC and published in the October 12 issue of The Times.

Lorch has asked media representatives who received the announcement to made the following clarification:

Meeting Wednesday, October 19, at 7 p.m. in the Golden Link Community Center in Crookston is for Norman, Pennington, Polk and Red Lake counties. The meeting Wednesday, October 26, at 7 p.m. in the multi-purpose senior center in Karlstad is for Kittson, Marshall and Roseau county residents.

The meetings are intended to receive input from officials and other residents of these counties as to transportation needs so that information may be included in future project planning.

Farmers Union convention will be held October 19

Annual Pennington county convention of the Farmers Union will be held Wednesday, October 19, at 7:30 p.m. at the Evergreen Eating Emporium in Thief River Falls.

Speaker for the evening will be Pete Takash, Minnesota Farmers Union communications director, who will show slides of his recent trip to view farming Hungary.

Election of county officers and delegates to the state convention will take place at the business meeting. The county unit will share the cost of the meal so those attending will pay $5 per adult and $3 per child.

For more information contact Lori Olson at 681-1877 or Korydon Chervestad at 796-5554.

Seamless Aluminum Guttering Heating, Air Conditioning
378-4641 378-4585
Our Seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge pre-painted aluminum, the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length, eliminating any joints or seams in the middle. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.
Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two-man crew, saving on labor cost. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that get damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates of your job at no obligation to you.

Regional board plans meeting in Hallock

Regional Coordinating Board One, representing 15 counties in northwestern Minnesota, announced its next board meeting, which is scheduled for Wednesday, October 19, will be held from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. at Hallock City Hall in Hallock.

The board will hear county presentations on the Prepaid Medical Assistance program, the county role in health care reform, and will host a round table discussion with county representatives and board members. Committee reports will also be heard on service delivery, access, and public health. Local county representatives have been invited to the meeting to participate in the round table discussion.

Consumers are invited to attend this meeting to comment on the Universal Standard Benefits Set, which will include all appropriate and necessary health care and dental services and will be made available by all health plan companies in the state by January 1, 1996. Then, by July 1, 1997, it will be the only health benefits package offered by health plan companies. A standard benefit set will allow consumers and businesses to compare health care plans on the basis of price and quality and not benefit design.

Public comments will be taken at the beginning of the meeting. To allow the greatest participation possible, the board asks that public comment be limited to three minutes for each presenter. Written comments may be submitted instead of or in addition to an oral presentation.

The Regional Coordinating board — consisting of consumer, provider, employer, labor, health plan, public health and government representatives — was established by the 1992 MinnesotaCare Act and has been meeting since January 1993, working to identify issues they believe are top concerns about health care reform in the region. The board will continue to meet in several communities throughout the region in the coming months and encourages public attendance and participation.

Region One includes the following counties: Becker, Beltrami, Clay, Clearwater, Hubbard, Kittson, Lake of the Woods, Mahnomen, Marshall, Norman, Pennington, Polk, Red Lake, Roseau, and Wilkin.

RLF meeting to air Federal Crop Insurance

Recent changes in the Federal Crop Insurance program will be discussed at a meeting called by U.S. Rep. Collin Peterson Wednesday, October 19, from 1 to 3 p.m. at the city hall in Red Lake Falls.

Ken Ackerman, manager of the USOA Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, will make the presentation and answer questions. Congress recently passed a reform package designed to replace emergency crop disaster relief and establish a catastrophic risk protection plan.

"The new program will provide a minimum level of disaster coverage," Rep. Peterson said. "Farmers will be encouraged to purchase additional protection by making higher levels of coverage more affordable. Program participation will be broadened by linking the new catastrophic program to participation in USOA-administered price support, production adjustment, conservation programs or FmHA farm loans."

Anyone interested in Federal Crop Insurance is encouraged by Rep. Peterson to attend the meeting.

Sweetgall returns for sessions on exercise

Rob Sweetgall, who has been referred to as "the Pied Piper of American walking," is returning to Thief River Falls to present two sessions on walking and exercising on October 31 and November 3.

"The beginning of the holiday season is an excellent time to make lifestyle changes for a healthier new year," notes Deb Zak of the Pennington county extension service, which is handling ticket sales for the events. "One of the easiest lifestyle changes for most individuals to make is walking for exercise."

Sweetgall's previous appearance in Thief River Falls was sold out and a number of people who would have liked to attend were unable to find room. It is suggested that those who would like to attend either or both of the programs on October 31 and November 3 acquire their tickets early.

Sweetgall will present "Eserstriding—Total-Body Workout" on Monday, October 31, at 7 p.m. in the Lincoln high school cafeteria. The eserstriding class will include tips on firming stomach muscles without doing situps, getting a total body workout in only 25 minutes, burning 40 per cent more calories and losing fat while gaining muscle.

A "Walking Off Weight" program will be offered at 7 p.m. Thursday, November 3, at the Northland Community College theater. This presentation will focus on physical activity, weight loss, stress reduction and low-fat lifestyles.

Emphasis will be given to the five "M"s of Mind, Mouth, Metabolism, Movement and Motivation and those attending will be given information to motivate them to "exercise more, eat without guilt and avoid dumb dieting." Also presented will be a 14-step walking-weight loss program guaranteed to work for life, development of the best personal cross training program for cardiovascular conditioning, weight loss and stress reduction.

Tickets for either of the two sessions are available for $3 each or $5 for both sessions at the Pennington county extension office. Call 681-2116 or 1-800-681-2116 for ticket information.

Motivated largely by the death of his father from a heart attack, Swortgall left a $50,000 a year job as a chemical engineer with DuPont in 1982 to take his health message literally on the road. Since 1982 he has walked nearly 22,000 miles of U.S. highways on two major journeys covering 10,608 miles along the U.S. perimeter in 1982-83 and 11,208 miles through all 50 states in 1984-85.

He has authored or co-authored eight books on walking, appeared on network television, and his Walking Wellness school curriculum, developed in 1985, is considered largely responsible for the resurgence of school walking programs in the United States.

Sweetgall regularly walks 30 miles a week and tours the country presenting motivational workshops and seminars in support of school, corporate and hospital wellness programs.

the semi-automated garbage collection system yet. The garbage bags, which will be provided by Arrow Industries, will be enough for the remainder of 1994 and all of 1995.

■ $800,000 in general obligation bonds have been awarded.

The city council awarded the sale of $800,000 in general obligation bonds, series 1994, to Piper Jaffrey, which bid $354,637.50 in interest at 5.78527 per cent interest.

■ The park board will pursue grants for improvements to Indian Village park and Floyd B. Olson park.

The city council authorized the park board to pursue grant applications for the Indian Village and Floyd B. Olson parks. The items, which had been pulled out of the 1995 budget, include a gazebo for Floyd B. Olson park and a bathroom for Indian Village. The projects are included in the city's 1996 Centennial celebration plan.

■ Cuts to budget bring down deficit from over $600,000 to just over $98,000.

Deputy City Clerk Roger DeLap notified the council that after budget cuts by departments, the current budget deficit for the city's 1995 budget is estimated at $98,991. A special budget committee consisting of several city council members was approved by the council.

■ Park department concerned about the wall at Friendship park memorial.

The park department notified the city council that part of the granite wall at Friendship Park is falling into the river. Due to liability concerns for the city, the wall might be removed. Option of repairing or replacing the wall have been discussed, but the cost is believed to be prohibitive.

Curt Howe, co-park and recreation director, said the park department has not found the money or a solution to the problem. Plans for the park include removal of the wall, but keeping the VFW memorial. Shrubs and white posts with a chain in between might be placed around the memorial.

In other business, the council: approved an easement to Minnkota Power to relocate a power line over the water plant ponds at the request of the city; approved appointment of the deputy city clerk and utilities committee members to the Minnesota Municipal Utilities Association; proclaimed October 17-21 as Thief River Falls Manufacturer's week; approved a dance permit for Matt Perkins on November 4 at the Thief River Falls Armory.

Delegates named to White House aging conference

Delegates from this area have been named to the State White House Conference on Aging to be convened by the Minnesota Board on Aging Monday, October 31 in Minneapolis.

Selected as northwestern Minnesota delegates are Ray Green and Harriet Heinen, Warroad; Verda and Conrad Carlson, Fertile; Al Sollom, Thief River Falls; Gary Crawford, Crookston; Betty J. Gysland, Ada; and Darlene Weber, Alexandria.

In addition to developing policy recommendations, area delegates will be honored for their participation by keynote speaker Robert B. Blancato, executive director of the National White House Conference on Aging.

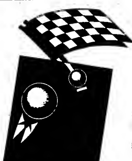
The Minnesota delegates will develop policy recommendations and implementation strategies on eight issues during the two-day event, which will guide aging policies into the next decade and identify ways these ideas can be implemented at the local, state and national levels. Minnesota's policy recommendations will be presented at the 1995 National White House Conference on Aging.

Outcomes of previous conferences have included Medicare, the Older Americans Act, nutrition programs and Supplemental Security Income.

Issues to be discussed at the conference include health care reform, long term care, community based services, elder rights, surrogate decision making, employment and continued productivity opportunities for middle aged and older persons, including training. They will also focus on issues related to seniors of color, pensions, older persons as community resources and the future of aging services.

Prior to the state event the Northwest Area Agency on Aging held regional meetings to explore the same issues. Participants included seniors, family members of seniors, local policy makers and individuals who provide services to the growing aging population.

Information gathered at the regional meetings is being compiled and will be presented at the state conference. This report, in addition to the delegates' personal knowledge of their region's recommendations, will provide the impetus for discussion.



Congress outlined numerous objectives for the White House Conference on Aging. These include increasing public awareness of the interdependence of generations and the contributions of older adults to our society, identifying problems of all generations and examining the well-being of older adults.

200 attend landowner rights meeting

by Marvin Lundin
Northern Watch Editor

"This issue is not about environmental protection but about control and power," Don Parmeter of Northern Resources Center in International Falls told more than 200 people in attendance at a regional meeting of the Minnesota Landowners Rights Association Wednesday afternoon at the city auditorium basement meeting room in Thief River Falls.

"You have to understand that environmentalism is a billion dollar business in this country," Parmeter said. "Environmentalism is not a grassroots movement. It is an elitist movement interested in power and control."

Parmeter said the Northern Resources Center was formed by a multi-county area to "help people who have problems with land use and environmental issues."

Ken Murphy of Thief River Falls, chairman of the Pennington county board of commissioners, chaired the meeting and introduced the speakers as well as outlining his position on landowners rights. He noted that Pennington is one of five counties which have refused to sign an agreement to comply with the state's wetlands bill and "we have been told we will be fiscally punished for that."

Volunteers working with sign-up of members in the recently-formed Minnesota Landowners Rights Association (annual membership is $20) following the meeting said that "a large percentage" of those in attendance had purchased membership but did not have an exact number available. At a recent meeting in Grygla approximately 100 people had joined the organization.

Warren Affeldt of Fosston, president of the Minnesota Wheat Growers Association, apparently expressed the feelings of many in attendance. He drew enthusiastic applause when he commented on government controls over farm operations: "They don't care about us. They would just as soon see us disappear. Maybe it's time for us to tell them 'Keep the money. We'll take care of our own people.'"

Murphy and Parmeter set the stage for other speakers with their comments. Murphy said in his introductory remarks that the people are at a crossroads now and must be looking to the future of northwestern Minnesota. "We have to let others know that we have needs in this area of the state."

Parmeter warned that there is a renewed effort on the part of people who term themselves environmentalists and people in government to increase regulation and control of land. He said a National Biological Survey is being proposed which he considers to be a greater threat to

Crookston man charged after beating wife with shoe

Crookston — A 35-year-old Crookston man was charged with fifth degree assault and terroristic threats last week for allegedly striking his wife in the head several times with his shoe after he read some bills that arrived in the mail. Monday the defense attorney asked that a no contact provision be modified so that the man could winterize his house. The modification was granted so long as a third party was present at the residence. Several guns were seized from the man's home by the sheriff's department at the time the defendant posted bond, and a request to get his guns back for hunting season was denied by Judge Kraker, who said the defendant, an avid hunter, will have to forego his hunting this year.

Roseau withholds county attorney's quarterly salary

Roseau — The Roseau County Board of Commissioners has decided to withhold Roseau County Attorney Martin Berg's quarterly general administrative salary payment of $10,237.50 after reviewing letters from police chiefs from Greenbush and Warroad and the Social Services director, as well as a report from the Roseau county sheriff. The police chiefs stated that cases handled by Berg are being left in his office and not completed and that people are not receiving speedy trials. The board agreed to withhold the money until Berg's term is finished in January as a way to ensure that all county legal business is finished by the end of his term.

Fatal accident near Lengby

Lengby — A two vehicle accident near Lengby left one person dead at the scene and six others hospitalized in an accident at the intersection of Highway 2 and Polk County Road 4. The accident was reported to the Polk County Sheriff's Department at 7:15 p.m. Sunday. Lois Highberg, age 46, of Bagley, was dead at the scene of the accident. She was a passenger in a 1989 Chevrolet Suburban driven by her husband, Harlan, 46. A 1973 Ford pickup driven by Leroy Fairbanks Sr., 50, of Wanban, was traveling north and collided with the eastbound Suburban. Fairbanks was listed in serious condition in St. Luke's Hospital in Fargo. His son, Leroy Fairbanks Jr., was taken to the Fosston hospital. Other passengers in the pickup, Robin Davis, 46-year-old Clarence Fairbanks, and Marilyn Lopez, were all taken to St. Luke's hospital. Tanya Highberg, 20, a passenger in the Suburban, was taken to the Bagley hospital with multiple lacerations. The accident is under investigation.

A limited number of copies will be available at $14.95, including tax, by contacting the Roseau Public Library.

Red Lake Co. resident catches burglar in act

On October 18 at 12:45 p.m. the Red Lake county sheriff's department received a report from a local woman that a burglar was in her residence.

The apartment owner had come home to discover the 16-year-old male in her apartment. She then called the sheriff's department. The juvenile male was taken into custody without incident and taken to a juvenile detention center in Crookston.

School referendum levy questions are answered

Residents of School District 564 will vote during the general election November 8 on a special levy to increase funding for school district operations. The levy authorization would be for a 10-year period with the first year's levy to produce $726,581, of which the local share would be $135,842.

Dr. Robert Duncan, Superintendent of Schools, has prepared the following answers to a number of the questions he has been asked about the levy since the board of education approved placing it on this year's general election ballot.

What is a referendum levy?

The Minnesota State Legislature has given local school boards permission to raise (levy) additional funds for the operation of the school district. However, to do so, the board of education must get permission to increase the local tax levy by a vote (referendum) of the people. The vote must take place on the general election day.

What's the purpose of a referendum levy?

The purpose is to raise additional revenue for the general operation of the school district, including such things as paying for utilities, insurance, purchasing educational supplies, cleaning supplies and paying employees. It does not include money for constructing or repairing buildings, paying for transportation, food service or community education because they have separate funding.

Why do we need a referendum levy?

For the past four consecutive years the school district has not received an increase in state aid. In other words, the state aid per student we received in the 1991-92 school year is the same as what we are receiving in th 1994-95 school year. At the same time state and federal mandates to provide more services are ever increasing but with little, if any, additional money to provide them. Further, there are areas in which costs continue to increase but the district can not control.

What would the money be used for in our school district?

Because we have not had an increase in state funding for four consecutive years, there are many things within the school district that have not been adequately funded or not funded at all.

Give some examples of what has not been adequately funded.

For instance, our libraries have been short-changed in the budget and are in real need of additional money for books and resource materials. Classroom teachers also have a great need for additional educational supplies in all areas and, in particular, the areas of science, art, vocational education and music. Our teachers have been purchasing supplies for their students out of their own money, which is not really fair to those teachers.

What programs are not being funded?

Many people in our district, through their input in our Project 2000 Strategic Plan, have indicated a number of areas that they felt should be included in our school offerings for students, including such things as teaching foreign languages in the elementary school, increasing the use of technology by purchasing additional computers, replacing outdated computers and providing more courses that are directly related to technology.

Is there anything else of vital importance that needs funding?

Yes. The six-year curriculum review process has made a significant difference so far in improving education for our students. We still have much more to do in this area. Not only does it take money to complete the curriculum reviews but also to implement the curriculum that is developed.

What happens if the referendum levy is not passed by the voters?

Failure of the referendum levy would force the board of education to reduce educational programs and services for students. These types of cuts could result in larger class sizes, fewer educational program offerings for students, fewer co-curricular activities and reduction in the training for employees. It would also either stop or slow down many of the important and effective initiatives that are underway in the district to improve the quality of education for our students.

What has the district been doing to cut the budget?

For the past four years the board of education has reduced costs without causing a negative impact in the classroom. The budget cuts have come in the support areas. Reductions have been made in utility costs and central office expenses. Also, the board reorganized various support area departments which resulted in the elimination of some jobs. Last year all employees basically took a salary freeze and employees have been offered early retirement incentive plans which a number of employees accepted.

What is the amount of the levy referendum?

The total number of dollars generated through this levy would be $726,581 for the 1994-95 school year. The total amount per year for the next nine years will depend upon the number of students we have in school.

What would be the local share of this levy?

The local share would be $135,842 or 18.7 per cent of the Crossroads to note 10th anniversary

Crossroads Displaced Homemaker staff includes (left to right), Shawn Burtan, outreach and client coordinator; Margaret Nelson, office, bookkeeping and client coordinator; and Lana Sandahl, director. Crossroads will celebrate its 10th anniversary with an open house at the Thief River Falls office on Wednesday, October 26.

by Sherry LaCoursiere
Northern Watch Reporter

Crossroads Displaced Homemaker Program will celebrate its 10th anniversary this month with an open house on Wednesday, October 26, in its newly remodeled office in the old telephone building at 403 North LaBree Avenue in Thief River Falls. The public is invited to view the offices from 3:30 to 7 p.m. on that day.

What is Crossroads? Lana Sandahl, Crossroads director, says, "It is a program for persons going through a transition in their lives, whether the person is a homemaker who has suddenly found herself (or himself) put in the position of being the breadwinner through divorce, separation or death or disability of a spouse; a single parent receiving public assistance; a middle-aged single person; a single pregnant woman; the spouse of someone who is unemployed; or a farm woman who needs employment to supplement the family income."

For the past 10 years, Crossroads has provided help to area women with workshops, one-on-one consultations, support groups and a library and resource center. The program also aids clients in finding other support agencies and services to fit their needs. Crossroad services are free to qualified applicants.

Sandahl says, "Services are designed to help clients recognize their own interests and values, formulate personal and career goals, and make decisions that will enable them to reach their goals of self-sufficiency, whether their goals are finding employment, work experience, or further education."

Sandahl said Crossroads developed from a cottage industry called "Project Heritage Design," in which women were employed sewing home designer products, such as quilts and pillows, in their homes, allowing them to earn money while remaining at home with their children.

Project Heritage Design realized the need for a motivational program for homemakers that would aid them in gaining self-esteem and help them become self-sufficient, so a grant was written to the Department of Economic Security for the Minnesota Displaced Homemaker Program. The present Crossroads Displaced Homemaker Program became a reality in the fall of 1984.

At first, the Crossroads office was located with Project Heritage

Sweetgall returns for sessions on exercise

Rob Sweetgall, who has been referred to as "the Pied Piper of American walking," is returning to Thief River Falls to present two sessions on walking and exercising on October 31 and November 3.

"The beginning of the holiday season is an excellent time to make lifestyle changes for a healthier new year," notes Deb Zak of the Pennington county extension service, which is handling ticket sales for the events. "One of the easiest lifestyle changes for most individuals to make is walking for exercise."

Sweetgall's previous appearance in Thief River Falls was sold out and a number of people who would have liked to attend were unable to find room. It is suggested that those who would like to attend either or both of the programs on October 31 and November 3 acquire their tickets early.

Sweetgall will present "Exerstriding—Total-Body Workout" on Monday, October 31, at 7 p.m. in the Lincoln high school cafeteria. The exerstriding class will include tips on firming stomach muscles without doing situps, getting a total body workout in only 25 minutes, burning 40 per cent more calories and losing fat while gaining muscle.

A "Walking Off Weight" program will be offered at 7 p.m. Thursday, November 3, at the Northland Community College theater. This presentation will focus on physical activity, weight loss, stress reduction and low-fat lifestyles.

Emphasis will be given to the five "M"s of Mind, Mouth, Metabolism, Movement and Motivation and those attending will be given information to motivate them to "exercise more, eat without guilt and avoid dumb dieting." Also presented will be a 14-step walking-weight loss program guaranteed to work for life, development of the best personal cross training program for cardiovascular conditioning, weight loss and stress reduction.

Tickets for either of the two sessions are available for $3 each or $5 for both sessions at the Pennington county extension office. Call 681-2116 or 1-800-681-2116 for ticket information.

Motivated largely by the death of his father from a heart attack, Sweetgall left a $50,000 a year job as a chemical engineer with DuPont in 1982 to take his health message literally on the road. Since 1982 he has walked nearly 22,000 miles of U.S. highways on two major journeys covering 10,608 miles along the U.S. perimeter in 1982-83 and 11,208 miles through all 50 states in 1984-85.

He has authored or co-authored eight books on walking, appeared on network television, and his Walking Wellness school curriculum, developed in 1985, is considered largely responsible for the resurgence of school walking programs in the United States.

Sweetgall regularly walks 30 miles a week and tours the country presenting motivational workshops and seminars in support of school, corporate and hospital wellness programs.

■ $800,000 in general obligation bonds have been awarded.

The city council awarded the sale of $800,000 in general obligation bonds, series 1994, to Piper Jaffrey, which bid $354,637.50 in interest at 5.78527 per cent interest.

■ The park board will pursue grants for improvements to Indian Village park and Floyd B. Olson park.

The city council authorized the park board to pursue grant applications for the Indian Village and Floyd B. Olson parks. The items, which had been pulled out of the 1995 budget, include a gazebo for Floyd B. Olson park and a bathroom for Indian Village. The projects are included in the city's 1996 Centennial celebration plan.

■ Cuts to budget bring down deficit from over $600,000 to just over $98,000.

Deputy City Clerk Roger DeLap notified the council that after budget cuts by departments, the current budget deficit for the city's 1995 budget is estimated at $98,991. A special budget committee consisting of several city council members was approved by the council.

■ Park department concerned about the wall at Friendship park memorial.

The park department notified the city council that part of the granite wall at Friendship Park is falling into the river. Due to liability concerns for the city, the wall might be removed. Option of repairing or replacing the wall have been discussed, but the cost is believed to be prohibitive.

Curt Howe, co-park and recreation director, said the park department has not found the money or a solution to the problem. Plans for the park include removal of the wall, but keeping the VFW memorial. Shrubs and white posts with a chain in between might be placed around the memorial.

In other business, the council: approved an easement to Minnkota Power to relocate a power line over the water plant ponds at the request of the city; approved appointment of the deputy city clerk and utilities committee members to the Minnesota Municipal Utilities Association; proclaimed October 17-21 as Thief River Falls Manufacturer's week; approved a dance permit for Matt Perkins on November 4 at the Thief River Falls Armory.

Delegates named to White House aging conference

Delegates from this area have been named to the State White House Conference on Aging to be convened by the Minnesota Board on Aging Monday, October 31 in Minneapolis.

Selected as northwestern Minnesota delegates are Ray Green and Harriet Heinen, Warroad; Verda and Conrad Carlson, Fertile; Al Sollom, Thief River Falls; Gary Crawford, Crookston; Betty J. Gysland, Ada; and Darlene Weber, Alexandria.

In addition to developing policy recommendations, area delegates will be honored for their participation by keynote speaker Robert B. Blancato, executive director of the National White House Conference on Aging.

The Minnesota delegates will develop policy recommendations and implementation strategies on eight issues during the two-day event, which will guide aging policies into the next decade and identify ways these ideas can be implemented at the local, state and national levels. Minnesota's policy recommendations will be presented at the 1995 National White House Conference on Aging.

Outcomes of previous conferences have included Medicare, the Older Americans Act, nutrition programs and Supplemental Security Income.

Issues to be discussed at the conference include health care reform, long term care, community based services, elder rights, surrogate decision making, employment and continued productivity opportunities for middle aged and older persons, including training. They will also focus on issues related to seniors of color, pensions, older persons as community resources and the future of aging services.

Prior to the state event the Northwest Area Agency on Aging held regional meetings to explore the same issues. Participants included seniors, family members of seniors, local policy makers and individuals who provide services to the growing aging population.

Information gathered at the regional meetings is being compiled and will be presented at the state conference. This report, in addition to the delegates' personal knowledge of their region's recommendations, will provide the impetus for discussion.

Congress outlined numerous objectives for the White House Conference on Aging. These include increasing public awareness of the interdependence of generations and the contributions of older adults to our society, identifying problems of all generations and examining the well-being of older adults.

Crookston man charged after beating wife with shoe

Crookston — A 35-year-old Crookston man was charged with fifth degree assault and terroristic threats last week for allegedly striking his wife in the head several times with his shoe after he read some bills that arrived in the mail. Monday the defense attorney asked that a no contact provision be modified so that the man could winterize his house. The modification was granted so long as a third party was present at the residence. Several guns were seized from the man's home by the sheriff's department at the time the defendant posted bond, and a request to get his guns back for hunting season was denied by Judge Kraker, who said the defendant, an avid hunter, will have to forego his hunting this year.

Roseau withholds county attorney's quarterly salary

Roseau — The Roseau County Board of Commissioners has decided to withhold Roseau County Attorney Martin Berg's quarterly general administrative salary payment of $10,237.50 after reviewing letters from police chiefs from Greenbush and Warroad and the Social Services director, as well as a report from the Roseau county sheriff. The police chiefs stated that cases handled by Berg are being left in his office and not completed and that people are not receiving speedy trials. The board agreed to withhold the money until Berg's term is finished in January as a way to ensure that all county legal business is finished by the end of his term.

Fatal accident near Lengby

Lengby — A two vehicle accident near Lengby left one person dead at the scene and six others hospitalized in an accident at the intersection of Highway 2 and Polk County Road 4. The accident was reported to the Polk County Sheriff's Department at 7:15 p.m. Sunday. Lois Highberg, age 46, of Bagley, was dead at the scene of the accident. She was a passenger in a 1989 Chevrolet Suburban driven by her husband, Harlan, 46. A 1973 Ford pickup driven by Leroy Fairbanks Sr., 50, of Waubun, was traveling north and collided with the eastbound Suburban. Fairbanks was listed in serious condition in St. Luke's Hospital in Fargo. His son, Leroy Fairbanks Jr., was taken to the Fosston hospital. Other passengers in the pickup, Robin Davis, 46-year-old Clarence Fairbanks, and Marilyn Lopez, were all taken to St. Luke's hospital. Tanya Highberg, 20, a passenger in the Suburban, was taken to the Bagley hospital with multiple lacerations. The accident is under investigation.

200 attend landowner rights meeting

by Marvin Lundin
Northern Watch Editor

"This issue is not about environmental protection but about control and power," Dan Parmeter of Northern Resources Center in International Falls told more than 200 people in attendance at a regional meeting of the Minnesota Landowners Rights Association Wednesday afternoon at the city auditorium basement meeting room in Thief River Falls.

"You have to understand that environmentalism is a billion dollar business in this country," Parmeter said. "Environmentalism is not a grassroots movement. It is an elitist movement interested in power and control."

Parmeter said the Northern Resources Center was formed by a multi-county area to "help people who have problems with land use and environmental issues."

Ken Murphy of Thief River Falls, chairman of the Pennington county board of commissioners, chaired the meeting and introduced the speakers as well as outlining his position on landowners rights. He noted that Pennington is one of five counties which have refused to sign an agreement to comply with the state's wetlands bill and "we have been told we will be fiscally punished for that."

Volunteers working with sign-up of members in the recently-formed Minnesota Landowners Rights Association (annual membership is $20) following the meeting said that "a large percentage" of those in attendance had purchased membership but did not have an exact number available. At a recent meeting in Grygla approximately 100 people had joined the organization.

Warren Affeldt of Fosston, president of the Minnesota Wheat Growers Association, apparently expressed the feelings of many in attendance. He drew enthusiastic applause when he commented on government controls over farm operations. "They don't care about us. They would just as soon see us disappear. Maybe it's time for us to tell them 'Keep the money.' We'll take care of our own people."

Murphy and Parmeter set the stage for other speakers with their comments. Murphy said in his introductory remarks that the people are at a crossroads now and must be looking to the future of northwestern Minnesota. "We have to let others know that we have needs in this area of the state."

Parmeter warned that there is a renewed effort on the part of people who term themselves environmentalists and people in government to increase regulation and control of land. He said a National Biological Survey is being proposed which he considers to be a greater threat to

A limited number of copies will be available at $14.95, including tax, by contacting the Roseau Public Library.

Red Lake Co. resident catches burglar in act

On October 18 at 12:45 p.m. the Red Lake county sheriff's department received a report from a local woman that a burglar was in her residence.

The apartment owner had come home to discover the 16-year-old male in her apartment. She then called the sheriff's department. The juvenile male was taken into custody without incident and taken to a juvenile detention center in Crookston.

School referendum levy questions are answered

Residents of School District 564 will vote during the general election November 8 on a special levy to increase funding for school district operations. The levy authorization would be for a 10-year period with the first year's levy to produce $726,581, of which the local share would be $135,842.

Dr. Robert Duncan, Superintendent of Schools, has prepared the following answers to a number of the questions he has been asked about the levy since the board of education approved placing it on this year's general election ballot.

What is a referendum levy?

The Minnesota State Legislature has given local school boards permission to raise (levy) additional funds for the operation of the school district. However, to do so, the board of education must get permission to increase the local tax levy by a vote (referendum) of the people. The vote must take place on the general election day.

What's the purpose of a referendum levy?

The purpose is to raise additional revenue for the general operation of the school district, including such things as paying for utilities, insurance, purchasing educational supplies, cleaning supplies and paying employees. It does not include money for constructing or repairing buildings, paying for transportation, food service or community education because they have separate funding.

Why do we need a referendum levy?

For the past four consecutive years the school district has not received an increase in state aid. In other words, the state aid per student we received in the 1991-92 school year is the same as what we are receiving in th 1994-95 school year. At the same time state and federal mandates to provide more services are ever increasing but with little, if any, additional money to provide them. Further, there are areas in which costs continue to increase but the district can not control.

What would the money be used for in our school district?

Because we have not had an increase in state funding for four consecutive years, there are many things within the school district that have not been adequately funded or not funded at all.

Give some examples of what has not been adequately funded.

For instance, our libraries have been short-changed in the budget and are in real need of additional money for books and resource materials. Classroom teachers also have a great need for additional educational supplies in all areas and, in particular, the areas of science, art, vocational education and music. Our teachers have been purchasing supplies for their students out of their own money, which is not really fair to those teachers.

What programs are not being funded?

Many people in our district, through their input in our Project 2000 Strategic Plan, have indicated a number of areas that they felt should be included in our school offerings for students, including such things as teaching foreign languages in the elementary school, increasing the use of technology by purchasing additional computers, replacing outdated computers and providing more courses that are directly related to technology.

Is there anything else of vital importance that needs funding?

Yes. The six-year curriculum review process has made a significant difference so far in improving education for our students. We still have much more to do in this area. Not only does it take money to complete the curriculum reviews but also to implement the curriculum that is developed.

What happens if the referendum levy is not passed by the voters?

Failure of the referendum levy would force the board of education to reduce educational programs and services for students. These types of cuts could result in larger class sizes, fewer educational program offerings for students, fewer co-curricular activities and reduction in the training for employees. It would also either stop or slow down many of the important and effective initiatives that are underway in the district to improve the quality of education for our students.

What has the district been doing to cut the budget?

For the past four years the board of education has reduced costs without causing a negative impact in the classroom. The budget cuts have come in the support areas. Reductions have been made in utility costs and central office expenses. Also, the board reorganized various support area departments which resulted in the elimination of some jobs. Last year all employees basically took a salary freeze and employees have been offered early retirement incentive plans which a number of employees accepted.

What is the amount of the levy referendum?

The total number of dollars generated through this levy would be $726,581 for the 1994-95 school year. The total amount per year for the next nine years will depend upon the number of students we have in school.

What would be the local share of this levy?

The local share would be $135,842 or 18.7 per cent of the Crossroads Displaced Homemaker Program will celebrate its 10th anniversary this month with an open house on Wednesday, October 26, in its newly remodeled office in the old telephone building at 403 North LaBree Avenue in Thief River Falls. The public is invited to view the offices from 3:30 to 7 p.m. on that day.

What is Crossroads? Lana Sandahl, Crossroads director, says, "It is a program for persons going through a transition in their lives, whether the person is a homemaker who has suddenly found herself (or himself) put in the position of being the breadwinner through divorce, separation or death or disability of a spouse; a single parent receiving public assistance; a middle-aged single person; a single pregnant woman; the spouse of someone who is unemployed; or a farm woman who needs employment to supplement the family income."

For the past 10 years, Crossroads has provided help to area women with workshops, one-on-one consultations, support groups and a library and resource center. The program also aids clients in finding other support agencies and services to fit their needs. Crossroad services are free to qualified applicants.

A community effort

Williams — Keeny Fish and Nancy (Fish) Calder organized a "Logging Benefit" to help their family after their father was injured in a logging accident a month ago, less than a month after the death of his son, Richard. Friends and family from all around the area helped to log an area of Blueberry Hill in Lake of the Woods for the benefit of Ted Fish. Ted broke nearly every bone in his face when a log crashed through the window of his loader while he was cutting timber. He expects to be able to get back to work in six to eight weeks. Meanwhile, the Logging Benefit will help pay medical bills and Richard's funeral expenses.

School orchestras to perform concert

Lincoln high and Franklin Middle school orchestras will be presenting their first concert of the year on Monday, October 24, at 7 p.m. at the United Methodist church located at 104 North Horace.

The Franklin middle school Sixth grade orchestra will perform "Wishing Well" and the theme from Beethoven's Ninth symphony. In honor of Henry Mancini's death this past summer, the Seventh and Eighth grade orchestra will play the title song from "Moon River" and "Walking Basses", a selection that will feature John Wilkenson and Colin Browning on the double bass.

The Lincoln Chamber Orchestra will perform works representative of the 18th, 19th and 20th century. Lincoln high school junior, Jill Dekkers, will be joining the Chamber Orchestra in Bach's Second Orchestral Suite. Also on the program is a work that will be receiving its Minnesota Premiere — Richard Rongstad's "Hungarian Rhapsody."

There will be a reception to follow in the church's fellowship hall. All are invited to attend this concert and reception.

Uffda Players revived, to present play

After a lapse of about 10 years, The Uffda Players in Roseau is reorganizing and will present "A Christmas Carol" December 2, 3 and 4 in the new theatre available in the Roseau school.

The cast involves 15 men, women, young adults and children and casting began this week. Rehearsals will begin immediately and continue until the first performance. Director is Wendy Fellows, who performed in the Warroad Summer Theatre.

Board of directors of the Uffda Players includes Charles Erickson, chairman; Mary Ellen Kindzerski, vice chair; Paul Wilcox, secretary-treasurer; Evelyn Billberg, Wendy Fellows, Carol Wilson, Corky Lang, Troy Brewster and Helen Lunos, directors.

ASK YOUR LOCKSMITH Questions And Answers

Q I have a beautiful 150-year-old house with very ornate doors. I have the old-style skeleton key for the front and back doors. I have been to every hardware store in town and they can't duplicate them. Can you make them?

A Yes. Most locksmiths have the equipment to duplicate these types of keys. However, you will find that a good locksmith will caution you on the use of those locks as the primary way of securing you house. The old "bit key locks," as they are called, are not very secure because the construction and operation of most of the bit key locks around today do not lend themselves to large numbers of key patterns. At most, only 250 different bit key patterns are common today throughout the country, and many of the bit key locks on structures can be unlocked with a universal pass key which is shaped to open many different bit key locks.

Your professional locksmith can recommend a good auxiliary lock for the ornate doors that not only will blend in with your existing hardware, but at the same time will give you an excellent upgrade of your security.

A community effort

Williams — Kenny Fish and Nancy (Fish) Calder organized a "Logging Benefit" to help their family after their father was injured in a logging accident a month ago, less than a month after the death of his son, Richard. Friends and family from all around the area helped to log an area of Blueberry Hill in Lake of the Woods for the benefit of Ted Fish. Ted broke nearly every bone in his face when a log crashed through the window of his loader while he was cutting timber. He expects to be able to get back to work in six to eight weeks. Meanwhile, the Logging Benefit will help pay medical bills and Richard's funeral expenses.

Middle River will enforce kids' curfew

Middle River — Middle River will be enforcing a 1959 curfew that states that minors under the age of 16 will not be allowed on public streets between the hours of 10 p.m. and 5 a.m. unless accompanied by a parent or under the control of an adult of lawful age. Anyone violating the curfew is subject to arrest. Subsequent violations can result in prosecution for misdemeanors. Citizens who see the curfew being violated should call the Marshall County Sheriff's office at 1-800-242-6127.

Pumpkin pfun

Roseau — Every spring the Green Thumb Garden club distributes pumpkin seeds to third grade students in the Roseau and Warroad public schools. The students tend the seeds through the summer and are judged on the results in the fall. This year's pumpkin contest winners are Rebecca Breisl, biggest pumpkin; Tyler Swanson, funniest pumpkin; and Kara Hedlond, most perfect pumpkin.

School orchestras to perform concert

Lincoln high and Franklin Middle school orchestras will be presenting their first concert of the year on Monday, October 24, at 7 p.m. at the United Methodist church located at 104 North Horace.

The Franklin middle school Sixth grade orchestra will perform "Wishing Well" and the theme from Beethoven's Ninth symphony. In honor of Henry Mancini's death this past summer, the Seventh and Eighth grade orchestra will play the title song from "Moon River" and "Walking Basses", a selection that will feature John Wilkenson and Colin Browning on the double bass.

The Lincoln Chamber Orchestra will perform works representative of the 18th, 19th and 20th century. Lincoln high school junior, Jill Dekkers, will be joining the Chamber Orchestra in Bach's Second Orchestral Suite. Also on the program is a work that will be receiving its Minnesota Premiere — Richard Rongstad's "Hungarian Rhapsody."

There will be a reception to follow in the church's fellowship hall. All are invited to attend this concert and reception.

Uffda Players revived, to present play

After a lapse of about 10 years, The Uffda Players in Roseau is reorganizing and will present "A Christmas Carol" December 2, 3 and 4 in the new theatre available in the Roseau school.

The cast involves 15 men, women, young adults and children and casting began this week. Rehearsals will begin immediately and continue until the first performance. Director is Wendy Fellows, who performed in the Warroad Summer Theatre.

Our Seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge pre-painted aluminum, the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length, eliminating any joints or seams in the middle. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.
Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two-man crew, saving on labor cost. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that get damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates of your job at no obligation to you.

Please bring a favorite recipe to share with Donnelle.

SOUPCON
Sherry LaCoursiere

How about baking those treats for the Halloween goblins this year? Bet they would really like some of these goodies.

I'm going to try to give you one more soft ginger-type cookie — if there is something wrong with this one, I'm giving up on soft ginger cookies — this recipe makes a large batch of cookies:

Soft Molasses Cookies
1 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 cup molasses
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vinegar
4 1/2 cups flour
1 cup brewed coffee
1 teaspoon cinnamon
2 teaspoons soda
1/2 teaspoons ginger

Cream shortening and sugar. Add other ingredients. Drop by teaspoonfuls on greased baking sheets.

Bake at 350 degrees for 6 to 8 minutes, checking often. Frost if desired.

How about a big batch of these appropriate cookies for Halloween — decorate these any way you like:

Great Pumpkin Cookies
4 cups flour
2 cups oatmeal
2 teaspoons soda
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups butter or margarine
2 cups brown sugar
1 cup white sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 (16 ounce) can solid pumpkin
1 cup chocolate chips
Icings, raisins, nuts

Combine dry ingredients.

Cream butter, gradually adding sugars, beating well until light and fluffy.

Add egg and vanilla and mix well.

Add dry ingredients alternately with pumpkin. Stir in chips, raisins, nuts, etc.

Drop by teaspoonfuls on greased baking sheets. Bake at 350 until cookies are firm and light.

Frost with icing and decorate with chips, nuts and raisins, if desired.

Why not try making homemade doughnuts for Halloween treats this year:

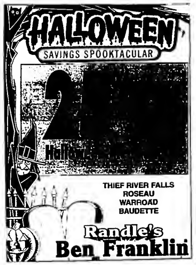
Donuts
1 1/2 cups buttermilk
1 teaspoon soda
3 beaten eggs
1 1/2 cups sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 tablespoons oil
3/4 cup flour*
1 tablespoon baking powder

Mix buttermilk and soda. Let stand 20 minutes.

Add remaining ingredients in order.

*For doughnut maker use a little less flour, or roll out and cut. Fry in hot fat.

"Meet the Candidates" in Newfolden



The GFWC Newfolden Women's club will sponsor a "Meet the Candidates" night on Monday, October 24, at 7:30 p.m. at the Newfolden Community Center.

Area persons running for office this election year have been invited to speak to voters and share their political viewpoints and/or concerns for the positions they are seeking in the November election.

There will be opportunity for questions from the audience as well as a chance for informal visiting during a coffee hour, which will conclude the evening.

Everyone is welcome and encouraged to attend.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

This past week my family suffered a tragic loss, our son, but through this loss my family also got to see kindness and love. Our son was only 19 years old at his time of death, but had accomplished so much.

He was proud of his job at Arctco as a painter. Thank-you, Arctco, for giving our son a chance to grow both professionally and as a young man. He always spoke so highly of his job, co-workers and supervisors. Your company was kind, understanding and helpful when our daughter, who is also employed there, needed time.

Sometimes we only hear of negative things of companies, but need to share also the good things. Thank-you, Arctco, for giving our son a chance, even though his time was short.

Sincerely,
Louis and MaDonna
Parents of Joseph Lalber

To The Editor:

Last Sunday I drove 50 miles to Thief River Falls to Greenwood cemetery to take the flowers off my husband's grave. For the past 18 years I've battled with flowers on his grave. I talked to the caretaker about a wooden planter, the size, and where to put it. That lasted one year. Someone really liked the planter.

Last year I had permanent vases put on his gravestone. I put a variety of artificial flowers in them, including two peonies. Everything was there except the peonies when I took them off in the fall. Peonies were my husband's favorite flower.

This spring I found some whole bouquets of them and I splurged and spent $20 on them—which I couldn't afford, but each vase looked so pretty I felt good about it.

Once this summer, when I was there, I found the whole bouquet just lying in the grass with one peony missing. I guess they only wanted one. I emptied the sand out of the liners and put the flowers back in. I guess I was nasty; this time I taped the flowers to the liners.

Last Sunday when I drove to Thief River Falls, my husband's gravestone was empty. This time they even took the liners. I guess I should be thankful they left the vases.....this time.

Now I'll gripe: I know that mowing and caretaking for the cemeteries is hard work, but we pay for those services. I have found mower tracks on my husband's footstone. The flag holder was bent (it's anchored in cement). The star itself was found eight to 10 feet away. We fixed it at home, but it's bent again.

My sister's, her husband's and her brother-in-law's grave sites just now are getting grass. She died in 1974. Her son has griped, but why has it taken years to finish? They look pretty good now. Thanks for that.

Thief River Falls and Oklee are our hometowns and we decided a long time ago to be buried in Thief River Falls. I'm sorry now.

I hope the "peony lover" is happy, but I'll never give you another. I won't be able to afford peonies and maybe even other flowers, and I know the liners will have to wait also, so....be happy with them!

Sincerely,
Arlene Hoaas

To The Editor:

I live in the Town of Hickory. The people of Pennington county have been asked to comment on the ordinance pertaining to garbage pickup. I find it hard to believe that the public can be ordered to pay a monthly fee to a private enterprise.

I would hardly call this a pick-up service if I have to load my garbage up and haul it to some other collection point many miles away. This ordinance is yet another tax on many people who can ill afford more expenses.

I believe we should not charge those who are taking care of their own garbage. In setting this precedent, what other business will want the same help from the county?

Sincerely,
Henry Burrack

Property Rights Groups Demand Government Obeys Constitution

Americans may have lackadaisical attitudes about a lot of serious subjects and seem to be a little too complacent about what is going on around them at times, but one thing they take very personally and very seriously is the right to own and use property. They don't like anyone, including the government—especially the government— encroaching on that right.

Strong feelings of resentment against restrictive rules and regulations being imposed on them from many quarters were evident among people attending a Minnesota Landowners Rights Association regional meeting in Thief River Falls Wednesday afternoon. They felt victimized and betrayed by elected officials and bureaucrats who seem all too willing to tell them what they can and can't do with their property.

Locally the passage of Minnesota wetlands legislation and its impact on local governments and agriculture is the core issue. The home folks are fed up with conflicting and bewildering rules and interpretations, nonsensical determinations, officious or pompous governmental representatives and a runaround of opinions, appeals and time-consuming, frustrating and seemingly endless requirements.

While the movement forming from the people at the good old "grassroots" level is just beginning here, there is ongoing activism throughout the nation. One person at the Wednesday meeting noted that there are now about a thousand property rights groups formed across the country. Each has its own concerns and interests and goals, but there is growing awareness of one another among these groups and a realization that coalitions can lead to accomplishments that would be impossible alone.

Our sympathies lie with property owners and in this area particularly with landowners. We view the wetlands act as oppressive in its interpretation and enforcement and we can forsee a continuing tightening and tightening and tightening of governmental control unless the people demonstrate organized resistance. We emphasize "organized" as the key point because only in unity will there be the necessary strength to restructure the laws, bring action in the courts and peacefully effect change.

For years and years there has been an eroding of individual landowner rights as the various agencies of government have secured enabling legislation that permitted greater degrees of regulation. Too often lawmakers passed laws and then left it to the agencies to make the rules. An example pointed out at Wednesday's meeting was the Minnesota Wetlands Act which is two pages long and has 91 pages of regulations. Those regulations were not included in the wording of law passed by the legislature but they have the effect of law on owners of land.

Difficulty of bringing about positive change was underscored by another person at the Wednesday meeting. He pointed out that it is the bureaucrats in the agencies, rather than the elected officials, who are entrenched in positions that isolate them from the voters but allow them to impose regulatory restrictions on individual property owners. And too often these officials of government are committed to a special agenda that doesn't leave room for reason or concern for the rights or wellbeing of individuals.

There is room for hope, however, because elected representatives maintain control of the allocation of tax dollars that support the offending agencies. Elected representatives are by nature responsive to numbers of voters, and a groundswell of protest and rational presentation of facts will certainly not go unnoticed.

We look for the landowners rights organization to grow and to ally itself with other groups of citizens to become an effective force in the very near future. And government agencies can assure that growth and those alliances by continuing what they have been doing in their manner of dealing with the people.

Waterfowl Depredation Again A Problem

It has been a while now since we have heard much about waterfowl depredation of area grain crops, although it most certainly has been happening during these past wet harvest seasons. Ability of farmers to harvest their crops in a short period of time (if weather cooperates) because of bigger equipment and the greatly increased use of straight combining instead of swathing have contributed to reducing the opportunity for ducks and geese to make a banquet table of unharvested area fields.

By and large farmers appreciate wildlife and have no objection at all to waterfowl gleaning their harvested stubble for the kernels missed in the harvesting process. But it is difficult enough to watch the grain in saturated swaths deteriorate in quality without the added problem of hordes of hungry birds feeding, trampling and leaving droppings on them. Anyone whose living was similarly being taken from him or her would be hard-pressed to accept such a situation.

There are devices and methods intended to prevent waterfowl from establishing a feeding pattern in grain fields, but even the best are only partially effective when the conditions are bad. We recently heard of a swathed 40-acre barley field being virtually decimated by ducks coming primarily off a recently created Ducks Unlimited project area.

Presence of the ducks must be considered a success for the project by DU, but it is scarcely a cause for rejoicing by the owner of the barley field. Nor is there any recourse for the farmer to recover the damage done to his livelihood, since no organization or agency has made allowances to provide payment for the grain consumed or spoiled by the birds.

People who build buildings in a recognized flood plain may not be deserving of pity when a flood destroys them, but those who farm existing agricultural land surrounding areas artificially created or enhanced for waterfowl production shouldn't have to bear the cost of feeding those waterfowl.

Ducks Unlimited is a forward-looking, private organization with a worthy—if self-interested—purpose of preserving the sport of waterfowl hunting through preservation and improvement of breeding and production areas. It should also recognize the additional need to provide food for concentrations of those birds once they have been produced. Provision on site, or negotiated acquisition off site, of selected feeding fields near project areas would do much to improve landowner relations and acceptance of production programs.

We would suggest that DU gives strong consideration to the problems for surrounding landowners that its effort can create and makes provision in its budgeting for the alleviation of depredation costs.

BSU to offer registration for classes by telephone

Starting October 24, students at Bemidji State University will be able to pre-register for classes over the telephone through the Touch-tone Registration System (TRS).

Students will call a central computer bank during pre-determined times to perform a number of functions normally associated with waiting in long lines.

The voice response system will allow students to add or drop classes, select grading options, verify class schedules and search for open sections of courses. It will also enable faculty to perform many of the same functions for their own classes while adding options that could enhance advising.

Workshops for students, faculty and staff have been conducted to explain how the system works. For more information contact Dave Carlson, Records Office, Deputy Hall, BSU, 1500 Birchmont Drive NE, Bemidji, MN 56601-2699 or call 218-755-3337.

200 attend meeting on landowner rights

private land use that already existing and regulating agencies.

A national commission on recreational needs had reported that what the country needs is more federal government land ownership. "The U.S. government presently owns one-third of the land area in the United States," Parmeter said. "How much is enough?"

Noting that the government has traditionally acquired land by purchase from willing sellers or by condemnation and payment of what is considered to be a fair market price, Parmeter said that "we are now seeing more regulatory taking instead of acquisition for a fee." He cited the Fifth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution which forbids the government from taking property without providing just compensation. A primary issue in Minnesota has been how the various government agencies classify wetlands.

"People in the United States have taken property rights for granted," Parmeter said. "Do you know who really understands the value of property rights? It is the people in Russia and similar countries because they don't have any. While those countries are struggling to obtain such rights, our country is actively trying to take away our property rights."

Lori Olson, a field representative covering nine northwestern counties for the Minnesota Farmers Union, termed farmers as "the original environmentalists" but said they have felt the heaviest burden of environmental issues. She was critical of environmental extremism and expressions of thoughts such as roads shouldn't be graveled because that would fill in the potholes that would hold water, sustain life and therefore be wetlands.

She encouraged organizations to work together and for members to let other members know that farmers are their friends. Olson also urged rural residents to "network with your families," letting relatives in urban areas know about the problems and values of rural land ownership.

"Farmers shouldn't be allowed to destroy the land," she said, "but neither should they be allowed to be destroyed." She said the perseverance of farmers in the last wet farming years had proved one thing that extremists should keep in mind: "We don't quit."

Delray Larson of Gatzke, member of the Marshall county board of commissioners, said he took an oath of office to uphold the U.S. and Minnesota Constitutions and that he believed signing the wetlands bill would prevent him from doing that. He also complimented Dave Zavoral from Grygla for his work in the landowners rights movement.

State Rep. Tim Finseth of the Warren area said he thought the Wednesday meeting was a great idea and that the people were doing the right thing. "People with common causes need to unite," he said, "and to continue to work with other organizations."

Bennett Osmundson of Oslo, a member of the Minnesota Farm Bureau board, said that there always seem to be things that organizations can't agree on, "but we can agree on things that are most important....things that affect where we have our homes and our livelihood."

Don Barron, a member of the Thief River Falls city council, a farmer and former employee of the Soil Conservation Service for 30 years, said that the state wetlands act "fills in the cracks" in federal regulations administered by the Environmental Protection Agency, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Corps of Army Engineers and others. "We need to look beyond the state of Minnesota to the federal government," he said.

Mike Mahoney of Grand Forks, ND, president of the North Dakota Landowners Rights Organization, said his group was formed in 1989 because people couldn't get any legislative response to their concerns. He said his organization is now recognized for its input and is often invited to the table for talks on those issues of concern.

Ron Stordahl of Thief River Falls asked if the organization had a voter's guide so the public would know which office holders to support or oppose as friends or foes of landowner rights. Parmeter responded that Rep. Bruce Vento and Sen. Paul Wellstone had both scored a zero on their voting record for legislation favoring landowner rights.

Arnold Stanley, Grygla area farmer, was more critical of the bureaucracy than elected officials. He pointed to the recently enacted Minnesota wetland law which he said is only two pages long but has 91 pages of rules and regulations. He said it must be recognized that human beings are a species that lives on the earth and should be allowed to live here in harmony with other species.

Local members of the association said that requests had been received to hold similar information and membership meetings in other communities in this area.

Quilters Guild to meet Tuesday

The Thief River Falls Quilters Guild will hold its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, October 25, at 7 p.m. in Room 103 at the Technical College. All members and guests are welcome.

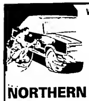
Collin Peterson says NO!

NO to Higher Taxes on Social Security
Collin Peterson opposed last year's budget bill, which included a tax increase on Social Security benefits.

NO to Caps on Benefits
This year, Collin opposed the amendment (to H.R. 4604) that would have capped Social Security benefits.

NO to Cuts in Medicare
Collin strongly opposes Medicare cuts. In fact, he's working to expand Medicare to cover prescription drugs.



Collin knows we need to close the budget deficit. But senior citizens didn't cause the deficit problem. Social Security's been running a big surplus. That's why Collin voted YES to making Social Security a separate, independent agency — to protect that fund and our senior citizens.

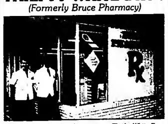
NW Area Agency on Aging seeks comments on plan

Northwest Area Agency on Aging invites comments on the 1995 Area Plan on Aging from seniors, service providers, and interested individuals in Region I. A public hearing has been scheduled for 10:30 a.m., Wednesday, November 2, at the Heritage Community Center in Thief River Falls.

The Area Plan on Aging details how the Area Agency on Aging will utilize Older Americans Act funding to provide services to seniors in Region 1. It also provides an accounting of how the Area Agency on Aging will utilize program development and coordination funding for the development of new services for seniors in Region I. The area plan serves as the Northwest Regional Development Commission contract with the Minnesota Board on Aging.

The Northwest Area Agency on Aging proposes to utilize a majority of the funds to grants to agencies that provide direct services to seniors. Program development and coordination funds in the amount of $36,906 will be utilized for the following activities:



* Senior leadership - work with county committees on aging, assist senior centers in the region with volunteer recruitment and collaborating activities, provide technical assistance with fund-raising activities, and the expansion of services.
* Education and training - plan and organize the fall conference on aging, collaborate with extension services and respite care program to provide educational opportunities for seniors, expand the resource library with information addressing issues of seniors, and coordinate the regional Senior Spelling bee.
* Inter-agency linkages - continue the operations of the senior coordinating committee, develop inter-agency agreements with human service agencies to facilitate joint planning of activities, work with agencies to develop new programs to meet the needs of seniors in Region I.

Funds are allowed for program development and coordination of activities only if the activities have a direct and positive impact on services for seniors.

Please contact Danica Robson at the Northwest Area Agency on Aging for further information or to receive a copy of the Draft Area Plan on Aging for 1995. Comments will be accepted until the close of the public hearing on November 2, 1994.

TRF holds off EGF 41-37

Looking to fine-tune things for the upcoming high school football playoffs, favored Thief River Falls played it straight and built a 26-0 lead. Wrapping up a season that netted just one win, underdog East Grand Forks responded with an unconventional attack and scored five second half touchdowns.

End result was a head-shaking 41-37 Thief River Falls Wednesday night win in the final game of the 1994 regular season. The Prowler Field crowd left with mixed emotions. Some figured the assortment of East Grand Forks formations, gambles and trick plays made for an exciting finish to what shaped up to be a one-sided ball game. Others, however, looked with disdain at the free-lance style Green Wave football.

Thief River Falls coach Jeff Mumm got caught in the middle of it. "For 2 1/2 quarters, we played good football – we played like we have been playing most of the year," he said. "Then we got caught in a circus. We started running around. The kids started to panic. They (EGF) run so much stuff at you. It's playground football, but they seem to know what they're doing."

East Grand Forks went to the oddball football because the smaller Green Wave couldn't stop the bigger, stronger Prowlers, who scored on their first three possessions to take a 20-0 halftime lead.

A 2-yard Aaron Ehrenstrom touchdown run capped a 15-play, 65-yard touchdown drive on the Prowlers' first possession, which featured a pair of diving 11-yard pass receptions by Nathan Anderson and Steve Burslie, along with a 10-yard carry to the 2-yard line by Nick Chiodo.

Shortly thereafter, an Eric Bjorgaard block of a Mark Perkins punt gave the Prowlers the ball at the East Grand Forks 40, and six plays later it was 14-0 when double-coverage couldn't stop Burslie from pulling in a perfect 26-yard toss by Anderson at the corner of the end zone.

Burslie came up with another big play moments later by getting to the outside on a 33-yard punt return to the East Grand Forks 38, setting up another six-play Thief River Falls scoring drive. A 12-yard run by Ehrenstrom and a 15-yard Keith Anderson to Nathan Anderson pass led to a 4-yard touchdown on a dive by Brian Howe with 1:16 left in the first half.

East Grand Forks elected to start the second half with an on-side kick. Thief River Falls recovered the ball at the 50, and after 10 and 17-yard runs by Keith Anderson, along with a 15-yard face-mask penalty, Josh Harris went in untouched off the right side from the 4-yard line. It was 26-0 just 1:51 into the third quarter.

That's when the fun (?) began. A reverse on the ensuing kick netted 49 yards and set the Green Wave up at the Prowlers' 41. They scored from the 37 on a pass/lateral involving quarterback Jon Bushy and receivers Mark Perkins and Travis Lind.

Thief River Falls was ready to respond by driving to the East Grand Forks 13, but linebacker Marty Egeland of the Green Wave scooped up a fumble behind the line of scrimmage and had an open field awaiting him on a 76-yard touchdown run.

Next Thief River Falls possession also ended on a fumble, this one recovered by East Grand Forks' Jay Luther at the Green Wave 36. A 46-yard Bushy/Perkins pass play quickly put the visitors at the Prowlers' 5, and two plays into the fourth quarter it was 26-23 when Bushy scored on a keeper off right tackle.

Another squib kick recovered by the Prowlers cost East Grand Forks field position, and the Prowlers quickly gobbled up the remaining yards on a 29-yard burst off right side by Howe and a 14-yard Anderson touchdown toss to runningback Paul Kopari in the left flat. A two-point conversion run by Chiodo rebuilt a 34-23 spread with 9:01 to play.

East Grand Forks' penchant for the unusual continued with a fake punt on a fourth-and-14 from the Green Wave 7-yard line. The play lost four yards and Kopari scored on the next snap for a 41-23 cushion with 7:13 remaining.

But East Grand Forks wasn't done yet. After forcing the first Thief River Falls punt of the night, the Green Wave promptly covered 35 yards on a Bushy pass to Nate Rasch and scored on a 6-yard run by Lind, who powered his way through the middle with 1:18 showing. A Bushy keeper on the conversion made it 41-31.

More dramatics followed. A successful East Grand Forks on-side kick and a 42-yard Bushy-to-Lind-to-Bushy flea-flicker put the Green Wave at the Thief River Falls 5-yard line. Bushy and Perkins hooked up on a touchdown pass with 19 seconds left to make it a scoreboard-watching 41-37.

But the final East Grand Forks on-side kick of the night failed to cover the required 10 yards, allowing the Prowlers to kill the clock without attempting another snap.

"It's a win, I guess," offered Mumm. "We'll take it."

With runningback Tony Halsa sidelined after taking a blow to the head in last week's 35-3 win over Fergus Falls, seven different Prowlers were given the opportunity to carry the ball against the Green Wave. But Howe, a 5-10, 215-pound senior, was the main man with 15 carries for an even 100 yards. Ehrenstrom netted 48 yards on 9 attempts.

With Bushy being sacked five times, the Green Wave wound up with just 30 net yards on the ground. But their passing game was good for 231 yards (14-for-23). Perkins caught 9 passes for 113 yards.

The 5-3 Prowlers, who rushed for 219 yards, added 102 yards in the air on an accurate 10-for-13 effort by Keith Anderson. Burslie had 5 catches for 53 yards.

Tennis entries lose first match

Two sets of Thief River Falls doubles teams competing in the individual portion of the 1994 Section 8AA high school girls tennis tournament both lost their first matches Wednesday at the Grand Forks Racquetball & Tennis Centre.

A St. Cloud Apollo Rupp-Henkemeyer tandem outlasted the Prowlers' Tiffany Brouse and Kamie Twomey 4-6, 6-4, 7-6 by winning a 7-3 tie-breaker, while an Elk River Wipse-Keifenheim combination stopped Thief River Falls' Anne Padilla and Shari Evenson 6-4, 6-4.

"They played real well," reported Thief River Falls coach Jim Bitzegaio. "They was a lot of tough competition."

Brouse-Twomey and Padilla-Evenson reached the state tournament-qualifying Section 8AA meet with 1-2 finishes in the doubles portion of the North Sub-Section 8AA competition the previous week.

Prowlers will host Otters Tuesday in 8A playoff opener

Fergus Falls will be at Thief River Falls and Park Rapids Area heads to Staples-Motley Tuesday for 7 p.m. first round Section 8A high school football playoff games.

Coaches met Thursday to vote for seeding positions. Detroit Lakes earned the top spot, followed in order by No. 2 - Crookston; No. 3 - Thief River Falls; No. 4 - Staples-Motley; No. 5 - Park Rapids Area; and No. 6 - Fergus Falls.

East Grand Forks, Long Prairie-Grey Eagle, Perham, and Wadena-Deer Creek were excluded from the 1994 playoff field.

Detroit Lakes and Crookston will both receive a first round bye.

Saturday, Oct. 29, semifinals will find either Staples-Motley or Park Rapids Area at Detroit Lakes and Thief River Falls or Fergus Falls at Crookston.

Section 8A championship game will be played Friday, Nov. 4, at 8 p.m. at the Fargodome.

Detroit Lakes is the defending Section 8A and Class A state champion. A 31-game Detroit Lakes winning streak was snapped by Fergus Falls 29-27 back on Sept. 30, but that was the only setback of the year for the Lakers, who have won four straight sectional titles and back-to-back state crowns.

Thief River Falls finished the regular season 5-3, including a 35-3 home field win over Fergus Falls just last week (Oct. 13).

After starting the year 0-2, the Prowlers have gone 5-1, giving them four consecutive winning seasons – a feat accomplished for the first time since a run of six straight winning records ended after the 1972 campaign.

Those season-opening setbacks came at the hands of Detroit Lakes 21-8 and Alexandria 32-20. The once-beaten Lakers are the No. 1 seed in Section 8A and the unbeaten Cardinals are the top seed in Section 8AA.

Thief River Falls bounced back with an impressive run that included wins over Wadena-Deer Creek 40-12, Staples-Motley 54-20 and Park Rapids Area 34-0.

The Prowlers stumbled in Week 6 when seven turnovers led to a 14-6 loss to Crookston. They were sharp in the win over Fergus Falls the following week, then held off upset-minded East Grand Forks 41-37 in Wednesday's regular season finale.

Fergus Falls is 2-5, complimenting the surprising win over Detroit Lakes with a 27-0 win over Hibbing Wednesday that secured a post-season playoff spot for the Otters.

In addition to the defeat at the hands of Thief River Falls, the Fergus Falls losses came at the hands of Alexandria 41-7, Grono 14-13, Crookston 43-21 and East Grand Forks 13-7 in two overtimes. The Otters had an open date in Week 3.

TRF is 3-0 winner over Fergus Falls

Thief River Falls closed out a 13-12 regular season Tuesday with a 15-9, 15-10, 15-9 high school volleyball win over visiting Fergus Falls.

North Sub-Section 8AA tournament play starts with a pair of first round matches Thursday with the No. 5 seed at No. 4 and the No. 6 seed at No. 3. Pairings will be announced next week. Semifinals will be played Saturday, Oct. 29. Championship match will be played Tuesday, Nov. 1.

In Tuesday's regular season finale, Fergus Falls started with 4-1 and 6-4 leads in Game 1 before the Prowlers took control behind the play of senior Sarah Huschle.

"Sarah was very busy at the net on offense and defense," said Thief River Falls coach Helen Anderson. "She really did a nice job.

Another senior, Jenny Drury, led the way in Game 2 that was tied at 4-4 and 6-6 before the Prowlers won the key points late in the contest to secure a 2-0 match edge.

"Jenny did a nice job in the front and back row," said Anderson.

The Prowlers, who used a different starting line-up each game, continued to play well at the net in taking 5-1 and 8-3 leads in the final contest to wrap things up.

"It wasn't pretty at times, but we made up for it with some real nice plays and good serves," pointed out Anderson. "I was pleased that everyone had a chance to contribute to the win. It didn't matter who was on the court, we played well together as a team."

The Prowlers were coming off their best effort of the season – a 3-2 loss at the hands of East Grand Forks Friday, a match won by the Green Wave 12-15, 15-3, 5-15, 15-9, 15-5.

In preliminary matches Tuesday, Thief River Falls was a 15-2, 15-8 junior varsity winner and Fergus Falls was a 13-15, 15-8, 16-14 C squad winner.

Franklin Middle School eighth grade football team beat Crookston 22-8 in a season-ending outing Thursday.

Touchdown runs came from Jeff Beste (45 yards), Wade Chiodo (8) and Wade Haviland (1). Beste and Haviland also had conversion runs.

Franklin eighth grade football had an overall 9-0 season this fall, including a 3-0 finish for both the A and B squads and a 3-0 effort when they combined forces.

Check your smoke detector

Most fires in the home happen between ten at night and six in the morning — and most victims die from smoke and poisonous gases long before fire threatens.

The National Safety Council reminds you to test your smoke detector each week and change the batteries at least once a year. Be sure your detector has a UL or FM marker. Install it on the ceiling or high on the wall outside bedroom areas. If you are in a multilevel home, install one on each level.

Someone who is hearing impaired won't be able to hear a smoke alarm go off and will need a special receiver that hears the detector and then vibrates a bed or flashes a light.

Michelle Benton of Anderson, Poissant and Kaya, Co., of Thief River Falls, was recently a guest speaker at the Northland Community College Accounting I class taught by Gajen Ramanathan. Benton discussed various topics such as schooling for accounting students, job outlook for accountants, and what her job as a CPA consists of. Benton also answered questions from students.

Spooks haunt mall in Red Lake Falls

Spooks and things that go bump in the night will replace shoppers when Two Rivers Area Theatre (TRAT) haunts the Park Place Mall in Red Lake Falls on October 29, 30 and 31, from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m. each night. Admission is $3 per person, all ages, with tickets purchased at the door.

Use the middle entrance of the mall to get to the old Accent Floral location, where the haunted mall will begin.

Organizers of the project hope to raise funds for TRAT and promote the Park Place Mall, the only shopping mall in town and in the county.

"We have three objectives with this project," says Andrea Liston, president of the theater group that is coordinating the Halloween event. "We want to raise funds for future theater productions. We want to provide a fun activity for people young and old in the area. Also, we want to draw consumer attention to the mall and the businesses in it."

Liston is tight-lipped about what people can expect in TRAT's haunted mall, but she does say that "we try to stay away from Halloween cliches as much as possible. I think that people who come through our haunted mall will find it unique." She adds, however, that it may be scary for some, thus children under seven will not be admitted without a guardian.

"Halloween is an event that many, young and old alike, look forward to every year. We hope our haunted mall will make Halloween even more enjoyable for area residents, all the while supporting our community theatre program," says Liston.

Polaris and NW Tech receive $75,000 grant

The Minnesota Jobs Skills Partnership has awarded a $75,000 grant to the Custom Training Services (CTS) division of Northwest Technical College and Polaris Industries, L.P. of Roseau.

The purpose of the grant is to develop and implement a comprehensive employee orientation system aimed at improved product quality, increased employee productivity, reduced worker compensation costs, and increased employee retention. The need for the specialized training was necessitated, in part, by a recent expansion of more than 200 employees at the Polaris plant in Roseau.

Major activities of the training project include the development of a new Orientation Skills Lab (OSL), besides skills training; individualized computer-based training; and coaching for supervisors. The OSL will offer existing, new and potential employees the opportunity to learn new skills and experience the differing areas of assembly work prior to assignment.

It will also be used to assist in the transition of employees returning to work after injury. The "return to work" feature of the Orientation Skills Lab will assist persons to more quickly return to work. It is expected to benefit those persons who might otherwise need to rely upon workers' compensation. It is anticipated that the "return to work" feature of the OSL could have a major impact on reducing worker compensation claims. Northwest Technical College indicated that the model developed will be made available for utilization with other companies as well.

The grant from the Minnesota Job Skills Partnership, coupled with contributions from both Polaris and Custom Training Services, will finance the project over the next 18 months. These resources will be used not only to meet the employee orientation needs of Polaris, but also to build the capacity of Custom Training Services to meet the orientation needs of employees in other businesses and organizations throughout northwestern Minnesota.

Polaris Industries, L.P., which is a major manufacturer of snowmobiles, 4-wheel all-terrain vehicles and personal watercraft, has seen a steady growth in its business over the past several years.

The Custom Training Services Division of Northwest Technical College extends the college's resources beyond their traditional scope through provision of client-sensitive, quality-focused consulting, training, and economic development services for businesses, industry, organizations, and communities throughout northwestern Minnesota.

The Minnesota Job Skills Partnership, with administrative support from the Business and Community Development division of the Department of Trade and Economic Development, provides matching grants to educational institutions which, in turn, develop and provide training for Minnesota businesses to meet the changing needs of Minnesota's labor market. For more information, please contact Roger Hughes, executive director of the MJSP at (612) 297-4660 or Kathy Carney, Custom Training Services, Northwest Technical College, (218) 755-4264.

US dedicates 500th refuge in its system

On October 22 the National Wildlife Refuge System will dedicate Canaan Valley in Tucker County, WV, as its 500th refuge. The system has grown from 3.5 acre Pelican Island in Florida nearly 100 years ago to include 92 million acres.

Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge east of Holt is one of the 500 refuges in the system which range in size from one-half acre to more than 19 million acres. Agassiz has 61,449 acres and was established by Executive Order 7583 on March 23, 1937, as the Mud Lake Migratory Waterfowl Refuge. Its primary objective is waterfowl production and maintenance. The name was changed to Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge in 1961.

Bemidji schools receive $888,000 from two estates

Estates of John "Fred" Breen and Ray Breen have left more than $888,000 to Bemidji State University ($325,000), Northwest Technical College ($272,000) and Independent School District 31 ($291,000) for scholarships.

Fred Breen died in May at the age of 100 and his brother Ray died in June.

POST # 117 • THIEF RIVER FALLS

The new library and resource center at Crossroads is available to help clients in their quest for self-fulfillment. It contains over 250 books, tapes and videos, along with a computer, printer, television set and VCR.

Crossroads plans 10th anniversary open house

Design in the lower level of the Carnegie Library. Two staff persons were hired, along with the director, Lana Sandahl. In 1988, Crossroads was incorporated and moved to its present site. Early funding came from marriage license and divorce filing fees, and present funding is secured through a line item in the governor's budget, along with grants and other contributions.

There are presently 12 Displaced Homemaker Programs active in Minnesota. All operate with the same eligibility guidelines under the direction of boards of directors.

Crossroads serves several northwestern Minnesota counties, including Pennington, Polk, Marshall, Kittson, Red Lake, Norman, Roseau and Lake of the Woods. Offices are located in Thief River Falls and at 118 East Fletcher in Crookston, and outreach workers regularly visit offices in Roseau and East Grand Forks. Sandahl says facilitators are also available to schedule sessions in homes, churches, libraries, or other locations in the eight county area at the request of groups or individuals.

Approximately 1,200 clients have been served by Crossroads in the past 10 years. Many of those clients have returned to school or found suitable employment, while others have been helped by simply learning to be assertive, cope with problems and lead worthwhile lives.

The Crossroads library and resource center contains over 250 books, tapes and videos on topics such as relationships, self-help, parenting, growth, career planning, occupational outlooks, resume preparation and job interview techniques. There are a computer and printer available for client use, as well as a TV/VCR for viewing of videos. A newsletter, "Crossroads Connections," is mailed to clients four times a year.

Crossroads is a private, non-profit organization. At the present time, it is staffed by Lana Sandahl, director; Shawn Burton, outreach and client coordinator; and Margaret Nelson, office, bookkeeping and client coordinator. Members of the board of directors are Karen Pietras, Carol Borchert, Rocky Ammerman, Wayne Johaneson, Terri Staples, Andrea Liston, Leann Stiger, Danica Robson, Eldonna Holte, Janeso Thatcher-Buzzell, Gerald Moe and Sharon LaCoursiere.

Anyone who would like to learn more about Crossroads is invited to attend the open house next Wednesday, or to call the office at 218-681-8158 or 1-800-450-8158.

School referendum questions answered

Does this mean that my taxes will go up by 18.7 per cent?

No, it does not. What this means is that, of the total levy amount, 18.7 per cent would come from all taxpayers in the school district. The individual tax impact would be significantly less than that. For example, the dollar increase on a home with a market value of $20,000 is $11 per year. The increase on a home with a market value of $40,000 is $23 per year.

The individual tax amount has been outlined in information that was recently sent by the school district to each taxpayer. If you are a taxpayer and did not receive this information, you should contact the superintendent's office at 681-8711 and a copy will be sent to you.

How will the referendum levy affect commercial, industrial and apartment property?

The State Legislature determined that for a referendum levy commercial and industrial properties would be taxed at the same rate as residential homestead properties. This, then, gives a tax break to commercial and industrial properties to include apartments.

What impact does the referendum levy have on farm property?

The State Legislature decided to give a break to farmland property owners for referendum levy taxes. Therefore, assuming that the market value of an average farmhouse, garage and surrounding one acre of land is $51,000, the annual dollar increase for typical agricultural property in the district would be: $41 for a farm with a market value of $100,000 and $77 for a farm with a market value of $200,000.

Do people who rent pay the tax increase?

Yes, indirectly they do. People who own farmland, homes or apartments that they rent out pay non-homestead taxes that are much higher than homestead property taxes. They typically pass the cost of these taxes on to the renter in the amount they charge for monthly rent.

What would be the State of Minnesota's share of this levy?

The State of Minnesota's share would be $590,739 or 81.3 per cent of the total.

How many years does the levy last?

By law the levy cannot last more than 10 years. At the end of 10 years the board of education must put the question before the voters if it wishes to have the levy continue.

Is the board required to levy the full amount each year?

No. The board of education is not required to levy the full amount. It can levy less than this amount, depending upon the condition of the budget. However, the authorized levy amount can not be exceeded.

What is the difference between the bond referendum that the voters approved in 1992 and this levy referendum?

A bond referendum is held for one specific reason and that is to build new facilities or remodel old facilities. It cannot be used for general operations. The purpose of a levy referendum is to provide the school district with general operational funds. It is not for the purpose of building or remodeling facilities. The similarities are that both have to go before the voters for approval and both are equalized by state participation.

Have we begun paying taxes on the $18 million bond issue?

Yes, beginning in 1993.

What is meant by a referendum being equalized?

The State of Minnesota is required to equalize education across the state. In other words, because students live in a school district that has a very low tax base, such as our school district, it should not mean that there is less revenue available for their education than for children who live in a very rich property tax school district. In knowing that a poor property tax district could never handle a high tax increase on its own, the legislature has passed laws that require the State to pay a portion of the levy, depending upon the tax capacity of the local district. In our particular case, our tax capacity is very low. Therefore, the state contribution is very high. In this case, approximately 18 per cent is paid by the local taxpayer and 81 per cent is paid by the State of Minnesota.

Has the State been paying its equalized share on the $18 million bond referendum?

Yes, it has.

What are other districts in the state doing about the lack of additional revenue and increases in operational costs?

They are approaching it the same way that we are in that they are making budget reductions and asking the voters to approve referendum levies. Over 70 per cent of the school districts in the State of Minnesota have levy referendums approved by their voters and there are many other districts that will be putting the question before the voters on November 8th, just as we are.

If the levy referendum does not pass in November, can't it be put before the voters in a special election later this winter or next spring?

No. By state law a referendum levy can only be held on the general election day.

What if after a few years people feel they don't want the board of eduction to have the authority to use the referendum levy? Do voters have any options?

Yes. The voters can petition to have the referendum levy put on the ballot at the general election for a recall vote.

Are there plans for any other referendum levies in our district in the future?

Based on the information that's available at this time, the passage of this referendum levy should be sufficient for the district to operate for many years.

Wasn't the building of Challenger and the remodeling of Lincoln and Franklin supposed to reduce costs? What happened to the savings?

Of course we have yet to know exactly how much savings there will be since we are just beginning to operate the Challenger elementary and remodeled Lincoln high school and Franklin middle school facilities. However, the project savings are quickly being eaten up by the lack of additional revenue from the State over the past four years and the continued increase of state and federal mandates.

Why is the ballot question so complicated?

The Legislature determines how the ballot question is stated, not the local school district. Regardless of how complicated the question may seem, it is asking you to vote "yes" if you favor providing additional revenue for the school district or "no" if you are not.

SWCD Cost-share program receives funding

Marshall-Beltrami Soil and Water Conservation district has received funding for the 1994-1995 state cost-share program year. Over $4,200 has been received to help land owners apply conservation practices that meet the following requirements:

1) The primary purpose must be the control of soil erosion, sediment or protection of water quality.

2) They must be enduring in nature. All practices cost-shared under this program shall be designed for a minimum life expectancy of 10 years.

3) They must be non-production practices.

4) Seventy-five per cent cost-share is provided to projects in the Priority 1 Area on the district maps. All other projects shall be funded at 50 per cent.

Cost share assistance applications are taken on a first-come first-serve basis. the program is open to individuals, groups or units of government. Maximum cost-share rate is 75 per cent.

Approved practices include: erosion control structures, strip-cropping, diversions, stormwater control systems, field windbreaks, animal waste control systems, critical area stabilization.

For more information contact the Marshall-Beltrami Soil and Water conservatioin District office or by calling 294-6144.

State is predicting record crops of corn and soybeans this year

Minnesota's corn production is forecast at 882 million bushels, unchanged from September, but 174 per cent above last year, according to the Minnesota Agricultural Statistics Service. Yield at 140 bushels per acre is unchanged from last month and is 13 bushels above the record yield set in 1987.

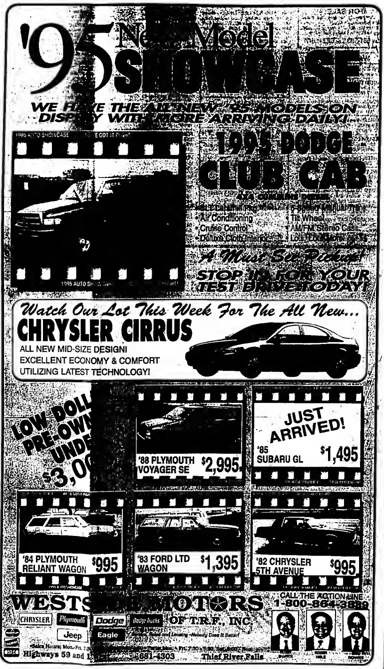
Soybean production is forecast at 218.4 million bushels, unchanged from the last month, but up 90 per cent from 1993. Yield at 39 bushels is unchanged from September and ties the record yield.

Sugarbeet production is forecast at 7.8 million tons, up 2 per cent from the September forecast. Yield at 19 tons per acre is up 4.9 tons from 1993.

Sunflower production is forecast at 654.8 million pounds, up 71 per cent from 1993. Acres for harvest at 485,000 is up 45,000 over 1993. Yield at 1,350 pounds per acre is up 226 pounds form last year.

Signup of members in the Minnesota Landowners Rights Association took place following an informational meeting Wednesday in the basement meeting room of the city auditorium in Thief River Falls. A large percentage of the more than 200 people in attendance paid their $20 membership fee in the association. At the table taking membership registration were Mildred Klamar of Gatzke, Harold Kalsnes and Leonard Furuseth of Thief River Falls.

Public radio carries forum on candidates



Minnesota's gubernatorial and senatorial candidates will participate in town hall forums to be broadcast on public radio station KNTN Monday, October 24 and Tuesday, October 25 from 7 to 8 p.m. and rebroadcast the following days at noon.

Rather than debating, the candidates will meet to discuss issues that citizens feel need to be addressed, including crime, jobs and wages, taxes and voters' disenchantment with government.

Invited to participate have been Gov. Arne Carlson and challenger John Marty and U.S. Senate candidates Ann Wynia, Rod Grams and Dean Barkley.

Heritage Center Sunday dinner

The Heritage Center in Thief River Falls will serve a ham dinner Sunday, October 23, at 12 noon. Call 681-2793 for reservations.

DeLap is selected city administrator

Roger DeLap, acting city clerk, has been named city administrator for the City of Thief River Falls.

DeLap was among 45 individuals who applied for the position this fall. Of the 45, 10 finalists were interviewed. DeLap had been appointed city clerk when Jerry Wigness resigned from the position at the beginning of this year. DeLap has worked for the City of Thief River Falls since December 12, 1971.

The position's title changed from city clerk to city administrator after the city council accepted major recommendations last April from a comprehensive study of the city's organization by David M. Griffith and Associates (DMG).

According to a summary of major recommendations from DMG, the city Administrator, "is usually the person assigned to extricate the governing body from the mire of the nitty gritty."

The city council later established a position by ordinance. Duties will involve coordinating duties, supervision of workers, accounting, preparation of reports, factual determination and execution of council policies but not legislative duties.

Audit concludes SD 564 financially is well managed

Tom Kays of Anderson, Poissant, Kays and Co., the independent financial auditors for the school district, made a presentation to the board of education for School District 564 on Monday, October 24, regarding their recently completed financial audit of the school district.

The audit report gave the district an unqualified-opinion. Kays commended the board of education on the overall management of the budget and in particular, the school district business manager, Harry Nelson, and the personnel with the business office, Jodi Bergman and Marsha Boldt.

Kays did caution that even though the district has a small general fund reserve, the district is just hanging on financially. Kays recommended that the board and management work toward a general fund balance that is at a minimum of 5 per cent and possibly up to 10 per cent of its annual expenditures.

The district's general fund balance was 2 per cent as of June 30.

Kays indicated that although the district has been financially well managed, it will be increasingly difficult to provide the current level of educational programs and services let alone address anything new without additional revenue. He went on further to say that consequently, the upcoming referendum levy is a timely issue and important to the future financial health and stability of the educational programs of the school district.

According to Harry Nelson, the school district business manager, although the 1993-94 school year did end with a small reserve in the general fund, of greater concern is what the general fund balance will look like at the end of the 1994-95 school year. His concerns are based on the fact that the school district is entering the fourth year

Hospice receives $30,000 from Bremer Foundation

Northland Community Hospice in Thief River Falls is the recipient of a $30,000 grant from the Otto Bremer Foundation to expand hospice services in northwestern Minnesota.

The grant was one of 25 grants totaling $461,340 awarded at the September meeting of trustees of the foundation.

Other grants included $15,000 to Douglas Place, Inc., of East Grand Forks to install commercial kitchen equipment at a half-way house serving men and women who are recovering from chemical dependency; and $20,000 to the Minnesota Extension Service in Norman county at Ada to expand the Respite Caregiver's Support Program.

The Otto Bremer Foundation is a private charitable foundation established in 1944 by Otto Bremer. In general, the foundation supports programs in the area of community affairs, human services, health and higher education.

Charges brought in Roseau shooting

Roseau — Edward Borowski, 50, of Badger, has been charged with second-degree manslaughter in the death of David Osby, 29, of Cambridge, who was shot while hunting in Roseau county. Osby was standing still wearing camouflage clothing when he was shot by Borowski, who said he thought Osby was a fox. Roseau county authorities say help from area citizens aided sheriff's officials in bringing charges against Borowski. He will make his first court appearance October 31.

RLF publisher questions TRF double standard

Red Lake Falls — In his column, "AOK," publisher of the Red Lake Falls Gazette, Keith O. Axvig, talks about the problems UND in having accepting a large donation from Thief River Falls native Ralph Bagalstad, who is a hotel-casino owner in Las Vegas, NV. Apparently the terms of the donation dictate that the college dispose of its athletic director and officials feel the credibility of the college may be jeopardized if it adheres to those terms. To illustrate his point, Axvig says, "I am still kind of amazed how a group of people protested, and won, when the Red Lake Band of Indians wanted to put a casino into Thief River Falls. Yet when Bagalstad, who has made most of his money on gambling, built the new building at the pioneer village, the community accepted the building with its paid in full receipt." He adds, "Interesting, isn't it?"

Accident near Badger

Badger — About 2:05 p.m. on October 16, a motor vehicle accident involving two vehicles at the crossing by the Roseau County Co-op and Minnesota Highway 11 in Badger. The first vehicle was driven by Warren Simmons of Wannaska, with a passenger, Jason Binek. The second vehicle was driven by Steve Farder of Grand Forks, with his wife and two children as passengers. The Simmons vehicle pulled out onto the highway from the Co-op Station and was struck by the Farder vehicle that was westbound on Highway 11. Jason Black and Lori Farder were transported to Roseau Area Hospital for treatment.

One stuck puppy is saved

Bagley — The jaws of life were used to rescue a six-month-old puppy from a tire last Friday. Officers from the Bagley fire, police and sheriff's departments were called about 10:30 a.m. on October 21 when a puppy got his head stuck in a tire rim. Soap and water were used to try to free the pup, but its neck had swollen and that did not work. The jaws of life were brought in and then a hack saw was used for cutting away the final bit of steel rim. Bagley police officer Steve Haugen said, "By far this was the strangest dog complaint I've every answered."

Floyd Erickson to head Pennington fair board

1994 fair operations showed a net loss of $16,648

Floyd Erickson was elected president of the Pennington County Fair Association board of directors to succeed Terry Nelson at the annual meeting conducted October 17 at the courthouse meeting room in Thief River Falls.

Bernard Huot of St. Hilaire was elected vice president to succeed Erickson. Reelected were Mike Sorteberg as vice president, Donna Harder as secretary and Ray Safranski as treasurer.

Elected as district directors were Linda Homme, District 1; Floyd Erickson, District 2; Mike Sorteberg, District 3; Brad Richards, District 4; and Pat Swanson, District 5.

Dates for the 1995 Pennington County Fair were tentatively set for July 12-16. These dates are following the Marshall County Fair in Warren and before the Roseau County Fair in Roseau.

Annual dinner of the fair association was set for Saturday, November 19, at 7 p.m. in the Elks club rooms.

Combined operations statement for the 1994 county fair showed a net loss of $16,648 compared with a net income in 1993 of $17,939. The actual cash condition of the county fair association in worse than that, however, since the revenue total of $150,362 for the year ending September 30, 1994, includes loan proceeds of $40,000 for construction of the new horse barn.

Major problem in the operations statement was the decline in grandstand and fundraising revenue of approximately $37,000 from $84,050 in 1993 to $47,108 in 1994. Most of that was wrapped up in what the association terms the "big show," the appearance of high caliber (and high cost) professional entertainers.

In 1993 a sell-out house for Tanya Tucker resulted in big show revenue of $56,617. This year the revenue from the appearance of Joe Diffie was only $22,258. Expenses this year of $34,702 were less than the $46,222 expended in 1993, but a net income of $10,395 a year ago was reversed to a net loss of $12,444 in 1994.

Another drop in revenue came in the area of the annual raffle which had sales of $26,090 and a net income of $13,998 in 1993 but sales of only $13,970 and net income of just $3,137 this year.

Open houses at Franklin and Lincoln

School District 564 residents are reminded that open houses for the expansion and remodeling projects at Franklin Middle School and Lincoln High School will be held this Sunday, October 30, from 1 to 4 p.m.

Mint-ribbon cuttings will be held at Lincoln beginning at 1:15 p.m. and at Franklin at 2:30 p.m. A shuttle bus will transport people from one building to the other each half hour.

Tours will be provided at both buildings with students serving as guides.

Happy Halloween at Pine Tree Farm

Julie Pieha was one of several children who visited Jim and Robin Bitzegaio's Pine Tree Farm to pick out a pumpkin Wednesday. Julia is the daughter of Greg and Sharon Pieha and was visiting the farm with Glenda Olson's day care class from Thief River Falls. The train in the background is just one of many of the farm's Halloween decorations, built by the Bitzegaios. They have entertained over 300 children at their farm this month.

by Sherry LaCoursiere
Northern Watch Reporter

Jim and Robin Bitzegaio and their children, Vicki, a junior and Matt, a freshman at Lincoln, and Mandy, who is in seventh grade at Franklin middle school, came to Minnesota three years ago to start a Christmas tree farm where people could come to choose and cut their own Christmas trees. But since Christmas trees take several years to grow before they are ready to harvest, they have found other ways to share their farm home.

In January of 1992, the Bitzegaios came to Thief River Falls from Ohio for one day to scout out new jobs and look for a place to live with land for a Christmas tree farm. They drove around the countryside and happened to see one special farm that caught their attention. Since they had very little time, they returned to their home in Beaver Creek, Ohio without seeing any more than the outside of the farm, never setting eyes on the inside of the house.

After they returned home, they talked things over and then called the realtor and made an offer for the farm, despite never having seen the interior of the house. The realtor said not to get their hopes up, because the owner had turned down previous offers and probably didn't want to sell.

To everyone's surprise, the Bitzegaios' offer was accepted and they became the proud owners of a farm with 21 acres and seven outbuildings north of Thief River Falls.

They have planted Christmas trees each year for three years now, and have 4,600 trees so far. But, since Christmas trees take eight to 10 years to grow to maturity, the Bitzegaios wanted to do something more. While waiting for their trees to grow, they hit upon the idea of opening their farm, which is called "Pine Tree Farm," to groups of children at Halloween and Christmas. "We were so happy with our farm, we just wanted to share a part of it with kids, so we decided this would be a good way to do it."

Several groups of children from the area have been visiting the farm as a Halloween field trip throughout the month of October, being presented with pumpkins and enjoying homemade apple cider from the farm's trees and cookies made by Robin.

Each child who visits is also presented with a coloring book about Christmas trees that the Bitzegaios' daughters designed and drew themselves.

The farm is completely decorated for Halloween with a huge turkey and a large "ghost train," both made by Jim and Robin, as well as pumpkins, corn shocks, hay bales, pinatas and lots of pumpkins. There are a few child-friendly animals on the farm that the children can get to know, too, such as chickens, a goat, ducks, a mouse and cats.

About 100 children visited the farm the first two years the Bitzegaios had their Halloween open house, but this year there have been at least 300 who came to visit and pick out their own pumpkins. Groups have come from ECFE, Discovery Place, Challenger, Our Saviour's Academy and St. Bernard's school, as well as from Middle River.

In fact, so many children have

The increase on a home with a market value of $40,000 is $23 per year.

The individual tax amount has been outlined in information that was recently sent by the school district to each taxpayer. If you are a taxpayer and did not receive this information, you should contact the superintendent's office at 681-8711 and a copy will be sent to you.

How will the referendum levy affect commercial, industrial and apartment property?

The State Legislature determined that for a referendum levy commercial and industrial properties would be taxed at the same rate as residential homestead properties. This, then, gives a tax break to commercial and industrial properties to include apartments.

What impact does the referendum levy have on farm property?

The State Legislature decided to give a break to farmland property owners for referendum levy taxes. Therefore, assuming that the market value of an average farmhouse, garage and surrounding one acre of land is $51,000, the annual dollar increase for typical agricultural property in the district would be: $41 for a farm with a market value of $100,000 and $77 for a farm with a market value of $200,000.

Do people who rent pay the tax increase?

Yes, indirectly they do. People who own farmland, homes or apartments that they rent out pay non-homestead taxes that are much higher than homestead property taxes. They typically pass the cost of these taxes on to the renter in the amount they charge for monthly rent.

What would be the State of Minnesota's share of this levy?

The State of Minnesota's share would be $590,739 or 81.3 per cent of the total.

How many years does the levy last?

By law the levy cannot last more than 10 years. At the end of 10 years the board of education must put the question before the voters if it wishes to have the levy continue.

Is the board required to levy the full amount each year?

No. The board of education is not required to levy the full amount. It can levy less than this amount, depending upon the condition of the budget. However, the authorized levy amount can not be exceeded.

What is the difference between the bond referendum that the voters approved in 1992 and this levy referendum?

A bond referendum is held for one specific reason and that is to build new facilities or remodel old facilities. It cannot be used for general operations. The purpose of a levy referendum is to provide the school district with general operational funds. It is not for the purpose of building or remodeling facilities. The similarities are that both have to go before the voters for approval and both are equalized by state participation.

Have we begun paying taxes on the $18 million bond issue?

Yes beginning in 1993.

What is meant by a referendum being equalized?

The State of Minnesota is required to equalize education across the state. In other words, because students live in a school district that has a very low tax base, such as our school district, it should not mean that there is less revenue available for their education than for children who live in a very rich property tax school district. In knowing that a poor property tax district could never handle a high tax increase on its own, the legislature has passed laws that require the State to pay a portion of the levy, depending upon the tax capacity of the local district. In our particular case, our tax capacity is very low. Therefore, the state contribution is very high. In this case, approximately 18 per cent is paid by the local taxpayer and 81 per cent is paid by the State of Minnesota.

Has the State been paying its equalized share on the $18 million bond referendum?

Yes, it has.

What are other districts in the state doing about the lack of additional revenue and increases in operational costs?

They are approaching it the same way that we are in that they are making budget reductions and asking the voters to approve referendum levies. Over 70 per cent of the school districts in the State of Minnesota have levy referendums approved by their voters and there are many other districts that will be putting the question before the voters on November 8th, just as we are.

If the levy referendum does not pass in November, can't it be put before the voters in a special election later this winter or next spring?

No. By state law a referendum levy can only be held on the general election day.

What if after a few years people feel they don't want the board of eduction to have the authority to use the referendum levy? Do voters have any options?

Yes. The voters can petition to have the referendum levy put on the ballot at the general election for a recall vote.

Are there plans for any other referendum levies in our district in the future?

Based on the information that's available at this time, the passage of this referendum levy should be sufficient for the district to operate for many years.

Wasn't the building of Challenger and the remodeling of Lincoln and Franklin supposed to reduce costs? What happened to the savings?

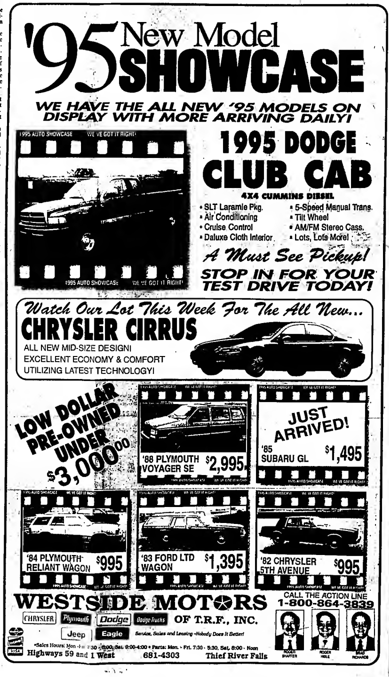
Of course we have yet to know exactly how much savings there will be since we are just beginning to operate the Challenger elementary and remodeled Lincoln high school and Franklin middle school facilities. However, the project savings are quickly being eaten up by the lack of additional revenue from the State over the past four years and the continued increase of state and federal mandates.

Why is the ballot question so complicated?

The Legislature determines how the ballot question is stated, not the local school district. Regardless of how complicated the question may seem, it is asking you to vote "yes" if you favor providing additional revenue for the school district or "no" if you are not.

Signup of members in the Minnesota Landowners Rights Association took place following an informational meeting Wednesday in the basement meeting room of the city auditorium in Thief River Falls. A large percentage of the more than 200 people in attendance paid their $20 membership fee in the association. At the table taking membership registration were Mildred Klamar of Gatzke, Harold Kalsnes and Leonard Furuseth of Thief River Falls.

Public radio carries forum on candidates



Minnesota's gubernatorial and senatorial candidates will participate in town hall forums to be broadcast on public radio station KNTN Monday, October 24 and Tuesday, October 25 from 7 to 8 p.m. and rebroadcast the following days at noon.

Rather than debating, the candidates will meet to discuss issues that citizens feel need to be addressed, including crime, jobs and wages, taxes and voters' disenchantment with government.

Invited to participate have been Gov. Arne Carlson and challenger John Marty and U.S. Senate candidates Ann Wynia, Rod Grams and Dean Barkley.

Heritage Center Sunday dinner

The Heritage Center in Thief River Falls will serve a ham dinner Sunday, October 23, at 12 noon. Call 681-2793 for reservations.

SWCD Cost-share program receives funding

Marshall-Beltrami Soil and Water Conservation district has received funding for the 1994-1995 state cost-share program year. Over $4,200 has been received to help land owners apply conservation practices that meet the following requirements:

1) The primary purpose must be the control of soil erosion, sediment or protection of water quality.

2) They must be enduring in nature. All practices cost-shared under this program shall be designed for a minimum life expectancy of 10 years.

3) They must be non-production practices.

4) Seventy-five per cent cost-share is provided to projects in the Priority 1 Area on the district maps. All other projects shall be funded at 50 per cent.

Cost share assistance applications are taken on a first-come first-serve basis. the program is open to individuals, groups or units of government. Maximum cost-share rate is 75 per cent.

Approved practices include: erosion control structures, strip-cropping, diversions, stormwater control systems, field windbreaks, animal waste control systems, critical area stabilization.

For more information contact the Marshall-Beltrami Soil and Water conservation District office or by calling 294-6144.

State is predicting record crops of corn and soybeans this year

Minnesota's corn production is forecast at 882 million bushels, unchanged from September, but 174 per cent above last year, according to the Minnesota Agricultural Statistics Service. Yield at 140 bushels per acre is unchanged from last month and is 13 bushels above the record yield set in 1987.

Soybean production is forecast at 218.4 million bushels, unchanged from the last month, but up 90 per cent from 1993. Yield at 39 bushels is unchanged from September and ties the record yield.

Sugarbeet production is forecast at 7.8 million tons, up 2 per cent from the September forecast. Yield at 19 tons per acre is up 4.9 tons from 1993.

Sunflower production is forecast at 654.8 million pounds, up 71 per cent from 1993. Acres for harvest at 485,000 is up 45,000 over 1993. Yield at 1,350 pounds per acre is up 226 pounds form last year.

Charges brought in Roseau shooting

Roseau — Edward Borowski, 50, of Badger, has been charged with second-degree manslaughter in the death of David Osby, 29, of Cambridge, who was shot while hunting in Roseau county. Osby was standing still wearing camouflage clothing when he was shot by Borowski, who said he thought Osby was a fox. Roseau county authorities say help from area citizens aided sheriff's officials in bringing charges against Borowski. He will make his first court appearance October 31.

RLF publisher questions TRF double standard

Red Lake Falls — In his column, "AOK," publisher of the Red Lake Falls Gazette, Keith O. Axvig, talks about the problems UND is having accepting a large donation from Thief River Falls native Ralph Engelstad, who is a hotel-casino owner in Las Vegas, NV. Apparently the terms of the donation dictate that the college dispose of its athletic director and officials feel the credibility of the college may be jeopardized if it adheres to those terms. To illustrate his point, Axvig says, "I am still kind of amazed how a group of people protested, and won, when the Red Lake Band of Indians wanted to put a casino into Thief River Falls. Yet when Engelstad, who has made most of his money on gambling, built the new building at the pioneer village, the community accepted the building with its paid in full receipt." He adds, "Interesting, isn't it?"

Accident near Badger

Badger — About 2:05 p.m. on October 16, a motor vehicle accident involving two vehicles at the crossing by the Roseau County Co-op and Minnesota Highway 11 in Badger. The first vehicle was driven by Warren Simmons of Wannaska, with a passenger, Jason Black. The second vehicle was driven by Steve Farder of Grand Forks, with his wife and two children as passengers. The Simmons vehicle pulled out onto the highway from the Co-op Station and was struck by the Farder vehicle that was westbound on Highway 11. Jason Black and Lori Farder were transported to Roseau Area Hospital for treatment.

One stuck puppy is saved

Bagley — The jaws of life were used to rescue a six-month-old puppy from a tire last Friday. Officers from the Bagley fire, police and sheriff's departments were called about 10:30 a.m. on October 21 when a puppy got his head stuck in a tire rim. Soap and water were used to try to free the pup, but its neck had swollen and that did not work. The jaws of life were brought in and then a hack saw was used for cutting away the final bit of steel rim. Bagley police officer Steve Haugen said, "By far this was the strangest dog complaint I've every answered."

DeLap is selected city administrator

Roger DeLap, acting city clerk, has been named city administrator for the City of Thief River Falls.

DeLap was among 45 individuals who applied for the position this fall. Of the 45, 10 finalists were interviewed. DeLap had been appointed city clerk when Jerry Wigness resigned from the position at the beginning of this year. DeLap has worked for the City of Thief River Falls since December 12, 1971.

The position's title changed from city clerk to city administrator after the city council accepted major recommendations last April from a comprehensive study of the city's organization by David M. Griffith and Associates (DMG).

According to a summary of major recommendations from DMG, the city Administrator, "is usually the person assigned to extricate the governing body from the mire of the nitty gritty."

The city council later established a position by ordinance. Duties will involve coordinating duties, supervision of workers, accounting, preparation of reports, factual determination and execution of council policies but not legislative duties.

Audit concludes SD 564 financially is well managed

Tom Kays of Anderson, Poissant, Kays and Co., the independent financial auditors for the school district, made a presentation to the board of education for School District 564 on Monday, October 24, regarding their recently completed financial audit of the school district.

The audit report gave the district an unqualified opinion. Kays commended the board of education on the overall management of the budget and in particular, the school district business manager, Harry Nelson, and the personnel with the business office, Jodi Bergman and Marsha Boidt.

Kays did caution that even though the district has a small general fund reserve, the district is just hanging on financially. Kays recommended that the board and management work toward a general fund balance that is at a minimum of 5 per cent and possibly up to 10 per cent of its annual expenditures. The district's general fund balance was 2 per cent as of June 30.

Kays indicated that although the district has been financially well managed, it will be increasingly difficult to provide the current level of educational programs and services let alone address anything new without additional revenue. He went on further to say that consequently, the upcoming referendum levy is a timely issue and important to the future financial health and stability of the educational programs of the school district.

According to Harry Nelson, the school district business manager, although the 1993-94 school year did end with a small reserve in the general fund, of greater concern is what the general fund balance will look like at the end of the 1994-95 school year. His concerns are based on the fact that the school district is entering the fourth year

Northland Community Hospice in Thief River Falls is the recipient of a $30,000 grant from the Otto Bremer Foundation to expand hospice services in northwestern Minnesota.

The grant was one of 25 grants totaling $461,340 awarded at the September meeting of trustees of the foundation.

Other grants included $15,000 to Douglas Place, Inc., of East Grand Forks to install commercial kitchen equipment at a half-way house serving men and women who are recovering from chemical dependency; and $20,000 to the Minnesota Extension Service in Norman county at Ada to expand the Respite Caregiver's Support Program.

The Otto Bremer Foundation is a private charitable foundation established in 1944 by Otto Bremer. In general, the foundation supports programs in the area of community affairs, human services, health and higher education.

Floyd Erickson to head Pennington fair board

1994 fair operations showed a net loss of $16,648

Floyd Erickson was elected president of the Pennington County Fair Association board of directors to succeed Terry Nelson at the annual meeting conducted October 17 at the courthouse meeting room in Thief River Falls.

Bernard Huot of St. Hilaire was elected vice president to succeed Erickson. Reelected were Mike Sorteberg as vice president, Donna Harder as secretary and Ray Safranski as treasurer.

Elected as district directors were Linda Homme, District 1; Floyd Erickson, District 2; Mike Sorteberg, District 3; Brad Richards, District 4; and Pat Swanson, District 5.

Dates for the 1995 Pennington County Fair were tentatively set for July 12-16. These dates are following the Marshall County Fair in Warren and before the Roseau County Fair in Roseau.

Annual dinner of the fair association was set for Saturday, November 19, at 7 p.m. in the Elks club rooms.

Combined operations statement for the 1994 county fair showed a net loss of $16,648 compared with a net income in 1993 of $17,939. The actual cash condition of the county fair association is worse than that, however, since the revenue total of $150,362 for the year ending September 30, 1994, includes loan proceeds of $40,000 for construction of the new horse barn.

Major problem in the operations statement was the decline in grandstand and fundraising revenue of approximately $37,000 from $84,050 in 1993 to $47,108 in 1994. Most of that was wrapped up in what the association terms the "big show," the appearance of high caliber (and high cost) professional entertainers.

In 1993 a sell-out house for Tanya Tucker resulted in big show revenue of $56,617. This year the revenue from the appearance of Joe Diffie was only $22,258. Expenses this year of $34,702 were less than the $46,222 expended in 1993, but a net income of $10,395 a year ago was reversed to a net loss of $12,444 in 1994.

Another drop in revenue came in the area of the annual raffle which had sales of $26,090 and a net income of $13,998 in 1993 but sales of only $13,970 and net income of just $3,137 this year.

Open houses at Franklin and Lincoln

School District 564 residents are reminded that open houses for the expansion and remodeling projects at Franklin Middle School and Lincoln High School will be held this Sunday, October 30, from 1 to 4 p.m.

Mini-ribbon cuttings will be held at Lincoln beginning at 1:15 p.m. and at Franklin at 2:30 p.m. A shuttle bus will transport people from one building to the other each half hour.

Tours will be provided at both buildings with students serving as guides.

Happy Halloween at Pine Tree Farm

Julie Piche was one of several children who visited Jim and Robin Bitzegaio's Pine Tree Farm to pick out a pumpkin Wednesday. Julie is the daughter of Greg and Sharon Piche and was visiting the farm with Glenda Olson's day care class from Thief River Falls. The train in the background is just one of many of the farm's Halloween decorations, built by the Bitzegaios. They have entertained over 300 children at thier farm this month.

by Sherry LaCoursiere
Northern Watch Reporter

Jim and Robin Bitzegaio and their children, Vicki, a junior and Matt, a freshman at Lincoln, and Mandy, who is in seventh grade at Franklin middle school, came to Minnesota three years ago to start a Christmas tree farm where people could come to choose and cut their own Christmas trees. But since Christmas trees take several years to grow before they are ready to harvest, they have found other ways to share their farm home.

In January of 1992, the Bitzegaios came to Thief River Falls from Ohio for one day to scout out new jobs and look for a place to live with land for a Christmas tree farm. They drove around the countryside and happened to see one special farm that caught their attention. Since they had very little time, they returned to their home in Beaver Creek, Ohio without seeing any more than the outside of the farm, never setting eyes on the inside of the house.

After they returned home, they talked things over and then called the realtor and made an offer for the farm, despite never having seen the interior of the house. The realtor said not to get their hopes up, because the owner had turned down previous offers and probably didn't want to sell.

To everyone's surprise, the Bitzegaios' offer was accepted and they became the proud owners of a farm with 21 acres and seven outbuildings north of Thief River Falls.

They have planted Christmas trees each year for three years now, and have 4,600 trees so far. But, since Christmas trees take eight to 10 years to grow to maturity, the Bitzegaios wanted to do something more. While waiting for their trees to grow, they hit upon the idea of opening their farm, which is called "Pine Tree Farm," to groups of children at Halloween and Christmas. "We were so happy with our farm, we just wanted to share a part of it with kids, so we decided this would be a good way to do it."

Several groups of children from the area have been visiting the farm as a Halloween field trip throughout the month of October, being presented with pumpkins and enjoying homemade apple cider from the farm's trees and cookies made by Robin.

Each child who visits is also presented with a coloring book about Christmas trees that the Bitzegaios' daughters designed and drew themselves.

The farm is completely decorated for Halloween with a huge turkey and a large "ghost train," both made by Jim and Robin, as well as pumpkins, corn shocks, hay bales, pinatas and lots of pumpkins. There are a few child-friendly animals on the farm that the children can get to know, too, such as chickens, a goat, ducks, a mouse and cats.

About 100 children visited the farm the first two years the Bitzegaios had their Halloween open house, but this year there have been at least 300 who came to visit and pick out their own pumpkins. Groups have come from ECFE, Discovery Place, Challenger, Our Saviour's Academy and St. Bernard's school, as well as from Middle River.

In fact, so many children have

Fatal accident

Roseau — Millard Jenson, age 84, of Roseau, was killed in a two vehicle accident that occurred in Stokes township six miles west of Highway 89 on Roseau County Road 2 recently. Daniel James Christopherson, 23, was eastbound on County Road 2 when he fell asleep and drifted onto the wrong side of the road. Ruth Grafstrom, 25, of Salol, was a passenger in the Christopherson vehicle. Millard Andre Jenson was the driver of the second vehicle, with his wife, Irene, as a passenger. The Jensons were taken to Roseau Area Hospital by ambulance and airlifted to United Hospital in Grand Forks, ND, in critical condition. Christopherson and his passenger were treated and released at the Roseau hospital.

Drug charges in Roseau county

Roseau — Formal charges of controlled substance crime in the fourth degree alleging the willful, wrongful, and felonious possession with intent to sell a controlled substance, methamphetamine, have been filed against Jeffrey Dean Smith, age 34, of Badger. The same charges but in connection with marijuana, has been filed against Dickie Lane Johnson, 24, of Badger. Charges against Smith were in connection with a drug investigation and seizure in August. Charges against Johnson were the result of a drug investigation where the defendant allegedly sold marijuana on two different days in the city of Roseau. Both will make their first appearances in Roseau County Court on October 31.

Video conference Thursday

Educators and financial professionals concerned with improving the financial skills of American youth should attend "Enhancing the Financial Literacy of Older Youth," a national satellite video-conference on Thursday, November 3.

The video-conference will begin at 5 p.m. at the Pennington county courthouse meeting room. Participants will receive a certificate of participation and three hours of educational units. The local registration fee is $10 which includes a light meal.

Please pre-register by October 27 or for more information contact Deb Zak, Minnesota Extension Service, 681-2116.

Presented by the University of Idaho and Washington State University, the video conference will highlight these topics:

* How to bring relevant and real-life financial decision making into the classroom.
* Credit cards and credit reports: what young people need to know about establishing their credit ratings.
* What teachers and students can gain from computer programs and interactive laser disks.
* How to make practice in basic money skills both exciting and entertaining.
* How teachers can set the stage for guest speakers.
* How to dramatize the time value of money.

This video-conference is funded by the USDA Telecommunications Project, National Endowment for Financial Education, American Express Office of the Public Responsibility and Minnesota Extension Service.

Fatal accident

Roseau — Millard Jenson, age 84, of Roseau, was killed in a two vehicle accident that occurred in Stokes township six miles west of Highway 89 on Roseau County Road 2 recently. Daniel James Christopherson, 23, was eastbound on County Road 2 when he fell asleep and drifted onto the wrong side of the road. Ruth Grafstrom, 25, of Salol, was a passenger in the Christopherson vehicle. Millard Andre Jenson was the driver of the second vehicle, with his wife, Irene, as a passenger. The Jensons were taken to Roseau Area Hospital by ambulance and airlifted to United Hospital in Grand Forks, ND, in critical condition. Christopherson and his passenger were treated and released at the Roseau hospital.

Drug charges in Roseau county

Roseau — Formal charges of controlled substance crime in the fourth degree alleging the willful, wrongful, and felonious possession with intent to sell a controlled substance, methamphetamine, have been filed against Jeffrey Dean Smith, age 34, of Badger. The same charge, but in connection with marijuana, has been filed against Dickie Lane Johnson, 24, of Badger. Charges against Smith were in connection with a drug investigation and seizure in August. Charges against Johnson were the result of a drug investigation where the defendant allegedly sold marijuana on two different days in the city of Roseau. Both will make their first appearances in Roseau County Court on October 31.

Good samaritan injured when she aids another

Williams — Denise McGuire of Williams was injured last week when she tried to help remove a vehicle from a ditch near her home. McGuire was assisting Jerome Krohn, also of Williams, to pull his car out of a ditch. Krohn succeeded in getting his car out of the ditch, but when he backed up to leave, he apparently struck McGuire and rolled over her legs. She was treated and released at LakeWood Health Center.

Video conference Thursday

Educators and financial professionals concerned with improving the financial skills of American youth should attend "Enhancing the Financial Literacy of Older Youth," a national satellite video conference on Thursday, November 3.

The video conference will begin at 5 p.m. at the Pennington county courthouse meeting room. Participants will receive a certificate of participation and three hours of educational units. The local registration fee is $10 which includes a light meal.

Please pre-register by October 27 or for more information contact Deb Zak, Minnesota Extension Service, 681-2116.

Presented by the University of Idaho and Washington State University, the video conference will highlight these topics:

• How to bring relevant and real life financial decision making into the classroom.

• Credit cards and credit reports: what young people need to know about establishing their credit ratings.

• What teachers and students can gain from computer programs and interactive laser disks.

• How to make practice in basic money skills both exciting and entertaining.

• How teachers can set the stage for guest speakers.

• How to dramatize the time value of money.

This video conference is funded by the USDA Telecommunications Project, National Endowment for Financial Education, American Express Office of the Public Responsibility and Minnesota Extension Service.

INTENTIONAL DUPLICATE EXPOSURE

Can God Make a Difference in Everyday Life?

It's no secret that the pressures of life are exerting a great deal of force on everyone of us. Doctors tell us that two thirds of their patients come in with stress related illnesses. People from every walk of life, from teacher to farmer, parent to senior citizen, experience the tension of the life in which we live. Is there any relief to be found?

A great number of people report that having a relationship with God has been a tremendous relief to the stress of life. We believe that this is true. In fact God has promised that He will be there in times of stress.

Our Saviour's is having a series of meetings dealing with this very subject of our relationship with God and how it can benefit our everyday life. Rev. Thomas Olson, from Cumberland, Wisconsin, will be speaking at these meetings, encouraging people to partake in this relationship that God is so willing to give to those experiencing the pressures of life. Come and see that God's involvement in your life can make a difference.

The Newfolden Area "Gospel String Band" will begin Friday's service with a vocal and instrumental concert.

Writer, sheriff disagree on treatment

LETTERS

To The Editor:

In approximately two weeks it is election day. We as free people have the opportunity to vote for who we want. Some of these will win, others won't. We can vote for county officials as well as senators and congressmen.

One of the most important ones to me is the race for sheriff. To me the choice is clear. The present (Roseau County) sheriff to me was not very fair; he was very close-minded. When you have gone through a trial in which you are found innocent, I don't think it is the place for the sheriff to say you can tell me the truth.

Mr. Novacek said he did not sit in on my trial, so he did not know what took place, but he could say I was lying and so were the witnesses who testified on my behalf.

Well, I know what happened. I know what was said. I know how some of my rights were violated. Mr. Novacek gave me an offer to take one year in county jail and pay $100,000. I told him and Mr. Berg "no." Pat told me I risked a lot.

I did believe and still do that for the most part our law enforcement and legal system is the best. According to law, a man is innocent until proven guilty. But for Pat, even after proving my innocence to a jury of my peers, he still says, and I quote, "They can't do anything now, so you can tell me the truth."

I just hope that we can get a new sheriff who might know that you should look at both sides of a story, accident, or possible crime.

Also, when you give a person a permit to carry, that gives this person the right to carry a loaded and concealed weapon. You have to have a good reason to get one, such as death threats. The sheriff gives these permits to people.

My permit is not like everyone else's, though. Mino says I can't carry on (my) person or have in corporate city limits....

Sincerely,
Hal W. Anderson
Strathcona, MN

(Editor's Note: It is the policy of The Times and Northern Watch to permit persons who are the subjects of criticism in public opinion letters to respond to the letters in the same issue. Following is the response to Mr. Anderson's letter.)

To The Editor:

First I would like to say that I have major disagreements with Mr. Anderson's letter that it is not true and correct.

As Sheriff of Roseau County one of the duties is to investigate alleged crimes committed in Roseau County.

Hal W. Anderson was arrested and charged as a result of an incident that occurred in the City of Strathcona. The following facts are taken from the file of the case:

9-1-93 at about 7:11 p.m. a report of a shooting occurring at the cafe in Strathcona.

Hal W. Anderson was transported to the Sheriff's Office, given his Miranda rights and a statement was taken.

During this same time an investigation was going on with the victim and witnesses as to the facts of the case. Statements were taken in order to document all the facts.

Facts did show the victim was unarmed at the time Mr. Anderson shot the victim in leg.

Mr. Anderson was held on charges of assault in the first degree (inflicting bodily harm).

The facts were turned over to the County Attorney and formal charges of: Attempted murder in the second degree, attempted manslaughter in the second degree, assault in the first degree, assault in the second degree were brought by the county attorney.

This formal complaint was presented to Judge James R. Wilson and was signed as having probable cause to support the charges.

There were hearings before the Judge on requests to dismiss and other legal questions. An offer to Mr. Hal Anderson to plea to a lesser charge was made by the County Attorney with input by the victim and law enforcement.

After all of the hearings and the trial the Judge still did not dismiss the charges and required the jury to decide the outcome of the trial.

It is indeed my belief that telling the truth is not out of line when I talk to individuals in an official capacity and a request as such is not wrong. I do not agree with Mr. Anderson on the quotes as stated. I recall that they may be taken out of context.

Mr. Anderson states that his rights were violated. Again I am unaware of any violations of rights by myself or my officers and feel that if that was indeed the case it would have been brought before the court during the hearings before the trial.

As far as handgun permits, all chief law enforcement officials do control the permits and reasons including restrictions. I am unaware that Mr. Hal Anderson has personal knowledge of all handgun permits given out by this agency as they are not public information. I as Sheriff review and base the reasons and the restrictions based on facts of each case. A permit to carry is for self protection involving immediate threat of death or bodily harm.

In closing I only asked that when I talked with Mr. Anderson that the truth would be stated. At no time did I call or allege him or anyone else that what they said was false. I am aware that Mr. Hal Anderson is indeed supporting my opponent in this sheriff's race. Does Mr. Anderson feel that if my opponent was sheriff at the time of the incident, the case would have been ignored?

All facts known on this case, I still would require a complete investigation and would support the actions my officer took as those are the duties of Sheriff and this office.

Sincerely,
Pat Novacek, Sheriff
Roseau County

Carlson Probability: Reviled, Defiled, Rejected....Reelected

Minnesota has long been an unusual state in regard to its politics. Residents of Minnesota are as adamantly independent as they are fiercely loyal to their party affiliation. This year's election for Governor of the state must be a study in political weirdness.

Minnesota's incumbent governor claims to be an Independent-Republican. He was an outcast of his party four years ago, not seeking endorsement but running in the I-R primary election against the endorsed candidate, Jon Grunseth, and losing. He announced a write-in campaign for the general election, then became the 11th hour I-R candidate when Grunseth withdrew following allegations of improprieties in his personal life.

His opponent was incumbent Gov. Rudy Perpich, who himself had to weather a storm within his party to gain endorsement and a primary election victory over Mike Hatch. Many of the DFL faithful had advocated dumping Perpich at the convention. Then, wonder of wonders, the voters opted for Carlson over Perpich in the general election.

Independent-Republicans proved even less loyal to their incumbent that the Democrats did. At this year's convention they endorsed a candidate other than their incumbent. Gov. Carlson again went to the primary and won the support of the voters.

Now comes the general election when Gov. Carlson, by all odds, should be a vulnerable target of the opposition but holds a substantial margin in the polls. Things can change by November 8, but right now he appears to be uncatchable and the change would have to be dramatic.

DFL candidate John Marty's campaign is reported to be in a shambles with staff members jumping ship in bunches. The main reported reason for the abandonment is Marty's staunch adherence to his pledge to campaign on his positions on the issues rather than attack his opponent and to turn down donations from political action committees. Voters should applaud his commitment, but staffers are convinced that his attitude is a recipe for defeat.

And well it may be. The name of the game in politics has been to raise yourself up by tearing someone else down. Nice guys—and Marty appears to be a nice guy—finish last. We disagree with his views on how to approach state problems, but we give him a lot of credit for sticking to his word, even if it costs him an election. He is young and determined and not likely to disappear from the Minnesota political scene, even if this election passes him by.

Northern Watch Policies

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

Our Seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge pre-painted aluminum, the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length, eliminating any joints or seams in the middle. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.
Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two-man crew ... saving on labor cost. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that get damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates of your job at no obligation to you.

In Tough Times Collin Fights for Us

We've been through some tough times lately. Flooded crops—a total wipeout for a lot of farmers around here.

But when times are tough, Minnesota farmers have a special friend in Collin Peterson. Collin grew up on a farm, in Clay County, so he knows about weather disasters. And, just as important, he knows the disaster program.

This year, Collin was instrumental in getting the disaster program renewed in Congress, so local farmers can get the help they need.

We'll need Collin's assistance next year, too, when the whole Farm Bill is up for renewal. His leadership position on the Agriculture Committee means he can work effectively for farmers here at home. This is no time to send in a rookie.

Collin Peterson is the friend we need, to ensure that our farms will still be here for future generations.

DEATHS

Ernest Hegland, 59

Thief River Falls — Ernest Hegland, age 59, of Thief River Falls, died Tuesday, October 25, at McIntosh Manor Nursing Home in McIntosh where he had resided since June 14, 1994.

Funeral services for Ernest Hegland will be held Saturday, October 29, at 2 p.m. at Salem Lutheran church, rural Oklee, with Rev. Robert Dahlen of Goodridge officiating. Interment will be at Salem Lutheran church cemetery with the Petterson Funeral Home of Oklee in charge of arrangements.

Visitation was scheduled Friday from 4 to 7 p.m. at the Petterson Funeral Home of Oklee and on Saturday at the church for one hour prior to the service.

A complete obituary will be in a later edition of The Times.

Verna Nowacki, 84

Warren — Verna Nowacki, age 84, of Warren, died Monday, October 24, at the Good Samaritan Nursing Home in Warren.

Funeral services for Verna Nowacki will be held at 10:30 a.m. Saturday, October 29, at Ss. Peter and Paul Catholic church in Warren. Interment will be at Calvary cemetery in Warren with the Quanrud-DuBore Funeral Home of Warren.

Visitation was after 5 p.m. Friday at the church with a 7 p.m. prayer service that evening. There will also be visitation for one hour prior to the service on Saturday.

There will be a complete obituary in Wednesday's edition of The Times.

Ebba Fagerstrom, 81

Warren — Ebba Fagerstrom, age 81, of Warren, died Tuesday, October 25, at Warren Community Hospital.

Funeral services for Ebba Fagerstrom will be held at 9 a.m. Saturday, October 29, at Evangelical Covenant church in Warren. Interment will be in Greenwood cemetery in Warren with the Quanrud-DuBore Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Visitation was scheduled Friday from 2 to 4 p.m. and 6:30 to 8 p.m. at the Quanrud-DuBore Funeral Home in Warren, and also for one hour prior to the service at the church on Saturday.

There will be a complete obituary in Wednesday's Times.

Randolph Fossell, 70

Karlstad — Randolph "Randy" Fossell, age 70, died Wednesday, October 26, at United Hospital in Grand Forks, ND.

Funeral services for Randolph Fossell were scheduled for Friday, October 28, at 11 a.m. at Hegland Free Lutheran church, rural Karlstad. Interment was at Hegland Free Lutheran cemetery with the Helgeson Funeral Chapels in charge of arrangements.

A complete obituary will be in Wednesday's edition of The Times.

Woodcrafters meet an hour later Monday

Northland Woodcrafters will meet an hour later than the regular meeting time Monday, October 31, with the session to start at 8 instead of 7 p.m. at the Occupational Development Center on Highway 32 south, Thief River Falls.

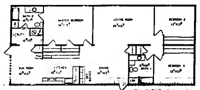
The late start is intended to accommodate members who will be taking their youngsters trick or treating for Halloween.

Program for the evening will be a videotape of a Woodcrafters visit to the Renneberg Hardwoods mill at Menahga to view lumber handling and kiln drying processes. Also shown will be some of the elm furniture made by Ercol company in England from trees harvested in this area.

Members are again urged to bring patterns for exchange and items them have built for viewing and discussion. Anyone interested in making items from wood is invited to attend the meeting.

Orientation for new volunteers at school set

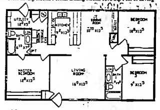
Challenger Elementary and Preschool is off to a great start and with that comes the need for volunteers. The Volunteer program has been actively working with staff to collect a list of their needs. These needs have been compiled in the "Volunteer at Challenger" brochure. These brochures were sent home with Challenger students October 25. There are many volunteer options to choose from with many different times.



Anyone interested in volunteering at the new school, please plan to attend one of the three Volunteer orientations scheduled at Challenger: Tuesday, November 1 at 7 p.m.; Wednesday, November 2, at 8 a.m.; and Wednesday, November 2, at 1 p.m.

All orientations will be held in the Challenger 4-5 activity room.

The school district also has opportunities for volunteers at Lincoln high school, Franklin Middle school and at the District Service Center.



For more information call Carol Ihle, school volunteer program, at 681-8358.

Sign-up session is set for Rec Skating

Registration for the upcoming Thief River Falls Recreational Skating season will be held Thursday, Nov. 3, from 5 to 7 p.m. in the basement of the Old Arena.

If you are unable to register at that time, call the Thief River Falls Parks and Recreation Department at 681-2519.

Sarah Huschle of Thief River Falls won this battle at the net against Detroit Lakes' Amy Gunderson (10) during Thursday's North Sub-Section 8AA high school volleyball tournament match in the Lincoln gym. The Prowlers advanced with a 3-2 win over the Lakers.

Volleyball team 3-2 tournament winner

With the match and the season on the line, Detroit Lakes made the mistakes Thursday as Thief River Falls wrestled a 3-2 decision from the visiting Lakers in opening round North Sub-Section 8AA high school volleyball tournament play.

The Prowlers went to 14-12 for the year and advanced into the tournament semifinals with a 15-13, 5-15, 7-15, 15-8, 15-1 win.

It wasn't easy. After an impressive start that produced a quick 10-2 lead, the Prowlers played erratically. They hung on for the Game 1 win, but Detroit Lakes' spirited come-from-behind effort provided the momentum that put the No. 5-seeded Lakers in position to knock off the No. 4-seeded Prowlers in four games.

"We were really clicking at the start," noted Thief River Falls coach Helen Anderson. "We had some great teamwork. But then we quit talking. You have to be able to communicate out there. We started to fall apart. They (Lakers) were pumped up, and the more points they scored the worse we played."

But it was the Lakers who were making the mistakes at the end – nine point-producing errors on their side of the court, along with two missed serves. The only Thief River Falls miscues were a pair of errant serves.

"When we put our minds to it, we can really play well," said Anderson, who received a post-match dunking volleyball-style – a water bottle dosing.

Thief River Falls 48, Fergus Falls 12...

Prowlers win big in playoff opener

Once considered a one-dimensional, straight-ahead football team, Thief River Falls has diversified into a well-rounded outfit, as witnessed Tuesday when the Prowlers overwhelmed visiting Fergus Falls 48-12 in the first round of the Section 8A high school playoffs.

The inside pounding by the hard-running tandem of Brian Howe and Tony Halsa is still there and still the meat-and-potato part of the Prowlers' offense. But the accurate passing of quarterback Keith Anderson has provided a side dish, and now an outside threat by halfback Nick Chiodo is adding a banquet-completing dessert.

Chiodo, a 5-11, 165-pound junior, gained 171 yards on just six carries, including touchdown runs of 39 and and 49 yards the first two times he touched the ball. Running off left tackle on the two scoring plays, Chiodo was un-touched as he burst through huge holes created by defense-clearing Thief River Falls blockers.

"We ran a simple cross package in the backfield," explained Thief River Falls coach Jeff Mumm. "Our execution on offense is at the point where people don't know where the football is. They're looking for the fullback inside, and it opens things up outside for the second man through."

In all, 10 different Prowlers carried the ball and netted 402 yards on 50 running plays – an average of over 8 yards per carry.

"That was some pretty good football," smiled Mumm after the Prowlers improved their record to 6-3 and advanced into the Section 8A semifinals for the fourth straight year. "It's a pretty easy job for the coaches when the kids play like that. They're unbelievable when they're focused and execute like they did tonight. It almost looks like we've coached them."

The Prowlers scored on six of seven first half possessions, failing only to beat the clock on a final drive that had covered 50 yards in nine plays.

After his two breakaway runs and a pair of Brian Howe conversion kicks provided a 14-0 cushion just 4:15 into the game, Chiodo, playing in the secondary on defense, came up with a fumble recovery at the Fergus Falls 21-yard line that set up a 1-yard Howe touchdown.

Moments later a pass by Fergus Falls quarterback Jason Fischer was deflected at the line of scrimmage and intercepted by defensive end Eric Bjorgaard at the Otters' 31. A couple of penalties left the Prowlers with a second-and-26 call, but that was promptly covered on a 47-yard Anderson touchdown pass to Steve Bursle, who out-jumped a defender at the 12, pulled in the tipped ball and stepped into the end zone for a 28-0 spread with 9:17 elapsed.

Fischer found Nick Riba behind the secondary for a 64-yard touchdown pass that put the Otters on the board with 1:36 left in the first quarter, but Halsa was untouched on a 32-yard touchdown run and after a Jason Homme fumble recovery at the Fergus Falls 29, the Prowlers' Aaron Ehrenstrom scored from two yards out to make it 42-6 with 8:24 remaining in the first half.

Fischer found another receiver in the clear and hit Jake Schetnan on a 67-yard scoring play just 56 seconds into the third quarter, but the Prowlers responded in quick fashion when a 54-yard sprint by Chiodo kicked off a 6-play, 71-yard scoring drive that ended with a 3-yard Howe touchdown run through the right side.

Fergus Falls, limited to just 7 yards on 24 running plays (including four quarterback sacks) did get 226 yards of passing from Fischer, who was 10-for-26. Anderson was a quiet 4-for-9, but still had 86 yards in the air.

Dan Bjerknes of the Prowlers (127) ran with the pack as they made one of the early turns in the Section 8AA boys high school cross country race Thursday at the Thief River Golf Club.

Pioneers extend season with win

Two David Simmons touchdowns in the final 6:17 broke open a defensive battle Thursday as Northland beat Brainerd 24-12 in a state playoff berth-clinching Minnesota Community College Conference football game at Prowler Field.

The two teams came into the 1994 regular season finale sharing second place in the Northern Division, where the top two finishers advance to post-season play. With the win, the Pioneers join divisional champion Vermilion in the MCCC playoff semifinals against the top two finishers in the South Division – a three-way battle between Rochester, Fergus Falls and Normandale heading into their Saturday regular season finals.

Northland will be on the road, playing at the site of the Southern Division winner, while Vermilion hosts the Southern Division champion in the Nov. 5 MCCC semifinals. The championship game will be played Nov. 12 at St. Cloud State University.

"It was a game between two very good teams – as evenly matched as you could get," said Northland coach Gene Klinke following the win over the Raiders. "Our defense held until we got our offense rolling."

Fumbles set up the first scores by both sides, but the Raiders had to settle for a 31-yard Joe Johnson field goal, while the Pioneers got a 1-yard touchdown run out of Rick Anteau.

It stayed 6-3 until Brainerd blocked a Northland punt at the end of the third quarter and converted it into a game-tying 20-yard Johnson field goal to open the fourth quarter.

Both teams came alive on offense at that point as Dave Hofman put Northland ahead 12-6 with a 4-yard touchdown run with 10:36 remaining and Brainerd tied it again at 12-12 on a 22-yard J.T. Ness touchdown pass to Scott Gross with 6:17 left.

But the tie lasted only until the next snap from scrimmage as Northland quarterback J.P. Lammers hooked up with Simmons on a 71-yard scoring play with 6:02 to play.

"Simmons' touchdown broke their back," said Klinke.

Northland iced it by stopping Brainerd on a fourth-and-long snap, then adding an insurance score on a 28-yard Simmons run with 1:23 showing.

The Northland defense held Brainerd's top runner, Jason Fehring, to 29 yards on 16 carries. Tom Comstock led the Raiders with 87 yards on 15 tries. Ricky Rivera netted 62 yards on 13 carries to lead the Pioneers' ground game.

MCC moves into volleyball semis with 3-0 victory

Marshall County Central moved into the Section 8A Sub-Section 4 high school volleyball tournament semifinals with a 15-10, 15-13, 15-12 Thursday quarterfinal win over Kittson Central at Warroad.

"We played pretty well," said Marshall County Central coach Mark Jorgenson.

Serving was the key, according to Jorgenson. "We knew going in we had to serve 90 percent to win," he said. "We've been struggling with our serves all year, but we served 91 percent, and we played some good defense. Our back row people did a nice job digging the ball up and putting it in play."

The Nordics started with an 8-1 lead in Game 1, but had to overcome an 8-0 deficit in Game 2.

At Newfolden, an 11-15 season came to an end for Badger/Greenbush-Middle River when the Gators lost a 15-6, 15-4, 15-6 quarterfinal decision to Roseau.

"We had trouble serving," reported Gators coach Gwen Borgen. "We didn't finish the way we had hoped to."

Cards sweep Section 8AA titles in TRF

It was a no-brainer of a vote Thursday when Mark Nelson of Alexandria was voted Section 8AA Coach of the Year in both boys and girls high school cross country.

Nelson's Cardinals produced the double honor for their coach with a dominating performance in the 1994 Section 8AA meet held at the Thief River Golf Club – a showing that included both team and individual honors in both races.

Alexandria girls, with five runners among the top eight finishers, won by a 21-61 margin over runner-up Rocori. The Alexandria boys, with three top-ten finishes and five scoring runners among the top 16, won by a 46-100 margin over second place Elk River. Top two teams and top five individuals in both the boys and girls races advance to the Class AA state meet at St. Olaf College in Northfield Nov. 5.

The Cardinals' individual winners were Jeremy Estenson with a 16:27 over the boys 5,000-meter course and Katie Reif with a 15:28 for the girls 4,000-meter race. Both are seniors.

Top Thief River Falls runner was freshman Becky Mooney, who placed ninth in the girls race. Top Thief River Falls finisher among the boys was seventh grader Brady Anderson, who placed 81st.

The meet, the first Section 8AA race ever held in Thief River Falls, featured 15 teams and 193 runners.

Tuesday area high school football playoff results...

RLCC eliminated by Mahnomen 26-6

Mahnomen secured a two-touchdown advantage on the scoreboard and gained a major psychological edge by scoring with one second left in the first half Tuesday en route to an opening round 26-6 Section 8C high school football playoff win over visiting Red Lake County Central.

The underdog Mustangs played the four-time defending state champions on near-even terms much of the first half, giving up only an 85-yard Ken Crane-to-Jared Schafer touchdown pass in the final minute of the first quarter when the defense was stacked against the run.

A 6-0 halftime deficit would have suited the Mustangs fine. But instead they found themselves down 14-0 when Mahnomen recovered a fumbled punt and beat the clock with a 1-yard Crane run.

It was a key development, acknowledged Red Lake County Central coach Gary Brantl. "We played a very good first quarter, but they got that late touchdown on us and we didn't accomplish a whole lot offensively in the second half."

It was 26-0 before the Mustangs' Scott Lorenson scored on a 26-yard run midway through the fourth quarter.

The loss ended a 4-5 season for the Mustangs, who were 4-2 before a pair of accidents took the lives of three young people from the Oklee-Plummer area. It was tough to concentrate on football after the mishaps, admitted Brantl. "We probably played the best football against Mahnomen as we've played in the last three weeks weeks," he said. "But it was still tough."

Mahnomen's size, tradition and reputation also played a factor in the outcome, according to Brantl.

Lorenson gained 57 yards on 10 carries and Bryce Huotari had 48 yards on 5 attempts for the Mustangs, who netted 139 yards on 29 running plays. They were 5-for-13 in the air for 62 yards.

Matt Kolstoe, a 5-10, 200-pound senior, led the Mustangs' defense with six tackles, two assists and a fumble recovery.

Fosston....20
B/G-Middle River....16

Badger/Greenbush-Middle River fumbled away a 20-16 decision to Fosston Tuesday in the opening round quarterfinals of the Section 8C playoffs.

The Gators took an early 13-0 lead and had a 16-14 advantage heading into the fourth quarter before they lost the ball, the lead and the game.

Badger/Greenbush-Middle River, a 12-6 overtime winner when the two teams met the previous week in the regular season final, fumbled four times in the fourth quarter and lost all four.

"The fumbles made the difference," said Badger/Greenbush-Middle River coach Steve Willman. "We're not a breakaway-type team. We need to control the ball and run down the clock to win.. We weren't able to do that."

Fosston won it on a 4-yard Bryan Rud touchdown pass to Chris Killian with 3:41 left in the game.

The loss ended a 5-4 season for the Gators, who were 2-7 a year ago. "It was really disappointing," said Willman. "It's especially sad for the seniors because we had the talent to win and move on. But we didn't come into the game with the right attitude. We don't know how to win yet."

Ross Waage netted 93 yards on 19 carries and Josh Kujava had 83 yards on 14 attempts for the Gators. Both had short first quarter touchdown runs.

The visiting Greyhounds got on the board when Rud connected with Marshall Hegg on a 5-yard touchdown pass with 1:10 left in the first half and went ahead 14-13 when Hegg returned the second half kickoff 79 yards for a touchdown.

Badger/Greenbush-Middle River took a 16-14 lead on a 22-yard Heiko Stehle field goal last in the third quarter.

Clearbrook-Gonvick-Trail..24
Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke....8

Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke failed to capitalize on its scoring opportunities Tuesday and paid the price – a 24-8 season-ending defeat at the hands of Clearbrook-Gonvick-Trail in the Section 4 Nine-Man playoff quarterfinals.

A 57-yard pass from Brady Wiseth to Jamie Lunsetter on the first series of the game gave the visiting Blue Devils a quick 8-0 lead, but that was their only touchdown of the game.

Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke had a first-and-goal at the Clearbrook-Gonvick-Trail 6-yard line in the final minute of the first half, but was stopped at the 1 with 7 seconds left and went into intermission trailing 12-8.

The Bears sewed it up with a pair of third quarter touchdowns.

"We had the opportunities, but we just didn't take advantage," pointed out Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke coach Darwin Hagen. "They (Bears) had four fumbles in the first half and we couldn't convert. We didn't play so bad, but they were just a little better."

The Blue Devils' offense was led by Jim Verbout with 52 yards on 14 carries, Wiseth with a 6-for-17 passing effort for 111 yards and Lunsetter with five catches for 83 yards. Aric Rhen gained 109 yards on 19 carries for the winners.

Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke ended the year at 5-4.

Scoring

	1	2	3	4	T
Goodridge/G-G	8	0	0	0	8
Clearbrook-G-T	12	0	12	0	24

G/G-G - Jamie Lunsetter, 57-yard pass from Brady Wiseth; Wiseth run.
C-G-T - Ryan Bjerke, 5-yard pass from Ethan Johnson; pass failed.
C-G-T - Aric Rhen, recovered blocked punt in end zone; run failed.
C-G-T - Rhen, 6-yard run; run failed.
C-G-T - Ben Dorman, 34-yard pass from Johnson.

Soupçon

Just a few more Halloween treats for you, although the treats will taste just as good at other times of the year.

Need a quick chocolate fix – try this:

QUICK FUDGE
1 pound almond bark
12 ounces chocolate chips
1 cup vanilla ice cream

Melt bark and chips in double boiler. Add ice cream and mix until smooth. Pour into buttered dish.

This recipe will serve several goblins and ghouls:

MAMIE EISENHOWER FUDGE
4 1/2 cups sugar
Pinch of salt
1 large can evaporated milk
2 tablespoons butter
12 ounces chocolate chips
12 ounces German sweet chocolate
1 pint (2 cups) marshmallow creme
2 cups nuts, if desired
Butter 9x13 inch pan.

Boil sugar, salt, evaporated milk and butter for six minutes.

In a large bowl, combine chocolate chips, German chocolate and marshmallow creme.

Pour boiled mixture over chocolate mixture. Stir until well blended and melted. Add nuts, if desired.

Pour into prepared pan and let set in refrigerator for a few hours.

Store in refrigerator in airtight container.

What a yummy Halloween treat:

CARAMEL CORN
1 cup brown sugar
1 stick margarine
1/2 cup white corn syrup
1/2 teaspoon soda
5 quarts popped corn in a large roaster

Boil brown sugar, margarine and corn syrup for five minutes.

Add soda and stir down.

Pour over the popcorn, stirring completely.

Bake one hour at 250 degrees, stirring every 15 minutes.

What a "spooky" treat to serve your guests:

HALLOWEEN ORANGE PUNCH
2/3 cup Tang
2 cups pineapple juice
3 cups water
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon almond extract
1 bottle ginger ale

Combine all ingredients except ginger ale. Freeze.

Before serving, let thaw to slush in punch bowl and add ginger ale.

Something tasty to warm the tummy on Halloween night:

HOT APPLE CIDER
1/2 cup brown sugar
2 quarts cider
1 teaspoon whole allspice
1 1/2 teaspoons whole cloves
2 pieces stick cinnamon

Simmer all together about 1/2 hour or longer. Serve hot.

HALLOWEEN GREEN PUNCH
1 cup sugar
2 quarts water
48 ounce can pineapple juice
2 packages unsweetened lime Kool-ade
1 quart ginger ale or 7-up

Mix sugar, water, juice and Kool-ade. Stir well to dissolve and refrigerate.

Place in punch bowl and add ginger ale and ice to serve.

ASK YOUR LOCKSMITH
Questions And Answers

Q I have an old skeleton key lock. I would like to get the locks changed. Can you do that?

A Unfortunately, no. The construction and operation of most of the old "bit key locks," as they are called, are not, for the most part, rekeyable. Your professional locksmith can recommend an auxiliary lock that would give you the protection you seek, and when the need might arise, the lock could be easily rekeyed.

NOTICE
Pennington County Department of Welfare and Human Services has been chosen to receive $7,478 to supplement emergency food and shelter programs in the area.
A local board will determine how the funds awarded to Pennington County are to be distributed among the emergency food and shelter programs run by local service organizations in the area.
Organizations chosen to receive funds must: 1) be non-profit, 2) have an accounting system and conduct an annual audit, 3) practice non-discrimination, 4) have demonstrated the capability to deliver emergency food and/or shelter programs, and 5) if they are a private voluntary organization, they must have a voluntary board. Qualifying organizations are urged to apply. Deadline for application is November 14, 1994.
Further information on the program may be obtained by contacting: Phyllis Schmidt, Pennington County Dept. of Welfare and Human Services, P.O. Box 340, Thief River Falls, MN 56701, 681-2880. 1t87o

CARD OF THANKS
A great big "Thank You" to friends, neighbors and relatives who have been so thoughtful and kind to me and my family during my stay at United Hospital and after I came home. Your telephone calls, cards, visits, flowers, gifts and food brought to our home have all been greatly appreciated. Thank you too, for help with farm chores. Without your prayers, I to believe I would not be here today.
Thank You Most Sincerely,
Kermit Finstad.

CONGRATULATIONS AND BEST WISHES, Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Taggart on your recent marriage in Las Vegas. Sorry I couldn't be there.
Love,
Your Son Scott Smeky

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE LOCATED IN ALMA TOWNSHIP, MARSHALL COUNTY, MINNESOTA

The following land is offered for sale by the Estate of Helen Roland:
The South Half (S1/2) of Section Twenty-three (23) in Township One Hundred Fifty-six (156) North, Range Forty-seven (47) West, EXCEPT that part conveyed to the church, Alma Township, Marshall County.

The farmstead includes a 30 x 80' wood frame quonset building, a 3,200 bushel steel grain bin, two 2,250 bushel steel grain bins, one Lowry portable grain bin, one frame storage shed and a silo.

The real estate is enrolled in the CRP program with 212.2 acres enrolled at $44.00 per acre through 1997 and 89 acres enrolled at $43.50 per acre through 1995, with an option to extend the 1995 expiration date for an additional one year.

The procedure for bidding on the sale of this real estate will be as follows:

1. Sealed bids shall be submitted to the law office of Myhre, Drenckhahn & Williams, P.A., 423 Main North, P.O. Box 159, Warren, MN 56762, no later than 5:00 o'clock P.M. on November 6, 1994.
2. Those submitting the highest five written bids will be permitted to orally raise their bids on November 11, 1994, at 1:30 o'clock P.M. at the office of Myhre, Drenckhahn & Williams, 423 Main North, Warren, Minnesota.
3. Terms of the sale are cash with a 10% down payment to be made when the bid is accepted and full payment to be made within 30 days thereafter.
4. The estate reserves the right to reject any and all bids.
5. The purchaser will assume all obligations and benefits from the CRP program.

PLUS MANY OLDER CARS & TRUCKS

Courtney Aune found the goat at Pine Tree Farm almost as interesting as the pumpkins when she visited the farm with her day care class. She was one of several children who visited the farm on Wednesday to pick out a pumpkin and be treated to apple cider made from apples grown on the farm and homemade cookies. Jim and Robin Bitzegaio have opened their farm to children's groups on Halloween for the past three years. They are also planning a Christmas gala on December 3 and 4. Courtney is the daughter of Denise and Brian Aune.

visited, that the Bitzegaios are out of pumpkins for this year. The Bitzegaios planted just a few pumpkins the first spring they were at the farm, but have increased planting each year since then.

After Halloween, the Bitzegaios have another project ready and waiting that will attract visitors to the farm. They are renovating an old granary into a gift shop where they will sell their hand crafted stained glass items and other crafts, along with homemade jellies from fruits grown on Pine Tree Farm.

They are also busy planning a "Mini Christmas Festival" for December 3 and 4. So far, they are sure they will be having sleigh rides with Clydesdale horses and caroling and will sell Christmas trees (not their own, but ones they will buy). They will also be serving refreshments and hopefully have their gift shop up and running by that time. If the Christmas gala is anything like the Halloween one, you can bet the farm will be decorated to the hilt for the Christmas season, too.

For more information on Pine Tree Farm and the Mini Christmas Festival, contact the Bitzegaios at Rt. 1, Box 38, Thief River Falls, MN 56701, or call 218-681-8277.

without an increase in foundation aid. Further, the 1989 referendum was reduced by $60,000 in lieu of state aid. These two factors are in addition to the ever increasing federal and state mandates for which no money is provided to accomplish. The financial problem is further compounded because in order to balance the 1994-95 budget, the district made a one time transfer of $150,000 from the transportation fund to the general fund and because the state provided the district with a one-time payment of $50,000 for staff training. This money, which combined amounts to $200,000, will not be available for the 1995-96 school year.

Bob Duncan, superintendent of schools, went further to state that it appears unlikely that the state will provide much additional state aid for the next year which will further compound the financial picture of the district. Without the approval of the referendum levy by the voters of November 8, the budget reduction process this spring will be very painful and detrimental.

Chamber votes on new theme due October 31

Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce members have until October 31 to vote on one of five themes in the theme contest.

The city's current theme is "Where Everybody is Somebody". Chamber of Commerce members are being asked to choose between the current theme and four others. The other themes (not in any order) include: Working Today for a Better Tomorrow; Working Together for a Better Tomorrow; The Heart of Northwestern Minnesota; and A City Working For You.

The winning theme will be announced November 1.

State lottery introduces instant game

Minnesota State Lottery's newest $1 Instant game, Draw Poker, begins October 25.

For a chance to win, players simply scratch off the play area to reveal a five-card hand plus two draw cards. If the cards make one of eight winning poker hands, the player wins the listed prize. Winning poker hands are listed on each ticket.

Draw Poker offers a top prize of $100. Other prizes are $50, $25, $15, $10, $5, $2 and $1. Overall odds of winning are 1:5.96, with a prize payout of 65 per cent.

Entertainment attractions which showed improvement over a year ago were the team penning and horse shows which netted $1,109 as opposed to a loss of $484 in 1993 and the demolition derby which netted $2,181 compared to a loss of $155.42 the previous year.

Declines were noted in several other revenue areas of the fair operation. Auto parking on the grounds was down from $3,151 to $2,928; space rentals were down from $17,200 to $15,713; carnival income was down from $24,665 to $23,882; entry, stall and pen fees were down from $673 to $628; county aids were down from $10,000 to $8,000; and refunds and miscellaneous went from $1,067 to a loss of $120.97.

Donations were up from $225 to $1,400; advertising income was up from $2,408 to $2,695; and state aids were up from $4,040 to $4,348.

Expenses were generally in line with revenues except for buildings and equipment addition. Construction of the new horse barn resulted in a jump in that category of expense from $850 a year ago to $45,743 this year.

Premiums paid were down only $211 to $10,447 in 1994, indicating a good turnout of exhibitors. Insurance and real estate taxes jumped from $2,078 a year ago to $5,809 and salaries and wages increased from $6,711 to $7,244. Materials and supplies increased from $1,634 to $4,720.

Cuts were made in a number of areas as well. Advertising costs were reduced from $4,965 to $2,357; bandshell act costs were cut from $10,528 to $6,490; utilities, garbage and phone were cut by $500 to $2,515; and administrative costs were reduced from $254 to $93.

Cattle killed in truck accident in Stephen

Stephen — Five cattle were killed outright and two others had to be destroyed after an accident between two trucks that happened about 1 p.m. Tuesday in Stephen in front of the Donald Price home. Price, driving a 1960 Ford 2 ton truck, was attempting to turn into his driveway when a semi trailer containing 80 head of cattle driven by Jimmy Shaver of Erskine tried to go around the Price truck and was forced off the road. The Minnesota Highway Patrol and Stephen Police Department were on the scene, which was not cleared until 8:30 p.m. Neither driver was injured in the accident.

Bad experience with a mad mink

Karlstad — Lorraine England of rural Karlstad was attacked by a mink at her home recently. The mink attacked the family dog and Lorraine tried to separate the two animals by stepping on the mink. The mink grabbed her leg biting her on the back through the tendon. When she grabbed the mink with her right hand to get it off her leg, it bit through her left hand. She began choking the mink and called for help from her husband. Once Louie England came out of the house, the mink attacked him, too. Lorraine tossed it away from her into the yard and the couple hurried into the house, the mink fast on their heels. The mad mink was finally dispatched by the couple's son, Lolf, with a large ice pick. The animal was examined for rabies, but tests were negative. The Englands received tetanus and penicillin shots at the Karlstad hospital.

"It sure was an experience for us," said Lorraine England. "And I'm not going to criticize women for wearing mink coats any more. They can get rid of all minks as far as I'm concerned."

Free pumpkins for Oklee kids

Oklee — Donald Larson of Thief River Falls brought a pickup full of pumpkins to school children in Oklee before Halloween. He heard about the accident in which Adoline Chervestad was killed in Oklee and felt the children needed cheering up. All students in kindergarten through fourth grade received free pumpkins.

Woodland culture remains found

International Falls — Evidence of more than 2,000 years of human activity was unearthed at the site of the new bridge over Highway 11 near International Falls. The village site was a seasonal home for many generations of native woodland people long before European explorers arrived. The site yielded evidence of two woodland cultures, Laurel and Blackduck. The Laurel culture existed from 200 B.C. to about 800 A.D., and the Blackduck culture existed from 800 A.D. to nearly the time that European explorers and settlers showed up. Artifacts will be recorded and curated by the Minnesota State Historical Society.

School district elections set

A few school district elections will be held Tuesday, November 8. Most of the elections will involve referendum issues or consolidation.

Middle River

Residents of school districts 440 and 678, Middle River and Greenbush, are being asked to approve the consolidation of the school districts.

According to the New-River Record, "The two districts have paired for two years, with the high school located in Greenbush and the elementary and junior high in Middle River. Both school boards decided unanimously that this is the time to cement the relationship and consolidate as one district. The issue will be on the ballot at the regular polling sites. A simple majority vote at both districts will decide the issue.

"If the issue passes, the date that the consolidation will be effective is July 1, 1995. The school board will consist of 12 members - the combined present boards from Middle River and Greenbush, and will gradually, through regular school board elections, be reduced to seven members.

"If one district votes 'yes' for consolidation and one votes 'no', the consolidation will not go into effect. The majority vote has to be from both individual districts."

Red Lake Falls School District 630

Red Lake Falls, School District 630, is one of the few districts in the area planning to hold school board elections this fall. Five individuals are running for two three-year positions on the school board. Candidates vying for these positions are; Pete Stich, Dennis Haglund, Jay Cardinal, Deb Hams and Mike Swendra.

Several county seats up for grabs

Elections on November 8 will be held in Pennington, Lake of the Woods, Roseau, Red Lake, Kittson, Beltrami, and Marshall county.

Beltrami County

Of the eight positions on the ballot in Beltrami county, only two positions have one candidate. Two or more candidates are running for each of the remaining positions on the ballot.

Candidates running unopposed are: Timothy Faver for county attorney, and Kay Mack for county treasurer.

Candidates vying for commissioner district 1 are Brad Nord and Nancy L. Erickson. Candidates vying for commissioner district 3 are William (Bill) Ihde, and Leland (Lee) G. Coe. Candidates vying for commissioner district 5 are Gail

Polling places listed for TRF

A notice in the city of Thief River Falls' municipal newsletter listed the city's polling places incorrectly. The following polling places should be followed.

(Polling places within the city of Thief River Falls are open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.)

Ward 1 - Heritage Community Center, 301 Fourth Street East;

Ward 2 - Zion Lutheran Church, 505 Main Avenue North;

Ward 3 - Skylite apartments, 415 Arnold Avenue South;

Ward 4 - Knox Elementary school, 310 Markley Avenue South;

Ward 5 - Redeemer Lutheran Church, 1300 Nora Street East.

Several area cities to hold elections

Several cities in the region will hold elections on November 8.

Newfolden

One of the hottest issues among cities in the area is the liquor issue in Newfolden. Newfolden has been a dry town for many years. This year voters are being asked, "Shall licenses be granted for the sale of intoxicating liquor in the city of Newfolden?"

Residents are also being asked to vote for candidates running for city offices. All three candidates are running unopposed. Ron Kragness is running for Mayor. Marlin Lee and Marcel Douglas are running for two four-year terms on the city council.

Goodridge

In Goodridge, three candidates are vying for two four-year terms on the city council. Dr. David Brown is running unopposed for Mayor. David Brown Jr., Clifford Johnson and Marion Zavoral are vying for the two four-year terms on the city council.

Grygla

Four candidates are running for two positions on the city council. Richard Mosher, Joy Nordby, Susan Saurdiff and DelRay Rud are running for two four-year positions on the city council. Steve Olson is unopposed in his vie for re-election as Mayor.

Middle River

In Middle River, all candidates running for office are unopposed. J. Isabelle Hanson is running for a two-year term as Mayor. Edward D. Johnson and Gayle Gram are running for two four-year terms on the city council. Mark Stromsodt is running for a two-year term on the city council.

Red Lake Falls

In Red Lake Falls, two candidates are vying for the office of Mayor, while all other candidates

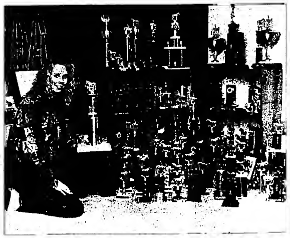
Jenny Taggart wins at state 4-H horse show

by Marvin Lundin
Times Editor

In the seven or eight years that she has been riding horses in shows and contests, 19-year-old Jenny Taggart of Newfolden has recorded some impressive wins. In her book, however, none is as important as her most recent victory.

At the 24th Annual State 4-H Horse Show held at the Minnesota state fairgrounds in St. Paul recently, she not only won the pole weaving championship but did so in spectacular fashion.

"There were 22 entries in my class," Jenny said, "and they all had to qualify in their counties to get to the state show. There were some really good, professionally trained horses there and you could tell the riders had a lot of experience."



When the hoof prints had cooled on the arena floor, the blonde-haired girl from Newfolden with the 15-year-old Appaloosa stood alone at the top of the list with a time of 11.84 seconds. Her nearest competitor in an event where the winner is usually determined by a couple of hundredths of a second had a time of only 12.56.

Jenny and her horse, "She's A Foxy Lady," had qualified to compete in three other events at the state show as well. They finished fifth among 26 entries in the jumping figure eight and ninth among 23 entries in barrel racing but didn't place in the keyhole race.

Jenny's success perhaps shouldn't have been unexpected since she is no novice at riding. But this was her fourth trip to the state show where her best previous placings had been a fifth in jumping figure 8 and eighth in barrel racing. It was a memorable way for her to complete her 4-H horse project career since she is now a graduate of the 4-H club program.

Although she is an experienced rider, she has reduced her competi-

Although she has accumulated a number of trophies from horse show competition in the last half dozen years, Jenny Taggart of rural Newfolden considers her most recent win to be her biggest success. She is holding the trophy won for first place in pole weaving at the 24th Annual State 4-H Horse Show. Behind her are ribbons for fifth place in jumping figure eight and ninth place in barrel racing at the same state show.

Chamber votes on new theme due October 31

Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce members have until October 31 to vote on one of five themes in the theme contest.

The city's current theme is "Where Everybody is Somebody." Chamber of Commerce members are being asked to choose between the current theme and four others. The other themes (not in any order) include: Working Today for a Better Tomorrow, Working Together for a Better Tomorrow; The Heart of Northwestern Minnesota, and A City Working For You.

The winning theme will be announced November 1.

State lottery introduces instant game

Minnesota State Lottery's newest $1 instant game, Draw Poker, begins October 25.

For a chance to win, players simply scratch off the play area to reveal a five-card hand plus two draw cards. If the cards make one of eight winning poker hands, the player wins the listed prize. Winning poker hands are listed on each ticket.

Draw Poker offers a top prize of $100. Other prizes are $50, $25, $15, $10, $5, $2 and $1. Overall odds of winning are 1:5.96, with a prize payout of 65 per cent.

Bad experience with a mad mink

Karlstad — Lorraine Englund of rural Karlstad was attacked by a mink at her home recently. The mink attacked the family dog and Lorraine tried to separate the two animals by stepping on the mink. The mink grabbed her leg, biting her on the heel and through the tendon. When she grabbed the mink with her right hand to get it off her leg, It bit through her left hand. She began choking the mink and called for help from her husband. Once Louie Englund came out of the house, the mink attacked him, too. Lorraine tossed it away from her into the yard and the couple hurried into the house, the mink fast on their heels. The mad mink was finally dispatched by the couple's son, Leif, with a large ice pick. The animal was examined for rabies, but tests were negative. The Englunds received tetanus and penicillin shots at the Karlstad hospital.

"It sure was an experience for us," said Lorraine Englund. "And I'm not going to criticize women for wearing mink coats any more. They can get rid of all minks as far as I'm concerned."

Free pumpkins for Oklee kids

Oklee — Donald Larson of Thief River Falls brought a pickup full of pumpkins to school children in Oklee before Halloween. He heard about the accident in which Adeline Chervestad was killed in Oklee and felt the children needed cheering up. All students in kindergarten through fourth grade received free pumpkins.

Woodland culture remains found

International Falls — Evidence of more than 2,000 years of human activity was unearthed at the site of the new bridge over Highway 11 near International Falls. The village site was a seasonal home for many generations of native woodland people long before European explorers arrived. The site yielded evidence of two woodland cultures, Laurel and Blackduck. The Laurel culture existed from 200 B.C. to about 800 A.D., and the Blackduck culture existed from 800 A.D. to nearly the time that European explorers and settlers showed up. Artifacts will be recorded and curated by the Minnesota State Historical Society.

A check for $35,050 was presented to Pam Cwikla, chairperson for the Thief River Falls United Way, by Jim Amundson, Digi-Key's United Way volunteer. Employees of Digi-Key contributed $17,525.26 with the company matching their contribution total dollar for dollar. This contribution represents over 28 per cent of the local United Way goal of $125,000.

Candidates poised for elections Tues.

Several county seats up for grabs

Elections on November 8 will be held in Pennington, Lake of the Woods, Roseau, Red Lake, Kittson, Beltrami, and Marshall county.

Beltrami County

Of the eight positions on the ballot in Beltrami county, only two positions have one candidate. Two or more candidates are running for each of the remaining positions on the ballot.

Candidates running unopposed are: Timothy Faver for county attorney, and Kay Mack for county treasurer.

Candidates vying for commissioner district 1 are Brad Nord and Nancy L. Erickson. Candidates vying for commissioner district 3 are William (Bill) Ihde, and Leland (Lee) G. Coe. Candidates vying for commissioner district 5 are Gail

Polling places listed for TRF

A notice in the city of Thief River Falls municipal newsletter listed the city's polling places incorrectly. The following polling places should be followed.

(Polling places within the city of Thief River Falls are open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.)

Ward 1 - Heritage Community Center, 301 Fourth Street East;

Ward 2 - Zion Lutheran Church, 505 Main Avenue North;

Ward 3 - Skylite apartments, 415 Arnold Avenue South;

Ward 4 - Knox Elementary school, 310 Markley Avenue South;

Ward 5 - Redeemer Lutheran Church, 1300 Nora Street East.

School district elections set

A few school district elections will be held Tuesday, November 8. Most of the elections will involve referendum issues or consolidation.

Middle River

Residents of school districts 440 and 678, Middle River and Greenbush, are being asked to approve the consolidation of the school districts.

According to the New-River Record, "The two districts have paired for two years, with the high school located in Greenbush and the elementary and junior high in Middle River. Both school boards decided unanimously that this is the time to cement the relationship and consolidate as one district. The issue will be on the ballot at the regular polling sites. A simple majority vote at both districts will decide the issue.

"If the issue passes, the date that the consolidation will be effective is July 1, 1995. The school board will consist of 12 members - the combined present boards from Middle River and Greenbush, and will gradually, through regular school board elections, be reduced to seven members.

"If one district votes 'yes' for consolidation and one votes 'no', the consolidation will not go into effect. The majority vote has to be from both individual districts."

Red Lake Falls School District 630

Red Lake Falls, School District 630, is one of the few districts in the area planning to hold school board elections this fall. Five individuals are running for two three-year positions on the school board. Candidates vying for these positions are: Pete Stich, Dennis Haglund, Jay Cardinal, Deb Hams and Mike Swendra.

Thief River Falls School District 564

Voters in School District 564, Thief River Falls, are being asked to vote for three school board candidates running for three positions

Several area cities to hold elections

Several cities in the region will hold elections on November 8.

Newfolden

One of the hottest issues among cities in the area is the liquor issue in Newfolden. Newfolden has been a dry town for many years. This year voters are being asked, "Shall licenses be granted for the sale of intoxicating liquor in the city of Newfolden?"

Residents are also being asked to vote for candidates running for city offices. All three candidates are running unopposed. Ron Kragness is running for Mayor. Marlin Lee and Marcel Douglas are running for two four-year terms on the city council.

Goodridge

In Goodridge, three candidates are vying for two four-year terms on the city council. Dr. David Brown is running unopposed for Mayor. David Brown Jr., Clifford Johnson and Marion Zavoral are vying for the two four-year terms on the city council.

Grygla

Four candidates are running for two positions on the city council. Richard Mosher, Joy Nordby, Susan Saurdiff and DelRay Ruud are running for two four-year positions on the city council. Steve Olson is unopposed in his vie for re-election as Mayor.

Middle River

In Middle River, all candidates running for office are unopposed. J. Isabelle Hanson is running for a two-year term as Mayor. Edward D. Johnson and Gayle Gram are running for two four-year terms on the city council. Mark Stromsodt is running for a two-year term on the city council.

Red Lake Falls

In Red Lake Falls, two candidates are vying for the office of Mayor, while all other candidates

Jenny Taggart wins at state 4-H horse show

by Marvin Lundin
Times Editor

In the seven or eight years that she has been riding horses in shows and contests, 19-year-old Jenny Taggart of Newfolden has recorded some impressive wins. In her book, however, none is as important as her most recent victory.

At the 24th Annual State 4-H Horse Show held at the Minnesota state fairgrounds in St. Paul recently, she not only won the pole weaving championship but did so in spectacular fashion.

"There were 22 entries in my class," Jenny said, "and they all had to qualify in their counties to get to the state show. There were some really good, professionally trained horses there and you could tell the riders had a lot of experience."

When the hoof prints had cooled on the arena floor, the blonde-haired girl from Newfolden with the 15-year-old Appaloosa stood alone at the top of the list with a time of 11.84 seconds. Her nearest competitor in an event where the winner is usually determined by a couple of hundredths of a second had a time of only 12.56.

Jenny and her horse, "She's A Foxy Lady," had qualified to compete in three other events at the state show as well. They finished fifth among 26 entries in the jumping figure eight and ninth among 23 entries in barrel racing but didn't place in the keyhole race.

Jenny's success perhaps shouldn't have been unexpected since she is no novice at riding. But this was her fourth trip to the state show where her best previous placings had been a fifth in jumping figure 8 and eighth in barrel racing. It was a memorable way for her to complete her 4-H horse project career since she is now a graduate of the 4-H club program.

Although she is an experienced rider, she has reduced her competi-

Although she has accumulated a number of trophies from horse show competition in the last half dozen years, Jenny Taggart of rural Newfolden considers her most recent win to be her biggest success. She is holding the trophy won for first place in pole weaving at the 24th Annual State 4-H Horse Show. Behind her are ribbons for fifth place in jumping figure eight and ninth place in barrel racing at the same state show.

Bagley youth needs bone marrow transplant

Bagley — A 17-year-old senior at Bagley high school has been diagnosed with aplastic anemia. He needs a bone marrow transplant to increase his chances for overcoming the disease. The Bagley American Legion is having a donor recruitment drive and needs $3,000 or more to help with costs of testing the blood. The $3,000 will cover costs of testing 150 people and more money would allow testing of more people. Contributions may be sent to the Bagley Legion Auxiliary Bone Marrow Fund, First National Bank of Bagley, MN 56621. Netland is the son of Richard and Margaret Netland of Bagley. He has a 13-year-old brother and a 15-year-old sister, neither of whom match his bone marrow. The chances of two unrelated people matching bone marrow range from one to a hundred to one in a million. A bone marrow transplant is the only cure for the youth's condition.

McIntosh mayor gets a little raise in pay

McIntosh — Wages of the mayor and city council were a controversial item on the agenda when the McIntosh city council met in October. The mayor and council members have not had a wage increase since 1984. Presently the salary of the mayor is $600 with $30 added for each special meeting. Council members receive $30 for each meeting. Mayor Lynn Nornes stated that he felt no amount of salary would sufficiently reimburse council people for their work, and asked council members to be aware of the "guff" that the council receives from citizens as the wage increase was considered. After discussion, a motion was made to leave the wages the same, but the motion failed for lack of a second. A second motion to raise the mayor's salary to $70 for each meeting and council members' reimbursements to $50 was passed with a majority of members in favor.

But was it fun for the chickens?

In the 17th Century no day passed when a fireplace went unused. Soot accumulated quickly in a chimney. This could be hazardous when fire were the principal source for fuel, for they left a highly flammable coating. Brooms were used to clean short chimneys. For taller ones it was not uncommon to drop a chicken or two down the chimney; their frantic wing-beating did a good cleaning job quickly. (From Everyday Life in Early America by David F. Hawke.)

SOUPÇON
Sherry LaCoursiere

Does anyone have some good crock pot recipes they would like to share? I have a lady who would really like some and so would I. This is the time of year when that old crock pot should get a work out. Send any good recipes to me at P.O. Box 100, Thief River Falls, MN 56701 or drop them off when you happen by the office.

Today we're having hearty soup recipes – just perfect for the cold weather that is on its way.

Someone asked for a recipe for vegetable soup without meat. This is as close as I could come – it sounds as if it could be made without the soup bones and still taste good:

VEGETABLE SOUP

Soup bones
1/2 cup pearl barley
1 onion
4 to 5 medium potatoes
3 medium carrots
1 small cabbage
1 to 2 tomatoes, skinned and sliced
1 cup dry green split peas
1 medium rutabaga
1 parsnip
Pepper to taste
Salt to taste
2 quarts water

Combine ingredients and cook slowly until all vegetables are done. Add water if necessary.

Dear Friends,

No program can replace the importance that families play in raising children.

I have always taken an active role on issues by participating on state, regional, and local committees. I don't think that is exceptional, but rather what the public expects of elected officials.

TRF Convenience stores enter Save the Depot Challenge

"We've Got Spirit, Yes, we do. We're out to 'Save the Depot' How 'bout you?" That's the challenge issued this week by a "team" of Thief River Falls and St. Hilaire convenience stores, who have joined in a special effort to raise a thousand dollars to save the old Soo Line Depot in Thief River Falls.

Mike Barry, owner of Pennington Square in Thief River Falls, says his business, along with Erl's Market, Amoco 25, the Kruse Inn, the Arnold Avenue Store, Petro Pumper, and the Holiday Station Store will donate coffee money next week to the "Save the Depot" campaign. "We think it's a great cause, and a chance to get everyone involved. The depot is a Thief River Falls trade-mark and we wanted to do what we could to keep it part of the community."

Barry says each business will keep a "Coffee Jar" on the counter, with complimentary coffee for the week and all donations going to "Save the Depot". Barry says, "We'll provide the coffee for a donation to the Depot. At the end of the week we're hoping it will all add up to a thousand dollar donation, and we challenge any business group to try to top that."

Early this week the "Save the Depot" campaign was almost to the $100,000 mark, with a $200,000 dollar goal by mid-November.

"Make a smile every minute and a memory every day."

—Brandon Poole

To The Editor:

In a young person's life there are always events that will be remembered forever. Some will be cherished. Others will not. Moments filled with laughter, regret, joy and also sadness. So it has been with the events of this past weekend.

On October 29th our friend and classmate, Brandon Poole, lost his life in a tragic accident. It was a difficult thing to deal with, and still is. And through this past week many of us have struggled with our emotions and our questions. The whys, what fors, and how comes have rung in our ears and buzzed in our minds for days now. Yet despite the difficulties, we have struggled together as a class in an effort to comfort each other, to be there for those deeply pained by the loss of a friend.

We've talked and gradually we've grown closer to understanding. We've accepted our emotions, our feelings about the entire situation. On Monday we were able to join together for a candlelight vigil. We voiced our prayers and thoughts, with some laughter, some tears. Each person who attended was asked to keep his or her candle to serve as a reminder of our friend, Brandon.

However, our confusion and pain cannot compare to that of those whom Brandon loved most, his family. Our hearts and prayers go out to his loved ones, especially his brother Ryan. We pray that they are given the strength to make it through this time of loss.

We are all going to miss Brandon. To us, he was a friend, a classmate, a confidant, and more. We will miss that memorable smile, the innocent face, and that unforgettable personality. But even though we've lost a friend, Brandon still lives on with each and every one of us, in our hearts and in our memories.

Sincerely,
The Class of '96 and all Lincoln students, faculty and staff, with whom Brandon Poole will be greatly missed

To The Editor:

Parents, Teachers and Students in Partnership (PTSP) at Challenger Elementary and Preschool urge support for the special levy referendum which will be decided in the general election Tuesday, November 8th. As a board made up of parent and teacher representatives from every grade, we know how much our district needs to reduce class size, update text books, and prepare our children for the changing world of tomorrow.

The loss of state foundation aid and the growing demands of expanding education make this referendum critical. We have no doubt that its failure would result in even larger class sizes and the loss of academic and co-curricular options.

All students, all ages, deserve a quality education. Our district has made strong steps forward. Let's keep the momentum rolling. Please support our schools and vote YES on November 8th.

Sincerely,
Shelley Sieva, President
Harriet Worker, Secretary
The Parents, Teachers and Students in Partnership Board

To The Editor:

Being this close to North Dakota, it has been interesting to observe the political ads used by candidates from both states. I used to believe Minnesota political campaigns were a step above their counterparts in North Dakota. However, Ken Murphy has changed all that.

Ken Murphy has stooped to one of the lowest levels in politics. Instead of running a clean and positive campaign focusing on the issues, Ken Murphy has resorted to negative and distorted facts.

The recent ad analyzing State Representative Tim Finseth's voting record is very deceitful. Tim Finseth has consistently voted in the best interests of this legislative district. He has authored legislation to reduce wetlands regulations for farmers, restructure the taxpayer-burden welfare system, reform the high cost workers' compensation system and increase funding for Head Start and education programs.

It is interesting to note the sources of these ratings. These organizations are pawns of the big city liberals. Tim Finseth doesn't answer to special interest groups created to make liberals look good. Tim Finseth's only special interest is District 1B.

As a farmer, father and lifelong resident of this area, Tim Finseth cares what happens in northwestern Minnesota. He wants to work cooperatively with us to keep our area a great place to live, work and raise a family.

I'm voting for Tim Finseth. Honesty, integrity and common sense are more important to me than deception, lies and innuendoes.

Sincerely,
Jim Skoglund
Warren, Minnesota

(Editor's Note: Mr. Murphy has been provided a copy of Mr. Skoglund's letter and given the opportunity to reply in this issue. The reply follows.)

To The Editor:

I am writing to respond to a letter submitted by Jim Skoglund, Representative Tim Finseth's campaign manager.

In the ad that Mr. Skoglund took issue with, I gave the rankings of four organizations that are interested in issues affecting children, farmers, working men and women and families. Mr. Finseth received a 40 per cent to 69 per cent score on his votes. One of the groups that Mr. Skoglund calls "pawns of big city liberals" is Minnesota Farmers Union. I personally know many hard working farmers who would not agree with that label.

No one should be surprised that Mr. Finseth's campaign manager is upset that the voters would get information on Mr. Finseth's voting record. It is clearly not a record that the voters of District 1B would approve of.

It is because of Mr. Finseth's record in the legislature that I became a candidate. He didn't show up for work during early organizational meetings at the Capitol because people in St. Paul were telling him what issues they thought were important. And now, Mr. Finseth and Mr. Skoglund don't want the voters of this district to know that not one piece of legislation that Mr. Finseth was the Chief Author of passed during this legislative session.

The election is about issues and effective representation for today and the future. I respectfully ask the voters of District 1B to give me a try as their State Representative. I will listen and work hard to give the residents of District 1B the representation they deserve.

Sincerely,
Ken Murphy
DFL Candidate for District 1B Representative

The Pennington County Domestic Violence Task Force Education Committee would like to say thank you to community members who participated in our "Hands Are Not for Hitting" coloring contest that was completed in observance of Domestic Violence Awareness Month, including Violence Intervention Project, St. Bernard's school, Challenger school, Kmart, Pamida, McDonald's, Hardee's, Danny's Pizza, Norwest Bank, Taco John's and Jubilee Foods.

Area youth were encouraged to make the pledge "My hand will never commit violence." Due to all our combined efforts several hundred children and families were reached with the message that domestic violence is never okay.

Why S.D. 564 Needs The Referendum Levy

GUEST EDITORIAL
by Dr. Robert Duncan
Superintendent of Schools
School District 564
Thief River Falls and St. Hilaire

I've spoken to over 25 groups and many more people individually about the referendum levy which will be on the general election ballot in our school district Tuesday, November 8. The main question I've been asked to respond to is "Why do we need this levy?" The reasons are:

- We have not had an increase in the funding formula for four consecutive years.
- Our levy referendum approved by the voters in 1989 has been reduced by the State Legislature from $400,000 to $126,905.
- A one-time $150,000 transfer of funds by our Board of Education from the transportation fund to the general fund and a one-time payment from the State of Minnesota of $50,000 for staff development (collectively $200,000) helped balance our budget for this year. This money will not be available next year.
- State and federal mandates continue to increase with no new money to fund them.
- If we had not passed the $18 million bond issue for school building, our general fund picture would be in significantly worse shape as we would still be operating all the buildings we did last year.
- By July 1, 1995, we will in all likelihood have no general fund balance and could, in fact, have a debt.
- We are already borrowing money to meet expenses.

In my opinion, the main reason why there has not been an increase in the state funding formula is so that legislators can continue to promise there will be no tax increase at the state level. The irony of this, however, is that if local school districts find they can't operate without any increase in the state funding formula, the local school boards must go to the local taxpayers and ask for additional money. That is the situation your local school board is faced with at this time.

One thing the state has said, however, is that if school boards ask voters for additional money, the state will pay a portion depending upon the tax capacity of the local school district. In our particular case, our tax capacity is extremely low. Therefore, the state will contribute 81 cents for every 19 cents that the local taxpayer contributes. That would seem to me like an excellent investment on our part. Are we willing to make a local tax contribution of $136,000 in return for a state contribution of $590,700?

Who benefits from this investment? It is our students, of course, and in the long run, all of us, as our students are our future.

Unless voters approve the referendum levy, your board of education will be faced this spring with very, very difficult and unpopular budget cuts. These budget cuts will, without question, directly impact the classroom. This will mean, among other things:

- Fewer course offerings for students.
- Larger class sizes.
- Less money for staff development.
- Less money for curriculum development.
- Even though the student activities budget has been reduced each year for the past three years, co-curricular programs will also be negatively affected to include academics and athletics. The district is also faced with the Federal Title IX issue requiring the district to offer an equal number of sports for girls as we do for boys. That will mean either adding two sports for girls or cutting two sports for boys.

All the areas where we desperately need additional funding will also not be possible, such as:

- The purchase of more library books and materials.
- An increase in our instructional supplies budget (I know teachers right now are purchasing supplies out of their own pocket. Some of our instructional areas are in critical need of additional funding.)
- Funding for Local Area Network (LAN) Managers and a district-wide Technology Coordinator position.
- Funding for computers for our labs and the equipment to go along with them to make them more effective, such as CD ROM, video disks, computer projectors, networking costs, etc.
- Training for staff in the area of technology.
- Training for buildings and grounds as we continue to go through the reorganization of our cleaners, custodians and maintenance workers.

Your board of education has done an outstanding job of managing the money you have provided them under these difficult times. Each year budget expenditures have been reduced in the educational support areas such as administration, clerical, central office, buildings and grounds and utilities. Expenditures in these areas can only be cut so long before there is a real negative impact on the overall operation of the school district.

During the past five years that I've had the honor of serving as Superintendent of Schools, I have been most impressed with the support residents of our school district have given to their schools. This support has been provided in many different forms. I've been extremely impressed with the very large number of people who have volunteered their time to their schools, the willingness of people to donate money for fund drives so students can participate in educational trips and things of that nature, and with people's willingness to dig a little deeper into their pockets and support the funding of our new facilities. I can only conclude that it is the desire of our school district's residents to support an educational system that serves the students and the public in the very best way possible.

Basically, that is what the November 8 referendum levy question is all about: Do we want to continue to improve upon an already successful educational system or are we willing to see it go backwards? My impression of the school district residents is that you would want the school system to continue to improve and provide students not only quality education but also opportunities to reach their highest potential.

In Tough Times Collin Fights for Us

We've been through some tough times lately. Flooded crops—a total wipeout for a lot of farmers around here.

But when times are tough, Minnesota farmers have a special friend in Collin Petersoa. Collin grew up on a farm, in Clay County, so he knows about weather disasters. And, just as important, he knows the disaster program.

This year, Collin was instrumental in getting the disaster program renewed in Congress, so local farmers can get the help they need.

We'll need Collin's assistance next year, too, when the whole Farm Bill is up for renewal. His leadership position on the Agriculture Committee means he can work effectively for farmers here at home. This is no time to send in a rookie.

Collin Peterson is the friend we need, to ensure that our farms will still be here for future generations.

Investigators believe arson is cause of TRF apartment fire

On November 2 at 3:55 a.m. the fire department received a report of a fire at 624 N. Kiasey. Upon arrival they discovered a bulletin board had been set on fire. There was fire damage to the bulletin board, part of the wall and ceiling. In addition, there was smoke damage to the inside of the apartment building. Fire alarms in the building alerted residents of the fire.

Police and the assistant state fire marshall have been brought in to investigate the fire. As of Friday they are considering the cause of the fire as arson. Stop Arson posters have been placed in the building. The posters list an arson hot-line: 1-800-723-2020. The poster promises rewards of up to $1,000 for information leading to the identification of persons responsible for any fire. The poster is issued by the Minnesota Arson Reward Project - IAAI.

Three begin service with AmeriCorps

Fred Kollmann, project director for the Soil Conservation Service, Thief River Falls, has announced that Lynell Wayne and Graeme Belcher of Thief River Falls, and Joy Swenson of Fargo, ND, began their AmeriCorps service October 3.

Wayne, Belcher and Swenson will be located in the Soil Conservation Service (SCS) office on Highway 59 south, Thief River Falls. They are among 20 AmeriCorps members selected to work with the USDA SCS in Minnesota between now and through August 1995.

Kollmann said the AmeriCorps members will be working on a 12 county project designed to increase awareness of animal waste and nutrient management programs.
